THE ART OF DRESSING NEATLY.

It is customary for the Male Sex to make merry over the fact that a woman wears a great amount of unnecessary fixings.

With equal justice the Fair Sex can retort that men are not by any means exempt from unnecessary dress.

Ask a tailor the use of buttons on the back of a mans coat, and he wont be able to tell you. He'll tell you that they are placed there because they are fashionable.

It is the aim of "The Peoples Cash Store" to always keep up with the fashions, but we prefer the Neat Sensible Styles. Our Fashion Plate is the human body, and we make our Clothing to Fit Neatly and Hang Gracefully.

Experience has taught us what materials are the most serviceable. We import only such Cloth as we know will give satisfactory work.

We aim to dress a man neat, and to dress him well, at a small expense.

Economy in manufacturing, in importing and in conducting our store enables us to offer such Great Bargains, as our Ten Dollar English Tennis Suit, our Eight Dollar Halifax Tweed Suit and our Seventeen Dollar Scotch Tweed Suit.

The final arrangements not being satisfactory to me, I withdraw from the projected change, and intend carrying on the Dry Goods business in my usual stand next to Loch's Hat Store.

It is my intention in the future as in the past to show at all seasons nothing but new and fresh goods in the various lines of Dry Goods and Gents' furnishings; and by doing so, hope to retain that confidence, which, I am proud to say, I have enjoyed from the public since commencing business two years ago. d&w

ADVOCATING RESISTANCE.

DAVITT TELLS TENANTS TO FORCIBLY REGAIN THEIR HOLDINGS.

The Bodyke Evictions Continue—The Evicted Fight the Police With Boiling Water, but the Ejectments are Carried Out.

DUBLIN, June 6.—Michael Davitt addressed a Nationalist meeting in the Bodyke District to-day. He again urged the people to offer the utmost resistance to eviction and to retake possession of houses whence they have been evicted. He declared that it was the duty of the manhood of the district to assemble and rebuild houses that have been razed. He announced his intention to hold a meeting next Sunday of 30,000 or 40,000 men for the purpose of rebuilding every house demolished during the past or the coming week.

Care should be taken, he said, that pecuniary and generous assistance be given during the incarceration of members of any family. He suggested that a fund be opened to carry on the plan of campaign upon a more extended basis, and he promised to subscribe £100 himself. He expected that within six weeks £100,000 would be subscribed in Ireland and within six months £1,000,000 would be collected throughout the civilized world.

DUBLIN, June 6.—The first three families evicted at Bodyke to-day offered only a passive resistance. Mr. Cox, M.P., had persuaded them to refrain from throwing boiling water upon the police. In spite of that fact, however, the sheriff ordered Mr. Cox off the premises, and the latter now declares that he will not again try to persuade the tenants to refrain from violence.

When the police started to evict the fourth family a large quantity of boiling meal and filthy water were thrown down upon them. A sick and helpless boy was turned out of the house, and a brother and two sisters were arrested for assaulting the police. It has been found that one of the tenants evicted had paid his rent. Messrs. Davitt and Cox have framed a notice to the landlord, warning him of an action for illegal eviction.

'TWAS MUST BE IN LONDON.

The Standard Speaking With the Gibbons of a Grit Farmers' Institute.

LONDON, June 6.—The Standard this morning reads Canada a severe lesson for increasing her duties on iron and steel which, it says, is a selfish policy and can only tend to sunder the colonies from the mother country.

"The increase was made," it said, "on the hollow pretence of a desire to check the rapid increase of trade with the United States, in our favor. We decline the offer with thanks. We do not want our trade fostered at the expense of our neighbors, even if it could be done; but it cannot be in that way. The interest of Canada is to foster trade with the United States by every means in its power. The freer trade is on the Canadian side the larger it will be in spite of the insane tariff of the United States, and the larger the trade with the United States is the richer will the Canadian people become and the more business will they do with other countries."

A FEARFUL SIGHT.

What a Coroner Found on Responding to a Call for an Inquest.

ERIE, Pa., June 6.—A frightful sight met the gaze of Coroner Swalley yesterday on responding to a call for an inquest over the body of John Lyons, aged 75 years. Lyons lay on the floor, where he had died the day before while intoxicated. Near him lay his aged wife in a drunken stupor, and in a shed near by was found their 4-year-old grandchild dying from poison. The child had been sick several days, and in its extremity had eaten a poisonous weed that grew near the shed. The grandmother, finding it in convulsions, gave it a heavy dose of whisky. The mother of the child was in jail at the time on a charge of drunkenness.

LOST IN AN INDIAN CYCLONE.

A Steamer With Over Seven Hundred Persons on Board Wrecked.

CALCUTTA, June 6.—It has been proved beyond doubt, by the picking up of the captain's chest, that the steamer Sir John Lawrence was lost in the recent cyclone off this coast. The steamer carried 750 passengers, and it is believed the whole number were lost.

The largest part of the passengers are native ladies who were going to Juggernaut, in Orissia, to celebrate the Juggernaut festival. The catastrophe has cast a feeling of gloom over the Hindoo community here and all the best families are in mourning for relatives or friends who were among the passengers.

THE QUEEN'S COMMONERS.

THEY CONCUR IN THE SENATE'S ADDRESS TO HER MAJESTY.

The National Anthem Resounds in the Lower Chamber and is Joined in by the Gallleries—Mr. Laurier Seconds the Address—In and Out of the Lobbies.

OTTAWA, June 6.—The House to-day witnessed a rare scene. Sir John had read the beautiful address passed by the Senate to the Queen on this jubilee occasion, and had made a few pertinent remarks, Mr. Laurier had uttered a brilliant eulogy on the Queen. Mr. Speaker had put the question of the concurrence of the Commons in the Senate's address, the House had passed it unanimously, and was preparing to pass to other business, when one member arose and began singing "God Save the Queen." The members all rose. The galleries followed suit, and all, including the press gallery, joined with great enthusiasm in singing the National Anthem.

In the course of his remarks, in moving the address to the Queen, Sir John said the country had taken the subject into its own hands of its own accord. From the Atlantic to the Pacific the country was making preparations to express in a becoming way its gratitude for having such a sovereign as Queen Victoria. We have differences as to the best mode of making Canada prosperous, but there was no difference of opinion respecting the virtue of our Queen. It were useless to paint the lily or gild refined gold, so it would be a work of supererogation for him to describe the Queen's merits to which all the world pays tribute.

Mr. Laurier regretted Mr. Blake's absence, but was pleased that the task of seconding the Premier's motion of concurrence in the Senate's address devolved on one of Her Majesty's subjects of French origin. The sentiments contained in the address were shared by all races. The conquests of war were great but conquests of peace during the Victorian era were greater far. He dwelt eloquently on the development of freedom under the Queen's reign, also the development of letters, arts and sciences. No class, he said, ought to be more grateful than her subjects of French origin in Canada. It was a labor of love for him and them to join in every sentiment contained in the address.

Mr. Kenny and Mr. Jones of Halifax had another tiff to-day, the former complaining that when he asked the other day if Mr. Jones was a Canadian, he received the monosyllabic answer "no," while in the Hansard the answer appeared "no, I am a Nova Scotian." Mr. Kenny thought no member ought to be allowed to alter his statements in that fashion.

Mr. Jones affirmed that he used the words the Hansard attributed to him, and did not mind what unscrupulous papers like the Mail, which omitted the Nova Scotia limitation in the report, said about him.

In answer to a question, Mr. White said there were nineteen colonization companies in existence. They had paid no money since Jan. 1, 1885, but the Government were arranging to take back lands sufficient to pay up arrears.

There was a run on the docket, so to speak, this afternoon, the list of notices of motion being greatly depleted by passing those not requiring discussion.

Mr. Charlton had a fling at the bad ventilation of the house, and urged upon the Government to take measures to secure better ventilation.

Sir John said the members doing the business of the country had a right to expect comfort and good air. They were sacrificing themselves unnecessarily for the good of the country when they waded for hours through a vitiated atmosphere. Like the appeal to the old sexton for "pure air," this effort will likely be productive of little improvement. The chamber is vastly better ventilated than it was a few years ago.

After recess it was expected Mr. Jamieson's prohibition resolutions would come up, but the House was thin, and at the suggestion of Sir Hector Langevin the great temperance member consented to let his resolution slide, provided it was made the first order of the day for Wednesday next, immediately after routine, and to be continued after recess. Wednesday next will therefore be a great day for prohibition.

Mr. Perry enlightened the House on the merits of a certain fish trap set by some rascally Conservative to catch more fish than his neighbors. The effort was worthy of the empty house.

MISCELLANEOUS MATTERS.

Parliament May Prorogue in About Two Weeks.

OTTAWA, June 6.—The members for Victoria B.C., want the Government to put $100,000 in the supplementary estimate for improvements in Victoria harbor, which needs deepening.

The word is now that Parliament will prorogue on June 18.

Mr. Laurier stated to-day that he would drop his resolution relative to the Franchise Act.

Mr. Mills made a similar remark about his resolution respecting the non-utility of the Senate.

The Western Block was invaded by a large deputation urging the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway through Beauharnois to Dundee. A counter demonstration of about eighty persons from the same region, objecting to the construction, followed on the heels of the first.

The Committee on Banking and Commerce this morning passed a bill to allow the employees of co-operative companies to form pension funds.

In the Committee on Railways and Canals this morning a bill respecting the Grand Trunk, Georgian Bay and Lake Erie Railway was considered. The company asks that the time for the completion of the several lines be extended for five years and that they be authorized to build a branch to Owen Sound from such a point on the line as may be most convenient. Mr. Bell, solicitor of the Grand Trunk, addressed the committee in favor of the legislation asked for.

Mr. Clarke Wallace said that the Ontario Legislature last year had given a charter for a road over the same district, and it would not be fair to grant the privilege asked for. Seven years had been granted the Grand Trunk, and now five years' extension was asked.

After further discussion it was agreed to limit the time to two years, and to provide that the line to Owen Sound start at some point on the main line between Inverary and Wiarton. The bill was then passed.

The Governor-General will, after Parliament prorogues, go fishing on the Metapedia River, and will afterwards visit Quebec, remaining in the latter place some time.

Word has been received at the Indian Department that Red Crow, Chief of the Blood Indians in the Northwest Territories, has gone to Assiniboia Mountains with a view of making a treaty with the Gros Ventres Indians to put a stop to horse stealing between the two tribes.

Mr. Adam Brown secured a committee to investigate a ballot box invented by John Waddell, to which Sir John asked to be added another ballot box invented by Dr. Jones. This latter is very simple. A good sized marble, of the species called bull's eye, is placed in a tube at one end of a box, on which end are the photographs and names of the candidates. The marble runs down the tubes, of which there are as many as there are candidates, strikes machinery which registers at the other end of the box one for the candidate voted for, and then the marble comes out at the side, to be used again and again till the voting is done. The Premier thinks it a most ingenious invention. Dr. Jones is of Indian birth.

At Scientific Food Products Committee Professor Bell's evidence was continued. He gave instances of abundance of fish life in the lakes and streams where modern appliances for killing fish were not in use. An Indian family of five could take with simple gill nets, costing $2, 3000 white fish of an average weight of four pounds. These, if taken late in the season, could be kept frozen for five months. Some sturgeon twine and hooks, where sturgeon abounded, would yield a ton per family, and this was bread and meat and light for many months. The flesh could be preserved a year by drying and smoking. He recommended the restocking of denuded lakes and streams with sturgeon and white fish, principally because they were not predatory fish. Sturgeon lives on small animals and vegetable matter, and white fish on greenish vegetable matter found at the bottom of lakes. The sturgeon was enormously productive and so are white fish. Fish breeding establishments on Lake Manitoba or Winnipeg would do great good. He said that practically the winter food of the Wood Indians was in winter fish and wild rice, and in summer rabbits. The common grey rabbit was the best [illegible]

[illegible] epidemic disease which killed so many of them did not occur in all districts at the same time. Rabbits should be frequently transplanted.

The Premier then took the case of the graduates of the Kingston Military School, and Mr. [illegible] and how by a wonderful provision of nature these cones preserved the seed when forest fires swept trees and every living thing away.

Mr. Thompson will introduce a bill entitled an act in addition to the revised statutes, chapter six, respecting representation in the House of Commons.

Also a bill to amend the Revised Statutes, chapter 39, respecting expropriation of lands.

Also a bill respecting the application to Canada of the criminal law of England.

Mr. Sproule's motion for general jail delivery in commemoration of the Queen's jubilee was withdrawn.

A proposal to use Postal Notes has been adopted by [illegible] Department, with the view of [illegible] provided by the proposed amendment. It is provided by the proposed amendment that goods purchased [illegible] May 12 [illegible] Canada for import into Canada, including goods in warehouse, may be entered at the rates of duty in force previous to that day on the production by the importer of evidence to that effect satisfactory to the Minister of Customs, but the provision shall cease to have force on and after July 1 next, excepting that goods from the United Kingdom or any British possession may be entered into British Columbia under the proposed section until September next. The object of the extension is to place importers in British Columbia on the same footing as those in other parts of the Dominion.

HAMILTON MOULDERS OUT.

A Lockout Idea of Injuries—The Old Pensioners to Celebrate the Jubilee.

HAMILTON, June 6.—The moulders employed in the stove foundries did not go to work this morning. It is likely that the strike will last some time, as the men are determined not to work until they receive the advance asked for and the bosses cannot see their way clear to grant the advance. The moulders employed by the Osborne & Killey Company are also out on a strike. The men made a demand for ten per cent. on piece work and fifteen cents a day for day work, which was not granted. The day hands have received $1.65 a day for some time.

George Green, the labourer who was crushed in a sewer on Tuesday, died last night.

On Saturday evening there was a meeting of British army and navy veterans to continue preparations for the Queen's jubilee celebration. A committee reported that the badges were being manufactured. Over 150 old sailors and soldiers will take part in the procession.

M'GLYNN SCARES O'BRIEN.

THE PRIEST SAYS THE AGITATOR IS A LANDLORD AT HEART.

John McMackin Also Has a Fling at the Dublin Editor, Whom He Roundly Denounces—A Big Reception at the New York Press Club.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Editor O'Brien stated to reporters to-day that his only reason for refusing to be present at Saturday night's meeting was that his endorsement of the ideas contained in the resolutions would be used against the Parnellites at home. He regarded it as the most important moment of his life. If he had yielded, coercion would have been speedily fastened upon Ireland. He had been misrepresented as to his attitude in regard to Dr. McGlynn. He would have been proud to speak from the same platform with Dr. McGlynn, though he did not share all his views. He had no ill-feeling personally toward Mr. McMackin, but was actuated by patriotic advisers.

A stormy session of the Central Labor Union was held yesterday. John McMakin made an address denouncing Editor O'Brien for his action in refusing to attend the mass meeting. McMackin declared that he did not seek the chairmanship; that he had done and would do nothing to disgrace the confidence reposed in him by the Labor party. He continued: "We have no war to make against the Church, but we have a struggle to carry on against that power in the Church which would prop up a system of society that degenerates manhood to a condition of poverty and dependence." Resolutions were adopted denouncing Editor O'Brien for his action.

Dr. McGlynn delivered a speech at the meeting of the Anti-Poverty Society at the Academy of Music last night. He expressed regret that Mr. O'Brien should have been influenced by a certain clique to absent himself from a meeting, the object of which had been to promote the idea of the restoration of the people's rights to the means of subsistence furnished by nature and to make such actions as those of Lord Lansdowne impossible. These remarks were loudly applauded and the name of O'Brien was hissed. Mr. John McMackin, chairman of last night's meeting, also spoke in a similar strain.

"O'Brien," Dr. McGlynn said, "is a landlord at heart, and the only difference between him and Lansdowne is that O'Brien is 10 or 20 per cent. lower than Lansdowne. When O'Brien found he could not jew Lansdowne down to his figures he went about blackguarding him."

At a meeting of the Fifth Ward branch of the National League yesterday ex-Senator Grady strongly commended Editor O'Brien for refusing to attend the mass meeting, and the sentiment was applauded.

Reception at the Press Club.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Editor O'Brien was tendered an informal reception by the New York Press Club at the Club House this afternoon. About two hundred members of the New York newspaper world were present. Remarks were made by O'Brien, Joe Howard, jr., Bill Nye and several other journalistic lights.

TOPICS FROM TORONTO.

TORONTO, June 7.

The annual convention of the International Association of Exhibition and Fair Managers and Officials will be held at the Rossin House, Toronto, July 27 and 28. A banquet will be given the delegates on the evening of the 28th. Manager Hill of the Industrial wrote the City Council last night asking that the Reception Committee be instructed to tender the hospitalities of the town in the shape of a carriage drive and a sail on the Bay to the delegates.

The vacancy in the York chrisvalty office is aggravating the county councillors, and with a view of assisting the Government out of its supposed dilemma, they propose at their meeting this week to recommend the appointment of a county man. Upon whom their choice will fall it is impossible to conjecture, but the idea is to so influence the Government that a resident of the county will at all events secure the position.

Ex-Warden Jackson, it is rumored, will at the present session of the County Council move a resolution recommending the abolition of the Grand Jury system. Mr. Jackson claims that the Crown Attorney practically does the work which the Grand Jury is paid for and therefore there is under the present judicial system no need for the services of that body.

Thomas Winterberry, manager in the Quebec Bank, was badly injured yesterday morning by being caught between the elevator and the wall in the shaft. One leg was broken and he sustained other injuries. He was removed to his room on the top flat, where Drs. Cassidy and Sweetnam attended him.

A HANGING AT PEMBROKE.

THE RAGLAN MURDERER PAYS THE PENALTY OF HIS CRIME.

The Condemned Man Admits His Guilt and After Repeating a Prayer and Singing a Hymn Meets His Death With Great Firmness.

PEMBROKE, Ont., June 6.—The execution of the murderer Gogolin took place here this morning at 8 o'clock and was witnessed by about fifty people. At 7.45 o'clock the murderer was conducted to the scaffold, accompanied by two German ministers, Rev. C. Schroeder and Rev. Robert F. Kretzmann, and the officials. He was placed on the drop, where he knelt while the Rev. Mr. Kretzmann knelt with him. The condemned man repeated the prayers after the minister with great fervor, and expressed himself as perfectly satisfied to meet his God.

Rev. Mr. Schroeder, who attended him throughout, a few minutes before the fatal bolt was drawn, sang a favorite German hymn, in which the prisoner joined with a clear and unwavering voice, apparently as cool as though an ordinary church service was taking place. He only knew three verses of this hymn and they were particularly adapted to his case. He also repeated at the end a beautiful prayer he had learned when a boy, which was also admirably suited to his condition. Mr. Schroeder said that Gogolin had entirely forgotten everything pertaining to religious services, but this little prayer and the three stanzas of the hymn mentioned above. He had evidently not attended a place of worship for years.

A few minutes after the prisoner was placed on the scaffold, the noose adjusted about his neck, the fatal bolt drawn, and David Gogolin was launched into eternity. He died without a struggle, save a slight muscular contraction visible at intervals for about nine minutes after he dropped. Rev. Mr. Schroeder said, after the execution had taken place: "He is safe in the arms of Jesus! Would to God every one could meet their Maker as well prepared." His friends were allowed to take the remains to bury them in the German cemetery. He made no statement on the scaffold.

The Crime for Which he Suffered.

The crime for which Gogolin suffered was committed in October last near Raglan, in Renfrew County. Gogolin wished to dispossess a family named Werckenthal of a shanty in which they lived, but being unable to do so he fired the house one day when the husband was absent. Just after doing so he encountered Mrs. Werckenthal at the rear of the shanty and struck her with a stick and killed her. He hid in the woods for several days after committing the deed and then gave himself up to the authorities, making a full confession of the murder.

A NEW STEEL ARMOR PLATE.

Successful Experiments With the Invention of a New Jersey Man.

NEWARK, N.J., June 6.—John Illingworth, the head of the Newark Steel Works, has patented and had successfully tested a new steel armor plate for war vessels. The plate is composed of four thicknesses of steel of different tempers, the hardest being on the surface. The plate was tested at Annapolis the week before last and found satisfactory. Two shots were fired at it from a six-pound rapid firing Hotchkiss gun at a distance of sixty feet. Although the plate was crushed by three shots planted in the same place it remained intact and the projectiles were all broken by the resistance.

The plate used in this experiment was composed of two thicknesses three inches through and the projectile was thrown against it with a striking velocity of 1350 feet per second.

SMALLPOX IN CUBA.

A Severe Outbreak of the Dread Disease at Santiago.

NEW YORK, June 6.—A letter from Santiago de Cuba, dated May 27, says: Two hundred and eighty cases of smallpox are known by the authorities to exist here and it is estimated that 100 more are being treated by charistana. The deaths in this city from May 1 to 27 from smallpox numbered forty, not one of the victims having been vaccinated. The disease has appeared at Guantanamo and doubtless will spread to all Cuban ports. The inhabitants are ignorant and superstitious and are inclined to prayers rather than to vaccination.

HINTS OF BRIBERY.

Russian Suspicions as to How the Anglo-Turkish Convention was Effected.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 6.—M. Nelidoff, the Russian ambassador, in communicating his Government's objections to the Anglo-Turkish Convention, hinted that if the Sultan ratified the convention such action might cost him his throne. He also indirectly charged England with bribing the Grand Vizier with £600,000 sterling and other palace officials with large amounts to secure their approval of the convention.

The Sultan, after his interview with M. Nelidoff, immediately summoned Sir Henry Drummond Wolff, special British Envoy, and questioned him as to the truth of the charges. Sir Henry indignantly denied that he or his government had been guilty of bribery. The Turkish officials who were said to have received bribes also warmly protested their innocence.

THE BIG CLOTHIER, determines to carry no unseasonable goods over, and in order to make room for his Immense Fall Stock, which is now in process of manufacture, proposes organizing

The Most Gigantic Sale ever offered to the People of Peterborough.

This gigantic Sale will take place commencing WEDNESDAY, JUNE 1st, 1887, and will continue for the following 20 days only, when I will offer any and all of my big stock, at Wonderfully Reduced Prices.

Bear in mind, GOUGH never yet advertised anything he did not do; nor will he in this instance, a fact you will all be convinced of the first day of this Grand Sale.

Some designing dealers ask the question, why pay $12.00 for a Worsted Suit that they sell for $8.50. Gough repudiates the assertion. This boasted Worsted Suit is nearly ALL COTTON, and as a guarantee to what I herein state is true, I will forfeit $1000 if I cannot prove it; I challenge a contradiction. Gough's regular price for this boasted $8.50 suit is $7.50.

I ask the attention of a discriminating public particularly to this Great Sale, and if they don't find it straight-forward, honorable and bona-fide, then brand me as a Cheap Side Store, and not the Great Forepaugh I claim to be.

THE METHODIST CHURCH.

MONDAY, June 6th.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Conference assembled at two p.m. The minutes were read and confirmed.

Dr. Briggs, Book Steward, read his report of the operations, and results, of the Book Room, showing a most encouraging state of progress and healthy development. The circulation of the various church serials, (except the Christian Guardian, which showed a falling off,) Methodist Magazine, Sunday School papers had enjoyed a gratifying increase of appreciation. He made hasty reference to the several new publications. The number of publications the past year, totalled over 50,000, and this department had enjoyed a most satisfactory year, with gratifying financial results.

Rev. Dr. Dewart, editor of the Christian Guardian, spoke upon the importance of the religious press as an educator, equal in importance to any other—with four chief objects—diffusion of knowledge of the work of the church—giving important lessons for life in its weekly pages—defending of the doctrines of the Gospel and the church, and enlisting general sympathy in all connexional enterprises. Dr. Dewart closed his address with an earnest appeal to ministers to promote the circulation of the Guardian.

A lay delegate wanted to know something about the Guardian; there had been a falling off in circulation. He (the speaker) was one of those who had stopped his paper, and he had done so because of the position the paper took on the "Rose-Lynch" Bible question and because it sympathised with Parnell. Being out of order the lay delegate didn't specify the information he was longing for, and he was sat on.

A motion by Rev. I. Tovell, seconded by Rev. M. L. Pearson, was passed, heartily endorsing the management of the Book Room and Christian Guardian, and pledging the Conference to co-operate in promoting their success.

Rev. J. Gray, treasurer of the Superannuation Fund, gave details of the financial condition of this fund, which was favourable. He also read the report of the General Conference Funds and suggested that the ministers promptly inaugurate the work necessary to meet the circuit claims of these funds. The reports were ordered to be printed in the minutes.

Mr. Cox presented and read the report of the Ontario Ladies College, Whitby, showing a roll of 171 students with an average attendance of 103 students; the finances were in a satisfactory condition. However the buildings were somewhat inadequate to accommodate the increasing patronage. Mr. Cox pointed out the improved financial condition of the educational institutions of the church, and, he added, amidst applause, that the finances of Victoria would show a surplus of from $1500 to $2000 the current year.

Dr. Ford, of Norwood, introduced the temperance resolutions, of which he had given notice on Friday.

Dr. Ford stated that the present was one of the most critical periods of the temperance movement, and of the church's connection therewith. There had been enough of declamations and high-sounding resolutions, and the time for action was at hand. He thought the present resolutions came up to the mark. He had been an active politician but the last straw that broke his back politically was a letter from a resident of his riding during the last election (the brewer's "bread and butter" letter.) Dr. Ford closed by saying, with uplifted hand, "So help my God I have polled my last party vote till this temperance question is settled." (Cheers.)

Rev. A. Browning seconded the resolution; he was proud to have the chance of doing so. Unless the Methodist church rose above partizanship in politics the temperance question was doomed.

Moved by S. P. Ford, M.D., seconded by Rev. Browning:—

Whereas the vile traffic in intoxicating liquors still continues to exert its baneful influence throughout the length and breadth of the land, wasting the material resources of the country, entailing poverty and crime, and involving annually the destruction of many thousands of human lives; and

Whereas there is abundant evidence to show that the prohibitory legislation where it has been granted and even fairly well enforced, has invariably been followed by the diminution of drunkenness and crime and an increase of temporal prosperity among the people; therefore

Be it resolved, that the members of this Conference view with alarm and indignation the efforts now being made to seriously impair if not repeal the "Canada Temperance Act," accompanied as these efforts are, by indecision on the part of professed friends, by thorough organization on the part of avowed enemies, and by the unfriendly attitude of the Dominion (and Provincial) Government(s), as manifested by the recent appointments to the Senate, of men in sympathy with the liquor traffic, and (the retention of men in position of inspectors, commissioners and magistrates, who take every opportunity of frustrating the proper enforcement of the law,) that we memorialize the Legislature of the Dominion, now in session, not to sanction any legislation that would impair the operation of the Canada Temperance Act in those counties where it is now in force.

Resolved, also, that believing the time to be fully come when party alliances and party predilections must be subordinated to the great cause of temperance reform, the members of this conference solemnly pledge themselves, by every legitimate means in their power, in the pulpit, on the platform, in the press and at the ballot box, to oppose any government, or any party, or any individual member of parliament, who, either by vote or influence, shall seek to destroy or seriously impair the existing prohibitory legislation;

Resolved, that we gratefully acknowledge our obligations to Mr. Jameson and Mr. Fisher for their faithful exertions in the House of Commons in behalf of the cause of temperance.

Resolved, also, that we declare our readiness to unite with all other Conferences, Synods Assemblies and Associations throughout the country in educating and directing public sentiment to the point of demanding from the House of Commons an efficient prohibitory enactment for the whole Dominion. [Note—Dr. Ford made the resolution more palatable and easy of swallowing by adding the clause including the Ontario Government to the list of sinners against the temperance movement. The words added to the resolution as read on Friday are marked by being enclosed in parentheses.

Mr. Geo. A. Cox said he was in entire accord with the resolutions and with Dr. Ford's remarks, but he had no idea that they would amount to anything—when it came to election time (hear! hear!). To pass such resolutions was in his opinion a farce. There was no instance on record where such resolutions had influenced a single vote He had had experience in politics, and the lesson of it was that when it came to election times politicians would easily persuade themselves that they were best serving the cause of temperance by voting according to their political convictions.

Rev. M. L. Pearson deprecated the idea of preaching political sermons on the temperance question, in opposition to government. The members of a congregation who urged such a course would be the first to forsake the preachers. Adopting the resolutions would involve trouble to every minister of the conference if acted upon.

Rev. W. H. Emsley suggested that an addendum be made to the resolutions to the effect that they be declared inoperative, within six weeks before a general election. (Cheers and laughter.)

Mr. Webb, of Colborne layman, said in view of the fact that at the ballot box every elector would be guided by his party inclinations, the adoption of the resolution would be a farce.

Rev. J. B. Clarkson advocated he formation of a prohibition party.

Mr. Cummings, layman, Rev. J. P. Wilson, Rev. J. S. Clark and others favored the resolutions.

Several members of the conference continued the discussion, some favoring the resolution and others, while thinking the resolutions a mere sentimental declaration, still asserted, themselves in favour of temperance. They thought the resolutions contained something which conflicted with the duty of christain ministers.

Dr. Ford closed the debate by declining to yield to any amendment of his resolution.

A motion was made to refer these resolution special committee.

Mr. Cox made personal explanation, stating that his objection to the text of the resolution did not arise from any opposition to temperance.

The amendment was lost, and the original resolutions were carried by a large majority.

On motion it was ordered that a copy of the resolutions be forwarded to the Provincial Secretary, and to Mr. Jameson, M. P., South Lanark.

Dr. J. Shaw of the Board of Missions, and Rev. C. A. Simpson, of the Toronto Conference, were introduced to the Conference by the Rev. J. G. Clarke.

Rev. F. B. Stratton, Treasurer of the Superannuation Fund, reported that the district had paid up their allotment to the Fund with a single exception.

Conference adjourned till ten o'clock.

At the missionary meeting held in the evening Dr. Shaw occupied the chair, and stirring addresses were delivered by Rev. Prof. Dyer and Rev. Silas Huntington. The usual collection was taken.

(The report of this mornings' proceedings are held over till to-morrow.)

IMPORTANT TO THE PUBLIC

At the time of selling our stock of Dry Goods to Sheehy & Co., we had fully determined to give up that particular branch of our business, but as previously announced, did not do so, for various reasons. However, it is now our intention to dispose of the Dry Goods Trade, and have consequently made up our mind to

CLEAR OUT THE WHOLE STOCK AT COST PRICE AND UNDER

This is one of the Best Dry Goods Stocks in the Country, having been imported from the best markets direct to ourselves. Remember, this will be a GENUINE CLEARING OUT SALE. While we will still retain our Clothing Trade, yet we will during this sale, offer ALL our Ready-made Clothing, for Men and Boys, (with all kinds of furnishings) at COST PRICE. REMEMBER, THE WHOLE DRY GOODS STOCK MUST BE SOLD OUT.

SPORTING TOPICS.

Racing at Belleville.

BELLEVILLE, Ont., June 6.—The first day of the racing meeting here was held this afternoon, and despite a light rain, which fell almost continuously from an early hour this morning, the meeting was highly successful. The attendance numbered about 800. The track was good at first, although heavy towards the close. The racing was excellent and gave great satisfaction.

THE PRINTERS' PURSE.

0 class, of which $30 to 2d; weight for age; Dominion bred allowed 7 lbs. One mile:
H. Burgess' ch. h. Brait, 5, by Princeton—Roxaline, 110.....(Douglas) 1
J. E. Ingram's gr. g. Felix, 4, by Conno—Lucy Lowe, 110.....(Wise) 2

Time—1.55½.

Wild Rose, Maggie Bruce, Lady McDonald and Lone Star also ran.

The Race—Brait, who at once rushed to the front, was never headed and won by three lengths. Felix secured second honors easily and there was a sharp struggle for third place, which Wild Rose held until within a few lengths of the wire, when Williams got his head in front.

THE QUEEN'S JUBILEE PLATE.

A race value at 850 each, $20 for starters, $200 added. Open to all horses owned, bred, raised and trained in Ontario and Quebec, that have never won public money. The winner of the Queen's Plate, Toronto, for 1887 to carry the extra weight for age. 40 per cent. to 1st, 25 per cent. to 2d. One mile:
H. Burgess' ch. h. Fred R, 4, by Princeton—Roxaline, 115.....(Douglas) 1
Ormsby Stables' b.m. Aunt Alice, aged, by Terror—Ada, 117.....(Warder) 3

Time—1.54½.

Maggie May and Augusta also ran.

The Race—Fred R. made the running from the fall of the flag and held the lead throughout, and won by about a length. Bonnie Duke and Aunt Alice had a hard and prolonged struggle for the second place, which the winner of the Queen's Plate obtained in the home stretch, and beat her out by a quarter of a length. The others finished in the order named.

THE MERCHANTS' PURSE.

$200, $120 to 1st, $60 to 2d, $20 to 3d; open to all horses; weight for age; Dominion bred allowed 7 lbs.; 15½ miles over six hurdles:
Wellington Stables' b. g. Willie W., aged, by Princeton—Roxaline, 160.....(Curtis) 1
Ormsby Stables' ch. m. Lucy Lightfoot, 4, by Terror—Nettie, 138.....(Wright) 2
J. E. Ingram's b. g. Lolex, aged, by Lobago—War Maid, 156.....(Graver) 3

Time—55½.

Beechmore also ran.

The Race—Lucy Lightfoot led and retained first place until the last hurdle had been jumped, when Willie W., who was close up, collared and beat her out a quarter of a length. Lolex a length behind, Lightfoot and Beechmore several lengths away.

THE COUNTY RACE.

Purse $75, of which $40 to 1st, and $25 to 2d. Open to all horses in Hastings, Prince Edward, Northumberland and Lennox, that have never won public money. One mile:
C. Winkler's bay Wild, 117.....1 1
T. B. Church's Victor, 128.....2 2
W. H. Stapleton's Kathleen, 117.....3 3

Time—58½, 57½.

The meeting will be continued to-day, with four events on the program.

It is most remarkable that the winners of the three three races are full brothers, being sired by Princeton out of Roxaline, and all bred by Mr. H. Burgess of Woodstock.

An International League Game.

BUFFALO, June 6.—Buffalo and Utica played a game in the mud to-day. Both Walsh and Pendergrass were batted hard, but the Buffalos won through the poor fielding of the visitors. The fifth inning was a remarkable one: Carroll started it with a two-base hit, Hoegle followed with a single and Toy with another, bringing in Carroll. Then Griffin banged the ball over the left field fence for a home run. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Utica	0	1	5

Pitchers: Walsh and Pendergrass.
Rain prevented the other championship games.

Ross Fails to Row O'Connor.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Wallace Ross failed to appear at Bowery Bay to-day to row O'Connor of Toronto for $500, and the latter went over the course alone. The referee reserved his decision as to whether O'Connor is entitled to the stakes. Ross claimed illness and notified the stakeholder, Hamilton Bushby, that he would not allow his money to stand.

Beach Agrees to Row Trickett.

LONDON, June 6.—A Sydney, Australia, despatch says that Beach has accepted a challenge from Trickett for a contest for the championship.

A Test as to the Betting Statute's Meaning.

NEW YORK, June 6.—The city bookmakers are in a quandary, and have not yet fully determined what course to pursue regarding the new betting law. "Along the line" (in town) there is a deep-rooted dissatisfaction.

A meeting has been held by the bookies, and the plan suggested by Lawyer Hummel was the subject discussed. It was considered feasible, and a practical test is contemplated, it having been decided that some one must go to the front and suffer arrest for the purpose of settling the question.

Under Mr. Hummel's interpretation of the Ives Bill an investor who lives in the city can give some one else who is about to visit the race course a commission to execute for him. If the commission is to put money at a certain price on a certain horse the law, Mr. Hummel claims, will not have been violated, and no arrest can follow.

Racing on the Sea Coast.

BRIGHTON BEACH, June 6.—The racing was continued to-day with a good attendance and large fields. The weather was fine and track good.

First race, purse $300, for maidens, 5 furlongs—Alarie, 107, won; Joe Harris, 107, 2d; Racquet, 107, 3d. Time 1.08.

Second race, selling purse, 1¼ miles—Windmill, 98, won; Mentor, 98, 2d; Late Arnold, 98, 3d. Time 1.58½.

Third race, purse $300, ⅝ mile—Magnon, 104, won; Brambleton, 118, 2d; Rampart, 115, 3d. Time 1.12.

Sixth race, selling purse, for beaten horses, 7 furlongs—Mammonist, 117, won; Melton, 103, 2d; McBowling, 110, 3d. Time 1.31¾.

Trial Heats of the Ottawa Rowing Club.

OTTAWA, June 6.—The trial heats of the rowing club's spring four-oared races were rowed this afternoon. The winners were the crews steered by P. D. Ross and A. F. May respectively. The final contest between these crews will take place to-morrow.

Niagara Falls July Meeting.

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., June 6.—Preparations for the inaugural meeting of the Niagara Falls Racing Association are being pushed rapidly forward. The Executive Committee are hard at work arranging details, and the grounds and buildings are rapidly nearing completion. The stables will be roomy, well-ventilated and comfortable, and the association is showing a willingness to improve on its own ideas by suggestions made by several owners who have been interviewed. The grand stand is being placed 70 feet from the track at one end and 35 feet at the other. It will be 40 feet wide and 216 feet long. Comfortable chairs will be used, and in the front boxes arm chairs.

As to horses the committee states that requests for stabling accommodation are being received from all quarters, and there will certainly, as things look now, be no lack of material for good sport. The track will be a good one. The soil is rich, black, sandy loam.

The Grand Trunk's Answer.

WASHINGTON, D.C., June 6.—An answer was received this morning by the Interstate Commerce Commissioner from the Chicago and Grand Trunk Railway Company to the complaint of the Michigan Central Railway against it for selling tickets to commercial travellers at a lower rate than that given to the public generally. The Chicago and Grand Trunk Company admits the sale of tickets and other facts stated in the complaint, and holds that the provisions of the Interstate Commerce Law do not apply to mileage tickets sold to commercial agents.

NEW YORK PROHIBITIONISTS.

A Convention to be Held at Syracuse in August.

ALBANY, June 6.—The Executive Committee of the Prohibition party met here to-day and decided to hold the Prohibition state convention at Syracuse on Aug. 25 and 26.

Arrangements were made to begin a speech-making campaign throughout the state immediately after the state convention is held. Ex-Gov. St. John of Kansas and John B. Finch of Nebraska will traverse the state making speeches. "We intend to increase our vote," said Chairman Wheeler to-day, "from the 30,000 it was in 1886 to 50,000. We shall nominate a full state ticket."

A DAKOTA TRAGEDY.

A Contest Over a Tree Claim Results in the Murder of Four Persons.

HURON, Dak., June 6.—Simeon Nelson shot and killed Mrs. Shaw, her son, aged about 13, and her sister, Miss Lyman, aged 22, this morning. The tragedy was a result of a contest over a tree claim which had been decided in favor of Mrs. Shaw. Nelson also shot a man named Kilsey through the body fatally. Lyman was with the party, but escaped by getting behind a team. After the shooting Nelson returned home, and placing the muzzle of his rifle to his temple blew out his own brains.

The Montreal Star's Jubilee Number.

MONTREAL, June 6.—The sale of the Queen's jubilee number of the Montreal Star commenced to-day at 2 p.m. The rush of orders was the largest for any of their illustrated numbers, the first day's sales exceeding any other opening day on record here. The Jubilee Star is being largely bought up by all classes, and the postoffice reports an overwhelming amount of work in getting the number sorted.

Liquor Dealers Undesirable Bloods.

ST. LOUIS, June 6.—The adoption of measures by the Masonic Grand Lodge of this State, for the expulsion of all members of the order engaged in the liquor business, is creating dissensions in the body, opposition coming mainly from the German members, who claim that selling beer is no greater offense than drinking it. A serious split in the Grand Lodge is not unlikely to occur.

The Yellow Fever Outbreak at Key West.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Advices received at the Marine Hospital Bureau from Key West are to the effect that yellow fever is spreading through the town. A telegram was sent to Key West to-day authorizing the officers of the Marine Hospital service, if necessary, to employ skilled nurses at the Government's expense to care for the sick.

The Floods in Hungary.

VIENNA, June 6.—The efforts of thousands of workmen for three days and the use of tons upon tons of stones and earth have not proved sufficient to stop the gap in the Kisteny dyke, in the submerged district of Hungary. It cannot even be said that the rush of water has been sensibly lessened.

The Chicago Elections.

CHICAGO, June 6.—Yet one ward in Chicago declared to-day in favor of boodle and anarchy. Except in Chicago's Sixth Ward, the vote throughout the county averaged three to one against the twin evils.

Astonishing Success

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung disease. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 50,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it, sample bottles to try, only 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and dealers, in the United States and Canada. eodw4

Domestic Economy.

As a matter of economy it will pay every household to keep a bottle of Yellow Oil for accidents and emergencies, in case of pain as a handy relief, and for wounds, burns, bruises and injuries. Rheumatism, neuralgia, quinsy, and many painful diseases treated internally and externally by it often save large medical bills. 2w22d

What is Needed

By every man and woman if they desire to secure comfort in this world is a corn sheller. Putnam's Corn Extractor shells corns in two or three days and without discomfort or pain. A hundred imitations prove the merit of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, which is always sure, safe and painless. See signature of Polson & Co., on each bottle. Sold by medicine dealers. 6dw23

Worth Remembering.

Mrs. T. Doan, of Harristeville, Ont., was for a long time troubled with neuralgia of stomach. Failing to find benefit from her physicians, she tried Burdock Blood Bitters from which she found speedy relief, to which she testifies, hoping it may prove beneficial to others. Many physicians recommend B. B. B. 2w22d

Weather Probabilities.

It is probable that in the breaking up of winter we shall have much damp sloppy weather, when rheumatism, neuralgia, sore throat, and other painful complaints will prevail. Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the popular household remedy for external and internal use. Its curative power is truly wonderful. 2w22d

Try It.

"What shall I do for this distressing Cough?" Try Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam; It is soothing and healing to the throat and lungs, and loosens the tough mucous that renders breathing difficult or painful. 2w22d

A Military Suggestion.

It has been suggested that the Peterborough corps of the Durham Field Battery and the Peterborough troop of Cavalry, be invited to assist in the military parade. They are to go into camp, at Kingston, June 21st, and if a little influence was brought to bear to delay their departure a day, their presence would add much to the grandeur of the parade.

A Good Job.

Messrs. P. McHugh & Bros. have just completed the plastering of Mr. Hazlitt's new house on Water street, the workmanship of which is excellent. Messrs. McHugh & Bros. thoroughly understand their business.

Confirmation Services.

To Volunteers.

A good turn-out of volunteers for drill this evening is particularly requested at 7.30, in order to be as well prepared as possible for the parade on June 21st, in connection with the celebration of the Queen's Jubilee.

Girls for Adoption.

There are 42 young girls at the Barnardo Home between the ages of 4 and 9 years who are awaiting adoption into families of good repute. Parties desiring to adopt one or more of the girls had better apply to the Home at once.

Garden Party.

A meeting of ladies will be held in the Y. M. C. A. parlour on Thursday, June 9th, at half past three o'clock, to make arrangements for the annual garden party at the Barnardo Home. All who are interested are particularly requested to attend.

A New Turn Table.

Another fact is at hand to show that the Midland Railway Company do not intend to make Peterborough a mere passing station. Stone has just been laid down for a new iron turn table at the depot, here, to replace the old wooden one, which will be removed at once. This looks as though it was intended to make Peterborough a permanent railway centre.

Advice to Wives—During Conference.

Remember that you are married to a man, and not to a god; be prepared for imperfections. Be reasonable; it is a great deal to ask under some circumstances, but do try; reasonable women are rare—be rare. Let your husband read the newspapers at the tea table; it is unsociable, to be sure, but then, it is only a trifle after all, and he likes it. Besides, he is sure to find out by the papers that the Masonic Jubilee excursion to Toronto, on Thursday the 9th of June, is to be the Society trip of the season, and if he is a gentleman, he'll not go alone, he'll buy ticket, for two.

The Locks Line.

Work on the Locks Line is progressing rapidly, under the supervision of Mr. Headry, the energetic contractor. About 200 men are actively employed at the present time, and the neighborhood resounds with the incessant hum of industry. The line has been put down from Beaver Meadow Creek to Downer's barn, which is being moved out of the way. Burnham's field is also surveyed. The first sill of the bridge has been laid down, and the stone for the abutments is being unloaded in Ashburnham by Mr. James Bogue, the stone work contractor.

A Blaze In Ashburnham.

Monday evening a frame house in Ashburnham, owned by Mr. A. Rutherford, south of Elizabeth street and west of Concession street, which had just been moved and was still resting on the blocks, was destroyed by fire. It was insured for $400 in the Glasgow & London, Mr. W. H. Hill, agent. There is scarcely a doubt that the fire was the result of incendiarism. The Peterborough fire engine crossed the river and emptied all the wells in the neighborhood in subduing the flames.

Generous Acknowledgement.

The Chief of the Fire Brigade has received the following:—

PETERBOROUGH, June 1st, 1887.

T. Rutherford, Esq., Chief Fire Department, Peterborough.

DEAR SIR,—Please accept the enclosed cheque of $25 with the compliments of the Dickson Co., asking the Fire Brigade to receive it as a trifling acknowledgement for the valuable services rendered by them at the fire on Hunter Street on the 19th ult.

Yours very truly,

THOS. GEO. HAZLETT.

Flower Thieves.

This morning Mr. Sidney Blade, gardener at the Court House Park, noticed that two fine plants had been extracted from one of the beds and numerous "buttonholes" clipped from the choicest blossoms about. The despoliation was wholesale, and showed at once the hoggish as well as detestable character of the offender. Mr. Thos. White had noticed early in the morning a fellow with two or three large buttonhole boquets tallying with the descriptions of the missing flowers. Putting two and two together, Tom took upon himself the role of detective, and was successful in discovering the name of the guilty party and in recovering some of the nosegays, though no trace has yet been found of the two plants. If not already arrested, the guilty man will be apprehended very soon. Others are said to be implicated also.

Fair Day Exhibits.

To-day was fair day, and the market square presented a lively scene this forenoon. Farming implements of every description were there exhibited, the most pretentious display being a Peerless Separator and threshing engine in operation, made by L. D. Sawyer & Co., of Hamilton, whose Peterborough agent is Mr. H. Owens. Mr. R. E. Bowie had a Chatham Harvester and the celebrated J. G. C. riding plow on exhibition, and was kept busy detailing the many advantages these machines possess over others, to the crowds who gathered about. A Hamilton Light Twine Binder and riding plough, manufactured at the Peter Hamilton Agricultural Works, Peterborough, were shown by Mr. J. A. Bennett, agent. Mr. Wm. Anderson, of Otonabee, showed a new light harvester made by Frost & Wood, Smiths' Falls; Messrs. James Fowler, of Smith, and James Galvin, of Peterborough, the little "Maxwell" binder, made by the David Maxwell Co., Paris; Robert Fife, Peterborough, two of the Massey light binders—one steel frame and one wood, and a Massey mower; Mr. H. Owens, a Brantford light binder, manufactured by A. Harris, Son & Co., Brantford; J. Johnston, Monaghan, an Ottawa Champion hay carrier. A large number of agriculturists were present and examined the machines exhibited.

He Gets Thirty-six Feet.

Mr. Carnegie's Second Request Granted—A Special Meeting of Town Council to "Encourage" Some Industries.

In opening the proceedings Mayor Stevenson announced his reasons for having called the meeting. First there was the matter of the Trent Valley Canal, over which there was a deal of discussion, a report of which will be given to-morrow, our space being too limited to admit of a fair report to-day. Some other minor matters and motions were disposed of. These too will be included in to-morrow's report. The matter which assumed paramount interest was that of leasing a portion of Dalhousie street to Mr. Carnegie.

Mr. MOORE introduced a by-law to grant Mr. Carnegie a lease of a portion of Dalhousie street. Mr. Moore explained that Mr. Carnegie had altered his plans, and instead of requiring the closing of Water and Dalhousie streets, as additional premises for the Central Iron Bridge Works, as originally requested, would only require the lease of forty feet of Dalhousie street for 21 years, at $1 per annum with taxes, on which to erect premises.

Mr. Davidson objected to a by-law being sprung on the Council, when the Finance Committee had dealt with the matter, and had recommended no action.

Mr. MOORE replied that matter which the committee had in hand was the sale of portions of Water and Dalhousie streets to Mr. Carnegie. This was, he claimed, another matter altogether.

On motion the council went into committee of the whole, and discussion began in earnest.

Mr. MCNAUGHTON objected to the lease on principle, and Mr. Davidson thought the by-law was improperly drawn up and was indefinite and liable to give rise to trouble.

Mr. MENZIES didn't wish to throw a stumbling-block in Mr. Carnegie's way, but the Finance Committee had disposed of the matter before, and this was not endorsing their action. This was a rather fast proceeding any way. The by-law was sprung on the Council very unjustly and he protested against it.

Mr. DOUGLASS contended that if any lease was given, it was not worth the paper it was written on, as the Council had no power to either lease or sell a portion of the street. That only could be done by Act of Parliament. But if the residents in the neighborhood were satisfied the council should not oppose the lease.

Mr. YELLAND wanted to encourage manufactoring all he could, but he didn't think the council could give away any portion of the public street.

Mr. KENDRY thought Mr. Carnegie should be dealt with the same as Mr Hamilton and the Dixon estate, which had been granted portions of streets. If industry was to be encouraged, the Council should be liberal in this matter. It appeared that the Council were more generous to outside companies than those which had been located in our town for years.

Mr. DAVIDSON enquired if Mr. Carnegie intended to give the town a guarantee against costs, and an affirmative reply was received. Mr. Davidson also read a paragraph from the Revised Statutes of Ontario relating to the duties and privileges of Town Councils in this matter. Not one of the four conditions imposed had been fulfilled in this by-law. In view of the fact that the by-law was illegal, he moved, seconded by Mr. McNaughton, that the committee rise.

Mr. CAHILL said though the objections read from the Statutes appeared fatal to the by-law, he would be half inclined to vote for it if the figures were changed from 40 to 36 feet, which would leave Water street intact.

Mr. CARNEGIE agreed to Mr. Cahill's proposition to make the request 36 feet, though they required the original space. But if the by-law was not passed and the Bridge Works was not transferred, he had hopes of getting a boiler-maker to occupy the premises. With regard to the objections raised as to its legality, he volunteered to indemnify the town against any expenses arising from law suits, etc.

Mr. MCNEIL favored the by-law, and Mr. KELLY urged that if this by-law was illegal, so was the one relating to the Dixon Estate, of which the one in question was an exact copy. If the by-law before the council was rejected on account of illegality, he would push a motion that the by-law granting a street privilege to the Dickson Estate be rescinded.

Mr. KENDRY, on rising to second Mr. Kelly's motion, said that Mr. Law could get large bonuses from Stratford and other places, and if the town did not act liberally with him, they could not be surprised if he moved to a more favorable place.

Mr. HARTLEY spoke in favor of the passing of the by-law. It seemed strange to him that the council should oppose this little thing, where only a few feet of ground on a deserted street was asked, while to outside industries free buildings and sites worth $10,000 would be granted free. It interfered with no person, and our citizens should be encouraged as much as possible.

Mayor STEVENSON thought that though this by-law was probably not directly legal, there could be no great loss in making the grant.

Mr. STENSON said he could not vote for the by-law in view of animus that existed between some of the interested parties, over the matter.

Mr. MOORE proposed two or three amendments to the by-law, one being that the lease terminate in 20 years, to be abolished or renewed, as the then council may deem fit; the other that Mr. Carnegie first file a bond with the town clerk to indemnify the town against any suit or expenses which might arise from the by-law. Any opposition to this by-law, which he considered nothing but fair, he attributed to mere obstruction tactics.

Mr. DAVIDSON re-asserted his demand for a by-law that was legal.

The second reading was then passed after numerous objections and with the amendments made as previously proposed, on the following vote:—YEAS—Messrs. Hartley, Kendry, Douglass, Moore, McNeil, Kelly, Cahill and Stevenson—8; NAYS—Messrs. Menzies, Yelland, Stenson, McNaughton and Davidson—5.

A motion by Mr. Davidson, seconded by Mr. McNaughton, that the by-law be not read a third time, but referred to the town solicitor for his approval, was lost and a motion to pass the third reading was carried, and the by-law was finally passed amidst objections from several of the members.

Baseball.

The Peterborough baseball club will probably visit Cobourg on the 17th inst., and Lindsay week after next. The Toronto international club has written for a game with the Peterboroughs, but as they demand $100 guarantee, the challenge will not likely be accepted. Arrangements will probably be made for a visit from another Toronto club which only demands $25 guarantee. Those are the terms upon which Cobourg and Peterborough clubs will play each other.

Kidd beats them all for low prices and good goods. Ladies button boots, 70c., lace boots 85c., men's long boots, $1.45.

Personal.

Mr. C. F. Henderson of Napanee was in town yesterday attending the funeral of the late John Erskine.

Mr. S. Hughes, of the Victoria Warder, gave us a call yesterday. He went east, Ottawa being his destination.

Mr. Fred Cameron, son of Mr. Chas Cameron, left this morning for Ste. Jerome, Que., where he has secured a situation.

Rev. John Shaw, D.D., Rev. S. R. Briggs and Rev. E. H. Dewart, of the Toronto Conference, attended the Conference here yesterday, in connection with the missionary work of the church.

Mr. Wm. McLean leaves for Toronto this evening having yesterday disposed of his household effects. He has a good position in Northey's steam pump works and expects to make Toronto his home in future. The family have resided in Toronto for the past two months.

Mr. Thos. Clarke, a member of the eminent firm of cutlery and razor manufacturers of Sheffield, England, is in town to-day. He leaves for Toronto this evening, and will proceed to Winnipeg before returning home. He likes the appearance of Peterborough very much.

Board of Education.

A regular meeting of the School Board will take place at the Board Room this evening, at 7.45 o'clock.

A Call to the Committee.

Let there be a big turn-out of the Jubilee Committee in the Firemen's Hall this evening at eight o'clock. Port Hope, Lindsay, Orillia, Belleville, and other places are booming their proposed celebrations. Let Peterborough's eclipse them all.

It Should be Made Useful.

Some time ago the EXAMINER inquired why the memorial fountain in the Central Park was not running. Every day the inquiry becomes more pertinent, and if the fountain is to be of any use at all this summer it should be set running at once.

A Painful Accident.

Yesterday afternoon as Mrs. Rogers, Murray Street, was getting out of a phaeton at her residence, she missed her footing and fell to the ground, breaking the lower part of her arm above the wrist. Dr. Kincaid was called and set the arm. The fracture will be a painful one, and Mrs. Rogers' friends sympathize with her in her trouble.

A New Church.

Mr. Wm. Best, of Emily, is taking subscriptions for the erection of a new Episcopal Church on the second Line of Emily. The old log building that was formerly used was some time ago discarded, and services have since been held in the Orange Hall. It has been decided to erect a new church, and substantial support has been received by the board not only from members of the congregation, but outsiders as well. A new church for the second line is an almost assured fact.

Oddfellows' Decoration Day.

The annual decoration of the graves of deceased Oddfellows, will, it is expected, take place on Tuesday, 28th inst. At a meeting of the committee Saturday night that date was chosen. The committee were also instructed to engage the Fire Brigade Band. The ceremony will be performed on a grander and more extensive scale than in former years. The public are invited to contribute flowers and plants for the purpose, and to leave the same the day before the ceremony, with the names of which lodge of Oddfellows they desire their contribution to be credited, at Mr. Harry Long's store.

Belleville's Celebration.

Belleville is going to celebrate the Queen's Jubilee on June 21st, and has mapped out a programme nearly similar to that prepared by the Peterborough committee, viz: a children's procession and concert in the forenoon, followed in the afternoon by a series of athletic events. In one important particular, though, Peterborough's proposed celebration will have an advantage over Belleville—it will be free to all, while 10c. admission will be charged to the park where the public proceedings are to be held in Belleville. Then, too, Belleville will have no regatta early in the evening, followed by a grand illuminated canoe parade. The Ontario boasts that "it will be a celebration that is a celebration", but if Peterborough's Midland District Jubilee Demonstration does not lay over Belleville's, it will be because rain or some other unforeseen and uncontrollable drawback interferes.

By Hot Water and Steam.

We desire to call special attention to their splendid Hot Water and Steam Boilers which are acknowledged to have no superior on the Continent of America. We have received orders from Ottawa and other places to replace other boilers with ours. This speaks for itself. McAndrew & Noble are prepared to back their own boilers against these or any other maker either in or out of Peterborough, and if not superior in every respect they will be removed without one cent of expense. We claim, and it has been acknowledged, that we have the best boiler for heating purposes in the world to-day; all we want is a fair test.

THE ART OF DRESSING NEATLY.

It is customary for the Male Sex to make merry over the fact that a woman wears a great amount of unnecessary fixings.

With equal justice the Fair Sex can retort that men are not by any means exempt from unnecessary dress.

Ask a tailor the use of buttons on the back of a mans coat, and he must be able to tell you. He'll tell you that they are placed there because they are fashionable.

It is the aim of "The Peoples Cash Store" to always keep up with the fashions, but we prefer the Neat Sensible Styles. Our Fashion Plate is the human body, and we make our Clothing to Fit Neatly and Hang Gracefully.

Experience has taught us what materials are the most serviceable. We import only such Cloth as we know will give satisfactory work.

We aim to dress a man neat, and to dress him well, at a small expense.

Economy in manufacturing, in importing and in conducting our store enables us to offer such Great Bargains, as our Ten Dollar English Tennis Suit, our Eight Dollar Halifax Tweed Suit and our Seventeen Dollar Scotch Tweed Suit.

I beg to say that contrary to announcements which appeared in the Peterborough papers for the past two months, I do not intend to remove to T. The final arrangements not being satisfactory to me, I withdrew from the projected change, and intend carrying on the Dry Goods business in my usual stand next to Loch's Hat Store.

It is my intention in the future as in the past to show at all seasons nothing but new and fresh goods in the various lines of Dry Goods and Gents' furnishings; and by doing so, hope to retain that confidence, which, I am proud to say, I have enjoyed from the public since commencing business two years ago. d&w

THE METHODIST CHURCH.

Annual Meeting of the Bay of Quinte Conference.

TUESDAY, June 7th.

MORNING SESSION.

Conference assembled at 9 a.m., the president in the chair. After the usual devotional exercises, the minutes were read and adopted.

Rev. W. H. EMSLEY, secretary, presented the report of the Temperance committee, which stated that the prospects of prohibition prevailing were encouraging. The Scott Act was an encouraging success, and in spite of the opposition of those in authority it had many staunch friends, and among laymen in the bounds of this conference, the names of Messrs. Geo. A. Cox and J. W. Flavelle, Peterborough, and Messrs. Miller and Robinson, Brighton, were worthy of peculiar honor. The report rejoiced in the passage of the temperance resolutions yesterday and urged to united effort in the promotion of the work.

Rev. E. N. BAKER read the report of the Educational committee, which showed a most flourishing condition of the educational interests of the church. The report recommended the appointment to the board of Albert College of Rev. J. Learoyd and Dr. Williams, and to the board of Alma College of Rev. J. B. Clarkson. The report was adopted.

Rev. Wm. Johnson read the report of the Sunday School which indicated a flourishing state of this work. The conversions numbered 1,991, an increase of 178 over last year. Rev. William Jolliffe was recommended as Conference secretary of this committee. Report adopted.

Rev. J. MCFARLANE read the report of the Statistical Committee, which showed an increase of membership in every district, the total increase being 2,777. (Applause.) The amounts paid for the various funds were: Children's Fund, $230 93; Contingent, $526.41; Educational, $1389.19; General Conference, $551.35; Superannuation, $5,751.19; Union Church Relief fund, $413.10; Missionary, $18,000 (about)—a decrease of $1,000; Weak Circuit Fund, $175.74. All of these funds but two showed a slight decrease. Report adopted.

Rev. D. F. GEE read the report of the Children's Fund, giving figures and recommending the abolition of that fund. The report was adopted.

Rev. R. DUKE read the report of the committee on Sabbath Observance, which regretfully reported the increase of Sabbath desecration, and recommended the use of all efforts to procure legislation to diminish the evil. It also condemned Sunday visiting, and urged ministers to impress the importance of Sabbath observance. Toronto was commended as a model Sabbath observing city.

Rev. F. H. WALLACE, B. D., presented the report of the Time and Place of Conference Committee. The report recommended that the next session of the Conference be held in the Bridge street church, Belleville, on the first Thursday in June.

Rev. Jos. YOUNG moved in amendment that the next session of Conference be held in Lindsay. The amendment prevailed and the report was adopted.

Rev. Dr. WILLIAMS read the report of the committee on Pastoral Address.

Rev. Dr. WILLIAMS read the repor of the Treasurer of the Educational fund.—Adopted.

Dr. BREDIN moved, seconded by Dr. FORD, a resolution congratulating Her Majesty and the Empire on the former reaching the fiftieth year of a glorious reign, and moving that the session close with God Save the Queen, which was carried, the members joining heartily in the National Anthem.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

After the usual devotional services and routine,

Rev. M. E. WILSON and Rev. George Carpenter, on behalf of the ordination class presented the President of the Conference with a photographic group portrait of the several members of the class. The President assured the donors of his high appreciation of the gift and said he would watch their future course with great interest and prayed that they might become eminent ministers of Jesus Christ.

The President on behalf of the Conference presented to Master Gordam Wilson who had acted as postmaster during the sessions of the Conference, a well filled purse.

Rev. J. C. ASH read the report of the church property committee, which was adopted.

Rev. O. R. LAMBLEY read the financial report of the stationing committee.

Rev. PHILIP MCARMOND read the report of the Contingent Fund Committee, showing that the total receipts of the year were $800.16 and the total disbursements, $800.16.

The Canal Must be Built.

Peterborough Town Council Says the Government "Must" Complete the Trent Valley Canal.

At Monday afternoon's council meeting Mayor Stevenson gave the members assembled the result of his labors at Ottawa in behalf of the Trent Valley Canal, which, he remarked, were not altogether satisfactory. He had urged the necessity of making an appropriation to complete the Lakefield and Peterborough section, but had failed. Owing to the diversity of opinion as to the cost of the canal the matter was to be referred to a commission of engineers for final decision, so that nothing could be done this summer. The Minister of Railways and Canals has assured him that as soon as the House closed he would himself visit the line of the proposed canal. A deputation from Trenton had also, he said, waited upon the Government and urged them to finish the work at that place.

Mr. MOORE—Did I understand you to say that the Government refused to place any amount at all in the estimates for the carrying on of this work?

The MAYOR—Any more than to finish the work they have now in progress—(which means the completion of the Burleigh locks.)

Mr. CAHILL thought a deputation from all along the line of the canal, larger than have ever before invaded Ottawa, should wait upon the Government and give them to understand that the section between here and Lakefield must be completed. Hon. Thomas White when here, he said, had made a promise that the work should be completed as soon as the finances of the country were in a fit state to bear the expense; and Mr. Cahill was of opinion that the finances were as good now as they ever would be. All the municipalities along the line he urged should be invited to send very large deputations to Ottawa.

Mr. MOORE agreed with him in that respect, for the more the Government opposed them or showed a desire not to grant their fair demand, the more they should force their claims. The promise to build the canal was made not only last year, but 7 or 8 years ago. He advocated agitation as the only means of securing their rights in this case. The excuse that the Government were poor and were trying to economize was too thin. Every day thousands and thousands of dollars went for projects less deserving than this. They could fairly go before the Government and insist that the canal be built. The mere statement that a commission would be appointed really meant nothing. A more specific statement should be demanded. The cool manner in which they had always been treated should not deter a large deputation from visiting Ottawa.

Mr. HARTLEY thought the constituencies interested should have an answer, yes or no. Why does not the Government go on with the work? They have had estimates more than once. There ought to be a strong deputation go down and demand it as a right. They have made the promise, and admit it. The excuse that the county was too poor was no excuse at all. Mr. Hartley thought the country could stand a couple of hundred thousand anyway. But as long as the Government can put people off to wait, it will be a continual wait for them. This municipality should say, we won't take no for an answer, and he believed the Government could not then get out of it. Next year probably the country will be poorer still. The people are being continually told that the Trent Valley canal will be built, yet this council have sent deputation after deputation to Ottawa to urge the government to do its duty. He was not in favor of the people being bamboozled this way any longer, nor was he in favor of the council continuing sending deputations to be hoodwinked by the minister. If the government was going to build the canal, let them do so and show that they mean business. If they have no intention of going on with the work what is the use of squandering money in piece-mealing the affair. It was high time this question was settled one way or another.

Mr. KENDRY thought the government wanted waking up a little, and co-incided with the other speakers about the deputations.

Mr. MCNEIL moved, seconded by Mr. Kelly, that this Council, having learned with regret that the Dominion Government do not intend to place any appropriation in the supplementary estimates to place under construction another section of the Trent Valley Canal,

Resolved, that the members of this Council proceed to Ottawa at once, and urge upon the Government the necessity of proceeding with the construction of this important work, and that the clerk notify the municipalities along the route, asking their co-operation.—Carried.

The general opinion seemed to be that the deputations should be sent down next week, if at all, and the Mayor was asked to select a day for the purpose.

[Mayor Stevenson has since fixed Wednesday, June 15th, as a day for the deputations to interview the Government, and has written, asking the co-operation of the municipalities along the line of the Canal in the appointment of a large deputation from each to visit Ottawa that day.]

MISCELLANEOUS MOTIONS.

Mr. MCNEIL introduced a motion to request the member for West Peterborough to invite His Excellency Lord Lansdowne to visit Peterborough on August 10th, civic holiday, in connection with the Oddfellows Demonstration. After some opposition from Mr. McNaughton, who objected to what he considered a useless expense in bringing the Governor-General here, the motion carried.

Mr. CAHILL moved that the by-law to authorize the issuing of debentures to raise money for the purpose of erecting bridges over the creeks, etc., be not yet published but referred back to the Finance Committee.—Carried.

Mr. CAHILL moved that the Street Inspector be instructed to place a shaft in the north end of the sewer on George Street.—Carried.

On motion Mayor Stevenson was authorized to grant the privilege to erect arches to the Orangemen on July 12th.

A motion to instruct the chairman of Property Committee to have the obstructions in town drain removed was carried, after which the Council adjourned.

Something for all the Preachers.

Rev. H. H. Fairall, D. Ministers, as a class, are afflicted with head and throat troubles and Catarrh seems more prevalent than ever. We cannot recommend Ely's Balm too highly. eodw22

GOUGH

THE BIG CLOTHIER, determines to carry no unseasonable goods over, and in order to make room for his Immense Fall Stock, which is now in process of manufacture, proposes organizing

The Most Gigantic Sale ever offered to the People of Peterborough.

This gigantic Sale will take place commencing WEDNESDAY, JUNE 1st, 1887, and will continue for the following 20 days only, when I will offer any and all of my big stock, at Wonderfully Reduced Prices.

Bear in mind, GOUGH never yet advertised anything he did not do; nor will he in this instance, a fact you will all be convinced of the first day of this Grand Sale.

Some designing dealers ask the question, why pay $12.00 for a Worsted Suit that they sell for $8.50. Gough repudiates the assertion. This boasted Worsted Suit is nearly ALL COTTON, and as a guarantee to what I herein state is true, I will forfeit $1000 if I cannot prove it; I challenge a contradiction. Gough's regular price for this boasted $8.50 suit is $7.50.

I ask the attention of a discriminating public particularly to this Great Sale, and if they don't find it straight-forward, honorable and bona-fide, then brand me as a Cheap Side Store, and not the Great Forepaugh I claim to be.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of scenes of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottle, 10 cents. Try it. eodw4

Domestic Economy.

As a matter of economy it will pay every household to keep a bottle of Yellow Oil for accidents and emergencies, in case of pain as a handy relief, and for wounds, burns, bruises and injuries. Rheumatism, neuralgia, quinsy, and many painful diseases treated internally and externally by it often save large medical bills. 2w22d

What is Needed

By every man and woman if they desire to secure comfort in this world is a corn sheller. Putnam's Corn Extractor shells corns in two or three days and without discomfort or pain. A hundred imitations prove the merit of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, which is always sure, safe and painless. See signature of Polson & Co., on each bottle. Sold by medicine dealers. 6dw23

Worth Remembering.

Mrs. T. Doss, of Harristeville, Ont., was for a long time troubled with neuralgia of stomach. Failing to find benefit from her physicians, she tried Burdock Blood Bitters from which she found speedy relief, to which she testifies, hoping it may prove beneficial to others. Many physicians recommend B. B. B. 2w22d

Weather Probabilities.

It is probable that in the breaking up of winter we shall have much damp sloppy weather, when rheumatism, neuralgia, sore throat, and other painful complaints will prevail. Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the popular household remedy for external and internal use. Its curative power is truly wonderful. 2w22d

Entertainment.

A nice little entertainment was held in the school room of St. John's Church Tuesday evening. The principle feature of the programme was a cutlass drill by a number of boys, dressed in neat blue-and-white sailor suits, led by Mr. Thomas F. Cox, late of the Royal Navy, who has been regularly instructing the boys for a couple of weeks past. The drill was nicely performed indeed. Music was supplied by Mrs. C. Stapleton, a vocal duet by Mrs. Dunsford and Miss Rush; an instrumental duet by Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Dunsford; and vocal solos by Messrs. Ardagh and Newbold completed the programme. The attendance was not very large.

The Go-Ahead Gough

The go-ahead Gough has just capped the climax of his commercial achievements. He has returned home from Montreal where he purchased an $18,500 bankrupt stock of ready-made clothing at 40 cents on the $., which will be forthwith flung on the market at prices which will astound the public. The goods will arrive to-day and will be opened out on Friday, marked down to jubilee prices. For instance, behold, mens' suits at $2.75 and boys' suits at $1.25, something unheard of before. The rush will be so great that half a dozen extra salesmen will be required to wait on the surging throng in search of bargains. Come early and avoid the rush. See Gough's advertisement in all the papers on Thursday.

Arranging for the Meet.

Tuesday afternoon the regatta and executive committees of the Northern Division of the American Canoe Association, with the officers and a few of their friends, a party of about 25 in all, were taken out to Stoney Lake by Mr. R. C. Strickland, of Lakefield, in his little yacht, whither they went to map out a race course for the canoe meet in August. The same course as was used in the 1883 meet was selected, and a man engaged to look after the premises. Details as to the course, etc., were left in the hands of Messrs. Douglass and Strickland, of Lakefield, for arrangement. The August meet promises to be a big thing.

The Band Successful.

This morning the Fire Brigade band returned home from the Bowmanville Band competition. They were successful in carrying off the third prize in the first class, under circumstances which are exceedingly creditable to them. The first prize went to the band of the Massey Manufacturing Company, 27 strong, with a score of 24 points. The second went to the Waterloo band, 33 strong, with a score of 10 points, and the third to the Fire Brigade band, 18 strong, with a score of 13 points. Mr. J. B. Claus, of the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, while acting as judge, in awarding the second and third prizes, pointed out that he had given the Peterborough band the higher number of marks because of their better playing in the selections they rendered, but on account of the Waterloo band having a larger number of reed instruments they could attempt a class of music which could not be played by a smaller band, owing to a lack of instruments, but the added that for instrumentation, shading, phrasing, precision and expression, the Peterborough band were fully up to the standard, but for the reasons given he was compelled to award the second prize to the Waterloo band. Under the circumstances the boys may be proud of the position they took, and the EXAMINER gladly joins the public in congratulating the band, which has richly earned also the gratitude of the public by its numerous and excellent open-air concerts. The prizes were cash—$250, $125, and $75.

Police Court.

WEDNESDAY, June 8th.

Mrs. Caroline Arseneau charged Joseph Sinam with having in his possession a vicious dog which had severely bitten her boy. It seems that the little fellow was walking along the sidewalk when the brute jumped the fence and attacked him, biting him in the side and inflicting a painful wound. Mr. Sinam was ordered to kill the dog at once. It appears also that some boys had been in the habit of teasing the dog until it had become a confirmed boy-hater, and dangerous to be at large, its viciousness culminating in the attack on Mrs. Arseneau's son. This should be a lesson to boys not to tease dogs that can retaliate so energetically, as in this case.

Board of Education.

The regular monthly meeting of the School Board was held Tuesday evening, [illegible] members present:—Messrs. Rathbun (in the chair), Sproule, Kennedy, Boggs, Ham, English, Wrighton, Rutherford (2), Weir, McWilliams, Stratton and Ervett.

After motion

were made by Mr Sproule respecting monthly school reports, to which Mr. Long replied that the reports were issued twice a month. Several were read and referred to appropriate committees.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE.

For the public schools as follows:—

For April,—
Central School	372	545
West Ward "	[illegible]	219
South Ward "	181	147
For May,—
Centre School	399	570
West Ward "	122	140
South Ward "	251	324

The fees for May were, for the Collegiate Institute, $140.50, for public schools, $9.50. For April, Collegiate Institute, $137.50; public schools, $8.75.

The report of the High School Inspector was read; it gave details of the condition of the premises and equipment. The requirements of a status of a Collegiate Institute were not reached, but all the elements for such were available, and several minor matters were criticised. The report was adopted, and that portion referring to the buildings, referred to the Property Committee, and the part relating to teachers to the Committee on Appointments.

Mr. STRATTON explained that the books complained of as missing, had been returned. The committee was in communication with Mr. Long, and he was preparing a list of books in Mathematics and Sciences and these would probably be on hand by the next meeting. The board gained financially by having a good library.

Mr. LONG addressed the board respecting the seats referred to in the inspector's report, which should be so arranged that the light should fall over the pupils left shoulder from behind. Respecting the library, $33 worth of books had been catalogued twice, but that had been remedied, and now only four of the books are missing.

Mr. STRATTON, Inspector, made a verbal report, and gave explanations respecting the admission of pupils to the Collegiate Institute. In almost every room of the public school he noticed great improvement in writing; reading was fair. The West Ward attendance was small, the South Ward full and the Central moderately full. Miss Sims' room is greatly overcrowded and immediate action was called for, as the health of the children was impaired and the teaching hindered. The teachers generally were doing well. The subjects of Mr. Stratton's report were referred to the School Supervision Committee to arrange.

Mr. W. H. Wrighton presented the report of the property committee which showed that the committee had purchased and delivered at the several different schools wood to the amount of $330.76. Sixteen new window blinds had been got for the south ward school at a cost of $36. The seating had been re-arranged to give the pupils better light and more room. The water closets had been cleaned at a cost of $20. Nothing definite had been done in the matter of selecting a school site in the north ward. The committee did not favor the erection of a building this season.

The report was adopted, with the attachment of the following resolution:—

Moved by Mr. STRATTON, seconded by Mr. Kendry, that the property committee be requested to report to the board at its next meeting any or all of the available sites, together with the cost of the same, on which a ward school could be erected with advantages to the ward.

Mr. Sproule moved, seconded by Mr. English—That the use of the book known as the Ross Bible be and is hereby discontinued from this date, and the use of the Word of God, known as the Holy Bible, used instead in the Public and High Schools, and that the books known as the Ross Bibles be taken from the schools and placed in the care of the chairman of this board, Jas. Stevenson, M.P.

In reply to expressions of dissent and opposition, Mr. Sproule asserted that the matter would be brought up till the "outrage of the Ross Bible, for it is an outrage," was settled.

Mr. STRATTON objected to the resolution as it was out of order.

Mr. SPROULE contended that it was not out of order.

Mr. STRATTON pointed out that by Rule 18, when a question had been once decided it could not be opened up within the year except by the vote of a majority of the board or on a question of privilege.

Mr. WRIGHTON—This is a question of privilege.

Mr. MCWILLIAMS—No.

Mr. WEIR said the question was decided at the last meeting and could not be again introduced. If this was a question of privilege any defeated motion could be revived on the same grounds.

Mr. STRATTON said a similar resolution was introduced at the last meeting of the board and the Chairman declared it lost on a tie vote which stood 7 to 7. Therefore according to the rules it could not be again introduced. There was no question of privilege in this resolution. Questions of privilege referred to are those of a personal nature, where a member of the board claims the privilege of setting himself right before the public. He called for the Chairmans' decision.

The Chairman ruled the motion out of order.

On motion of Mr. McWilliams, seconded by Mr. Kendry, one-half of the pupils in Miss Sims' room were to be required to attend school in the forenoon and the other in the afternoon to relieve the overcrowding.

The Board adjourned.

The Queen's Jubilee.

A Grand Programme of Events for Jubilee Day.

Each meeting of the General Jubilee Committee results in added completeness to the programme of events projected for the celebration of the Queen's Jubilee year on June 21st in Peterborough. The committee has got right down to work, and through the time at their disposal, two weeks, may appear short, everything is distinctly mapped out for the sub-committees who have nothing to do but go ahead with their respective labors. A meeting was held Tuesday night in the Firemens' Hall, at which there was a fair attendance. The sub-committees all reported progress, and the results of their labors may be briefly summed up as follows: The procession in the forenoon of the band, military, fire brigade, children and citizens, followed by the jubilee songs in the park, will be carried out to the letter. An addition to the features of this event has been made. Upon their arrival at the park these children who participated in the walk will be treated to lemonade which will be manufactured on the ground by a competent man, and for this purpose Mr. M. T. Ostrom has kindly contributed a case of lemons and Mr. Harry Long another. A committee was also instructed to consider the advisability of purchasing small Union Jacks with which to supply the children. A pretty effect could be had by their waving the flags in the chorus "Three Cheers for the Red White and Blue," and others. The Music Committee have distributed some 3,000 sheets containing the songs to be sung among the Sunday Schools of the town, some of whom have already begun the work of preparation; the others will follow their example at once. In this great feature of the day the Fire Brigade Band will play a prominent part. Then an address of

will be read by the Chairman, Rev. Mr. Bradshaw, to the multitude assembled, which will immediately afterwards be cabled to England. At the conclusion of the mornings' proceedings a feu-de-joie will be fired by the military. After dinner, a series of athletic sports, comprising some dozen events, will be held in Riverside Park, beginning with a base ball match. Mammoth posters will be issued immediately and distributed broadcast throughout the country announcing the grand demonstration, but smaller "programmes of the day" will be issued later on containing details of every event. Let it be understood that everything in connection with this celebration is to be free—free as the air we breathe. No admission to parks, no entrance fee for competition in the sports. This is to be a grand jubilee celebration in honor of our Queen, and no money-making affair, and in order that all may participate, the committee have decided to make no charges of any kind whatever. For all of the contests handsome prizes will be offered. The Town Council of Peterborough has kindly granted $100 for the purpose, secured largely through the good offices of Councillor McNeil, and a proportionate grant is confidently expected from Ashburnham Council. Loyal and large-hearted citizens have donated or will donate valuable articles for prizes, the Otonabee Canoe Club, at its last meeting, deciding to present two for competition at the regatta in the evening. It is expected the afternoon sports will terminate about five o'clock. At 6:30, on Little Lake, the canoe regatta will be held under the auspices of the Otonabee Canoe Club. The officers of this organization are putting their shoulders to the wheel and promise to make this the feature of the day. Thirteen events, open to the world, will be contested. This may seem a rather lengthy programme to be completed before dusk; but June 21st is the longest day of the year, and besides it is proposed to keep the ball rolling swiftly by calling on two events at once. The starting buoy will be off Burnham's Point; two separate courses will be buoyed out. Efficient and energetic starters and judges have been secured for all the sports. Following the regatta will be held a monster illuminated canoe parade, led by Commodore Millar, which will probably be the most unique event of the day. The citizens will then return to the town, where everything will be in a state of brilliant illumination—or at least it is hoped it will be so. Every citizen is requested to scrape together as many gas jets, lamps, lanterns, candles or any other means of illumination as he can, and in so far as possible make his premises in honor of the occasion. Illuminated arches will be erected on George Street; one by the Gas Company, kindly granted by Mayor Stevenson, it is expected will be something magnificent. Citizens are also requested to decorate their premises early in the day, particularly the merchants along the route of the procession, who are urged to make gorgeous displays of bunting, flags, etc. Mr. Hazlitt has most generously agreed to place in the highest point in the Court House Park a cluster of eight or more electric lights on the highest pole to be had in town. The Fire Brigade Band will be at the Park to discourse music, and the people can enjoy a promenade under these unsurpassed conditions to their hearts' content.

A BLAZE OF LIGHT

Where can a programme of such merit and extent be found in the Midland District? Nowhere. Let the country people come to town en masse, let the citizens turn out ditto, and let this celebration of Queen Victoria's Jubilee year eclipse all former occasions.

Personal.

Mr. W. H. Lithgow, we are pleased to learn, has decided to remain for the present in Peterborough. He has connected himself with Mr. T. O. Rush's grocery store with the idea of familiarizing himself with the business. Mr. Lithgow's many friends in Peterborough will be pleased that he has come to the decision to become again a citizen of the town.

The EXAMINER is pleased to notice that Mr. F. C. Armstrong, son of Mr. Wm. Armstrong, Cavan, has not only passed the first 7years' examinations at Toronto University but passed them with great credit. He was successful in taking the First Year Scholarship ($120) in Modern Languages. Mr. Armstrong is a clever young man and a good student. He received his preliminary training at the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, where he took a leading position, which he has since maintained at the provincial university. It is to be hoped that the remainder of his collegiate career will be equally successful with his past.

At the recent examinations of Toronto University, Mr. W. Packenham stood first in history, second in English, second in German and fourth in Italian. In these four subjects he took first-class honors, and in French second-class. Mr. F. C. Armstrong secured a scholarship in modern languages, taking first place in French, second in English and fourth in German. Both these gentlemen were pupils of the Collegiate Institute at the time when Mr. J. H. Long, now Principal, taught the languages, and Mr. Long, at whose hands they received the thorough training that showed its results in this examination, has reason to be proud of the successful college career of his former scholars. Miss Carrie Fair, of Peterborough, and Mr. A. J. Armstrong, of Baillieboro, also took the degree of B.A. Mr. Geo. A. H. Scott took honors in law.

Explanatory.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR.—I wish to say that the statement I made in the debate in the Conference on the resolution on Temperance yesterday to the effect that I did not cast any ballot at the recent election because neither of the candidates were professed Prohibitionists, did not apply to the candidates in this county, my vote being in another county.

THE ART OF DRESSING NEATLY.

It is customary for the Male Sex to make merry over the fact that a woman wears a great amount of unnecessary fixings.

With equal justice the Fair Sex can retort that men are not by any means exempt from unnecessary dress.

Ask a tailor the use of buttons on the back of a mans coat, and he wont be able to tell you. He'll tell you that they are placed there because they are fashionable.

It is the aim of "The Peoples Cash Store" to always keep up with the fashions, but we prefer the Neat Sensible Styles. Our Fashion Plate is the human body, and we make our Clothing to Fit Neatly and Hang Gracefully.

Experience has taught us what materials are the most serviceable. We import only such Cloth as we know will give satisfactory work.

We aim to dress a man neat, and to dress him well, at a small expense.

Economy in manufacturing, in importing and in conducting our store enables us to offer such Great Bargains, as our Ten Dollar English Tennis Suit, our Eight Dollar Halifax Tweed Suit and our Seventeen Dollar Scotch Tweed Suit.

DISCUSSING PROHIBITION.

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS DEBATES THE SCOTT ACT.

An Amendment in Favor of Light Wines and Beer—Another to Repeal it—Foster to the Defence—The Debate Adjourned Until Monday.

OTTAWA, June 8.—After routine to-day Mr. Jamieson introduced his resolutions respecting the prohibition of liquors. He and Mr. Fisher, who seconded the resolution, made strong speeches in favor of prohibition.

Mr. Girouard spoke against trying to legislate men into sobriety and adduced illustrations from an ancient and modern history to show that alcoholic drinks were the cause of evil while milder beverages were not productive of evil results. He moved in amendment that ale, porter, cider, claret and other light wines be exempt from the operation of the Scott Act.

Some of Girouard's remarks fired the earnest soul of Mr. Freeman with the result that a powerful temperance sermon was hurled at the House in grand style. Although several times about to stay his hand, he was frequently urged to "Go on."

Mr. Cargill gave an amusing account of his experience in connection with the Scott Act in a Mark Twainish style of dry humor which took with the House.

After recess a number of private bills were passed, occupying a long time, so that it was 10 o'clock before Mr. Cargill began again. He concluded by moving in amendment to Mr. Girouard's amendment that the Scott Act be repealed.

A question of order still further delayed the discussion.

Mr. Patterson (Essex) took the floor against the Scott Act.

Mr. Macdonald (East Huron) supported the Scott Act and prohibition.

The question of order was again brought. After Mr. Speaker gave his decision,

Mr. Foster spoke strongly against injuring the Scott Act by allowing the sale of fermented liquors.

After several speakers 12 o'clock came and Sir John said the important question should not be hurried. He moved that the debate be adjourned till Monday next, then to be made the first order after privates bills.

HEARD ABOUT THE LOBBIES.

Proposed New Industries—A Big German Proposition—A Q. P. E. Defeat.

OTTAWA, June 8.—The Journal says a Glasgow firm of locomotive engineers have submitted an offer to the Government for the establishment of their headquarters in Canada, provided the Government gives them an order for fifty engines.

Mr. E. Kamper, the representative of a syndicate of German capitalists, is here with a proposal to buy out the Intercolonial Railway from end to end, to construct large iron smelting works at Pictou, Nova Scotia, and to bring out 1000 skilled German iron workers to introduce the German methods of making iron. The proposition has been laid before the Government but has not yet been considered.

Sir Charles Tupper, who has been giving a series of dinners in the Commons dining-room, gave one to-night to about forty guests.

The Canadian Pacific Railway scored another defeat this morning, the occasion being the consideration in the Railway Committee of the bill relating to the Southeastern Railway. The Southeastern Railway, from Montreal to Newport, Vt., is at present run by trustees for the benefit of its creditors. It is a road worth $5,000,000 or so and now said to be paying expenses. The biggest creditor is the Canadian Pacific Railway, which holds a million and a half of its bonds. The Canadian Pacific Railway is anxious to gobble the road, and this morning the Railway Committee was asked by Mr. Hall, M.P. for Sherbrooke, to endorse a bill putting an end to the trust and authorizing the sale of the road and the incorporation of a new company. If the bill were to pass the Canadian Pacific Railway would of course get the property, and the unsecured creditors who are owed a large amount by the road might have to whistle for their money. There was consequently bitter opposition to the adoption of the bill. Mr. Hall argued that the trustees, Messrs. W. C. VanHorn, W. Farwell and W. C. Blodgett, were entitled to the new powers asked for. He claimed that the unsecured creditors had no right to interfere and that in any event their interests were secured. Trustees had their hands tied at present, being unable to obtain credit to equip the road. Mr. Hector Cameron, Hon. Mr. Ladlamme, Mr. J. C. Hatton, Q.C., and Hon. Mr. Laurier opposed the bill as an unjust one to everybody but the Canadian Pacific Railway, and the bill was thrown out by a general shout of "No" in the committee.

The Minister of Agriculture has received a cable message from Liverpool intimating that there are more hopeful prospects for the Canadian cattle trade. The first shipment from the St. Lawrence are selling at Liverpool at six pence and six pence a farthing, an improvement of about $5 dollars a head. This price may be maintained for some weeks owing to the expected decrease in the supplies of American dead meat.

Senator Sebastie's name is mentioned in connection with the Manitoba Governorship which will be vacant next September.

A HORRIBLE FATE.

Four Little Children Consumed in a Burning Building.

BEDFORD, Ont., June 8.—The dwelling of Mr. A. Brown was consumed by fire this morning between 12 and 1. Four small children were burned to death, aged about 9, 7, 5 and 3. Mr. and Mrs. Brown barely escaped with the baby. The origin of the fire is not known. The remains were taken out this morning and taken to Verona for burial.

The fire caught the tarred paper beneath the clapboards. Mr. Brown was alarmed by his son's screams. He made a strong attempt to save the children but failed. His wife and one child escaped in their night clothes. The children were burned to cinders.

THE PROVINCIAL FISHERIES.

The Latest Regulations Under the Act of 1868—The Close Seasons.

The Lieutenant-Governor has approved of the following regulations under the Ontario Fisheries Act of 1868:

That leases granted for the purpose of conveying the fishing rights pertaining to public lands adjoining the rivers, streams and lakes of the province, shall be for the depth of one chain inland from the water's edge.

Such leases shall be granted as far as practicable to responsible parties, able and willing to improve the lakes and rivers and guard them well.

HAMILTON MOULDERS

Declare They Will Make a Further Demand Unless Their Terms Are Granted.

HAMILTON, June 8.—The moulders met last night and discussed the situation. There was a very large turn out of the members of the union and the opinion was unanimously expressed that the request they had made, and which the bosses had refused, for an advance of 10 per cent. on piece work and from $2 to $2.25 a day for day work, was very reasonable. They resolved unanimously that if their request was not granted on or before June 15 they would demand a further advance of 10 per cent. on piece work and from $2.25 to $2.50 for day work. They consider that their services are worth $2.50 a day, or its equivalent in piece work, and asked for the advance of only 10 per cent. so that there would be no trouble. They do not expect to lose much time, but if an early settlement is not arrived at a great many of the moulders will leave the city. Already a number have gone to Buffalo and Detroit, and others—some of the best moulders of the city—will leave on Saturday or Monday. Besides the firms already mentioned, Messrs. James Skinnin, iron founder, and S. Moore, manufacturer of tinsmiths' tools, have given the advance asked for.

LARRY HAS NO SHOW.

London Police Will Not Let Him Jump From Westminster Bridge.

LONDON, June 8.—Lawrence Donovan was arrested on the Westminster Bridge this afternoon while attempting to jump therefrom into the Thames, and taken to the Bow Street Police Court, where he was charged with disorderly conduct. The constable who arrested him testified that Donovan had pulled off his coat and hat and climbed upon the parapet of the bridge when he was seized by two men and dragged to the bridge floor after a severe struggle. An enormous crowd was attracted to the spot by the proceedings. Donovan, in his turn complained to the magistrate that the police had meddled with his affairs. He had wanted to show the public that it was possible for him to jump from the bridge and swim ashore. The magistrate cautioned him against again attempting the jump and discharged him.

BLOODTHIRSTY ANARCHISTS.

They Obtain a Foothold in Columbus—The Fruits of Mrs. Parsons' Visits.

COLUMBUS, O., June 8.—A lodge of bloodthirsty Anarchists has been discovered in this city. It numbers ninety men and women, and some of the circulars are of the most revolutionary character. The organization dates from the visit of Mrs. Parsons last March. Their work in this, as in other cities, is carried on with the greatest secrecy, and it is difficult to locate their place of meeting or to learn much about their work.

Railway Smashes.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 8.—The fast line train west bound on the Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway, which left last night, ran into a freight at 2 o'clock this morning at Columbiana, Ohio. Several freight cars were wrecked. The engine of the passenger train was demolished. The passengers were badly shaken up but no one was injured.

HANNIBAL, Mo., June 8.—An accommodation train on the St. Louis and Hannibal Railway was derailed last evening near Frankfort. A lady named Dickinson from New London was probably fatally injured. Several others were more or less hurt.

Stanley Heard From.

LONDON, June 8.—A despatch from St. Paul de Loanda says: The latest Congo advices are to the effect that Stanley's expedition was making successful but slow progress up the river, owing to the fact that the vessels were heavily laden. The expedition passed the confluence of the Nami River on May 6 and Stanley expected to arrive at Bolobo on May 8.

Bound to Have a Revolution.

HAVANA, June 8.—The excitement in Matanzas and Pinar Del Rio over the announcement of the suppression of those provinces and the formation of a new division is increasing. Messages protesting against the new arrangements are being incessantly sent to Spain, and preparations are being made for a demonstration. Business is paralyzed.

In Favor of McGlynn.

NEW YORK, June 8.—It is stated that Dr. McGlynn's friends will send a monster petition to the Pope asking him to reinstate the Doctor in the Parish of St. Stephen's. Sufficient funds have been guaranteed to meet the expense of a delegation to Rome.

The Canoe Not Given.

PARIS, June 8.—It is said the Government contemplate postponing the Paris Exhibition, which was to have been held in 1889.

Smallpox Raging.

CHICAGO, June 8.—Two new cases of smallpox were reported from the infected house on Clark-street to-day. The district is one of the most densely populated in the city.

CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER.

TORONTO, June 8.

Coroner Johnson opened an inquest in the Morgue at 8 o'clock yesterday afternoon on the body of the young lad, John Crowe, who died on Monday morning last at his residence, 60 Mansfield-avenue, under circumstances so suspicious that, although the bod was interred, an order was given to Undertaker Mosbie to have it exhumed. The somewhat decomposed body was brought to the Morgue, where a post mortem examination was held by Drs. Spencer and Furleigh.

The injuries which, according to the medical evidence, accelerated the death were caused on May 23 by the blow of a stone or brick, alleged to have been inflicted by a boy named Robert Soules. As the corpse lay in the Morgue it presented a ghastly appearance, showing external signs of violence. There was a wound of a jagged nature on the left side of the head, while on the left shoulder were two abrasions a couple of inches apart. On the left loin there was a nasty-looking mark, and the shoulders were more or less discolored. The deceased was about 13 years of age, and his assailant 16.

Mrs. Dunay deposed to having washed the body after death, and found marks on the left shoulder and side. Deceased complained of having been beaten by Soules, on May 23. Mrs. Rose Long corroborated this evidence.

Dr. Spencer gave evidence as to the post-mortem examination. The following marks were found on the body: On the point of the left shoulder were two slight abrasions, about two inches apart. There was a large abrasion in the left axilla over the fourth rib, running up to the apex of the axilla, and on the internal surface of the arm, of over three inches in length. There was a semi-circular wound on the left side of the abdomen, in a line with the navel, and about three inches above the spine of the ilium. There were several small bruises over the two shoulder blades, and to the region of the dorsal vertebræ. The doctor explained the condition in which he found the body internally. The right side of the heart was congested and contained a clot of dark blood.

Dr. Furleigh concurred with Dr. Spencer and deposed to having attended the deceased in his illness. The boy was suffering from rheumatism, and the injuries which the body presented would predispose to such an attack as that from which the lad died. Not until after the death was it reported to the doctor that deceased had received such wounds.

The father of the deceased swore that he saw the lad knocked down by the blow of a brick thrown by Soules, with whom deceased was wrestling. This was on May 23, and on May 25 deceased took to his bed, where he remained up to the time of his death.

The jury expressed a wish to have further evidence as to the dispute between the boys, and the inquest was accordingly adjourned until 8.30 p.m., when two witnesses were produced who positively swore that they saw Robert Soules hit deceased with a stone and knock him down.

The jury returned a verdict of manslaughter against Soules, who was ordered into custody and lodged at Police Headquarters.

LOOKS BLOODTHIRSTY.

But Will Not Probably Develop Any Bloodletting.

LONDON, June 8.—It is reported that the Indian Government will meet the Russian advances and intrigues on the Afghan frontier by an advance to Candahar.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 8.—Sir Henry Drummond Wolff, the special English representative in charge of the Egyptian question, and Sir Wm. A. White, the English Ambassador, discussed with the Ottoman Commission last evening the objections of Russia and France to the Anglo-Turkish convention relative to Egypt.

The French and Russian ambassadors had declared, in presenting the objections of their Governments, that the convention was contrary to the Sultan's sovereign rights. It is announced the adhesion of the powers to the convention will be invited after it is ratified, and that if any of the powers fail to give their sanction within three years, such refusal will be regarded as constituting an external danger to Egypt, and the British occupation will be postponed. The Porte will ratify the convention after the Bairam festival.

PARIS, June 8.—The French Government has informed French Ambassadors abroad that France cannot assent to the Anglo-Turkish Convention except as a basis for negotiations.

VIENNA, June 8.—The Neue Freie Presse says that Askabad has been occupied by 25,000 Russian troops.

KAISER AND KRON PRINZ.

Wilhelm Better and Frederick William Improving Rapidly.

BERLIN, June 8.—Dr. Mackenzie to-day performed a second operation upon the tumor in the Crown Prince's throat, and successfully removed another portion of the growth. Cocaine was used to deaden the sensation in the throat. The spirits of the Crown Prince were much raised by Dr. Mackenzie's assurance of a cure. The patient went out driving after the operation. He will go to London on Monday, accompanied by Dr. Wagner, the Court physician, and Dr. Mackenzie, under whose care he will remain either at Norwood or Weymouth until a sufficient number of operations have been performed to prevent a regrowth of the tumor. He will then go to the Isle of Wight to recruit his health.

A GIDDY GIRL.

Dressed in Male Attire Comes to Grief and the Police Cells.

NEW YORK, June 8.—A pretty 15-year-old girl named Mamie McNamara is to-day sobbing away for dear life in jail, having been committed for examination yesterday. When the girl was brought into court her mother would scarcely have recognized her, as her slender figure was encased in those garments which custom and the law have awarded to the male sex. She was arraigned for stealing $160 from her father on May 25. Until two weeks ago she attended a grammar school. She invested a portion of the money in having her hair cut short and in the purchase of a new dress and a reefjersey. When the girl was accused of the theft she denied it indignantly and eluding her mother's vigilance ran away. Detective Byrnes' detectives found her yesterday after a long chase. She was dressed in male attire, representing herself as a cigarette-maker. A few days ago her mother received a letter from a "Mrs. Wilson," stating that the giddy girl had committed suicide and was buried in Greenwood Cemetery. The girl confessed to writing the note.

BOY MURDERERS.

Two Youngsters Knock Down and Kill an Aged Italian.

NEW YORK, June 8.—So small were two boys who were arraigned at the Tombs Police Court yesterday that the Magistrate was obliged to rise from his seat and lean over his desk to see them. They were John Meehan, 9 years old, of No. 71 Hester-street, and William Klotzberger, aged 11 years, of No. 131 Hester-street. The charge against them was that of murder. When on their way home from school the two boys met an aged Italian, Louis Maskropetro, at the corner of Grand and Mott streets. William pushed John against the man, who fell. He got up and moved away, but the boys stoned and jostled him until he fell again, fracturing his skull. The old man was taken to the hospital, where he died, and the boys are to be tried for his murder.

TYPOS IN CONVENTION.

Have a Stormy Time in Electing Their Officers.

BUFFALO, June 8.—The International Typographical Convention in session here elected the following officers: President, Wm. Almison of Nashville, (re-elected.) Fire-Vice President, Ed. Priest of San Francisco. Second Vice-President, Charles Gamewell of Washington, (re-elected.) Secretary-Treasurer, D. H. Pascoe of Philadelphia, (re-elected.) The office of Chief Organizer raised a long and acrimonious debate, a good many being in favor of its abolition. At to day's session D.P. Boyer of New York was re-elected.

THE LIBERAL LEADERSHIP.

The condition of Mr. Blake's health being such as to forbid expectation that he will be able to withdraw his definite resignation of the Liberal leadership, a caucus of the party was held at Ottawa yesterday with design to consider the succession. Our advices at a late hour do not fully warrant the opinion that the matter has been finally settled. It would appear that Mr. Laurier has been made responsible for at least the temporary discharge of the duties of chief spokesman, but to leave the business in such shape will be a grave error. The Liberals must face the situation squarely and recognise practically that it would be unfair to Mr. Laurier to place the heavy burden on his shoulders without reposing in him all the privileges, freedom and authority of the lead. His appointment would be as judicious and generally acceptable as any, but it would be an error to place him or any other man in the false position that would ensue from a failure to recognise that Mr. Blake's return to the lead is absolutely not to be looked for. It would be no less unfair to Mr. Blake to allow an impression to prevail in the country that the stricken chief can be expected to resume, at peril of a total break-down, any of the responsibilities which he has been compelled to abandon. His friends are naturally reluctant to give up hope of his speedy return, but they must do so, not less for his sake than for the interests of their Parliamentary organization. Mr. Blake has given much of his life to the party; he must be freed entirely from the feeling that his friends are still looking to him, else they and the country may suffer total loss of his great abilities and experience.—The Globe, June 8th.

"THE Jubilee speeches delivered in the House on Monday," quoth the Mail, "were eloquent ones, but not nearly so eloquent, we think, as the new iron duties"—nor so weighty, either.

Many persons profess to be terribly frightened of Commercial Union, but it is highly improbable that so important a fiscal change will be undertaken without evoking the views of the people by a plebiscite, in the form of a general election. If the people declare in favor of Commercial Union, they have to stand whatever the consequences of such a declaration may be. The people endorsed the high taxation policy and they have to stand it.

THE city council of St. Thomas have presented a petition to Parliament asking for a repeal of the Scott Act, urging that the Act has been a failure, that it has not diminished drinking, that there has been no improvement in public morals, that property has been deteriorated and that the progress and prosperity of the city have been retarded. The value of such petitions, as an indication of the actual state of public opinion on the subject petitioned against, is not very great. True, a city council represents the people, technically as regards statute, but unless the Scott Act was an issue in the municipal elections, the city council cannot justly pose as exponents of public opinion on that subject. Public opinion may be overwhelmingly with the city council but that fact is not guaranteed by any action which the latter may take in its general representative capacity.

Port Hope.

Grand Jubilee Celebration. Dominion Day. July 1st, 1887.

Our Port Hope friends are strenuously exerting themselves to make this, the Jubilee year of Her Most Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria, a red letter day in the annals of the town, by holding a monster demonstration on Dominion Day, July 1st, which will eclipse all their previous efforts in this direction. A programme, consisting of athletic and aquatic sports, horse-racing, fireworks, etc., is in preparation, and no expense will be spared to make the Jubilee Celebration an unqualified success. There will be cheap excursion rates on all railways.

Ennismore.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The ceremony of blessing the new bell of the Ennismore church was performed with great solemnity by the new Bishop of Peterborough on Sunday. The handsomely decorated church was crowded to the doors, a number of people from Peterborough being in attendance. High Mass was solemnly celebrated by the Bishop, assisted by Rev. Father Keilty, the parish priest. The singing by the choir of the church was unusually good, several Peterborough singers of local renown assisting on the occasion. The impressive ceremony of "blessing" the bell was performed by Bishop Dowling, in whose honor the bell was christened "Thomas Joseph." Mr. Crough, reeve; Councillors McCarthy, Galvin and Young; and Messrs. M. Crough, John Scollard, M. Leonard, B. Sullivan, M. O'Reilly, J. Harrington, Timothy Murphy and Garret P. Galvin acted as sponsors. After the ceremony a number of those present accepted the privilege of ringing the bell on the first day. The bell sat in the entrance of the church, handsomely decorated. It is of excellent tone and a very large one. During the proceedings an address of congratulation on his appointment from the parishioners was presented to Bishop Dowling, extending a hearty welcome to him on his first visit to the parish. To this His Lordship replied expressing thanks. A large collection was taken up in behalf of the bell fund, a check from a Peterborough friend for $75 being the principal contribution.

The regular cheese meeting of the Peterborough Association was held in the old music hall, Tuesday afternoon. The cheese offered was mainly of the last half of May make, a few of the first half being offered. The following cheese was boarded, all colored:—

Mr. Wm. Claxton bought up Warminster, Warsaw, Trewerne and North Smith at 9½c; Mr. R. Leary, representing McBean, of Lancaster, purchased the balance of the board except Norwood, Westwood and Melrose Abbey at 9½c., these three selling afterwards privately to Mr. Cooke, of Belleville. The bidding was fairly brisk. Cable quotations were 55s., market quieter. Among those present were Messrs. Flavelle, Wrighton, Green (for Dingwall, Morrisburg), and Bird (for Hodgson & Co., Montreal.)

Important to Farmers.

The attention of the farmers of the county of Peterborough is drawn to the fact that they will find it to their interest to call at the agricultural implement warerooms of E. E. Bowie, Hunter street, west of George street, half a block. There he will show the farmers the best, largest, most comprehensive and most complete stock of agricultural implements ever seen in Peterborough. Don't neglect to call and see my New Oshawa Steel Mower, and my new Riding Plough. With this plough a boy who can drive a team can do better ploughing than the best plowman in Canada can do with a walking plough, do more work, and with as light draft as with a walking plough. Call and examine for yourselves. Both spectators and buyers made welcome.

The Go-Ahead Gough.

The go-ahead Gough has just capped the climax of his commercial achievements. He has returned home from Montreal where he purchased an $18,500 bankrupt stock of ready-made clothing at 40 cents on the $., which will be forthwith flung on the market at prices which will astound the public. The goods will arrive to-day and will be opened out on Friday, marked down to jubilee prices. For instance, behold, mens' suits at $2.75 and boys' suits at $1.25, something unheard of before. The rush will be so great that half a dozen extra salesmen will be required to wait on the surging throng in search of bargains. Come early and avoid the rush. See Gough's advertisement in all the papers on Thursday.

Something for all the Preachers.

Rev. H. H. Fairall, D. D., editor of the Iowa Methodist, says editorially, in the November (1883) number of his paper:—"We have tested the merits of Ely's Cream Balm, and believe that by a through course of treatment, it will cure almost every case of catarrh. Ministers, as a class, are afflicted with head and throat troubles and Catarrh seems more prevalent than ever. We cannot recommend Ely's Balm too highly. eodw23

TORONTO, June 9.

The "Jersey City Gladiators," as they are called by their friends, made their first appearance on the Toronto grounds yesterday afternoon and were easily beaten. They made a stubborn fight till the seventh innings, up to which time the score was a tie. Then the home team wielded the willow with telling effect and the Gladiators were left far in the rear. Score:

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent, of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symtoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottle, 10 cents. Try it. eodw4

Domestic Economy.

As a matter of economy it will pay every household to keep a bottle of Yellow Oil for accidents and emergencies, in case of pain as a handy relief, and for wounds, burns, bruises and injuries. Rheumatism, neuralgia, quinsy, and many painful diseases treated internally and externally by it often save large medical bills. 2w22d

What is Needed

By every man and woman if they desire to secure comfort in this world is a corn sheller. Putnam's Corn Extractor shells corns in two or three days and without discomfort or pain. A hundred imitations prove the merit of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, which is always sure, safe and painless. See signature of Polson & Co., on each bottle. Sold by medicine dealers. 6dw23

Worth Remembering.

Mrs. T. Dean, of Harristaville, Ont., was for a long time troubled with neuralgia of stomach. Failing to find benefit from her physicians, she tried Burdock Blood Bitters from which she found speedy relief, to which she testifies, hoping it may prove beneficial to others. Many physicians recommend B. B. B. 2w22d

Weather Probabilities.

It is probable that in the breaking up of winter we shall have much damp sloppy weather, when rheumatism, neuralgia, sore throat, and other painful complaints will prevail. Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the popular household remedy for external and internal use. Its curative power is truly wonderful. 2w22d

The village of Warnaw will hold a grand celebration of the Queen's Jubilee on June 21st. The celebration will take the form of athletic sports, including baseball match, horse, running and canoe races, Caledonian games, the afternoon's proceedings to wind up with a strawberry festival in the town hall. At eight p.m. a grand musical concert will be held, the whole to be concluded by a torchlight procession, headed by a band of North-west Indians and a grand display of fireworks.

Largest in the District.

Mr. Carey Johnston now claims to have the largest shoe manufactory between Toronto and Montreal. His premises have recently undergone a complete overhauling, the store having been lengthened by 20 feet by the removal of a partition, with a fancy wood ceiling, cases painted, walls papered, etc., and everything arranged commodiously. A large addition has been built in the rear as a workshop, what formerly answered for that purpose being now the cutting room. A hoist to the second flat has also been put in. On the second story, besides the workshops, a store-room for trunks has been made. This is a new departure of Mr. Johnston's, in which he hopes to succeed as well as he has in the boot and shoe business. Altogether the premises are neat, capacious and commodious in the extreme, and Mr. Johnston is to be congratulated on possessing such a nobby boot and shoe store and factory.

The Late William Gilbert.

The Second Post-mortem Examination Completed and New Information—Money Remaining Intact.

The relatives of the late William Gilbert, not having been satisfied with the information received from St. Paul, respecting the cause of his death, had the body exhumed, and a post-mortem examination was made by Dr. Kincaid and Dr. Bell with the result stated below:—

We, the undersigned medical practitioners, having made a careful examination of the body of the late William Gilbert, hereby certify that, owing to the amount of decomposition, and the fact that a post mortem examination had already been made by surgeons in St. Paul, U.S., we are unable to ascertain the true cause of death.

(Signed) R. KINCAID, M.D.
R. W. BELL, M.D.

Peterborough, 8th June 1887.

The following from the St. Paul Pioneer Press of May 20th may serve to throw some light on the subject:—

Immediately upon reading the dispatches in the Chicago papers of Thursday morning relative to the discovery of their traveling representative, William Gilbert, in an unconscious condition and his subsequent death, the Rattan Manufacturing company telegraphed one of their representatives, A. J. Rogers, then in Iowa, to come on to St. Paul and sift the matter to the bottom. He took the first train for this city, reaching here yesterday morning. He spent the day inquiring carefully into the matter and making arrangements for the disposition of the remains. Interviewed last evening at the Grand Central hotel by a Pioneer Press reporter, he said:

THEORY OF THE DEATH.

No man in the employ of the Rattan Manufacturing company was more highly esteemed by his employers and associates than was Gilbert. I have looked into this case thoroughly, and I have a theory to advance regarding his death. Some time ago I wrote Gilbert that I would be in St. Paul before long and would probably stop at the Grand Central hotel. I acquainted him with this fact, as I knew that he was also to make a similar visit before long and thought it would be pleasant for us to meet each other here. Mr. E. H. Goodrich, a travelling representative of our house, was in conversation with Gilbert at the Ryan hotel office on the night of the death until after 11 o'clock. Mr. Goodrich tells me that about that time Gilbert said to him that perhaps I might have arrived in the city, and as he was going away in the morning, he would go up to the Grand Central hotel and see me. Saying this he went out of the door and hurried up in the direction of Wabasha street. Gilbert was a very fast walker, and the lateness of the hour probably induced him to accelerate his gait in order to reach the Grand Central hotel before I retired, in case I happened to be here. The Grand Central hotel is entered from a side stairway on Seventh street. My theory is that the exertion of his rapid walk brought on a fit, and that in his dazed condition Gilbert walked up the side or back stairway to the Sixth and Wabasha streets dive. There is not a friend or acquaintance of Gilbert's but would stake all he possessed that Gilbert never went to that dive knowingly. He was a member of the Y. M. C. A. and the Third Presbyterian Church of Chicago. He never drank nor gambled. While away he spent most of his leisure time at churches or at similar gatherings. He had no more money with him than was found on his person.

THE REMAINS SHIPPED TO CHICAGO.

The remains, properly embalmed, were yesterday sent to Chicago. They will be met at the depot at 7 o'clock this morning by members of the Third Presbyterian church, the J. V. Farewell Y. M. C. A. Association and the Clan Gordon, a Scottish society with which Gilbert was connected. This afternoon the remains will be sent on from Chicago to Peterborough the former home of Gilbert, in accordance with a telegram which has been received from his brother-in-law, Mr. Hall. There the members of the Peterborough Lodge of Odd Fellows and prominent citizens will be at the depot to participate in the funeral exercises which will then be held. Numerous telegrams were streaming in upon Mr. Rogers yesterday from the friends of Gilbert in Chicago, Peterborough, and other points. Gilbert had a life insurance for $5,000, which is directed to be paid over to his mother.

Fashion's Freaks.

There seems to have been too many fashionable wraps this spring made after the same pattern.

Spots of Sport.

Cobourg and Belleville baseball clubs play at Belleville Friday.

The Whitby Cricket Club plays here with Peterborough C. C. on Jubilee day, June 21st. An excursion will be run from that town in connection with it.

The Riverside Lacrosse Club is down on the Central District schedule for a match at Markham on Wednesday, June 15th. The Toronto Independents play the Riversides in Peterborough July 1st.

Mr. A. Gibson, the champion bicyclist of Peterboorugh, says the Register, paid Norwood a visit last week. Although the roads were both muddy and rough he succeeded in making the trip in two hours and three-quarters. Distance, 20 miles.

The Cobourg Star says:—"Peterborough will play here on Thursday, the 16th inst. The Peterboroughs are in fine trim, and playing good ball. They defeated the Lindsay club on May 24th. "Hoxie" Fitzgerald does the twirling for Peterborough, and we have no doubt he will do his utmost to defeat our club."

Tuesday next is the last day of the close or prohibited season for the taking of bass and maskinonge. The Government should change the date and make the close season end the last day of May. Both bass and maskinonge in waters like the Trent which are free from ice very early in the year, are through spawning by that date.

On Tuesday the Norwood and Keene Lacrosse Clubs crossed sticks on the grounds of the latter club. The match lasted about two hours and was hotly contested. The Norwood team won by three straights. Dr. Shaw of the Keene team played a fine game in the flags, and T. Wallace and M. Kenealy deserve special mention. Mr. H. English filled the position of referee to the entire satisfaction of both teams. Mr. J. C. McConkey acted as field captain for the Norwood team, and Mr. A. Dixon acted in the same capacity for the Keene club. The umpires were Messrs. J. McCann and M. Weir.

Important News Item.

The Town Meeting.

The next meeting of the Jubilee Committee will be held in the Council Chamber Saturday evening at eight o'clock.

Hook and Ladder.

The new hook-and-ladder wagon, with extension ladders, is completed and ready ready for delivery to the Fire Brigade. Messrs. Fitzgerald & Stanger did the work.

A Big Excursion.

Seven car loads of people attended the Masonic Jubilee excursion to Toronto this morning, and more were expected to be picked up en route. Peterborough furnished by far the largest contingent of excursionists.

Saying Farewell.

St. Andrew's Picnic.

The annual excursion and pic-nic of St. Andrew's Sunday School will take place to and at Campbelltown, on Thursday, June 16th. The steamer "Golden Eye" will carry children at 20 cents and adults at 35 cents, leaving her wharf at 8:30.

St. Peter's Jubilee Picnic.

The congregation of St. Peter's Cathedral will hold a grand jubilee picnic in the Murray street grounds on Tuesday, June 21st. A series of athletic sports will be held for which $150 will be spent in prizes. First-class music has been engaged for dancing. For fuller particulars see large bills.

Scientific Heroes.

A team of horses and a wagon in which were a couple of barrels rattled down Simcoe street yesterday afternoon at a runaway pace, minus a driver. The horses shot down over the hill towards the river, and when within a few feet of the brink wheeled suddenly to the right and came to a voluntary stand still on a little knoll, nothing much injured by their escapade. Their sudden stop in the midst of such a speed, of their own accord, was surprising. Runaway horses usually dash ahead regardless of all obstacles.

A Door-Plate Industry.

Two Enterprising Young Citizens of Peterborough Launch out in a New Business.

A new industry, the only one of its kind on the whole American continent, has sprung up in Peterborough recently, and it bids fair to become eventually a mammoth business. The industry referred to is the manufacture of bronze name-plates for doors, professional and advertising plates, house numbers, etc. Messrs. Carl Smart and W. C. Springer, two young men well known as clever artizans in their particular lines, have begun their manufacture in town, and have already received such assurances of immediate success that they have placed an agent on the road in Western Ontario and another will be despatched to the east very soon. The door-plates made by this firm are of an entirely new style to anything in that line yet seen here. The customary door-plate is an oblong panel of brass with the letters engraved on the level surface, while the plates made by this new firm have an ornamental border, with a depressed panel in the middle, on which is the name in raised letters, the whole made of one solid piece of bronze, in bronze, silver, nickel and gold finishes, all sizes and styles. These door-plates are of inestimable value in a large place like Peterborough, far ahead of house numbers, and are so cheap that one can only wonder at how such a beautiful and finished article can be produced for the money. They show off to great advantage on a door, their polished appearance not being marred by any ugly screw heads or other fastenings. A post which projects about half an inch from the back of the plate is inserted in the door, while a screw from the inside of the door enters the post and so holds it secure. By this means all scratching is avoided in putting on or off, and in case the door needs painting or the plate cleaning it can be removedeasily in a moment almost. These door-plates have numerous advantages over all old makes, and one can scarcely help being so pleased as to purchase one on first sight. The firm also makes hotel plates of all description. These plates will last a life-time, the letters never fall off, nor is there any cement to deteriorate and lose its adhesive powers to the utter destruction of the plates—they are of solid bronze castings, all one piece, and wonderfully cheap. House numbers, advertising plates for show windows, and everything in this line, are made by this new firm. Their venture has met with success so far, a large number of orders being already booked in town without any canvassing at all, and agents with sample cases will be put on the road at once. Messrs. Smart and Springer have evinced an unusual amount of enterprise and courage in this undertaking, the only one of its kind in Canada or the United States, and it is to be hoped (and there is no doubt of it) that they will meet with continued success. Orders may be left and samples seen at D. Smart's music store, George Street.

Mixed Marriages.

Archbishop Lynch has issued a circular to the priests of the Archdiocese announcing that the annual retreat will commence on June 27th. It also contains the following deliverance on mixed marriages:—"You will please announce to your people that we, with many other bishops, have determined to grant no dispensations for mixed marriages when the woman is a non-Catholic. The experience of many years has proved that a Protestant mother cannot raise her children Catholics and she is thus unable to comply with the essential condition on which such dispensation is granted. Accordingly we shall no longer grant such dispensation in those circumstances. They may apply to Rome direct if they will."

THE ART OF DRESSING NEATLY.

It is customary for the Male Sex to make merry over the fact that a woman wears a great amount of unnecessary fixings.

With equal justice the Fair Sex can retort that men are not by any means exempt from unnecessary dress.

Ask a tailor the use of buttons on the back of a mans coat, and he wont be able to tell you. He'll tell you that they are placed there because they are fashionable.

It is the aim of "The Peoples Cash Store" to always keep up with the fashions, but we prefer the Neat Sensible Styles. Our Fashion Plate is the human body, and we make our Clothing to Fit Neatly and Hang Gracefully.

Experience has taught us what materials are the most serviceable. We import only such Cloth as we know will give satisfactory work.

We aim to dress a man neat, and to dress him well, at a small expense.

Economy in manufacturing, in importing and in conducting our store enables us to offer such Great Bargains, as our Ten Dollar English Tennis Suit, our Eight Dollar Halifax Tweed Suit and our Seventeen Dollar Scotch Tweed Suit.

REV. DR. POTTS ELECTED.

UNANIMOUSLY CHOSEN PRESIDENT OF THE METHODIST CONFERENCE.

A Large Gathering at the Opening in the Carlton-street Church—A Strong Resolution Against Scott Act Interference Adopted—An Evening Meeting.

TORONTO, June. 10

The annual meeting of the Toronto Conference of the Canada Methodist Church was opened yesterday morning in the Carlton-street Church. After devotional exercises and the calling of the roll of those in attendance—the number being no less than 260—Dr. Carman, General Superintendent, took the chair and delivered a stirring address on the present status of the church, its future prospects, and concluding by outlining the work before the conference. The first order of business was the election of a president. Rev. Dr. Potts was selected on the first ballot, having obtained 128 out of 221 votes cast. After an eloquent speech by the president-elect the Conference adjourned until 2 p.m.

At the afternoon meeting the first business was the election of a secretary, and after two ballots were cast the choice fell upon Rev. Hugh Johnston. Being introduced by kind words by the General Superintendent, Mr. Johnston acknowledged the honor conferred on him, and promised to throw his whole soul into the work.

Several notices of motion were given, and resolutions of sympathy with Dr. Wood, in ill-health, and Rev. A. C. Courtice, lately bereaved, were adopted. The secretary-elect suggested the names of Mr. Warring Kennedy and Rev. J. J. Redditt for assistant secretaries, which were approved of.

The order and time of meetings were arranged so that business will commence each day at 9 a.m., adjourn at 12, meet again at 2.30 p.m. and adjourn for the day at 5.30. A short discussion took place on the mode of selecting the Nominating Committee, and it was finally adopted that the chairmen of each district should nominate one minister and one layman and these to compose the committee for stationing ministers during next year.

The next question before the conference evoked a long and wearisome reading of names against whom nothing could be said as to why they should not continue in pastoral work. The moral character of all candidates for the ministry being satisfactory, the next question for consideration was who were the candidates for ordination.

The following gentlemen were admitted into full ministerial fellowship: Messrs. G. N. Rutledge, J. W. Ferguson, F. Woodger, T. [illegible], W. W. Andrews, A. Brown and C. Paull

There being some informality in the papers of Mr. G. S. Hume, his case was referred back to the Uxbridge district. The remainder of the afternoon was taken up with hearing reports from the different districts on the standing of probationers now qualifying themselves for future ordination, by traveling the required four years in an appropriate circuit.

The President, in eulogistic terms, introduced to the conference the Rev. Dr. Fawcett of Chicago who took a seat upon the platform.

A very lengthy resolution on temperance was adopted similar to that passed at the Montreal Conference.

The Evening Session.

There was a large audience at the evening meeting, which was devoted to addresses on Education. The chairman Dr. Carman, regretted the unavoidable absence of Drs. Douglass and Nelles, who were to deliver addresses, both being detained at home through family affliction. The first speaker was Professor Burwash of Victoria College, who spoke of the good work done by Victoria during the last fifty years. Education demanded all the attention which the church could give it, and he was pleased to be in a position to state that the work of the last year surpassed all former years. The class of thirty-two young men who received the degree of B.A. at the closing exercises of last session was the best in the history of the university. He had no fear of the federation scheme, as it was already assured, and Victoria would be in a position to give better results than ever. The interests of Methodism were inseparably connected with the future of education, and he hoped the people would continue to keep alive to its importance. Mr. Hare, Principal of the Ladies' College, Whitby, followed, and in a rattling speech of twenty-five minutes discussed the educational topics before the Methodist Church at present. He said that the Methodist Church cannot afford to be under the imputation that she is indifferent to the cause of education while aggressive in all social reforms and the religious advancement of the race. He paid a high tribute to those in the church who were making great sacrifices of time and money in the cause. The education of young ladies is a prominent feature in the history of the Methodist Church in Canada, and he thought the work performed in this direction in the past augured well for the future. He deprecated the cry raised by clergymen that our public schools were godless, and thought that instead of asking for the Bible to be read in schools, ministers ought to have taken advantage of the present regulations on that subject by visiting more frequently the teachers and the scholars.

In speaking of federation, he pointed out that the Methodist body stood to lose most from the National University. Their numerical strength in Ontario warranted the expectation that they should have professors of their own denomination in University College, but they have not, and the fault is their own, owing to indifference. Federation will give them an interest in the Provincial University, and they were bound to make it a success.

The Chairman, in introducing Dr. Potts, got off a good joke, as he frequently does. Said he: "We first had a Wash: next we had a Hare; and now, brethren, let us have a Pot." [Laughter.]

Dr. Potts' address was said by the leading members of the Conference spoken to afterwards, to have been the ablest he has delivered for many years. It was brimful of facts and a proficient amount of humor to make it what it was, an admirable and interesting review of the past and present condition of Methodist education.

He referred to the sickly condition of the educational society and strongly urged upon the members of the Conference the desirability of having a working educational committee in each pastorate. There should be raised annually at least $25,000 for general education. He

THE UNWELCOME PAUPER.

NO RELIEF FOR HIM EVEN IN THE LAND OF LIBERTY.

The Emigration Commissioners at New York Return to Ireland a Number of Emigrants Who Might Become a Public Charge if Landed.

NEW YORK, June 9.—At a meeting of the Emigrant Commissioners of this city to-day the question of permitting the landing of about ninety emigrants from Ireland, who came here on the steamer City of Chester, came up. The emigrants had been sent here by the British Government which paid their passages. Their admission was objected to on the ground that they were paupers, and likely to become public charges.

There was read at the meeting a copy of a letter sent to Secretary Bayard by Minister West in April last. In it the British Minister asked whether persons whose passages were paid partly or wholly by the British Government would be permitted to land. Secretary Bayard in reply cited the laws in reference to pauper emigrants, and said that in such cases as those mentioned by Minister West suspicion would be excited and they would not be permitted to land unless it was clearly shown that they were not likely to become public charges.

The commissioners finally decided to permit the landing of three women, one man and their families, numbering in all twenty-one. All the others, who are now detained on Ward's Island, were ordered to be taken back by the Inman Steamship Company.

FORCING THE CRIMES ACT.

THE COMMITTEE TO BE ORDERED TO REPORT AT AN EARLY DAY.

The Proposition Will Come on the Proposition by Every House in Their Power, Alleging That Such a Motion is Unprecedented.

LONDON, June 9.—In the House of Commons this afternoon W. H. Smith, the Government leader, gave notice that to-morrow he would move that the committee name the period at which they would report the Irish Crimes Act Amendment Bill to the House. The announcement was received with cries and counter cheers. John Morley protested against so short notice. He hoped the Government would postpone making the motion for another day. [Cries of "no" from the Ministerial benches.]

Mr. Smith said he felt sure Mr. Morley must have expected that the Government would make such a proposal. [Opposition cries of "no."] Mr. Smith then referred to his statement in the House on Tuesday in which he said possibly it would become his duty to take measures to expedite public business. He said the Government were unable until to-day to finally decide on what course to pursue. The terms of his notice would be on the paper to-night. He refused to name the period he would ask the committee to fix for reporting the bill.

Mr. Smith's motion proposes that the Crimes Bill be reported by June 17.

The Parnellites will oppose the motion by every means in their power, alleging that it is unprecedented. The Unionists approve of the motion.

Mr. Balfour announced that the provision for the commission of judges would be introduced immediately, embodying the new proposals of the Government. [Loud laughter and ironical cheers.]

Sir William Vernon Harcourt congratulated the Government upon their new method of saving time in the House. Coercion Bill No. 2, he said, would probably be so ridiculous that it would require a third coercion bill to set it right.

It is possible that to-morrow or on Monday the Parnellites will raise a debate on the evictions in Ireland.

Mr. Gladstone, Mr. Parnell and other leaders will speak to-morrow on Mr. Smith's proposal. If the debate should be protracted the cloture rule will be applied.

A CASTLE SHIP ASHORE.

The Castleford From Montreal Wrecked on the Scilly Islands.

LONDON, June 9.—Dense fogs have prevailed in the channel for the past week, and the movements of steamers have been greatly interfered with. While a heavy fog was prevailing the British steamer Castleford, Capt. McLean, which left Montreal May 28, for Newcastle and London, went ashore off the Scilly Islands. She is in a bad position, and it is believed will prove a wreck. Salvers are at work on her cargo. Fourteen bullocks have been landed from the steamer. All the cattle occupying pens between decks were drowned. The prospects of saving any considerable portion of the cargo are bad.

One hundred bullocks have been landed from the steamer Castlefield. The remainder have been drowned. There is no hope of saving the ship.

A BLOW TO PROHIBITION.

How a Maine Liquor Dealer Overcomes the State Law.

AUGUSTA, Me., June 9.—The prohibitory law of Maine has received a terrific set back. Michael Burns, a well-known liquor dealer of this city, has brought to Augusta from Liverpool a large invoice of foreign distilled whisky, which he is selling to all who wish to purchase. The United States protects all persons importing liquors from foreign countries from prosecution under any state prohibitory law for selling such goods in the original, unbroken packages.

TOPICS FROM TORONTO.

TORONTO, June 10.

It was 11.20 last night when the last vote of thanks was passed by the Ontario Medical Association, and the most successful meeting they have ever held declared at an end. No less than 204 physicians and surgeons, including ten invited guests, signed the roll and took part in the two days' proceedings. The largest number in attendance at any of the previous six meetings was 142. It is generally admitted that in point of interest the gathering just closed stands out far ahead of any of its predecessors. Eminent physicians from the United States have contributed papers, the city surgeons of prominence have taken a very active part in the proceedings, the rural practitioner has been considerably enlightened by what he saw and heard, and harmony and good-will seemed to perch on every bust in the theatre where the sittings were held.

The association decided to meet again in Toronto next year. The following officers were elected:

President—Dr. J. W. Rosebrugh, Hamilton.
Vice-Presidents—First, Dr. H. M. Mackay, Woodstock; Second, Dr. V. H. Moore, Brockville; Third, Dr. Adam Wright, Toronto; Fourth, Dr. A. Taylor, Goderich.
General Secretary—Dr. J. E. White, 103 Carlton-street, Toronto.
Corresponding Secretaries—Dr. K. N. Fenwick, Kingston; Dr. M. L. McPhatter, Guelph; Dr. R. W. Powell, Ottawa; Dr. Shaw, Hamilton.

President Rosebrugh was conducted to the seat of honor, thanked the association and said au revoir.

THE DISALLOWANCE DANGER.

Tory rule is likely to cost the country dearly in every way. In the matter of finance, unheeding extravagance has brought the era of bankruptcy terribly near. Tory misrule has brought on two rebellions in Canada within the past twenty years and there are threats of another, through the results of Tory rule. Sir John Macdonald was hostile to Confederation and he has done his best to wreck it. His most persistent act, tempt has been made in the direction of disallowance of provincial legislation. He tried the game in Ontario till he was disastrously beaten by Mr. Mowat, and now he is bringing no end of trouble by applying the disallowance thumb-screws to Manitoba. To prevent the C.P.R. to enjoy the full fruits of its monopoly, Sir John refuses to allow the Manitoba Legislature to charter railways that would give them an independent outlet from the country and save the people from the grinding rates of the monopoly, which is not only bringing financial ruin to the Manitoba farmers and others, but, which is as bad, both retarding the settlement of the country and driving established citizens to the United States. But the Manitobans are at length being aroused. There is something seriously wrong and iniquitous when a Tory politician kicks against the Chieftain or his administration, but to this pass has come Mr. Lescock, a pronounced Conservative member of the Manitoba legislature, who in his place on Wednesday, used these significant words: "The Ottawa Government is trying to stifle the life blood of this country by trying to prevent us from getting our rights by securing an independent outlet from the country. He would warn the Ottawa Government that if it attempted to interfere with us the consequences would be grave. The people were loyal, but there was a limit beyond which no government could interfere with them, and the consequences would be grave if any interference was offered. The people were in no mood to brook interference, for if any were offered, a spirit would be raised which would sound the death-knell to Confederation."

HON. EDWARD BLAKE.

The temporary retirement of Hon. Mr. Blake from the leadership of the Liberal party has evoked the most complimentary testimonials to his great abilities, and to his political and personal purity of character, from both political friends and foes. What gives emphasis to the tributes of the latter is the fact that at the time of their being penned Hon. Mr. Blake had not retired altogether from political life; and, that they should commit themselves by statements with which they might be confronted when Mr. Blake might have resumed the leadership, argues strongly in favour of the sincerity of their praise. Party journals are accustomed to laud and magnify the virtues of a dead opponent, but they are much more cautious in speaking a good word for the living even under the circumstances in question. Among the Conservative journals which have paid a strong tribute of praise to Mr. Blake, is the Irish Canadian, a most bitter Tory journal. It says:

"The country will learn with very sincere regret that the Hon. Edward Blake has been forced, through illness, to resign the leadership of the Reform party, and seek the rest so necessary to the restoration of his health. His retirement, we trust, will be but temporary; and though he may not return to his place in the House during the present session, it is to be hoped that his party will not long be deprived of the benefit of his advice and direction. * * * * There are, we think, very few who will not acknowledge that Mr. Blake, whether as a private citizen or as a politician, is a man of high honor and spotless reputation. At the bar or in the forum, he adorns and dignifies his sphere, and sheds on his surroundings the lustre of a cultivated mind. Laboring hard and honestly for the best interests of his country during the best years of his life, and at an enormous sacrifice pecuniarily, he is at length warned that he has overworked himself and must retire. Reluctantly he obeys, carrying with him a universal sympathy, coupled with earnest prayers for his speedy and complete restoration to health."

A Valuable Discovery.

F. P. Tanner, of Keeling, Ont., says he has not only found B. B. B. a sure cure for dyspepsia, but he also found it to be the best medicine for regulating and invigorating the system that he has ever taken. B. B. B. is the great system regulator. 2w22d

ESCAPED FROM MORMONDOM.

Two Young Women Find Their Way Back From Salt Lake City.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Eleanor Paston, a young woman, who, with a companion named Amelia Clegg, was taken from Cornwall, England, to Salt Lake City by Elder Bascom a month ago, arrived here last night. When the girls reached Salt Lake City they were taken to the house of Elder Bascom. Bascom had three wives, the principal one of whom was called Hannah. She was a gray-haired woman. When the elder announced his intention of sealing to himself the two new converts, Hannah became jealous and angry.

Both the converts objected to becoming members of the elder's household. So one night they tied together some clothing and lowered themselves out of the window. Elder Wells, who sides with the Government, aided them to escape and put them on board a train bound for the east. They related their story to the passengers and a purse was taken up for them. At Omaha Miss Clegg left the train with a lady who promised her a situation, while Eleanor remained on the train until it reached Jersey City. Miss Paston is of bright intellect. She says she had no idea of the intention of Bascom to marry her until she reached Salt Lake. She has been sent to friends in Williamsburgh.

THE WHISKY SUPPLY.

There is Enough on Hand at Present to Last Three Years.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 9.—At a meeting of Kentucky distillers to-day a resolution recommending the cessation of the production of whisky until Oct. 1, 1888, was adopted. An officer of the Association stated that there were now in bond in Kentucky 22,000,000 gallons of whisky, of which 12,000,000 gallons were distilled in the last year. There are 5,000,000 gallons in foreign ports belonging to Kentucky men, and all this makes a supply great enough to last three years. He thought there would not be a drop of whisky distilled in Kentucky this year.

KILLED WHILE WRESTLING.

A Toronto Man Held to Await a Coroner's Jury.

HAMILTON, June 9.—Thomas Taylor, a colored lad, was accidentally killed this evening. He was wrestling with a young man named John Torrance on the Crystal Palace grounds and received internal injuries, from which he died an hour later. Torrance is from Toronto, and has been only a few weeks in the city. He has been arrested, and will be held in custody pending the result of the coroner's inquest, which will be held to-morrow.

Parnell Takes His Cue.

LONDON, June 9.—Mr. Parnell's conference with Mr. Morley and Sir Charles Russell resulted in the adoption by the Irish leader of the Gladstonian tactics of opposition. The Gladstonian leaders will meet to-day or Thursday and go carefully over the amendments to the Crimes Bill and expunge all that are redundant. The Government for the present continues the method of cloture adopted prior to the holidays. The Cabinet will meet at the end of the week to decide whether to propose an urgency motion. Mr. Chamberlain will address the Liberal-Unionists next Tuesday, when he will deal with Gladstone's speech in Wales.

A Present for the Canadian Club.

NEW YORK, June 9.—The Canadian Club have received notification from Mr. L. R. O'Brien of Toronto, President of the Royal Art Society, that he has painted for the club a picture of Canadian scenery in the Rocky Mountains, of which he asks their acceptance. The picture is to go first to the exhibition of the Society of Artists in Toronto, after which it will be forwarded to New York, where it will no doubt be greatly appreciated. The members of the club are greatly gratified at this indication of interest in their progress here.

Parnell's Organ Counsels Patience.

DUBLIN, June 9.—United Ireland, Mr. Parnell's organ, urges the Irish people to further patience. It denounces those men who advocate retaliation for the oppression of the Irish, and says that such a course would undo the work Mr. Parnell had accomplished during a decade of terrible years, and the work to which Mr. Gladstone was devoting the evening of his life.

A Steamship Line for Sale.

LONDON, June 9.—The five steamers of the Monarch steamship line, which was announced some three ago to be in financial difficulties, were offered for sale together to-day, but the highest bid was only £112,000. This amount was not accepted, and the steamers were withdrawn. It is now intended to dispose of them singly by auction.

The People Disappointed.

LONDON, June 9.—It is stated that the Queen has decided to curtail the program of the jubilee procession. She will, it is said, go only in semi-state in an open carriage and without being arrayed in the Imperial robes. The full state ceremonial had been expected, and the people are greatly disappointed.

The Pittsburg Murderer Dead.

Something for all the Freemasons.

Rev. H. H. Fairall, D. D., editor of the Great Methodist, says editorially, in the November (1883) number of his paper:—"We have tested the merits of Ely's Cream Balm, and believe that by a through course of treatment, it will cure almost every case of catarrh. Ministers, as a class, are afflicted with head and throat troubles and Catarrh seems more prevalent than ever. We cannot recommend Ely's Balm too highly." eodw28

Domestic Economy.

As a matter of economy it will pay every household to keep a bottle of Yellow Oil for accidents and emergencies, in case of pain as a handy relief, and for wounds, burns, bruises and injuries. Rheumatism, neuralgia, quinsy, and many painful diseases treated internally and externally by it often save large medical bills. 2w22d

Worth Remembering.

Mrs. T. Doan, of Harristeville, Ont., was for a long time troubled with neuralgia of stomach. Failing to find benefit from her physicians, she tried Burdock Blood Bitters from which she found speedy relief, to which she testifies, hoping it may prove beneficial to others. Many physicians recommend B. B. B. 2w22d

Handsome Cars.

Fifteen elegant new cars, comprising first-class, sleeping and parlor coaches, passed east on the C. P. R. last night for the Montreal and Boston Air Line. They were made at Dayton, Ohio.

The Regatta.

The regatta on Little Lake on the evening of June 21st, in connection with the jubilee celebration, promises to be the most interesting event of the day. Canoeists are practising their muscle and skill every evening preparatory for the races. The Otonabee club are pushing matters with vim.

Our Advantages.

The committees having in charge Port Hope's jubilee celebration on July 1st are not working together very harmoniously according to the local papers. In Peterborough the committees are as an unit, and receive the undivided support of all the citizens. Our celebration will be the celebration of the Midland District.

The Lieut.-General Coming.

Mr. A. McNeil, Secretary of the Oddfellow's Demonstration Committee, has received a letter from Lieut.-General Underwood, of Covington, Ky., stating that he and his staff will attend the grand lodge of Ontario session here in August and take part in the grand demonstration on August 10th.

Commendable.

To-day men were employed in raking up the litter of paper, etc., and loose stones on George street and carting them away. The result is a great improvement in the appearance of the street. If merchants would decide to prevent the sweepings of shops, scraps of paper, etc., from being thrown into the street, it would be much more easily kept clean.

Jubilee Mementoes.

The jewelry shops and fancy stores are full of jubilee souvenirs intended to commemorate the jubilee year of Her Majesty's reign, but what is wanted for such a purpose is something that will be lasting and permanently useful. To this end any person wanting to make a purchase which will last is advised to go to Belleghem and purchase his first-class furniture. It is so well made it will last a half century, or more for that matter. Remember at Belleghem's the jubilee boom is in full blast; jubilee furniture at jubilee prices—God Save the Queen.

Largest in the District.

Mr. Johnston Carey now claims to have the largest shoe manufactory between Toronto and Montreal. His premises have recently undergone a complete overhauling, the store having been lengthened by 30 feet by the removal of a partition, with a fancy wood ceiling, cases painted, walls papered, etc., and everything arranged commodiously. A large addition has been built in the rear as a workshop, what formerly answered for that purpose being now the cutting room. A hoist to the second flat has also been put in. On the second story, besides the workshops, a store-room for trunks has been made. This is a new departure of Mr. Carey's, in which he hopes to succeed as well as he has in the boot and shoe business. Altogether the premises are neat, capacious and commodious in the extreme, and Mr. Carey is to be congratulated on possessing such a nobby boot and shoe store and factory.

The Masonic Excursion.

The Masonic excursion to Toronto on Thursday, like all excursions conducted under the auspices of this body, was, as far as the committee was concerned, a decided and pleasant success. The train left the Midland station with about 300 on board the majority of which was from town. At Omemee and Lindsay about 100 was added to the party, and at Uxbridge about fifty more, bringing up the number to 450. The excursion train was in charge of Conductor Wood, with Engineer Johnson at the throttle valve. The former was obliging and courteous and used his best efforts to make good time, while the latter seconded his aims by bowling the train through at so lively a rate that it arrived in Toronto nearly on time—about 15 minutes after eleven. The excursion party was an eminently orderly and respectable one, composed of representatives of the best society of the places from which it was drawn. But most of the members of the committee in charge of the excursion, desire it to be stated that there is good ground for complaint that the least respectable part of the affair was the old, invalided coaches provided. They may have been good enough, they think, for a dollar excursion, but for a party like the one of Thursday, they were certainly far below the mark of what the committee contend they were led to expect would be provided. Besides the number of coaches was insufficient to seat comfortably or to seat at all, many of the excursionists. Under the circumstances the committee feel that they owe an apology to the public, although they distinctly stipulated that the coaches to be supplied by the company were to be first-class in every respect.

Unusual Accident; Miraculous Escape.

A Small Steam Boiler Exploding in the Work Room of Mr. R. Nimmo, Dentist.

This morning, about eleven o'clock, a loud report was heard on George street, accompanied with the crash of glass and fragments and a cloud of dust from broken plaster, coming from the southernmost window of Mr. R. Nimmo's Dental Rooms. A brass boiler heated by coal oil for generating steam for use in the preparation of vulcanized gum plates had exploded with terrible force. The boiler was opposite and only a few feet distant from the table, at which Mr. Nimmo was engaged. He noticed that the steam was getting too high, and while standing beside the boiler, and reaching forward his right hand to adjust a valve, or something of that kind, the explosion came, and that is all he remembers. Mr. Fred. K. Foot and Mr. E. G. Stone, whose shops are below the dental rooms, rushed upstairs and found Mr. Nimmo in a partly dazed condition, trying to wash the blood from his right hand, which was cut, but not severely, and somewhat scalded. A moment after, however, from the pain and shock he became unconscious. Dr. Clark was at once on hand and applied the proper remedies; Mr. Nimmo soon recovered and was driven to his residence, Eastland's Terrace, Stewart street, by Mr. J. D. Tally. His injuries are not serious but the shock was a very severe one. His escape from death was a most miraculous one, and if the chief force of the explosion had not been directly upward, or if Mr. Nimmo, as most persons would naturally have done under similar circumstances, had had his head over the boiler examining it, he would, without doubt, have been instantly killed. The boiler disappeared completely through the ceiling, cutting a hole clean as a bullet would have done, striking and lifting the boards in the floor above. Not a fragment of the boiler is visible in the room. The glass in the lower half of the window is blown clean out and a fragment of the boiler was picked up on the opposite side of the street near Mr. Wrighton's shop. The furniture of the room is broken beyond usefulness. The accident is, fortunately, an unusual one. Mr. Nimmo is to be congratulated upon his escape.

Police Court.

FRIDAY, JUNE 10.

John Delaney, jr., grocer, admitted a first breach of the Scott Act and was fined $50 and costs.

FLOWER THIEVING.

John Dwyer was charged by Mr. Sidney Blade with having stolen flowers from the Court House Park on Tuesday morning. The circumstances of the case were chronicled in Tuesday's EXAMINER. The evidence failed to prove that Dwyer took the flowers, but in discharging him the Magistrate said that he had no doubt that Dwyer was really guilty, but on the evidence he could not convict him. The Magistrate gave the defendant some good advice, stating that the park was public property, and no one should abuse the confidence placed in him by surreptitiously clipping off bouquets or otherwise injuring the premises.

A NON-SUIT.

Archie Moore was charged by Mr. John O'Meara with having obtained from him $40 under false pretences. It seems that the defendant and Edward E. Moore in the winter started up in the meat business on the corner of Aylmer and McDonnel streets. It becoming apparent that the business would not afford support for both of them, Archie offered to sell his interest to his partner for $40, and Mr. O'Meara was applied to for the loan, they giving a chattel mortgage on the stock to that amount. Upon making enquiries, Mr. O'Meara found that the firm were already indebted to another person for $50, and claimed that both the Moore's misrepresented their property. A while ago, Edward, who had been managing the business alone for a while, closed up his shop and cleared for parts unknown, leaving some debts behind. Mr. O'Meara then had Archie arrested, and sought to prove that he had when giving the chattel mortgage made misrepresentations whereby the plaintiff was induced to make the loan. The evidence proved that Mr. O'Meara had been done out of the $40, but Archie was declared innocent, his whilom partner being apparently the guilty one. The result was a non-suit. Mr. R. E. Wood for plaintiff; Mr. C. W. Sawers for defendant.

Peterborough Cricketers.

A correspondent in the Mail combatting the rumor which is going around that the annual international cricket match between Canada and the United States will this year be allowed to go by default because of the "lack of material" caused by the seeding of Canada's picked team to England. The writer thinks there is plenty of material left to make a good showing against the Americans, and in a list of names from which he proposes to pick a team is included Messrs. C. Logan, S. Ray and M. Hamilton of Peterborough. There can be no doubt of the efficiency of the Peterborough men on any cricket field.

The Glorious Twelfth.

The Executive Committee having in charge the preparations for the grand Orange demonstration in Peterborough on July 12th, are rapidly completing arrangements for what will be the biggest affair of the kind that ever transpired here. It will be remembered what a time was had at the last Orange demonstration in Peterborough, but on this occasion in addition to the lodges which participated previously there will be the lodges of Hastings, Victoria and Prince Edward. Northumberland and Durham lodges have been invited also, a number having already announced their intention of being present, and all these with the representatives of Peterborough county, gathered together in one body, will make a fine sight indeed. Arches will be erected on the principal streets, the streets themselves gaily decorated, bands will furnish music, a grand procession march, and the day will be celebrated with great eclat. A district meeting will be held at Nassau next week for further arrangements.

WEATHER NOTES FOR MAY.—Regarding our weather, the heat of May has assuredly made up for the cold of April, and although the farmer in common with others, while growing discontented with the backwardness of the farmers' month, was feeling a little out of time with the continual high temperature of the latter, from the 2nd to the 31st inclusive. Only on five days did the temperature fall below 70° in the shade at 3 p.m. It went up to 94° on the 22nd, and on ten days it reached 80° and over, leaving the mean temperature of the month at 68° 23/31. Rain fell on 7 days, but only to the depth of 1 inch and 17/100 of an inch, being very light for May. Fog on one morning, white frost on the morning of the 12th, being the last of the season and no doubt the night in which so much barley was frosted throughout the country. We had thunder on two days, but no rain. Swallows were first seen on the first of the month. Our migrating birds have now all returned, except the lovely humming bird.

The following are the different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month, respectively:—West 4 days, South 5 days, East 3 days, South-east 10 days, North-west 3 days, South west 4 days, North-east 2 days.

COURT OF REVISION.

The Council of the Township of Smith met as a Court of Revision on the Assessment Roll of 1887, on Monday, June 30th.

The Clerk reported two appeals, namely J Nugent, Junr., overcharge on personal property, and E. M. Strickland, overcharge on real property, but neither of the appellants appearing, the assessments were confirmed.

After making several changes in the roll, as to property which had changed hands since the assessment was made, the Roll was finally passed by the Court and certified by the Clerk.

COUNCIL MEETING.

The Council met in session after Court of Revision.

A grant of $8 was made to Road Division No. 76. The Clerk was instructed to notify all parties known to have taken sand from the road allowance where the Communication road strikes Mud Lake, would be charged at 15c. per load, and all parties neglecting to settle for the same are to be prosecuted.

The Treasurer was instructed to settle with Superintendent of Nichols' Hospital for care of Mrs. Stuart.

Messrs. Middleton and McIlmoyl were appointed to examine the road on 6th Concession line in regard to closing a culvert thereon, and report to this Council at next meeting.

The sum of $30.32 was allowed the Collector as abatements on his roll of 1886, $5 of which is for statute labor shewn to have been performed, and $18.45 is to be returned to County Treasurer to be charged against land.

Mr. Garbutt was appointed to examine a portion of 15th Concession line, and report to this Council as to probable cost of draining a pond thereon.

The Council then adjourned till Monday, August 8th.

AFTER THE ENGLISH PLAN

THE NEW DOMINION DEPARTMENT OF TRADE AND COMMERCE.

Sir John Macdonald Explains the Provisions of His Bill—The Measure Passed Through Committee, With the Addition of a New Clause.

OTTAWA, June 10.—In the House to-day Hon. Mr. Thompson introduced a bill in relation to the expropriation of lands, providing that land claims shall be transferred to the new court of claims.

Sir John Macdonald moved the House into committee to consider the bill creating the new Department of Trade and Commerce. He said the Cabinet had arrived at the conclusion that the rapidly increasing trade of the country demanded the creation of a department specially charged with matters relating to trade and commerce, home and foreign. The Minister of Finance had hitherto attended to these matters. The work had become too burdensome for the minister, whose special work is to keep watch and ward over the receipts and disbursements of the Government, the debt and the cash assets, etc. The new Department, he stated, coincided with the English Board of Trade. The new minister would have the duty of attending to the execution of laws passed by Parliament and of Orders-in-Council relating to matters connected with trade and commerce, and he, with the Minister of Finance, would practically form the Treasury Board.

In order to prevent an increase of the Cabinet, the Minister of Trade and Commerce would be the head of his own special department, and would also be the head of the Customs and Inland Revenue. He would have a Deputy of Trade and Commerce, and the two branches would be administered by controllers who, though required to be members of Parliament, would not have seats in the Cabinet. They would be members of the Government but not of the Cabinet, in this respect following the plan adopted by England. The permanent heads of the two branches would be first-class clerks, over whom the Deputy of Trade and Commerce would have control, and would have a salary of $2800. The adjustment of tariff for the development of trade would be the special duty of the new minister. The revenue side of the tariff would continue to be the special charge of the Minister of Finance. He believed there would be much greater efficiency and that without increasing the cost.

Sir Richard Cartwright said he thought the revenue collecting branches should be under the Minister of Finance. He believed in the plan of political heads not in the Cabinet, as it would be a good apprenticeship for the younger members of the Commons before becoming Cabinet Ministers. He objected to the salaries of the controllers as too near those of Cabinet Ministers.

Hon. Mr. Mitchell opposed the measure as involving expense and tending to strengthen the Ministry in the Commons.

Hon. Mr. Mills, like Sir Richard Cartwright, agreed with the Premier that a Department of Trade and Commerce was needed, but he wanted further consideration of it left till next session.

The bill passed through committee, a new clause being added that the act is not to come into effect until the Governor-in-Council made the proclamation.

After recess the House passed a number of private bills, among them a divorce bill for the relief of Marie Louise Noel, which caused the usual call for a division to give relief to the conscientious scruples of members opposed to divorce. This taking place, Marie Louise Noel obtained the desired relief by a vote of 61 to 49.

The Supreme and Exchequer Court Act, with sixty clauses, affording ample scope for legal M. P.'s ingenuity, occupied a couple of hours in going through committee.

On a resolution respecting the salary of the Minister of Trade and Commerce, Sir John said he had considered the proposal of Sir Richard Cartwright, and would change the bill relative to Trade and Commerce so as to have the Customs and Inland revenue placed under the Minister of Finance.

The House adjourned at 1 o'clock.

OUTSIDE THE CHAMBER.

The Railway Committee—The Libel Law—Appointments and Other Matters.

OTTAWA, June 10.—The statement that in Prince Albert region in the Northwest the half-breeds are in a condition of sullen restlessness is untrue. The latest reports to the Minister of the Interior are that the half-breeds are sowing their seed and attending to agricultural operations. Some of them have received letters from across the international boundary seeking to stir them up, but they won't stir, as the operations has not paid.

In the Railway Committee this morning the bill respecting the Waterloo and Magog Railway was passed. It provides that as negotiations have taken place with a view to this railway forming part of the short line to the Maritime Provinces and as such are contingent on the power of the railway to change location at certain points, such power be granted the railway.

The Town of Sherbrooke opposed the bill because it had granted liberal subsidies, supposing the railway would have its terminus in that town. It wanted the subsidies paid back.

A deputation of journalists, who waited upon the Minister of Justice to-day to urge changes in the law of libel, were informed that Mr. Thompson would frame a bill, to be presented next session, granting as far as possible the privileges asked for [illegible]

THE CRIMES ACT.

A BOLD MOVE BY THE LEADER OF THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT.

The Crimes Act Bugs Pass Through Committee on June 17—Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Parnell Ineffectually Oppose the Motion.

LONDON, June 10.—In the House of Commons this evening Mr. Smith moved the resolution, previously announced, requesting that at 10 p.m. on June 17 the chairman forthwith put the question of any motion, amendment or proposal touching the clause of the Crimes Bill then under discussion, then on the clause itself, and finally on each remaining clause.

He said the step was forced upon the Government by continued obstruction. It was absolutely necessary for the dignity and efficiency of the House that deliberate attempts to prevent the progress of business should be defeated. It was now the fourth month of the session, and practically nothing had been done. The whole course of legislation had been stopped. The Government desired that due consideration be given the rights of the minority and respect shown for the traditions of liberty and freedom attached to the institutions of the country. [Derisive Parnellite laughter.] But it was undoubtedly the duty of the Government, in circumstances without a parallel in the history of Parliament, to call upon the House to take measures to prevent the minority from setting at defiance the controlling power of the majority. It was impossible for a Government representing the majority to yield to the obstruction of the minority. The debates over the Crimes Bill had become a travesty, bringing ridicule, disgrace and contempt upon Parliament. He appealed to the House to support the Government in trying to restore order in their proceedings. [Cheers.]

Mr. Gladstone said that a longer notice should have been given of this important motion. The present state of business and the entire paralysis of Parliament had caused intense dissatisfaction throughout the country, but the position had been brought about by the Government themselves. [Cries of "Hear, hear."] They had been pursuing the false and evil policy of coercion without the justification pleaded on former occasions. The measure was directed against combination apart from crime. [Hear, hear.] He would suggest to the Government that a rational mode to expedite the bill would be to make it temporary instead of permanent and to strike out all provisions touching combination apart from crime, assuring Irish tenants of the same protection in respect to their land strikes as is given English artisans in their labor strikes. [Cheers and cries of "No."]

Mr. Parnell said he could not understand the fatuity of the Government in rushing blindfolded along a road which, they had already seen, would lead to the greatest disorder in Ireland. Government speakers had harped on the theme of obstruction. As a matter of fact the Irish members had not lifted one voice against any measure except this Coercion Bill, which they were bound to resist to the utmost. The cry of obstruction was not genuine when raised by men who did not desire to advance public business. Let the Government proceed with the real business of the nation, instead of wasting time over a crimes bill applying to a nation where crime was admittedly at a minimum. He concluded by moving an amendment that the House decline to sanction a resolution limiting freedom of debate and assailing the rights of minorities. (Cheers.)

Sir William Vernon Harcourt warned the Government that their proposal might be used by a future Government as a precedent for carrying a Home Rule Bill in a fortnight, and that other measures might be forced through in the same way.

Mr. Goschen, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said the country had had enough of this unlimited discussion, and it was necessary now to put an end to it.

Several of the Parnellites continued the discussion and Mr. Smith moved the cloture, which was carried by a vote of 294 to 167.

Mr. Parnell's amendment was then rejected by a vote of 301 to 181.

After further discussion, Mr. Smith's complete motion was carried, under cloture, by a vote of 245 to 93, amid cheers and counter cheers.

There is a chance now of discussing the original motion.

THE BODYKE EVICTIONS.

The Bailiffs and Police Subjected to Very Rough Usage.

DUBLIN, June 10.—The evictions at Bodyke were resumed to-day, and there was a repitition of the exciting scenes which have attended the numerous attempts to evict tenants. The sheriff and his body guard were stubbornly resisted.

At the house of a tenant named O'Hallaran, a hillside near the house was covered with an excited mob, who cheered the defenders of the premises and urged them to hold out. O'Hallaran and his party had dug a trench around the house and barricaded the lower rooms, while the upper portion of the house was occupied by ten men, including two who had returned from America, and some women. The bailiffs made an attack on the wall of the house with a crowbar, but were received with scalding water and fled. An inspector of police, with drawn sword, then mounted a ladder placed against the side of the house, but was beaten down. A constable with a rifle and fixed bayonet next mounted the ladder, but his head was battered by the defenders. Several gashes were inflicted upon him and he retired. Another constable also attempted to climb the ladder, but failed. A second ladder was then procured and several constables mounted, but were beaten down.

Mr. Cox managed to climb up a ladder to speak to the inmates of the house, but the police prevented him from doing so. Finally a constable entered with a rifle and fixed bayonet, but the rifle was wrenched from him and his safety was imperilled, when Father Hannon entered and secured a cessation of hostilities. The inmates were then arrested and the work of eviction was carried out.

THE POPE'S GIFT.

It Will be Presented to Victoria by a Cardinal and Two Bishops.

ROME, June 10.—The Pope's gift to Queen Victoria on the occasion of her jubilee consists of a Mosaic reproduction of Raphael's fresco representing an allegorical figure of poetry. The work was executed in the Vatican. Mgr. Seilla will convey the gift to England, and he will be accompanied by Fathers Zealaeca and Merl, two young priests of the Ecclesiical Academy, whom the Pope will, in honor of the occasion, create bishops.

A Loss to Waterloo Farmers.

WATERLOO, Ont., June 10.—The steamer Castleford, which was wrecked off Scilly Island, had on board 300 head of cattle which were shipped from this town on May 23. The cattle were owned by a lately organized farmers' company.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

SUPREME COURT OF THE PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY IN SESSION.

A Large Gathering of Delegates at Winnipeg—Addresses to be Sent to Her Majesty the Queen and to the Governor-General.

WINNIPEG, June 10.—Twelve years ago the first General Assembly of the four branches of Presbyterianism then united met in the City of Montreal. Since 1875 all of the provinces that had entered Confederation, with the exception of Prince Edward Island, received in one or other of their cities the supreme court of the Presbyterian Church. Last year competition for the honor lay between Halifax and Winnipeg, and Winnipeg was selected.

When the General Assembly met in Knox Church yesterday there was a fair representation of delegates, and the church was crowded to the doors by the members of the congregation and friends.

The retiring moderator, Rev. J. K. Smith of Galt, conducted the opening exercises, preaching an excellent sermon, and, after constituting the assembly with prayer, asked for the appointment of a successor.

Dr. Burns of Halifax was unanimously chosen and, being escorted to the chair, delivered an opening address in eloquent terms.

After the opening of the General Assembly this morning Rev. P. McF. McLeod, Toronto, and Rev. Mr. Mowat, Fredericton, were appointed preachers before the assembly next Sunday.

Gov. Aikens of Manitoba extended an invitation to the assembly to spend next Sunday evening at Government House.

Lieut.-Gov. Dewdney invited the members to visit the Indian reserve in his territory.

Dr. Dick, Buffalo, was invited to sit and correspond with the assembly, and a committee, with Rev. D. M. Gordon as convenor, was appointed to draft addresses to the Queen and the Governor-General.

Fourteen ministers from churches in Scotland, the United States and the Methodist Church in Canada are seeking admission into the Presbyterian Church in Canada and eleven ministers are retiring from active duty on account of age or infirmities. A committee of thirty, with the moderator as convener, to confer with a similar committee from the Church of England in Canada, was appointed at the request of the latter church, with a view to the union of the two churches.

The subject of psalmody occupied a good part of the afternoon, while the whole of the evening sederunt was devoted to French evangelization. The speakers to-night were Dr. McVicar, C. A. Dudiet, Carmichael, Smith and Father Chiniquy.

A SYNDICATE SCHEME.

The Germans Have an Eye to Controlling Trade Over the C. P. R.

MONTREAL, June 10.—The Star to-night has the following: It was rumored to-day in railway circles that the German syndicate who are after the Intercolonial and North Shore Railways have a much bigger scheme in contemplation, and that they have an eye to controlling the business from China, Japan and the Eastern hemisphere over the Canadian Pacific, and that the North German Lloyds purpose placing a line of steamers on the Pacific ocean to cover this route.

TOPICS FROM TORONTO.

TORONTO, June 11.

The Toronto Conference resumed its work yesterday morning in the Carlton-street Church, and after devotional exercises a resolution was carried expressing dissatisfaction with the Transfer Committee, which met last April, in taking more ministers into the conference from other conferences than they gave to these. A delegation consisting of Revs. William Galbraith, Dr. Sutherland and Messrs. John McDonald and William Beatty were sent to the Congregational Union, now in session here, to convey to that body the fraternal greetings of the conference. The report of the treasurer of the superannuation fund was presented, as also that of the Ladies' College, Whitby.

Leave was granted to the district meeting in Japan to receive Mr. J. W. Sawnly into full commission. It was also ordered that Mr. T. A. Large, laboring there, be ordained as soon as he passes the required examination.

The following probationers having passed the necessary examination and complied with the discipline, were ordered to be received on trial: C. J. D. Moore, J. Robson, A. E. Sanderson and J. J. Ashton. Mr. W. M. Pickar will be received on trial as soon as he passes the required examination.

A long discussion took place on the superannuation fund, there being evidently a decided opposition to the scheme as it is at present constituted.

Rev. Wm. Galbraith proposed that the brethren whose names had been submitted be received into the Conference, and that they be ordained on Sunday morning. He said the work of the minister of Christ was one of the most responsible in which man could be engaged. God had only one Son, and He made a minister of Him. An essential in the success of the Christian minister was common sense, and a minister who was destitute of this was not fit for the chaplaincy of a lunatic asylum.

Rev. T. W. Jeffrey seconded the resolution in an eloquent speech, and it was adopted unanimously.

Rev. Dr. Douglas also addressed the meeting.

Labor Troubles.

The threatened strike of the carpenters has at last been decided, as at the mass meeting of the men in Temperance Hall last night this line of action was resolved upon. There were a few dissentient voices, probably twenty, out of the 600 present. The men will quit work to-day at noon, and will meet every day at 9 o'clock, commencing Monday in Temperance Hall.

The Master Builders' and Contractors' Association last night having received a communication from the Masons' Union agreeing to settle their differences on the basis of their former demand and a three years' agreement, instructed Secretary Fowell to inform the union that the association was willing to have all questions in dispute between the two bodies settled by arbitration, the men to resume work at once at the old rate of 30 cents per hour pending a settlement.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when here. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent, of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symtoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottle, 10 cents. Try it, eodw4

ELECTRIC LIGHTING.

As will be seen by the report of a meeting of the directors of the Horticultural Society held yesterday afternoon, the society decided to place a permanent tower on the highest point of Court House park, so that advantage might be taken of the generous offer of Mr. Haslitt, manager of the Peterborough Electric Light Company, to place thereon a cluster of electric lights, which will form a beacon that will lend a vivid blaze of glory to the night and be a conspicuous object for miles in the surrounding country. The tower and lights are to be ready for the evening of June 21st, and the light-crowned tower will be a conspicuous feature of the general illumination which will mark the evening of Jubilee day. There is no doubt that the electric light is the illuminater of the future, as far ahead of any other light as a gas jet is ahead of a rushlight, and the general adoption of it by the town for lighting the streets would result, not only in the service being as cheaply done, in proportion to the amount of light secured, but far more effectively than by the use of any other known illuminant. We hope that Peterborough, which takes a lead as a town in every other respect, will let her light so shine, and that the town authorities will take practical steps towards adopting the electric light generally as a means of lighting our streets. We have no doubt that the Electric Light Company will meet them, at least, half way in any reasonable proposition which may be offered with that end in view.

NUMBER THE HOUSES.

A correspondent writes suggesting that the town council signalize the jubilee year of Her Majesty's reign by numbering the houses of the town. Whether or not this would be a fitting means of giving official recognition of the occasion, or whether the work should be done by the council at all, is a debatable point. There is, however, no room for questioning that the numbering of the houses is something that should be done. In the first place, the fact that the shops and houses of the town are not provided with numbers, leaves room for the imputation of a constricted status, which the progressive character, commercial importance, urban aspect and generally civilized condition of the town—a city in every generally essential respect, but in name—do not justify. The immense convenience of having houses numbered is another point in favor. When a stranger asks a citizen he meets on the street, where Mr. So-and-so lives, the citizen has, if he is obliging, as all our citizens, is to be hoped, are to strangers, to make a rather elaborate speech in explanation of the route more or less tortuous, which the stranger has to follow, whereas, if the houses were numbered he would be provided with the street-number of the person he is seeking and would be able to find his own way without trouble. Again, the lack of numbers on private residences is a source of endless annoyance to business men. In busy times the trouble of entering elaborate particulars of the destination of a parcel, involves a great waste of time, and the poor parcel boy has before him, in hundreds of cases, no end of perplexity in understanding the complex directions that accompany a parcel containing a spiral of thread to some distant part of the town. In five cases out of ten the parcel is left at the wrong house, and from this arises trouble between neighbors, trouble between the merchant and his customer, and trouble for the poor parcel boy. In every way the numbering of the houses would be a boon, and now that the numbers can be made in town and put up (a couple of enterprising young men, Messrs. Smart & Springer, having arranged to do such work,) there is no excuse for leaving the work any longer undone. The difficulty of vacant lots, which some suggest, is really only imaginary. Numbers are affixed to houses only, so that, no matter how many vacant lots intervene between two houses, each gets its proper number.

TEMPTATION; ITS OBJECTS AND MISSIONS.

SERMON BY LATHAM.

(Written for the Examiner.)

"Lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil" is the universal prayer. This shows the meaning of temptation. Its object is always to lead to evil. One never hears of temptation to do right. It is ever to do wrong. The devil tempted our Saviour, and temptation it has been all the way down to the present day, and so it will be till the end of time. Is there a great wrong to be accomplished? Temptation does it. Is a person poor and in want? Temptation effects his ruin. There is no evil, great or small, that temptation cannot accomplish. Many a poor creature, dragging out a miserable existence, can trace his or her ruin to temptation, and happy homes are made desolate by its insidious and blighting influence. It approaches its victim in every variety of form. Rich and gay, humble and poor, it can be when necessary to succeed. Its agencies and tools are equitable to whatever ends it will succeed. But when the ruin of its victim is accomplished and deeds is no longer required the poor creatures are cast aside and abandoned to a future of endless want and misery, and all supplication and entreaty are heeded on and unheeded. The approaches and plottings of temptation are numerous and varied. At one time it comes in the form of sympathy and pity for its victim while in trouble. At another time in the form of charity, melting, by that means, to entrap the unwary. Then again it takes the part of the injured one against hardships imposed by others. Then again it turns itself sick and needy. Again it scatters its gold broadcast in order to entrap the unwary by encouraging and administering to idleness and vanity and pride. It knows that human nature is sympathetic and trusting and is easily led away by great protestations of kindness and pity. Listen to me and I will tell you of some instances of privation and want and wretchedness and crime all brought about through the evil influences of temptation. And then let my readers take warning and avoid their fate. In a quiet town in a remote part of the country lived a man with his wife and small family of children. Hard times overtook him and he was reduced by want. He left his home and went to a large city hoping to better his condition. While there he was approached by pretended friends, to cast in his lot with them, promising him a speedy restoration to prosperity. The temptation was too great for him to resist, and, in an evil moment he accepted their offer. When too late he discovered his error. He was thrown into prison far away from his wife and little children, and had to suffer the penalty of his folly and wrong. All his bright dreams of prosperity were over, and his family were left to the mercies of a cold, unfeeling world. Again: a wily unscrupulous woman, under pretences of obtaining profitable and respectable homes for a number of her own sex, induced them to accompany her to a distant city. When too late they discovered that they had been cruelly deceived. Without means of returning and far away from friends and home, they were unable to help themselves, and were abandoned to a hard and cruel fate. They had foolishly listened to the tempter's wiles and they were deceived and betrayed. This mode of entrapping such young people is very common and successful, and is carried on in many parts of our own country. Again: a person is desirous of getting forever rid of another, it may be for profit or revenge. He resorts to temptation to accomplish his object. He approaches one who is poor and in want and through the influence of money he succeeds. Money is the great tempter and money will succeed where all other modes of persuasion will fail. The love of money is the root of all evil. How many homes are made desolate through its influence it would be hard to tell. Love of dress and pride and vanity are constantly supplying victims to its influence. With the sight of gold the old home is made to look lonesome and dreary, and the imagination once excited is never content until the fatal step is taken. But disappointment and tribulation soon come and then the old home is looked back to with longing and regret.

Low down on the Santee River,
Far, far away,
There's where my heart is turning ever,
There's where the Old Folks stay.
All up and down over state and nation,
Sadly I roam;
Still longing for the old plantation,
And for the Old Folks at home.

All the world is sad and weary,
Everywhere I roam;
Oh, hark ye, how my heart grows weary,
Far from the Old Folks at home.

All around the little farm I wandered,
When I was young,
There many the happy hours I squandered,
Many the hunt I run,
When I was playing with my brother,
Happy was I.
Oh, take me to my kind old mother,
There let me live and die.
All the world is sad and weary,
Everywhere I roam;
Oh, hark ye, how my heart grows weary,
Far from the Old Folks at home.

One little cot embowered with bushes,
One that I love,
Still sadly to my memory rushes,
No matter where I rove.
When shall I see the bees there, humming
All around the comb?
When shall I see the cheery birds coming,
Down to sup good old corn?
All the world is dark and dreary,
Everywhere I roam;
Oh! heed ye, how my heart grows weary,
Far from the Old Folks at home.

A great many people, of both sexes, are given over to the influence of pride and vanity and folly, and it is easy to see how quickly temptation can take hold of and guide and direct them. It is not surprising, then, when we hear of downfall and misery and ruin, and the wonder is that the number is not greater. It is almost useless to expect to restrain persons who are so easily led away by their imaginations, for they have no fixed rule of action and are always open to the approach of the tempter, and all they require is a little flattery, when they are ready to surrender their whole future happiness and peace and comfort. Good, sober advice is not what they want, and any appeal to their better judgment is distasteful and is met with opposition and dislike. Only flatter their vanity and reason is cast to the winds. But the time surely comes when they will be made to see their folly, and oftentimes it comes too late. There is so much deception in this world, and so much sin and wickedness, and people are so ready to be tempted, that the wonder is how any have escaped. All caution and common sense seem to be cast to the winds, and it is useless to even attempt to stem the tide which is carrying on many to destruction. Thousands upon thousands of poor helpless broken down and broken hearted creatures are wandering the streets of every large city to-day, suffering with hunger, and cold, and abuse, and looking back upon their early life and thinking of their old homes, who would still have been contented and happy there had it not been for the evils of temptation. Their lives have been made desolate and their fathers and mothers, their brothers and sisters have been forced to bring their heads in tribulation and shame, and the days and nights of all have been passed in agony and tears because of the influence and evil effects of temptation. And in many, many cases the lives of the sorrowing father and mother have gone down to an early grave. But the world goes on, and smiles and lives and laughs and scoffs, and has no pity, and the weary, wandering victims of man's inhumanity are left to die without one word of comfort or one hand to save. But there will be pity for such when this life's journey is over, and the Lord, who knows and sees into all hearts, will forgive and will give them that peace and happiness which were denied to them here below. The Lord is slow to anger and is kind, and in Him the forsaken and poor will always have a friend. For has he not invited the weary and heavy laden to come to Him and he will give them rest? And what a day will that be when the sinner and his victims meet face to face before the great white throne and the book shall be opened and all secrets shall be laid bare. Then the pride and inhumanity, begotten of the wealth and coldishness of this world, will hang its head in fear and shame, and the poor and despised will suffer and hunger no more.

Harvey.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The Harvey council met at the town hall on the 30th May. Members all present. After making and subscribing the required oaths a Court of Revision was formed. Only four appeals. Mrs. Hunter's property in Hall's Bridge was lowered $200. The assessment of Thomas Eson was reduced $200. Lewis Winter's assessment was raised to $100. F. J. Bell's assessment was reduced $100. The Roll was then passed by the Court, and the members resumed in council on general business. An order was drawn on the Treasurer in favour of Jas. Richmond for salary as Assessor for the sum of $40. The following sums were granted for roads: North Harvey $150, South Harvey $150 and East Harvey $100. Some alterations were made on road beats, and the council adjourned, to meet at Scott's Mills on the first Monday in July next.

ON THE LACROSSE FIELD.

Capitals 6, Brantfords 1—Athletics 6, Young Canadians 2—The Games for To-day.

BRANTFORD, June 10.—The Capitals of Ottawa played the Brantfords here this afternoon. The game played by the visitors was a gentlemanly and scientific exposition of the national game. Westbrook did not play and no protests were entered by either team, though the Brantfords played the game rough-hose that others have pushed the Ottawas against, including Hull, "Pinck" Martin, Foley, and the four Indians. Crowe, Green and Kent of the Capitals each played a gentlemanly game. The home of the Capitals had the greater portion of the work to do, as the ball was in their locality most of the time. The play of Martin and Foley was very conspicuous for the Brantfords, and Foley, likely their services will be in demand next season.

Five games were played, Brantford winning the first and the Capitals the next four. Time of games: 5 mins., 30 mins., 25 mins. and 8 mins. The referee, Tim Pain, McKay of Woodstock and the umpires Messrs. Robinson and Whitlaw of the Brants of Paris.

A Great Treat at Glen Grove.

Glen Grove Park yesterday afternoon was the scene of an exciting contest between the trotters Edward Blake and Aberdeen Star. It was a match for $200 a side which was made last winter at the Humber ice races, and resulted in one of the best trots that ever took place in this neighborhood. There was a large attendance of the knights of the sulky and other sporting gentlemen present. Mr. McKinnon's chestnut stallion was the favorite at 2 to 1 on, and only after the fifth heat was he denied the honor to uphold the claim. Six heats were trotted, the first being a dead heat. The next two were won by Edward Blake, the fourth and fifth by Aberdeen Star and the last by the big colt. Collins, who drove Mr. Zeagman's 4-year-old, was taken down after the fifth heat and Johnnie Gilleepie put on the sulky. This was, no doubt, a wise move on the part of the owner, as the result showed. Mr. Brown handled the ribbons over Aberdeen Star. The judges were Wm. Christie and John Mitchell, and Dr. Hodgins the timer.

Mr. Zeagman's b. c. Edward Blake (Eglinton)..... 7 1 1 2 2 1
Mr. McKinnon's ch.h. Aberdeen Star (Toronto)..... 7 2 3 1 1 1

Where a Teacher Was Wanted.

From the Journal of Education.

Here is a letter we recently saw from one of the authorities where a teacher was wanted. It is so easy to find all these qualifications, you know, especially where the salary is moderate: "A gentleman, first, of infinite tact, love of details, patient; a man who forgets nothing; a mature character builder; little given to punishing, but governs by his personal gifts and graces; a man whose example is always correct; good scholarship desirable, of course."

Sent to Prison for Life.

HALIFAX, N.S., June 10.—Stanley Steele, the young bank robber and would-be murderer, was sentenced to imprisonment for life by Chief Justice McDonald at Antigonish to-day.

The Printers and the Knights of Labor.

From the Syracuse Courier.

The convention of the Typographical Union in session at Buffalo gave the Knights of Labor some pretty hard raps. Mr. Boyer, a printer, in referring to the claim of superiority put forth by the Knights, declared that the claim was not only an exhibition of unbearable arrogance but in the surest means that could be adopted to divide the friends of labor reform. The Knights, he declared, "had attempted to thwart the unionists in every way." Independent labor unions that refused honestly to criticise were denounced by the Knights and attempts were made to disrupt them. The power exercised by the Executive Board of the Knights of Labor was characterised as arrogant and despotic. "The Master of Labor," said Mr. Boyer, "is still in the diplomatic chair, while the International Typographical Union dates back to a period beyond the memory of any living man. It built up the [illegible] of Labor," he declared, "and the printers will not yield one jot or tittle of their prerogative to the despotic edicts of so-called reformers of a year's standing in connection." He declared that the Union is founded "upon the experience of many long years, and it put forth intellectual giants, statesmen, soldiers, warriors, statesmen, priests and philosophers and it cannot submit to the dictation of an organization that is still on trial." The printers are a practical and shrewd set of men and they are quite apt to know what they are talking about.

Something for all the Premises.

Rev. E. H. Fairall, D. D., editor of the Zion Witness, says editorially, in the November (1883) number of his paper:—"We have tested the merits of Ely's Cream Balm, and believe that by a through course of treatment, it will cure almost every case of catarrh. Ministers, as a class, are afflicted with head and throat troubles and Catarrh seems more prevalent than ever. We cannot recommend Ely's Balm too highly. eodw22

Domestic Economy.

As a matter of economy it will pay every household to keep a bottle of Yellow Oil for accidents and emergencies, in case of pain as a handy relief, and for wounds, burns, bruises and injuries. Rheumatism, neuralgia, quinsy, and many painful diseases treated internally and externally by it often save large medical bills. 2w22d

What is Needed

By every man and woman if they desire to secure comfort in this world is corn sheller. Putnam's Corn Extractor shells corns in two or three days and without discomfort or pain. A hundred imitations prove the merit of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, which is always sure, safe and painless. See signature of Polson & Co., on each bottle. Sold by medicine dealers. 6dw23

Worth Remembering.

Mrs. T. Doan, of Harrietsville, Ont., was for a long time troubled with neuralgia of stomach. Failing to find benefit from her physicians, she tried Burdock Blood Bitters upon which she found speedy relief, to which she testifies, hoping it may prove beneficial to others. Many physicians recommend B. B. B. 2w22d

Invisible but Instantaneous.

All pains or aches will be instantly removed by a few drops of Fluid Lightning applied over the affected parts. No time lost; no nauseous medicines needed; no poulticing or using greasy liniments. It will not blister or discolor the skin. Sold at 25 cents per bottle by John McKee, druggist. Sufferers from Neuralgia assure us that they never fear it when their house contains a bottle of Fluid Lightning. eodw23

Weather Probabilities.

It is probable that in the breaking up of winter we shall have much damp sloppy weather, when rheumatism, neuralgia, sore throat, and other painful complaints will prevail. Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the popular household remedy for external and internal use. Its curative power is truly wonderful. 2w22d

Securing the Prizes.

The prizes are valuable and particularly useful, and when the list is fully completed it will be published. The celebration is booming itself steadily along and is bound to be a big success.

A Clerical Celebrity.

Rev. Canon Trotter, of Alnwick, Northumberland County, England, stopped over yesterday while passing through Ontario on his way back to the old country. He visited the Barnardo Home and spent most of the day there, delivering an address to the children of the Home. In the afternoon he was shown about the town by Capt. Annesley. The Rev. Canon expressed himself much pleased with Peterborough. He left on the night express for Montreal, whence he will continue his trip to England.

Jubilee Railway Rates.

The posters announcing the Jubilee Celebration have been printed and will be abroad early next week. The posters do not give details ; these will be furnished by small handbills later on. Peterborough's celebration should attract an immense gathering of people. As an addition to the excellent programme prepared for the day, railway rates have been secured at single fare from all points on the G. T. R. and C. P. R. within a radius of 125 miles of Peterborough.

Broke Open the Till.

Last evening, between 6.30 and 8 o'clock, a bold attempt at burglary was perpetrated at the C.P.R. freight shed. The freight hands had the shed open at that time to unload some way freight, and while they were working some one entered the office and burst open the till, by splitting the front piece. Nearly everything about the drawer was broken, except the lock, but the would-be thief got nothing for his trouble. For the information of the burglar brotherhood it might be stated that no money is ever left in the C. P. R. till after hours, hence the failure of the attempt.

Another Theory, Illustrated.

Plan of the Accursed House and Surroundings of Wm. Gilbert's Death.

In view of the ruggedness and unsatisfactory of the details connected with the death of the late William Gilbert, and of the many sensational and contradictory rumours connected therewith, the EXAMINER communicated with a former Peterborough gentleman now resident in St. Paul, asking him to furnish if possible something which would throw light on the somewhat mysterious affair. In response the following letter has been received. With its illustrative diagram the scene can well be imagined :

ST. PAUL, MINN., June 7th, 1887.

To the Editor of the Examiner :

SIR,—On my return to the city I made inquiries from policeman who first saw Mr. Gilbert on the night of his death. It would seem that he had just left his hotel, (A on plan), with the intention of going to a hotel, (B on plan), to see his friend of the same firm. This was about midnight. He was found in a fit, with foam issuing from his mouth, on the back stairs of a house of questionable character (C on plan). With the foam at the mouth, was mingled the blood from the tongue, slightly cut. This cut was probably made by his falling, as not a mark of any other kind could be found on him to show rough handling or foul treatment. His clothes in front were all open, his coat half off, his cuffs and watch lying around in the stoop beside him. It has been supposed he tore open his clothes in the paroxysm of his fit to get air. The inmates of the house claim to have been out and knew nothing about Gilbert till they returned and found him at the back door in the above condition. Whether he was in the house or not is not known, but it is supposed that he imagined that when he reached C he was on the corner near to B, and in his half unconscious state turned that corner and went up the stairs in his fit. A policeman was standing on the diagonally opposite corner to C for some time before he was called, and then went across the corner diagonally and was going along towards D when he was told about the presence of Gilbert's body by the inmates of the house C. If any row or scuffling had taken place, he says he should have heard it when he passed. So it is not likely that he had even been turned out of their house when he took the fit. The house C is not a noted dive, but has only been very recently used for such purposes, and no one lives in it very long at a time, and a person, even though he were accustomed to frequent such places in this city, would never think of going there and it is even more unlikely that Gilbert, a stranger in the city, would know of this place. The policeman said that as soon as he saw the man he knew that he was not given to going to such places and every one here thinks it was not the work of a murderer, but that he in his fit had imagined he was on the next corner and turned around there instead of at B. The entrance to these back stairs is about the same distance around the corner as it is round the corner to the entrance of B.

The coroner thinks that he undoubtedly died by reason of a fit, but whether he was seized by this fit while in this house (dive) or not, is not known, but there is every reason to believe that he was not in the dive, but had wandered there as above indicated.

Yours, etc.,
B. A. LUDGATE.

P. S.—I have heard that it was rumored in Peterborough that he had been murdered, but I think there is no foundation at all for such a rumor, and that he came to death by the fit above mentioned.

A Runaway Accident.

On Friday Mr. Richard Boyle of the township of Emily, was coming to town by conveyance, driving a spirited young horse. While driving along the Mud Lake Road, not far from the residence of Mr. M. Sanderson, the animal took fright at a dog and plunged suddenly into a deep roadside ditch, throwing Mr. Boyle forward on the dashboard and fracturing one of the ribs on the right side. The horse was dashing along when Mr. Boyle nobly sprang clear of the buggy, and in his fall sustained a painful bruise on the side of his face. The horse continued its course and smashed the buggy, being caught after a run of half a mile. A farmer living near the scene of accident, kindly drove Mr. Boyle to the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. P. Simons, Rubidge Street. Dr. King gave the necessary surgical attention.

Committed to the Gaol.

Wm. Crandell was committed to gaol for one month as a vagrant by the Police Magistrate this morning. Wm. is a stalwart one-armed tramp who has been giving some of our citizens a deal of trouble. He has entered several houses in town and demanded food with the assurance that only a tramp can assume; emphasizing his demand by oaths and threats to do bodily injury if not complied with. He usually so frightened the inhabitants of the residences where he called that he got just what he wanted. William tried his terrorism tactics once too often. Yesterday afternoon he entered J. C. Turnbull & Co's. millinery room off Simcoe St. and demanded some money from one of the ladies. She proceeded to comply with the demand, but Mr. M. R. Kidd requested his trampship to vacate the premises at once. He refused to obey, but after a short scuffle William was ejected. He was arrested by P. C. Adams and is now languishing in prison, to the great relief of housekeepers.

Horticultural Society.

Special Meeting of Jubilee Directors.

A special meeting of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society was held in the office of the Manager of the Bank of Toronto, on Thursday afternoon. There were present :—Mr. J. H. Roper, president, in the chair ; Rev. V. Clementi, Dr. Geo. Burnham, Rev. W. C. Bradshaw and J. R. Stratton. A communication was read from the Secretary asking, on behalf of the Jubilee Committee, the use of the Court House Park on the morning of June 21st. The request was agreed to, and the Secretary was instructed to communicate with the Mayor to request him to appoint a sufficient force of special police to see that the grounds were not injured by the crowd.

Mr. STRATTON stated that the President of the Peterborough Electric Light Company had kindly offered to supply a sufficient number of lights to brilliantly illuminate a suitable tower in the Court House Park on Jubilee night, that could be erected by the Society at a cost of about $40 or $50. He proposed that the tower, which could be made a permanent structure, be erected somewhat after the model, but much higher, than a wind-mill. This he would furnish with electric lamps, which, placed on the highest point of the park, would be seen for miles in every direction.

On motion of Rev. Mr. BRADSHAW, seconded by Dr. Burnham, Mr. Hazlitt's proposition was accepted and the president and Messrs. Burnham and Stratton were appointed a committee to procure funds for the erection of a jubilee tower.

Mr. STRATTON moved, seconded by Rev. Mr. Bradshaw, that the surplus flowers in the park be cut from time to time and sent to the different charitable institutions in the town.—Carried.

Dr. BURNHAM moved, seconded by Mr. Stratton, that any individual Club or Society desiring to be represented by a distinctive bed of flowers in the Court House park, may arrange for the same through the president, said flowers and plants to come under the same conditions as the contents of the other flower plots in the park.—Carried.

On motion of Rev. Mr. Bradshaw, the president was requested to have suitable notices and warnings as to the destruction or plucking of plants or flowers in the park, procured and placed therein.

On motion of Rev. V. Clementi, it was decided to hold the annual exhibition in the Roller Rink, Water street, on Tuesday, August 30th—ten days earlier than former exhibitions. The prize list of last year was adopted.

The Secretary, Dr. Geo. Burnham, Mr. John Burnham and Rev. Mr. Bradshaw were appointed a committee to procure subscriptions to the membership of the society for the coming year.

The president called the attention of the society to the fact that the pilfering of flowers from the park was being done. One party had been arrested for such an offence and though a conviction was not secured, the prosecution showed the determination of the society to punish to the full extent of the law any parties who could be convicted of destroying the beauty of the park, or in any way contravening the law framed for its protection. The meeting adjourned.

Personal.

Prof. Doucet returned home this morning by steamer Norseman from a fortnight's holiday trip, which included Montreal, Quebec, Boston, Springfield, New Haven, New York and Rochester. He will remain in town and will be ready on Monday to resume his classes.

Mr. Lewis Garland, of Hamilton, is visiting in town for a couple of weeks.

Among the names of the incorporatees of the Ontario Gutta Percha Company of Toronto, is that of Mr. Thomas Bradburn, Peterborough.

Decoration for the Day.

The section of the Jubilee Committee having in charge the matter of having the town properly decorated on jubilee day have a list of those merchants who intend decorating their stores, which includes nearly all in the town. There seems to be a general desire on the part of our citizens to make this jubilee demonstration a brilliant affair. Some of the churches have agreed to hoist large Union Jacks from their steeples and towers on jubilee day, besides making other decorations, and it is suggested that all the other churches in town fall into line and do likewise.

Market Items.

The morning trains brought their usual quota of visitors to the Peterborough market to-day. Garden "sass" was mainly offered at the customary prices. One pail of wild strawberries was offered for sale. Butter brought from 14 to 17c., mostly 15c. per lb. ; eggs, 12c. per doz. ; potatoes, $1.60 per bag. There were a large number of young porkers offered at variable prices.

SPOTS OF SPORT.

The cricket club of Lindsay High School is playing a match here to-day with the club of the Collegiate Institute.

Canoes will be in great demand Jubilee day. Mr. Wm. English has already let out all in his possession for the day, paid for in advance at a good figure.

The Lakefield baseball club has received a challenge from the Comets of Peterborough. The Chronicle says the boys will probably accept.

At the annual parish picnic of Rev. Father McVay at Bobcaygeon on Wednesday, at which a programme of athletic sports was carried out, Mr. M. Bird of Peterborough, a well known runner, perpetrated a practical pun upon his name and proved himself a flyer. He won the mile foot race in 4 min., 59 sec. ; and the 100 yards dash in the good time of 11 seconds. A half-mile race is being arranged between Mr. Bird and an "unknown" from Bobcaygeon, and if the agreement is concluded the race will probably take place at the R. C. picnic in Peterborough on June 21st.

The Lindsay Post says :—"What is the matter with the Peterborough baseball club? The secretary of the Lindsays has written to them four times, but so far has received no answer. It is to be hoped that Peterborough will not flunk, as Lindsay would like to have a chance to wipe out the stain upon their reputation incurred in the recent match in that place." The Post is wrong. Not only has the secretary been corresponded with, but the President of the Peterborough club had a personal interview with the Captain of the Lindsays and arranged for a match week after next. Lindsay will have a chance to wipe away the stain of defeat, but they are more likely to have the stain rubbed in deeper.

Church Chimes.

His Lordship Bishop Dowling visited Lindsay to-day, arriving there by the 9 o'clock train. He was met at the church by the congregation and presented with an address. To-morrow confirmation service will be held at 10.30 a.m. On Monday it is expected Bishop Dowling will visit the separate school and convent.

There will be a sermon to the Sabbath School children of St. Paul's Church on Sabbath morning. In the afternoon a children's service will be held in the church, when several addresses will be delivered and Sabbath School songs sung. In the evening Mr. Torrance will preach upon "Recognition in Heaven," in reference to the deaths of Mr. John Erskine and Mr. William Gilbert.

Rev. Messrs. Wallace and Tovell will exchange pulpits to-morrow as usual, the former in the George street church in the morning and the later in the evening ; Charlotte street church, vice versa.

THE HOMESTEADING LAW.

THE MATTER UNDER DISCUSSION AT OTTAWA.

Making the Way Easy for Settlers on Northwest Lands—The Liberal Leadership—The House May Not Prorogue on Saturday.

OTTAWA, June 12.—All day yesterday the House was occupied on Northwest matters, the discussion arising on Government amendments to the Dominion Lands Act and taking the widest range.

The first amendment requires that the person applying for a homestead shall at the time of obtaining entry declare under which of the conditions described by clause 28 of the Dominion Lands Act he elects to hold the land.

By clause 3, if the settler doesn't exercise his pre-emption right and make payment therefor within six months after he becomes entitled to claim the patent under his homestead entry, the right shall be forfeited and the land included in such pre-emption entry shall be open for homesteading, on condition that the person obtaining the homestead entry for the cancelled pre-emptions erects thereon a substantial house and commences actual residence thereon within six months and continues such residence at least six months in each of the succeeding three years. Before application for a patent the locatee will require to show that he has made permanent improvements on the said lands to the aggregate value of $350 per acre.

Clause 4 provides for the repeal of clause 20 of the old act and provides four different modes in which forfeiture may be had of homestead entry by non-compliance with the conditions of the Land Act.

Clause 5 repeals second homesteading, except in case of persons who on June 2, 1886, were entitled to a patent for first homestead.

Clause 6 relates to the verification of statements respecting lands on oath and will prevent perjury to be assigned on any declaration or affidavit in relation to Dominion lands.

Before going into committee Mr. Davin strongly objected to the bill because it did not meet the wants of the Northwest and failed in point of justice and policy. He pointed out that people who were in the country previous to second homesteading being allowed were enabled to secure that privilege, while those who were induced to come under the promise of second homesteading were left out in the cold.

The Minister consented to amend Clause 5 by extending the right of second homesteading to those entitled to patents for first homesteads on June 2, 1887.

Mr. Davin also proposed a clause which would enable those whose families had been residing on and cultivating homesteads, but who had themselves to go into town or on railways to work, to get their patents.

Mr. White said on no account would the Government consent to this clause, and as it evidently would be defeated Mr. Davin didn't put the committee to the trouble of a division.

Messrs. Watson and Daly pressed for a reduction of the price of pre-emptions to $1 per acre and moved to that effect, but the motion was lost.

Mr. Watson also asked to have abandoned pre-emptions allowed for second homesteads to persons abandoning the same, but the Government refused, contending this virtually meant homesteading 320 acres.

At Mr. Daly's suggestion clause 3 was made to read "habitable" instead of "substantial" houses, as settlers frequently erected sod and frame shanties.

The value of improvements required by clause 3 on homestead pre-emptions was reduced to $1.50 per acre, Mr. White at the same time stating, on a suggestion of Mr. Daly, that ploughing would be accepted as permanent improvements.

At the suggestion of Mr. Scarth a clause was added to the bill materially altering the position of those who advanced moneys to settlers coming from the Old World.

Mr. Perley took the position that every settler should have 320 acres of land, and expressed that as the feeling of his constituents.

Messrs. Charlton, Paterson, Mills and other Liberals contended that the American land laws are more liberal than Canadian.

The Liberal Leadership.

The Journal says Hon. Mr. Laurier's decision as to accepting the leadership of the Liberal party is still in abeyance. As far as appears on the surface he would be acceptable to the Liberal party as represented in Parliament. In the caucus of Liberal members, which was held to consider the election of a leader, vice Mr. Blake, Mr. Laurier was proposed by Sir Richard Cartwright and the nomination was made unanimous. Mr. Laurier, however, hesitated to accept. Mr. Laurier's private means are understood to offer a serious bar to his undertaking the duties of the leadership. The work would demand nearly all his time. Mr. Laurier, however, is not in independent circumstances apart from his legal practice, and can scarcely, therefore, afford to give up the latter.

On June 21, being the fiftieth anniversary of Her Majesty's accession, the Governor-General will have a general reception at Government House.

It is very doubtful if the House will prorogue on Saturday next. The Government will take every day after Wednesday next and make every effort to terminate. It does not seem probable, however.

A DIFFERENCE OF OPINION

MR. PARNELL PROPOSES ONE COURSE AND MR. HEALY ANOTHER.

The Leader Protests that Matters Should be Brought to a Crisis, but the Lieutenant Favors the Pursuing of Obstructive Tactics.

LONDON, June 12.—The past week has been marked by several new features in the Irish struggle against the Crimes Amendment Act. In the first place the Government, goaded by the taunts of their own friends, have determined to put an arbitrary end to the four months' debate of the Coercion Bill. On June 17 the final question on the measure will be put and all further debate on the subject will be terminated thereby. By these means the bill will be rushed through and become law within the next fortnight or ten days.

There is to be a meeting of the Irish party on Monday, when its future policy will be discussed. It may be that there is some private understanding between the various prominent members of the party, but judging by outward appearances there seem to be strong differences of opinion between Messrs. Parnell, Healy and Davitt. Mr. Parnell, who has divined that further opposition to the measure would be misconstrued throughout England and draw upon the Irish party the onus of having brought Parliamentary institutions into ridicule and disrepute, has openly declared himself in the House in favor of confining all further opposition to the measure to a strong protest. By avoiding any further delay in the passage of the measure he secures the advantage of seeing the bill put into execution while Parliament is still sitting. Moreover, in view of the hopelessness of the opposition, it is preferable that matters should be brought to the inevitable crisis at once. Healy, however, who is more hot-headed and who is unable to look at matters in such a dispassionate light as Parnell, is in favor of pursuing the obstruction tactics, heedless of the fact that not only the English people at large, but even such men as Gladstone, Morley and others would be estranged thereby.

Parnell has likewise given official utterance of his unqualified disapproval of Michael Davitt's speeches at Bodyke. Davitt has been present there at the evictions during the past two weeks. He has calmly ignored all attempts of the Land League or of the Home Rule Parliamentary party to check his utterances, and has urged the unfortunate tenants to resist the evictors by every means, fair or foul which were at their disposal. Had it not been for the counter persuasions of the parish priest, who entreated the desperate villagers to refrain from bloodshed, wholesale massacres might have resulted. The Government has announced its intention of adopting severe measures towards Davitt for his incendiary speeches, but it is difficult to see how they can do so without prosecuting Labouchere, who, both in the press and on the platform, joins Davitt in urging the tenants to resist their evictors by every means they can think of.

Monday's meeting of the Irish party may possibly settle all these divergences of opinion, and Parnell will doubtless succeed in persuading his followers to listen to his prudent and statesmanlike counsels.

POWDERLY DESIRES REST.

He Will Not Accept the Office of Grand Master Workman Another Term.

BOSTON, June 12.—Grand Master Workman Powderly, speaking at a meeting in the Mechanics' Hall here to-night, said that he was not a candidate for re-election to the office of Grand Master Workmen, and under no circumstances would he accept re-election. He had been misrepresented and falsely accused, and he desired privacy and rest.

Emperor William's Illness.

BERLIN, June 11.—It is officially announced that the condition of Emperor William has improved. He passed a more restful night last night, and he enjoyed a sleep that was unbroken except at long intervals. This afternoon the Emperor left his bed.

The Emperor's illness is having an adverse effect on the Bourse. At the opening to-day there was a marked weakness, but the market partially recovered on the report that the Emperor's health had improved. Still the market closed at a decline of one-half per cent.

COLLEGE DAY IN THE ASSEMBLY.

The Presbyterian Seats of Learning in a Flourishing Condition.

WINNIPEG, June 11.—The General Assembly devoted this forenoon to the work of colleges. Halifax, Morrin, Montreal, Queen's and Knox, and Manitoba Colleges presented reports, which were received and encouragingly commented upon.

The expenditure of the Knox ordinary fund was $16,922, which left a balance in the treasury of $194. The endowment paid in amounts to $66,234, out of which an expenditure has already been made of over $70,000. The affairs of the college are in a satisfactory condition and hope is expressed that the new year will be the best in the history of the institution. The total amount subscribed for endowment is $190,347.

Concerning Queen's College the report was gratifying. The students attending are 372. The aim at raising a quarter of a million was sanctioned by the Assembly on motion of Dr. Caven. The ordinary revenue was $32,618, receipts on account of scholarships $1937. The assets are placed at $356,460.

The Assembly adjourned at noon and spent the afternoon at Kildonan.

EARTHQUAKE IN TURKESTAN.

A Settlement Destroyed and Many Lives Lost.

LONDON, June 11.—Further earthquake shocks have occurred in Turkestan. The Kaskelensk settlement, twenty-five versts west of Vernoma, was visited by a severe shock and the settlement was destroyed. Shocks have also been felt in the town of Rischbek. The telegraph wires are broken in many places. The earthquakes have been felt continuously since June 9, within a radius of 1000 versts of Vernoma. Many persons have lost their lives, but the exact number cannot now be stated, as each day reveals newly discovered bodies.

London Stock and Money Market.

LONDON, June 12.—Discount was slightly harder during the past week. On the Stock Exchange during the week there was a general reaction downward and dealings were limited. Yesterday foreigners were especially heavy under the pressure of sales partly on Berlin and Paris orders. American railroads showed a tendency to decline throughout the week, operators being discouraged by the continued depression in New York and the delay in the appearance of the expected improvement. Yesterday's tone was the heaviest of the week, most dealings showing a fall.

The Coffee Market.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The coffee market was again excited at times to-day and considering the short sessions the speculation was active, over 150,000 bags changing hands. The opening was stronger and 50 points higher, but the bears began a general raid later in the day and prices broke 140 to 165 points. At the close the feeling was irregular. Strong advices from Rio had no effect.

THE EVICTED AT BODYKE.

MICHAEL DAVITT STIRRING THEM UP TO VIOLENCE.

Notwithstanding a Proclamation Forbidding a Meeting, He Addresses a Crowd of Five Thousand and Suggests Armed Resistance.

DUBLIN, June 11.—The evictions at Bodyke were further carried out to-day. The first house visited by the evicting force was that of Timothy Collins, but as it was announced that a daughter of Collins lay dying inside the work of eviction was abandoned. The evictors then proceeded to the house of Michael O'Callaghan, where they met with a terrible resistance. The bailiffs and police were deluged with scalding water and meal. Col. Turner, who was in charge of the evicting party, implored Father Hannan, who was again in attendance, to endeavor to persuade the people to cease resistance and thus prevent bloodshed. Father Hannan then entered the house and the inmates ceased their attack on the force, which entered and carried out the work of eviction. Five women who had been extremely violent in their attacks were arrested.

Several other evictions were effected during the day, and there was more or less resistance in each case. The police threatened to arrest Michael Davitt if he interfered.

Davitt's Fortlorn Course.

DUBLIN, June 12.—In consequence of the Government proclamation forbidding the meeting announced to held at Bodyke to-day, an extra military force was drafted into service to enable the authorities to enforce the proclamation. Michael Davitt eluded the authorities, however, and addressed five thousand persons at Teakle, while the soldiers were searching for him. He afterwards spoke at Scariff. He asserted the right of speaking in public and said if the people were armed they could deal with the black-coated burglar brigade as they deserved.

In his speech at Scariff Mr. Davitt denied having counseled, in his recent speech at Budyke, any further resort to extreme violence. The people being without weapons such advice would have been criminal. He had only maintained that it would be cowardly, when the Tories were actively carrying out a policy of extermination, not to show every rational resistance. Such resistance would win the respect and sympathy of a majority of the people of Great Britain, whose hearts were on the side of tenants defending their homesteads.

He expected that this would be the last meeting which he would have a chance to address before the Coercion Act would again indulge him with the luxuries of a prison plank bed. Before going into political retirement for six months he would give them this advice: "Boycott the inquisition clauses of the Coercion Act and welcome imprisonment rather than assist the Government to make the act operative."

He concluded by denouncing the Land Bill as coming from a government of landlords who were serving their own interests first and Ireland's a long way after.

THE ROYAL PROGRESS.

Her Majesty Will Not Appear in the State Robes Nor Wear the Crown.

LONDON, June 11.—The Queen has created great discontent by curtailing the route of the procession to the Abbey on June 21. Moreover, she has decided not to drive in the grand old state coach, built two centuries ago, but to use one of what are known as the semi-state barouches. Nor will the state robes be donned before arriving at the Abbey. She likewise absolutely refuses to wear the crown, but will wear a small coronet on her widow's cap instead. Her carriage will be drawn by the celebrated Hanoverian cream-colored horses, and she will be escorted by all the foreign and English male royalties present on horseback to and from the Abbey. It is impossible to conceive the amount of jealousy and intrigue prevailing at the present moment with regard to the tickets of invitation to the ceremony at the Abbey. Owing to a miscalculation of the space available, far too many have been issued, and a new series have had to be sent out, the old ones being cancelled.

THE MAN WITH THE BARREL.

Cooper Graham to Take Another Flyer Through the Niagara Rapids.

BUFFALO, June 11.—Some days ago it was announced officially by M. T. Skiff, manager, formerly with W. J. Scanlan, the Irish impersonator, who is now acting as manager for Cooper, the whirlpool navigator, that his principal and Kendall, the Boston policeman, were to make the voyage through the vortex together in a vessel of Graham's invention in full view of all. It now appears that Kendall has backed out and Graham will have to go alone. He promises to make the attempt on June 15.

A BOY'S REVENGE.

A Tennessee Teacher Killed Because She Whipped a Pupil.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., June 11.—Cleveland, Tenn., is in the wildest excitement over developments to-day in the shooting of Miss Irene Faan by Will Guess. It was supposed the killing was accidental, but it now develops that it was a cold-blooded murder. On Thursday Guess was passing the school where Miss Faan was teaching. He had a rifle in his hand and pointed it playfully at Miss Faan, when the weapon was suddenly exploded, killing the unfortunate lady instantly. Now it is learned that Guess killed Miss Faan because she whipped his little sister for an infraction of the rules of the schools. The authorities are investigating the case. Guess has fled.

The Cattle Disease in Illinois.

CHICAGO, June 11.—Norman J. Colman, Commissioner of Agriculture, came up from St. Louis yesterday. He put in the day with Prof. Law in looking over the quarantined district and seeing what had been accomplished in the attempt to extirpate pleuro-pneumonia. Mr. Colman expressed himself as very much pleased with the appearance of things generally. He said that the work here is going forward in as satisfactory a manner as is possible under the present laws. He thinks now the disease was originally brought here by Jersey cattle from the east.

Astonishing Success

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung disease. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 20,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it, sample bottles to try, only 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and dealers, in the United States and Canada. eodw4

MONDAY, JUNE 13, 1887.

IMPERIAL Federation is not a new idea, according to the showing of the Montreal Star. The latter publishes an extract from the Quebec Star to show that sixty years ago, the wise heads or otherwise of the olden times had entertained the idea of Imperial Federation. The extract reads thus:—"We understand that with the other papers sent down to the House of Commons, respecting the Canadas, there was sent a plan for the general confederation of the British colonies, which was laid before the Ministers, when the question of these two Provinces was under discussion." And yet how little advance has been made within that time towards the practical solution of the question, or practical application of the idea.

THOUGH every year witnesses great improvements to the facilities for extinguishing fires in towns and cities the rate of destruction of property is on the increase. The record for Canada and the United States for the first four months of 1887 have nearly reached the figure for the first five months of 1886, and now come the losses for May, making a total to date of $51,886,500, against $44,180,000 for the corresponding five months of 1886. These figures do not include the forest fire losses in Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Michigan or Manitoba, which are variously estimated at from one to four million dollars; neither do they include the loss incurred by the burning of several steamers, one on the Pacific coast, one on the Atlantic and several inland steamboats.

THERE is a great probability that the ultimate outcome of the disallowance question in its relation to Manitoba will be something serious, though it is probable that wiser counsels will prevail before the serious solution of bloodshed shall become the last stage of the trouble. The people of Manitoba can thank themselves for the present pickle—if such a term is applicable to the serious state they find themselves in. They have in the past bowed down and worshipped at the shrine of Sir John Macdonald. When he was attempting the high-handed robbery of this province, Manitoba which is now feeling the evil influence of Sir John's dominating presence in Canadian politics, was in her loyalty to Toryism ready and willing to help—and did help—him in his schemes for the theft of the territory of this province. When Sir John proposed to coerce Ontario by the application of disallowance, Manitoba sympathised with the efforts of the Chieftain. And then was seen how good a thing it is to be under Liberal instead of Tory rule. Hon. Mr. Mowat believed in working for the interests of his province, and regardless of whom he opposed in invasion of their rights. He resisted and beat Sir John Macdonald in his every attempt to invade the domain of provincial rights. Manitoba is now simply reaping the results of her fidelity to Toryism, and to Tory principles. She made her choice and now she is suffering the results. Ontario is the most progressive and prosperous province of the Dominion, and is the only one province which has not politically bowed down nor worshipped the image and the beast for the last twenty years. The situation contains fruitful lessons.

The Ways of Revision Courts.

To the Editor of the Daily Examiner:

The taxpayers of Peterborough keep up at a great cost their part of the municipal machinery of the province. And they have a right, in consequence, to be well and justly and economically served. One very important portion of this machinery is the appointment and duties of assessors. Another very important portion is the appointment and duties of a Court of Revision to supervise and correct the work of the assessors. It is with these two bodies that I have now more particularly to do. It may not always happen that the Council makes the best selection of assessors which it ought to and which it might do. But the statute has provided a means to correct any of the errors and mistakes of assessors by means of the Court of Revision, and subsequently by the county judge. The duties of both these two classes of officials are purely judicial, and, so in all matters presided over by a judge, it is the duty of the members of the Court of Revision to act with dignity and impartiality. When they fail to do this they cause the loss of confidence and respect in these acts, and they virtually weaken and destroy the usefulness of their court, and they often cause a great deal of annoyance and loss to the property owners as well. The first act of the members of the Court of Revision is to appoint a chairman, and he, if he happens to be a shrewd man, and especially a lawyer, necessarily exercises a larger influence over the other members of his court. It has unfortunately happened during the last two years that a great many appeals have been made to the Court of Revision by property owners, and worse still, that a great many appeals have had to be made from the Court of Revision to the county judge during the year now past, and that more of such appeals are likely to be made during the present year. It is bad enough for the tax-payers to have to go to the Court of Revision for redress, but when there the members of that court, and especially the chairman, ought to strive to satisfy those who have to come before them, for our tyranis and loss of time is enough to impose upon those appealing for relief. A good deal of difficulty was brought last year by the assessors rating part lots under the by-law respecting paddocks and lawns, the assessors apparently assuming that this by-law covered all lands, whether paddocks and lawns or not. This year they have been guilty of the very same wrong. Last year the Court of Revision, through their legal chairman, rejected all appeals against assessment made under this by-law, and the result was that several of the owners of park lots were forced to go before the County Judge to obtain justice. This year the very same thing will have to be done again, and for the very same reason. At the adjourned meeting of the Court of Revision on Thursday night last, one person, the owner of park lots and his tenant, appeared before that court for redress, but only succeeded to a partial extent, and even this was obtained against the ruling of the chairman, their presiding judge. The lands concerned were two park lots of seventeen acres, the west nine acres being leased and used for farm purposes, the east eight acres, on part of which stood the dwelling house of the owner, being also used for farming purposes. And although this court, at its sitting three nights before, reduced the assessment on the adjoining park lot, made under the paddock by-law, from $7,000 to $2,400, yet when the other appeal respecting the seventeen acres, came before the same court on the Thursday night following, the same chairman contended that they ought not to be assessed as farm lands as the other park lot was, but should be as assessed as town lots, under the by-law. And the chairman fought hard to cause this to be done, and he used all sorts of sophistry to effect his purpose. As regards the west nine acres he did not succeed, but when he came to consider the adjoining eight acres, which are not worth for farming purposes thirty per cent of the west nine acres, the chairman said that as it was note laid the assessment upon it ought to be sustained, and, to use his own words, if these eight acres were not all for farming purposes they ought to be assessed as town lots, which would increase the taxes upon them nearly five times what they should be and what they would be, if rated as farm lands, and when the chairman saw that his ruling was not to be upheld in its entirety he advanced another scheme by means of which, if successful, he would nearly accomplish his former purpose. He said that there was a portion of one of these park lots, on which the dwelling house stood, about an acre, which ought not to be assessed along with the rest of that park lot as farm land, but should be assessed separately from the rest of the park lot and rated as town lots, although the assessors assessed all together, and the chairman stated that he would give three thousand dollars for this portion of the park lot, therefore it should be so held by the Court of Revision, and, unfortunately, the other members of this court were thus led to adopt the chairman's contention, the result being that the chairman succeeded in nearly keeping up the assessment of these eight acres as originally made by the assessors, and, in order to accomplish his purpose, the chairman read certain portions of the assessment laws favorable to himself, but took good care not to read the part which told against him. And this was the way he discharged his duty as an impartial judge. The 94th section of the original assessment law, the only clause which bears upon this question, reads as follows:—"In "assessing vacant ground, no ground used "as a farm, garden, or nursery, and not in "immediate demand for building purposes, "in cities, towns and villages, whether incorporated or not, the value of such vacant, "or other ground, shall be that at which "sales can be freely made, and where no "sales can be reasonably expected during "the current year, the assessors shall value "such land as though it was held for farming or gardening purposes, with such per-"centage added thereto as the situation of "the land reasonably calls for, and such vacant land, though surveyed into building "lots, if unsold as such, may be entered on "the assessment roll as so many acres of the "original block or lot, describing the same "by the description of the block, or by the "number of the lot and concession of the "township in which the same is situated, as "the case may be." The chairman farther read the sixth section of the Act amending the original law, chapter 27 of 43rd, Victoria, which is as follows:—"Ground used as a "paddock, park, lawn or pleasure ground "shall, in the discretion of the Council of "the municipality, by by-law, be assessed "as other ground." This section was the foundation of the by-law respecting paddocks and lawns, and which has caused property owners so much trouble. But the chairman did not read the following section, number seven of the amending Act—because, I suppose, it is against his ruling upon the subject. It reads as follows:—"The 94th sec-"tion of said Act," (the original Act above quoted) "with respect to vacant ground, or ground used as a farm, garden or nursery, in cities, towns and villages is amended, by inserting after the word "assessors" the following "words," in case the council so directs. "This amendment is "not to apply to such grounds in towns and in-"corporated villages except in cases where the "extent of such grounds exceeds ten acres." Had the chairman read this last section, as he should have done, the probability is that the other members of the Court of Revision would have viewed the matter in a different light, for I am quite sure that they desired to do right, and did so to the best of their judgment under the violent sophistry of their chairman, who, being a lawyer, they would naturally conclude knew what the law was better than themselves. When they and their chairman qualified as councillors they took the following oath: "I do solemnly "promise and declare that I will truly, "faithfully and impartially, to the best of my "knowledge and ability, execute the office "of councillor, to which I have been elected, &c. Those members of the Court of Revision are public men, chosen by the people to perform the duties of our town, and as such public men they are amenable to the people who elected them, and their conduct as councillors in public property and open to criticism and commendation, and although the chairman of this Court of Revision appears to consider himself above the law, and above the people, he will probably find out that he is no greater than other men, and that he is but human after all.

A TYPOGRAPHICAL ERROR.

The Accounts of the International Union Shamefacedly Mixed Up.

BUFFALO, June 11.—A sensation developed in the Typographical Convention during the secret session yesterday afternoon, the particulars of which are slowly leaking out. When the doors were opened and the reporters admitted after a secret session they found the convention balloting for secretary-treasurer. This gave rise to the query: What had become of Mr. Pascoe? Though every delegate was sworn to secrecy, there was so much contentious mystery that curiosity was challenged, and every holder of the secret was overburdened with it. It was learned last night that Mr. Pascoe had tendered his resignation, but that reason for this action was kept a close secret. This morning, however, it was learned that a shortage had been discovered in Mr. Pascoe's accounts. The Finance Committee had been at work on the books for some time, and as soon as they were convinced of the shortage they reported to the convention. What transpired in the secret session is known only to the delegates themselves, but Pascoe had severed his connection with the executive department of the union when the doors were respected.

The Finance Committee this morning stated that they had worked all night on the accounts, but they were in as great a muddle as ever and it will require two or three days to straighten them out. Mr. Pascoe handled between $17,000 and $18,000 during the year and was under a bond of $2000. He will leave for home to-day.

The convention again went into secret session this morning.

When the doors were opened the report of the Committee on Subordinate Unions was taken up. It was ordered that no foreman shall have a right to discharge an incompetent "sub" when the regular has not been notified of the sub's incompetency. It was resolved that the report of the Committee on Unfair Offices be adopted by the convention and given into the hands of the Buffalo union, with instructions to carry out the recommendations. The convention then went into secret session. The report on unfair offices was submitted to the secret session yesterday.

A Manitoba Farmer's Loss.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 12.—A special from Winnipeg says the residence of a farmer named James Edwards, living in the Township of Menota, South Manitoba, was burned last night and three children, aged 7, 13 and 14, perished in the flames. Edwards and his wife jumped from an upstairs window, taking two other children, or all would have perished.

An Appreciative Criticism.

The London Catholic Record of this date contains the following:—"'A few facts concerning the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association' is the title of a very neat pamphlet (issued from the EXAMINER office) written by Bro. John O'Meara, District Deputy, Peterborough. Our worthy Vice-President of the Grand Council of Canada is to be commended for the very earnest interest he has at all times taken in the working and welfare of our Association. The publication of this book, a matter of considerable labor and expense to himself, is still another proof, if proof were needed, that Bro. O'Meara has set his heart upon the spread of the Society amongst the Catholic people of Canada. Particularly useful and instructive will it prove in places where a branch of the organization does not now exist. Those who contemplate forming branches will therein find all that it is necessary to know in order to be able to do so.

County Police Magistrate.

Geo. Edmison, Esq., Receives the Appointment.

The Ontario Government on Saturday passed an order-in-council appointing Geo. Edmison, Esq., police magistrate for the county of Peterborough, under the statute, 50 Victoria, cap XI. This appointment is a concession to a demand that has arisen from the need of such an officer, and it will greatly serve the convenience of litigants living at a distance from town in cases requiring the adjudication of a police magistrate. It will be a great saving in the expense of travel and the cost of the court to have the latter held in neighborhoods where the parties reside. Mr. Edmison's appointment will be received with favour throughout the county. Mr. Edmison is a native of the township of Smith, where he was born in the year 1834. He has been a resident of the town of Peterborough since 1860. He received his preliminary education substantially at the Peterborough Grammar School, as it was then called. He began the study of the law by entering the law office of Mr. Elias Burnham in 1856, and has been practising his profession for the past 23 years, and is well known and respected in every part of the country. He will be ready, to enter upon his judicial duties in the course of a few days. There is no doubt that Mr. Edmison will faithfully and wisely discharge the duties of the important position to which he has been elevated, and while promoting, in an efficient manner, the ends of justice, will greatly promote the convenience of those in whose interests the appointment has been more particularly made.

Toronto Diocesan Synod.

The thirty-fifth session of the Synod of this Diocese will be held this week commencing on Tuesday, the 14th inst. The Bishop will take the chair at the School House of St. James' Cathedral on that day at 11.30 a.m. and the Synod will proceed to business. The first order will be the Bishop's opening address.

On Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock divine service will be held at the Cathedral. The Synod will meet daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. until the work of the session shall have been completed.

In the convening circular there appears the usual reports and motions for consideration, among the latter being a notice of motion for the appointment of a committee to draft an address of congratulation to Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen.

The Mission Fund report shows a small increase over last year, the total receipts being $13,277.68. In addition to this sum which was contributed chiefly for home work, $5,448.91 were collected for Domestic and Foreign Missions.

The amount paid to widows and orphans of deceased clergy during the year was $4,724.70. There are now twenty-five widows and three orphans assisted by the fund. Several of the parishes are in arrears, the aggregate being $7,742.64.

The Sunday School Committee report a weekly circulation of the Institute Leaflet prepared by them of 13,000 copies and they are gratified to state that these leaflets are used in about 80 per cent. of the schools throughout the Diocese. The committee also issues a monthly magazine for teachers which is less than six months reached a bona fide circulation of more than 1000 copies.

Within the Diocese there are at present one hundred and eight parishes, several of them, however, being vacant for want of men. There are at present 143 clergy on the Synod list, of whom a few are on leave of absence. The number of lay delegates, three being usually appointed from each mission or parish, is about 324, and there is generally a good working majority in attendance at all the sessions.

The lay delegates from the parish of St. John's, Peterborough, are Dr. George Burnham, Judge Weller, and H. A. Hammond, Esq., but as Judge Weller's judicial duties detain him in town, and as Mr. Hammond is in England, Dr. Burnham will be the only lay representative of St. John's present.

Those appointed to represent St. Luke's, Ashburnham, are, Messrs. John Burnham, H. C. Rogers and Richard Meade.

A Chance to Make Money.

All the world is on the look out for chances to make money and sometimes the chance comes in the shape of a windfall—more or less unexpected. The people of Peterborough and this district have come in for a windfall in the shape of the immense $18,500 bankrupt stock which Gough, the wonderful cheap man, has placed upon the market at slaughtering prices. It was noticed that on Saturday his shop, spacious as it is, was thronged with customers, his shelves piled high and close with a part of the stock opened up, while the walk in front of his business premises was piled high with a rampart of packing cases full of first-class ready-made clothing, ready for slaughter. When the people come to consider the facts they will see that the bargains are bona fide. A large Montreal clothing house, magnificiently stocked, became bankrupt and Gough, the ever wide-awake, secured $18,500 worth of it at 40 cents on the dollar—that is, less than half price. With such a large addition to his always complete stock he finds it necessary to run off this new stock, and if this is done in the course of a month as it must be done, he must sell at a very small advance on cost. Therefore immense bargains in clothing must be the result. It can't be otherwise. Call at Gough's for wonderful bargains the next thirty days.

In Memoriam.

Sunday evening, in St. Paul's Church, the pastor, Rev. E. F. Torrance, delivered an impressive sermon to a large congregation from the text, Psalm xvi, 2:—

O, my soul, thou hast said unto the Lord, Thou art my Lord; my goodness extendeth not to thee.

After expounding his text in his usual able and earnest manner, and dealing with the subject of the doctrine of recognition in heaven, in summing up which he said he could not help thinking that the recognition of beloving friends in heaven will be one of the elements in that perfect happiness which the good are there to enjoy, the preacher referred to the particular subjects of the discourse in the following words:—

This subject of recognition in heaven ought to bring much comfort to those of our number who have of late been called to mourn the loss of beloved friends. There are two, ones well known to many of us, who have, within the past three weeks, been taken away by death, and of both of them we may say confidently that they have fallen asleep in Jesus.

William Gilbert was one in whom I had always taken a deep personal interest. During the earlier years of my ministry here, I remember having had conversations with him upon the subject of religion, but he continued living without God in the world. In 1881, in connection with the labors of Mr. Hammond, there was a revival in this town. Wm. Gilbert was one of those who at that time became the subjects of a saving change. Well do I remember of his coming to see me on the morning after the change had taken place. He had passed through a severe struggle on the previous night, but it had been succeeded by a deep and settled peace. On the next evening he publicly avowed his intention of devoting his life to the service of Christ, and I believe he never wavered in his intention from that time to the time of his death. A few months after his conversion he went to Chicago, obtained a situation and began to engage in connection with the Y.M.C.A. in christian work. He soon won the esteem of his employers, and year after year he continued to rise. His kindness of heart and his religious earnestness endeared him to those with whom he was associated in christian work. His career is a striking exemplification of the truth of the words of the Apostle: "But Godliness is profitable for all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come."

John Erskine was one of the most highly respected elders of our church It was my privilege to be on close terms of intimacy with him from the time of my coming here, eleven years ago. Ever since then I felt that I had in him a true friend. Among the members of the church there was no no more regular and devout worshipper than he. Among the elders there was none who sought more earnestly to discharge the duties of his office. With strong personal convictions upon most points himself, he was ever ready to respect the personal convictions of others. He had the interests of the church of God too much at heart to be constantly taking offence at those who differed with him.

He was a man of honor and integrity. His word was as good as his bond, and one might trust in him implicitly and not be disappointed. His was a frank and open nature. He was an Israelite indeed in whom there was no guile.

He was a kind-hearted and unselfish man. He was ever ready to do what in him lay, to help the needy. He realized that there were higher things to live for than wordly advancement or the acquisition of wealth.

He was a humble and unassuming man. He cared nothing for ostentation or display. He realized that before honor is humility, and that which is highly esteemed among men is abomination in the sight of God.

He has gone from us, and he will be greatly missed. He will be missed in the community at large, for he took a great interest in all that pertained to its welfare. He will be missed in the church, where he was regarded by all with affection and respect. He will be missed in his home by his mourning wife and his fatherless children.

The musical part of the services was peculiarly solemn. Prof. Parker played the Dead March, while the choruses by the choir were appropriate and beautifully rendered.

PETERBOROUGH VS. TORONTO.

Peterborough Cricket Club met Toronto team and disaster at the city on Saturday afternoon. As the Mail puts it, Toronto was amply avenged for the defeat administered in Peterborough last season, winning by an innings and 161 runs. Peterborough were two men short, C. J. Logan and Stratton for some occult reason not showing up at all. Sergeant Hall was impressed, and later on Nesbitt filled the second vacancy. Cooper and Jones had little trouble in disposing of the visitors, whose innings was remarkable in a negative way only, the calamity with which they sought the hospitable shade of the pavilion. On Saturday evening at the meeting of the General Jubilee Committee, Messrs. I. Richardson and F.W. Miller were appointed, W. Brundrette to canvass the town for subscriptions to the funds needed to enable the committee to carry out the programme agreed upon. Everyone has an interest in the occasion, and each citizen is urged to give to the extent of his ability. The canvassers agree not to make another call for a similar purpose this century at least. They will begin the work of canvassing to-morrow morning at 9.30. Be prepared to make liberal donations when they call.

Sunday School Services.

Special Sunday School services were held in St. Paul's Church Sunday. In the morning the children occupied the front seats of the church, and Rev. Mr. Torrance delivered an excellent sermon on the subject of heavenly attainment. The text was from Genesis, referring to Jacob's dream of the ladder reaching from earth to heaven. By this ladder heaven could be attained, and the preacher likened the different steps of the ladder to the list of virtues enumerated in the second epistle of Peter, chap. 1, verses 5 to 7. Sunday School hymns were sung at the morning service. In the afternoon a review was held by Superintendent Sheriff Hall, and Rev. Mr. Torrance addressed the school. The singing by the children was a special and noteworthy feature of the services.

PROHIBITION UNPOPULAR.

THE JAMIESON RESOLUTIONS ARE THROWN OUT.

Mr. Chapleau will Accept the Position of Lieut.-Governor of Quebec—The Work Being Done at the Government Experimental Farms.

OTTAWA, June 13.—It was a hot day in the House. The thermometer was high up and the atmosphere oppressive. Either from this or some other cause the House did a large amount of work, pretty thoroughly clearing the order paper of all the private bills. Though useful legislation, it is difficult to give the public any idea of it, as the members interested crowd round the chairman of the committee and talk sotto voce to each other, and all that can be heard is the occasional "carried" of the chairman.

The debate on Mr. Jamieson's prohibition resolution was resumed and speeches were made by several members. The drift of sentiment seemed to be to vote down both amendments and the original motion, leaving the temperance cause sheltered under the Canada Temperance Act. There does not appear to be the same interest in the discussion as in former years and clergymen are conspicuous by their absence from the galleries. To-day this vantage ground for the public was almost without an occupant.

The Ottawa Young Women's Christian Temperance Union occupied seats in the gallery this evening. As a rule they were good-looking. The debate continued, Messrs. Mills (Annapolis) and Freeman, on the Government side, speaking in favor of prohibition, and Messrs. Porter and Bergin speaking against it. On the Opposition side Messrs. McMillan and Armstrong spoke in favor of prohibition.

Mr. Fisher moved in amendment that the time for the discussion of compensation was when the details of the prohibition measure were before the House.

On the vote being taken there were 81 for and 88 against.

The amendment being added to the main motion and a division taken, the vote stood: For 70 and against 112.

Thus the amendments, except Mr. Fisher's, and the main motion, as amended, were all voted down.

The House divided on the repeal of the Scott Act amendment: For 37 and against 145.

On the wine and beer amendment the vote stood: For 48, and against, 135.

Mr. Sproule moved an amendment in favor of compensation if prohibition became an accomplished fact. He spoke strongly in favor of the amendment.

Sir Richard Cartwright said he was astonished that the Government had no settled policy on a question involving $60,000,000 or $100,000,000.

Sir John said it would be found at the proper time that the Government had a policy.

The House adjourned.

The Experimental Farms.

The members of the press gallery, to the number of about thirty, this morning visited the experimental farm on invitation of Hon. Mr. Carling and spent three or four hours in specting it. The farm consists of 465 acres of land of varied soils, from stiff clay to light sand. Professor Saunders and his assistants have been busily engaged since May 2 clearing up the ground, removing stumps, stones, etc., laying out plots, sowing seed and in other farming operations. They have obtained 150 bushels of Russian wheat, some of which has been distributed throughout the country. Reports from the Northwest indicate that this wheat is stouter, sturdier and of more rapid growth than the best wheat heretofore in that country. The managers of the experimental farm have secured 120 varieties of wheat, 40 of barley, 600 varieties of forest trees and about the same number of fruit trees from various countries, chiefly from Russia, with a view to determine by actual experiment what variety will suit this country.

Much attention was given this year to grasses for permanent pastures. Of these they have now about thirty varieties. This year they are specially seeding to determine the best wheat, the best shade tree and the best orchard trees for the Northwest. To this end among a variety of Russian products they have 250 varieties of Russian fruit trees. Walnut seed planted early in May are now eight or ten inches high.

After luncheon Mr. Carling called upon Prof. Saunders, Col. Blair of Nova Scotia, Mr. Bedford of Mousamin, Northwest Territory, and others to give a description of their plans and purposes for the future. A great deal of good has been done this spring in the way of testing seeds sent for the purpose by farmers in all parts of the Dominion. The potentialities of the experimental farm are beyond the dreams of even obtrusive journalists.

The Quebec Lieut.-Governorship.

It is now stated that Mr. Chapleau has reconsidered his decision and will consequently accept the position of Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec.

Temperance War at Council Bluffs.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, June 13.—The saloons of this city were closed Saturday night at 11 o'clock by the Mayor, who had been called out by disorders in the street. The injunction cases will come up for hearing to-day, when, it is generally conceded, all the saloons will have to go. Among the violators is one of the aldermen of the city. The saloon men had those who informed on them arrested and locked up, and it is said that the prosecuting attorney in the case has been threatened with dynamite and pistols.

The Imperial Federation League.

OTTAWA, June 13.—The Canadian branch of the Imperial Federation League will hold a meeting here Friday, when it is expected Sir Alexander Campbell will be present in response to an invitation received, and will make a report of the proceedings of the recent conference at London, to which he was a delegate.

The Earl of Aberdeen's Tour.

A BIG BREAK IN [illegible]

A PANIC IN WHICH SEVERAL NEW YORK FIRMS GO UNDER.

The Liabilities of the Crippled Firms Amount to more than a Million Dollars—The Sales the Largest ever Recorded in New York.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The excitement in the coffee market which has attended the decline in coffee reached its highest to-day and the brokers, acting for the bull operators, became panic-stricken and rushed to sell without regard to price. The bulls blame the Gruner-Grossman syndicate for starting the decline which culminated in to-day's panic. The bear syndicate strained every nerve to check the fall without success.

In fact the syndicate brokers were the only buyers at opening, which was at 17 cents a pound, over a cent below Saturday's close and although a rally was caused by bear-supporting orders, the rumors of trouble and the continued selling caused them to stop buying and join the bulls in unloading the stuff they had taken early.

All through the afternoon the selling was coupled with the wildest scenes ever witnessed on the Exchange, and in the offices crowds were [illegible] of brokers [illegible] discussing the prospects of recovery. In the afternoon there was some hope of a rally, but the heavy selling continued, and soon the price fell off in heavy fluctuations until it reached 15 cents a pound. This decline was accompanied by the notice of the suspension of three firms—R. G. Arnold & Co., Norton, Weil & Bevan, and Mackay & Small.

After the announcement of these failures an organized effort was made by prominent houses, like O'Donohue, Gruner and Grossman, to sustain the market and they succeeded in causing a rally of about one cent all around.

The failure of R. G. Arnold & Co. attracted most attention. They are the most prominent house in the trade, but it was generally anticipated. The senior member of the firm was caught in 1882 by the collapse of one of the largest deals ever attempted in coffee and was compelled to suspend for over a million of dollars. He started in business again, however, and was successful in his adventures. He is credited with being the founder of the Coffee Exchange, and was at one time its president, but on August 1 last he formed partnership with his son and since they have done a strictly commission business.

Outsiders claim that the firm has been carrying 500,000 bags of coffee for the Rio Janeiro operators known as the Brasilian party, and it is estimated that the liabilities will be over $1,000,000.

The Brasilian party started to buy coffee after the Gruner-Grossman syndicate advanced the price from 8 to 18 cents a pound, and since then the Gruner syndicate have been bears on the market and are said to have unloaded all their long stuff on the Brasilians.

The extreme decline for the past two weeks is from 21.20 cents two weeks ago to 15 cents to-day or over 6¼ cents a pound.

There was some talk of trouble in banking circles as a result of the panic but as the banks only loaned 50 per cent. of the market value on coffee it is hard to see how any of them could have been involved.

Mackay & Small are supposed to have liabilities of $600,000. The liabilities of the other firms are small. The sales were the largest ever recorded, upward of 38,000 bags changing hands. The Havre market is equally depressed, showing a loss of 11 to 12 francs.

KILLED BY HIS KEEPERS.

Two Officers of an Insane Asylum Charged With Murdering an Inmate.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Keepers McHugh and Cleary of the Insane Asylum on Ward's Island were arrested last night and locked up in the Twentieth-street Police Station. The arrests are the outcome of the autopsy made Saturday by Deputy Coroner Jenkins on the body of George Farrish, a violent lunatic, who died, it is said, in consequence of brutal treatment at the hands of McHugh and Cleary in April last. The autopsy upon the body of Farrish discovered four broken ribs on each side of the body. One Mitchell, a former attendant at the hospital, informed the coroner that on the night of April 8 he saw McHugh and Cleary brutally kicking and belaboring Farrish.

FARO ON THE BORDER.

Buffalo Gamblers Open a Game at Fort Erie and are Arrested.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 13.—The Ontario Police have been watching a supposed gambling den at Fort Erie for the past ten days. To-day, about 10 a.m., Chief McDougall and four assistants took a close hack and drove to Fort Erie and approached very cautiously to the place, a small wooden structure in the rear of Frank Heberger's dwelling house, near the Old Fort. The principals had rented the place from Heberger. About 3 p.m. the police rushed quickly in and caught seven inmates in the act of playing faro. The police arrested the dealer and owner of the ranch, Samuel L. Cosgrove, also Geo. M. Burton, John H. Galvin and Robt. L. Armstrong of Buffalo, and four others not so well identified with the gambling fraternity. Their whole lay out, consisting of table, chips and card cases, amounting to about $300 were confiscated.

The entire party were brought here this evening and tried before Police Magistrate Hill, all pleading guilty to the charge of gambling. The total fines imposed amounted to $280.

The police have visited the Fort several times to capture the party, but have never been successful until to-day, the gamblers always getting on to their whereabouts and would engage in fishing from the wharf until after the police departed. The party returned to Buffalo this evening thinking Canada was a very unsafe place to carry on their nefarious practices.

THE NEW MODERATOR—REV. DR. BURNS.

At the meeting of the Presbyterian General Assembly in Winnipeg, on Thursday of last week, Dr. Burns of Halifax was unanimously chosen as Moderator, succeeding in that office Rev. J. K. Smith of Galt.

CONTINUING EVENT STUFF.

The Lengthy Hunting Struggle Fight Against the Crimes Act.

LONDON, June 13.—The House of Commons this evening resumed the debate on the Queen's Bill, taking up the fifth clause, which deals with the proclaiming of districts.

Henry Fowler, Liberal, proposed as an amendment that proclamations be made by order of the Privy Council instead of by the Viceroy. He urged that a change of such importance as the proclaiming of a district should be made by the Imperial instead of by the Irish Executive.

Mr. Balfour declined to accept the amendment. He reminded the House that the Government collectively were responsible for every act of the Irish Executive.

Messrs. Healy, McNeill, Clancy and Dillon, Nationalists, supported the amendment.

Mr. Gladstone suggested that the members should not waste any more of the short time at their command in futile discussion. It would be better to employ the remaining time in discussing weightier points.

Mr. Smith said he was anxious to allow sufficient time for the discussion of substantial questions, and hoped the Opposition would assist the Government in this direction.

Mr. Fowler offered to withdraw his amendment.

Mr. Dillon protested. He declined to take advice from the Government as to what amendments should be discussed in the unlimitable period left to the Parnellites to contest the measure.

Mr. Morley said he was sure Mr. Gladstone had not meant to suggest that the Opposition assist in limiting the debate in accordance with the Government's ideas. The opinions of the Parnellites upon the relative importance of the amendments deserved more attention than the opinions of the English members.

The amendment was rejected by 235 to 167.

Mr. Doherty moved an amendment that proclamations be issued only on the report of a Judge of the High Court after a local inquiry.

Mr. Holmes opposed the amendment on the ground that it was not advisable to remove any responsibility from the executive. A local enquiry, he said, would be valueless, because the judge would have no power to take evidence on oath.

Mr. Clancy said the Government would have been more candid if they had given as the reason for their opposition to the amendment their desire to retain for political purposes the power of proclaiming a district.

The amendment was rejected by 233 to 166.

Mr. Shaw Lefevre moved an amendment limiting the authority of the Viceroy in proclaiming districts to where it might be necessary for the prevention of crime and outrage. He appealed to the Government to assent to the alteration, which, he said, would bring the clause in accord with the act of 1882.

Sir R. E. Webster, Attorney-General, said that it was refreshing to hear Mr. Shaw Lefevre defending the act of '82. The Government, he added, could not accept the proposal, the object of the bill being to punish the authors as well as to prevent the commission of crime. The amendment would hamper the operation of the measure.

Mr. Morley said he had never heard a more ludicrous reason given for the omission of an important limitation. It showed that the real object of the bill was not the prevention of crime but the suppression of political combinations. [Cheers.]

Mr. Bradlaugh suggested that to meet the views of the Government the words "and punishment" be added to the amendment after the word "prevention."

Mr. Balfour announced the Government accepted the amendment with Mr. Bradlaugh's modification. [Cheers.]

An amendment providing that a proclamation should endure six months, and another providing that a week's notice be given, were rejected.

The Government accepted an amendment offered by Mr. Fowler making proclamations subject to the veto of either House of Parliament. After several other amendments had been rejected,

Attorney-General Holmes moved to amend the clause by making summary jurisdiction and change of venue apply to crimes committed before the issue of a proclamation, if such crimes be committed after the passing of the act.

Mr. Healy said he considered the proposal a breach of faith in order to occupy the little time left for discussion.

The amendment was carried by a vote of 227 to 113.

THE ASSEMBLY AT WINNIPEG.

Halifax Selected as the Next Place of Meeting.

WINNIPEG, Man., June 13.—The Assembly met this morning, fresh after the rest of the Sunday and the enjoyments of the Saturday half holiday.

The excursion on Saturday was largely patronized and much enjoyed. A service in the old church at Kildonan, where our pioneer missionary, the Rev. John Black, ministered to his people, was held, and addressed by Prof. Hart, the moderator, and Dr. McLaren. The excursionists, after the service, rolled to a grove where lunch was partaken of, after which Premier Norquay delivered an excellent address.

In the evening, after returning, the delegates and friends enjoyed a reception in Manitoba College by the authorities of that institution.

This morning sederunt was devoted to matters connected with the Widows and Orphans, and Aged, Infirm Ministers' Fund.

A plan was laid for the choosing of delegates to the Pan-Presbyterian Council in London next June. The choice will be made to-morrow of sixteen delegates.

Halifax was chosen as the place for holding the next assembly.

The evening sederunt was devoted to Home Missions. Mr. M. Morrison and Dr. Cochrane presented the reports of their respective sections of the church, which were encouraging in every respect.

The closing part of the evening was given to Rev. Mr. Stewart, the delegate from the Free Church of Scotland, who brought fraternal greetings from the Scottish Church to the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED.

Joseph Baker Mysteriously Disappears From Waterdown.

WATERDOWN, June 13.—There is considerable excitement here to-day over the disappearance of a young man named Joseph Baker, and foul play is suspected. Saturday afternoon Baker left the village with a bay horse and light buggy, intending to take a drive. He called in at Bay View and remained until about 6 o'clock, driving towards Hamilton. The keeper at York-street toll-gate says that he passed through there about 6.30. He was seen in Hamilton at 10 o'clock Saturday night. At 7 a.m. Sunday the horse and buggy returned to the village, without Baker, and his friends are very anxious concerning his whereabouts.

The road between Waterdown and Hamilton has been very carefully searched. On the bridge crossing the ravine about two miles from Waterdown Baker's memorandum book was picked up, and it is said that his hat was also picked up not far from this place. As he had over $160 in his possession it is not unlikely that he has been robbed and his body concealed. Baker is 22 years of age, and is said to be a quiet, sober young man. The facts were reported to the police this morning by his cousin, Mr. H. Nelson Baker of Waterdown.

Astonishing Success

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let the wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can see it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 50,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it, sample bottles to try, only 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and dealers, in the United States and Canada. eodwf

IS THERE AN EXODUS?

Unfortunately there is. The natural increment of population, and the increment through an immigration expenditure of about $500,000 a year, does not much more than keep our population stationary; the increase is far slower than the two above mentioned causes should permit if there were not a disastrous depletion of population by exodus to the United States. It was the proud prediction of the advocates of a high taxation policy that the adoption of that policy would serve to keep Canada for Canadians, and, of course, Canadians for Canada, and prevent any further accessions of our people to the Canadian colonies in the United States. We know that that prediction has failed of fulfilment lamentably, that large numbers of our people still continue to emigrate. Every newspaper office in Canada has as a formidable portion of its subscription list the addresses of its subscribers in the United States—exiled Canadians—and that list is not growing numerically less. For every one who stops his paper, because the ties that bind him to Canada have become weakened, another takes his place. This is unfortunately too true a type of the general state of depletion going on in the country, with more or less energy. We have also testimony from the Maritime Provinces of an undoubted character. The Messenger and Visitor, organs of the Baptists of the lower provinces, refers thus to the exodus:—

It is noticed that every steamer, and for that matter every sailing vessel, that leaves for Boston or New York, is overcrowded with Nova Scotians who have set their faces towards the great republic. Many of these are only going away to visit friends, and in the course of weeks or months will return to their native province. But others, and by far the largest number, depart to seek a permanent residence.

Of those who thus remove their power and influence from this land, a great many are members of our churches. The five Baptist churches in Halifax and Dartmouth must have several hundred members residing in Massachusetts, and every summer the number of non-resident members is largely increased. As these people are mostly the young and vigorous in whom we place the largest hopes for the future, their going away, to us, is something of a misfortune.

The same complaint might come from the organs of all the other churches. How is this undoubted exodus to be explained? There is no fault, which does not elsewhere exist, in the natural conditions of the country. Its climatic conditions and natural resources, the fertility of the soil, its religious and educational privileges, are equal to any country in the world. Even its form of government is unexceptionable, but it must be that the general administration of our affairs is of such a nature as to breed discontent. Burdensome fiscal laws, extravagant and reckless expenditures, a general saturnalia of political corruption are not conditions pertaining to a government which tend to increase the love of country in a people or a contentment with a lot in which incomparable natural advantages, and moral and educational privileges are neutralized, by madly reckless, and dishonestly inept and pernicious misrule and unreasoning extravagance.

Crop reports from all parts of Manitoba and the Northwest are alike in giving promise of a most abundant harvest this year. "Jubilant," applied to the farmer, and "magnificent," "splendid," applied to the present appearance of the crops, are the weakest words used to indicate the feeling of the farmer over his prospects and express the condition of the growing grain. The agricultural resources of the Northwest are inexhaustible, and if the country had been well governed, it would now be the happy home of millions, and supply the markets of Europe with the "finest of the wheat." But under the monstrous misrule of the present government the development of the country is inexpressibly retarded. Iniquitous maladministration of the land laws, unfair treatment of the settlers, railway monopoly, burdensome taxation on farmers' machinery and supplies, and the generation of an utter lack of confidence in the government to deal fairly with settlers, has had a deterrent and depressive effect upon immigration and settlement.

TOPICS FROM TORONTO.

TORONTO, June 14.

About 1200 carpenters came out on strike yesterday morning. Some forty of the bosses have, so far, acquiesced with the demands of the men.

The work undertaken by the Canadian Institute of forming a provincial Archæological Museum goes on apace. Mr. Boyle yesterday informed The World that he is in receipt of many communications from various parts of the country, giving information relative to interesting localities.

Last week he visited Welland County and succeeded in procuring a quantity of material that must prove of great value from a scientific point of view.

Early yesterday morning the body of a woman was observed floating in the Bay at the foot of Yonge-street. Esplanade Constable Williams, who was notified, had the body removed to the morgue. Up to a late hour last night it had not been identified.

A sub-committee of the Markets and Health yesterday decided to recommend for adoption in a bylaw: That auctioneers be required to give a bond to prevent the holding of fraudulent sales; that baptetlie tables in public places be taxed $10 each; bowling alleys $20 for each two beds and $5 for each additional, to be closed at 12 o'clock; billiard rooms to close at 10 on Saturday nights and 12 on other nights; cigar and tobacco stores, $4; cigar and cigarette stores $1; employment offices to be regulated; police to have power to enter suspected boarding-houses and prevent the immorality and the sale of liquor therein; milkmen to be charged a fee of $1, and the milk bylaw to be enforced.

A VALET'S NEGLIGENCE.

While Carelessly Handling a Revolver He Causes a Girl's Death.

HAMILTON, June 13.—A very painful accident occurred this morning at the residence of Mr. Edward Gillett, corner of Wellington and Stinson streets, by which Miss Beatrice Gillett received a fatal bullet wound in the right breast. Alfred Handcott, a 16-year-old lad employed by Mr. Edward Boyd who boards at Mr. Gillett's, was engaged fixing up his master's room, and in doing so took up a loaded 32-calibre revolver, which lay on the dressing-table, to dust it. While thus engaged Miss Gillett entered the room and addressed him. He turned around to reply, and as he did so the revolver discharged, the bullet entering the right breast of the unfortunate girl. She fell to the floor, bleeding profusely. Drs. Day, Smith, Mullin and Vernon were quickly in attendance. They found the bullet had penetrated about four inches, but succeeded in extracting it and stopping the flow of blood. Drs. Smith and Vernon were of opinion that the bullet pierced the right lung. Miss Gillett was a healthy girl of sixteen years and stood the painful operation very bravely. There were hopes that she would improve after the bleeding had ceased, but the contrary was the case, the girl dying during the afternoon. Young Handcott was nearly wild with grief when he saw what had occurred, and inquired anxiously for the patient after he had been removed from the house by the police who had been sent for. It is probable that an inquest will be held, and the boy will be held pending its result. He is an English emigrant, having been in this country a year, and in Mr. Boyd's employ about two weeks.

ON TRIAL FOR HIGH TREASON.

LEIPSIC, June 13.—The trial of the members of the Alsatian Patriotic League, on a charge of high treason for supporting attempts to separate Alsace-Lorraine from Germany, was begun here to-day. Judge Denkman, of the Imperial Court of Justice, presides, Procurator-Superior Tessendorf and Procurator Treplin conduct the prosecution. The prisoners are defended by a great array of distinguished counsel.

All of the accused, while confessing that they contributed to the funds of the Patriotic League, pleaded not guilty, contending that the league is not a secret society. They denied all knowledge of the design attributed to the league to reconquer Alsace-Lorraine by force.

APACHE INDIANS IN ARMS.

Many Braves on the Warpath and a Big War Expected.

TUCSON, Arizona, June 13.—The hostiles are supposed to be in the east end of the Santa Catalina mountains, as their signal smoke has been distinctly seen. Troops of cavalry are operating in that locality. Over 100 fighting bucks are out, all well armed. The chief of the Avarapia Apaches says there will be a big Indian war; more than 400 warriors would soon be in the field, all with good guns and plenty of ammunition. Nearly all of his young bucks have joined the hostiles. All of the mountains have been fired. The Indians say this was done to stop troops from using the heliograph signal flash. The crest of the Santa Catalinas last night was ablaze for fifteen miles.

The Hostiles Scattered.

BENSON, Ariz., June 13.—Lieut. Johnson's command surprised the murderous band of Apaches on the Rincon Mountains at noon on Saturday, capturing their baggage and horses. The Indians scattered among the rocks and will evidently try to make their way back to the San Carlos reservation. It is believed the hostiles are practically helpless in their present condition. The troops are still in sharp pursuit.

A NOTEWORTHY EVENT.

The Arrival of the First C.P.R. Steamer at Victoria, B.C.

VICTORIA, B.C., June 13.—The steamer Abyssinia, which left Yokohama, Japan, on May 20, is at this hour, 3.15 p.m., passing up the straits en route to Vancouver. She is the first of the steamers of the new Canadian Pacific line, which is to run between Hong Kong, Yokohama and Vancouver. She has twenty-one cabin passengers, eighty Chinese and 2,500,000 pounds of tea and other merchandise, making a full cargo.

LONDON, June 13.—In the House of Lords to-day the consideration of the Irish Land Bill in committee was finished, and the report state was set for July.

The Coke Barners' Difficulties.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 13.—A new feature of the strike in the coke regions to-day was the action of the owners of blast furnaces. They sent a committee to the members of the late syndicate and informed them that they would positively refuse to pay more than $1.50 per ton for their coke. They would keep their furnaces banked. This places the coke operators between two fires. They say it will be impossible for them to pay the advance in wages and then reduce the price of coke.

Trying to Break the Cotton Corner.

LONDON, June 13.—A majority of the cotton-spinners of Lancashire and Yorkshire approve the short-time project to counteract the Liverpool "corner." A number of mills are closing, apart from the movement from the spinners' association. The operatives' associations have passed resolutions expressing sympathy with the employers, and announcing their readiness to cooperate for the purpose of breaking the ring.

A Living Miracle.

"My infant daughter was taken ill with cholera infantum, the doctor said she could not live. The Rev. Wm. McWilliams would not allow her head to be lifted when he baptised her, she was so weak. BASEBALL YESTERDAY.

The Binns. Forfeit a Game to Rochester.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 13.—Binghamton forfeited the game to Rochester on a decision by McDonald. In the seventh inning two men had been retired and Kennedy was on second and Bakely at third, when Knowles hit a sharp grounder to Tomney. Just as Kennedy passed Tomney the latter fell to the ground, and Bakely and Kennedy crossed the plate. Tomney came in from the field and said Kennedy tripped him, but Umpire McDonald would not allow it. Binghamton then refused to play:

TROTTING AT WOODBINE.

A Couple of Matches Between Local Cracks—Scraps of Sport.

TORONTO, June 14.

A large assemblage of the sporting fraternity gathered at Woodbine Park yesterday afternoon, the attraction being a couple of match trots between local flyers. The first was between J. F. Scholes' black mare Sheia and Storey's bay gelding Dan O'Connell, half mile heats, the result of which was three straight heats for the Irishman. Jenkins, who drove the black mare, was taken down after the second heat and Peter Curran put behind her for the third, but O'Connell again finished in front, although it was the fastest and best heat of the race. The winner was driven by Johnnie Gillespie. The betting was even.

Match $200; half mile heats.

D. Storey's b.g. Dan O'Connell	1 1 1
J. F. Scholes' blk.m. Sheia	2 2 2

Time—1.17½, 1.16, 1.15.

In the second race J. Walford's grey colt Scotland and J. Cook's chestnut gelding Chestnut Billy were the contestants, both being even in the betting. The first, third and fifth heats were won by Chestnut Billy. In the fourth Jenkins, who drove Billy and had the pole, met with a accident; at the first turn his horse swerved and the wheel of the sulky caught one of the posts and threw Jenkins off, and the horse running away but was soon caught. Scotland went on and won easily. When it came to the fifth heat the Scotland party protested and claimed the race on the ground that Chestnut Billy was distanced. The judges, however, stated that on account of there being no distance flag Chestnut Billy was not shut out, and another heat would have to be trotted, which was the case and resulted in favor of the chestnut gelding. The judges, who were Messrs. J. Duggan, T. O'Connell and J. Kerr, have reserved their decision. It will probably be laid before the National Trotting Association to decide.

Match, $200; mile heats.

J. Cook's ch.g. Chestnut Billy	1 3 1 2 1
J. Walford's gr.c. Scotland	2 1 2 1 3

Time—2.46, 2.39½, 2.51, 2.39, 2.39½.

The Tax on Racing Associations.

ALBANY, N.Y., June 13.—Comptroller Chapin has issued notices to the treasurers of the various racing and driving associations in the state, notifying them that they are required to make a report to his department of their gross receipts upon each race day during the year. Upon these gross receipts the associations will have to pay a tax of 5 per cent., in accordance with the provisions of the Ives Pool Bill, which recently became law. The revenue so collected will form a fund which will be annually disbursed for prizes for improving the breed of cattle, sheep and horses at the various county fairs throughout the state.

Like Lightning.

The rapid action of the "great pain cure," Polson's Nerviline, in relieving the most intense pain, is a matter of wonder to all who have used it. There is nothing surprising in its results, for it is made of the strongest, purest and most efficient remedies known in medicine. Nerviline cures toothache instantly; cramps in five minutes; neuralgia after two applications; rheumatism is at once relieved by its use; and the same may be said of all kinds of pain. Sample bottles, costing only 10 cts. at any drug store. The large bottle only 25 cents. Polson's Nerviline sold by druggists and country dealers. 6dw24

Cholera Infantum.

That terrible scourge among children may be speedily cured by Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. All forms of bowel complaints, nausea and vomiting, from an ordinary diarrhœa to the most severe attack of Canadian cholera, can be subdued by its use. It is the best remedy for children or adults suffering from summer complaints. 2w24d

Perfume of a good name heralds the claim that Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor is a sure, certain, and painless remedy for corns. Fifty imitations prove it to be the best. At druggists. 6dw24

Clever Old Lady.

Mrs. Eliza Phillips, of Byron Centre, has commenced and finished a bedquilt of 2,340 pieces since the first of the year, and has run her house besides. She is 81 years old.

Miraculous.

"My Miraculous Cure was that I had suffered from kidney disease for about two years, was off work all that time." A friend told me of B.B.B., I tried it and am happy to say that I was cured by two bottles." Wm. Tier, St. Mary's, Ont. 2w24d

Hard on the Poetry.

An Omaha grocer gives away an original poem with every cake of soap he sells, but why he so discourages the sale of the soap is a mystery.

Nature Makes No Mistakes.

Nature's own remedy for bowel complaint, cholera morbus, cholic, cramps vomiting, sea sickness, cholera infantum, diarrhœa, dysentery and all diseases of like nature belonging to the summer season, is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry; which can be obtained of all dealers in medicine. 2w24d

The Other Side.

Francis Murphy, the reform lecturer, declares that $1 goes further now than it used to. Perhaps it does, but it gets there a good deal sooner.

Decoration Notes.

At the meeting of Otonabee Lodge of Oddfellows held last night, Mr. Harry Long of the jubilee decoration committee preferred the request of the general committee to the lodge to decorate their premises on June 21st. The congregation of St. John's Church have ordered a large 12 foot flag (Dominion) which will be first flung to the breeze on the morning of June 21st from the lofty tower of the church. South Ward Improvement.

The noble ward still leads the van; it contains the only square completely surrounded by boulevard. Monday the finishing touches were put on necessary to complete the entire enclosing line. Mr. T. Cahill began by putting down boulevard on both sides of his residence property, corner Reid and King. This spring Mr. John Fowler continued the good work by enclosing the front of his property, corner King and Rubidge. Mr. George Fowler continued it to the front of a lot owned by Mr. T. Cahill on Rubidge street. Mr. Cahill filled in this gap to the property of Mr. John Kelly by whom it has been continued along the Rubidge street front of his property, around the corner along Sherbrooke street till it meets that of Mr. Daniel Cushing who has continued it in front of his property on Sherbrooke and Reid streets to the property of Mr. John Kelly, who has extended it till it reaches the property of Mr. Cahill, thus completing the circuit of the square. The entire length of boulevard on this square is over 1,300 feet, and it makes a vast improvement, adding hundreds of dollars to the selling power of the property is enclosed. This evidence of enterprise should be an example to property owners in other parts of the town, who should be thereby incited to imitate so excellent a model. The gentlemen concerned, as well as the noble ward, are worthy of all praise for their taste and enterprise.

Jurors' Sittings of the Peterborough County Court.

The following gentlemen represented the bar: W. L. Payne, Colborne; A. M. Greer, Toronto; W. J. Carry, Millbrook; R. R. Wood, C. C. A., R. R. Rowe, G. Edmison, and C. W. Sawers, Peterborough.

GRAND JURY.

The Grand Jury was empanelled as follows:—

ANDREW MERCER, Foreman.
Cornelius J. Beagle,	Frank Bartlet,
Charles Bush,	James Charlton,
Thomas Charlton,	John Donaghin,
John Elliott,	George Forsyth,
Thomas Flood,	John Fairbairn,
John O'Grady,	Hamilton Humphries
Thomas Hetherington,	Timothy Hurley,
James Lowe,	Theodore Ludgate,
Edward Masood,	William Metheral,
Archibald McIntyre,	James McNeil,
Alexander Matheson,	Alex. McFarlane,
John Stark.

THE JUDGE'S ADDRESS.

His Honor in addressing the Jury made the customary remarks regarding the duties of the jury, and said he was of opinion that the necessity for Grand Juries, in this county at least, was past. He referred to Mr. Edgar's recent abolishment of the office of County Police Magistrate, and also to the fact that there was a police magistrate for the town, and as these magistrates always held a preliminary trial of all cases which come before the Grand Jury, the Jury simply reviewed the magistrate's work. Then the fact that at the last several courts the Grand Juries have had very little to do, adds force to the argument. It was a question which had been thought over a great many times. In these days if anything went wrong there were the newspapers to pounce upon them. In the old times before there were newspapers, or when such were very scarce, grand juries were certainly necessary, but His Honor thought their usefulness had departed. Referring to the vagrants confined in the gaol, he thought that all persons who were willing to work and earn a livelihood could do so. There was no need for vagrants at all. There were a number of insane persons in the gaol, which should not be, but as long as they were quiet they might as well be retained in the gaols, as the asylums were already crowded. Referring to the fact that this was the Jubilee year, His Honor said he had been looking up the meaning of the word and found it to be this:—The Jews of old celebrated the year following the seventh week of years (49th) by a general jubilee, one of their acts being the liberating of all slaves and the transferring of all lands which had changed hands in that time to their original owners. But these things were scarcely practicable in Canada (though the time was not long ago when slavery existed in Canada, and if any of the jury were curious enough they could go to their lawyer and get him to point out to this day in the Statute Book the law which embodied slavery,) and the English meaning of the word was, a year of rejoicing, and referred directly to the fiftieth year of the reign of Queen Victoria. His Honor closed his address by paying a high tribute to the Queen, not only for her honorable administration of her royal prerogatives, but for her pure, benevolent and Christian life in private. He then dismissed them to their duties.

After the petit jury had been enrolled, the first case was called.

WALSH VS HOWARD.

The plaintiff is the reeve of Asphodel and the defendant lives in Hastings. This action is brought to recover $400 damages for wrongfully depriving the plaintiff of the use of a horse. Some time in January, 1887, the horse in question was in possession of one Faux, a livery keeper, who was an execution debtor of the defendant. The defendant caused the bailiff to seize and sell the horse, which the plaintiff claims was his property. He claims to have bought the horse and to have let it on hire to Faux. The defence denies that plaintiff ever owned the horse in question, hence this action. E. B. Stone, Peterborough, for plaintiff; A. M. Grier, Toronto, and W. L. Payne, Colborne, for defendant.

There are two other cases on the docket:—Leary vs. Ball (Jury), and Stone vs. Traynor (non-Jury).

Remember Organ Recital, St. Paul's Church, Thursday, June 16th.

Jubilee Decoration.

There seems to be a prospect of most elaborate decoration of the town for the jubilee occasion. Arches of most surpassing beauty are to be erected at prominent points, and though the times are hard and money scarce there is no doubt the requisite amount will be forth coming. While the town and streets are being thus attended to the people themselves should not neglect their personal appearance. Now a chance offers by which with a trifling outlay a man can be clothed from top to toe at a nominal cost. Gough, the wonderful cheap man, has placed on the market, at his store, $18,500 worth of prime ready-made clothing bought at 40 cents on the $ and to be sold at the same reduced figures. Sit down and work out this fat thing—a $10 suit for $4, a $5 suit for $2, and so on through the entire list. Sign of the Quadruple Dudes, George street.

The First Rehearsal.

The school children turned out en masse at the first jubilee rehearsal last night. It was to have been held in the Parlor Roller Rink, but such a number had gathered and the evening was so warm, it was deemed advisable to hold the rehearsal in the Court House Park. Two columns were formed of the boys and girls, who walked to the park and surrounded the band stand like bees swarming about honey. Bandmaster Millar and Mr. Galletly led the singing, the former with his cornet. Mr. L. Seward was also present and took an interest in the proceedings. Three or four of the choruses were rendered, when the children were dismissed. Fully one thousand children assembled in the park. A more vigorous attempt should have been made to keep the children in order, but of course the few persons who conducted the rehearsal were not competent for the task, which would require herculean efforts on the part of a score of men. The rehearsal was satisfactory indeed, and showed what an interest the school pupils take in the affair. It was pleasing to note that there was a good sprinkling of large pupils among these present. Nearly a thousands musical programmes were distributed last night. Rehearsals will be held every afternoon this week, in the Parlor Roller Rink.

An Explanation.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—My attention has been drawn to an article in your paper of this date headed "Peter Hamilton Ahead." As there are many mis-statements in the said article I ask room in your columns to correct a few of them. Without noticing the statements made about his self-binder which are also false and misleading, I will proceed to detail the facts as they occurred in the so called "test" of his Riding plough with the Chilled Riding plough. In the first place there was no test proposed and there were no judges appointed except those who were self appointed. I do not know any person of the name of Joseph Byers or any other Byers and never met the man to my knowledge. I know there was a Mr. Reynolds (I don't know what his name is Joseph,) on the ground, but I am sure he will bear me out in saying that I never spoke to him appointing him the judge, and as there were no judges appointed, at least to my knowledge, I think it is only in justice to myself and the parties referred to as judges, that you should make a correction in this matter. I sell my Riding plough on its merits, and I hope Mr. Hamilton will do the same, and in order to settle this matter in an intelligible way I will make this offer which, if not accepted, will prove to the farming public that I have the best plough, and that is this, let each of us put $100 into the hands of a responsible person and I will then meet Mr. Hamilton on any field he may choose in this county, and if my plough does not beat his by doing better work, more of it, and drawing lighter than his, I will agree that he shall take the $200 and donate $100 of it to any charitable institution he may see fit, and should I win, I am to get the $200 and make a similar donation—each to work their own plough, or furnish one man to do so, or I will agree for each to be managed by a boy not more than fourteen years old. Each of us to choose our judge and these two to choose the third man. By inserting the above you will oblige,

Yours truly,
E. E. BOWIE.

Peterborough, June 9th, 1887.

P.S.—I have known Mr. Hamilton for 30 years and I feel confident that the article referred to was inserted without his knowledge.

Married at St. Luke's.

St. Luke's Church, Ashburnham, was last evening the scene of a very happy event, the occasion being the marriage of Mr. P. E. S. Cooper, of Port Hope, to Miss Emily L. McNab, of Ashburnham. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Cooper, of Lloydtown, Ont. father of the groom, assisted by Rev. Mr. Bradshaw. Miss McNeil and Miss Eva Burnham acted as bridesmaids, while Messrs. W. and V. Cooper supported the groom, their brother. The newly married couple left last evening for Toronto, whence they go to New York, and sail on Thursday for Australia, their new home. A large number of guests witnessed the proceedings. Mr. Cooper is well known in town, having been in the Bank of Toronto here until about six months ago, when he was removed to Port Hope. The newly-wedded couple have the best wishes of a host of friends for their unalloyed happiness and prosperity in the future.

Runaway Accident.

A serious accident occurred last Sunday near the Eson School house on the sixth line, Otonabee. As the family of Mr. John Lang, M.P., were proceeding to church in a democrat, the iron hook on the end of the pole broke, letting the vehicle down against the horses, one of which began kicking, while both ran furiously. This happened about midway up the hill, which, though not very steep, is long. In the rig were Mrs. Lang, three daughters, Mr. Ryan, the cheese-maker, and Mr. R. Tudhope, who was driving. The unmanageable brutes went down the hill at a furious rate, the end of the pole on the ground. Finally, near the foot of the hill, the end of the pole caught on something, smashing it in two at the middle, and, raising the carriage, flung it with all its occupants in a heap at the roadside. Strange to say, though all got a great shaking up—or down, rather—and were more or less cut and bruised, no one was dangerously hurt. No bones were broken and no internal injuries sustained, though Miss Agnes got a nasty cut on the cheek, and Miss Lizzie a scalp wound and some bruises. Mrs. Lang herself was the most seriously injured, one knee being badly sprained. The family physician was called at once, and all are doing well.

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorsewend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. Personal.

In Saturday's Mail is an illustrated sketch of the town of Carleton Place, Ont., including a biography of Mr. Robert Bell, a prominent citizen, and father of Dr. R. W. Bell, of Peterborough, as follows:—"One of the oldest families in the County of Lanark is that of the Bells, the first settler here of that name being Rev. William Bell, who came from Leith, Scotland, to this country in 1817, and who was afterwards pastor of the first Presbyterian church, Perth, for more than forty years. Robert Bell, the subject of this sketch, fourth son of Rev. Wm. Bell, was born in London, England, in 1809, educated in Perth; he entered mercantile life in that town, and in 1830 settled in Carleton Place, where, for thirty years, he conducted a successful business. Mr. Bell represented Lanark in the Parliament of Canada from 1847 until 1863, when he resigned. He has always been a Liberal and a free-trader. He was post-master of Carleton Place for twenty years; for many years in the municipal and county council, and was warden for two years. He was appointed inspector of canals in 1863, having the whole Dominion for his field. He held that office until about five years ago, when he was placed upon the retired list. Mr. Bell was for a long time connected with the militia; was major of a battalion at one time, and for many years has been lieut.-colonel in the reserve militia. A magistrate for fifty years; a school trustee for thirty-five years—being chairman for thirty-two years, a position which he still holds—an elder of the Presbyterian Church for nearly forty years; Col. Bell has led an active, laborious, useful and energetic life. This unwearying and excellent old gentleman has always been a lover of learning, and in the midst of all his duties has found time to keep himself posted in the progress of knowledge during his career. He has been pronounced a "walking encyclopedia," his general information being enormous. He has a wide acquaintance with science, his knowledge of botany being accurate and extensive. He has the largest and best chosen private library in the Ottawa valley, a magnificent collection of plants, and a garden of rare and interesting specimens of the flora of our country. Without an enemy in the whole community, with a kind word and a smile for all whom he meets, this worthy old Christian soldier and philanthropist pursues his useful course, a blessing and a credit to his fellow-citizens.

COMMERCIAL UNION

BEFORE THE TORONTO BOARD OF TRADE.

A Meeting at Which Three Hundred Importers, Merchants and Manufacturers Were Present—Mr. John Macdonald Offers a Resolution.

TORONTO, June 15.

Over 300 members of the Board of Trade filled every part of the floor of the rotunda of their building last night. The gallery was also utilized, and a large number of the members viewed the proceedings from that oval elevation. With the average merchant and trader there is no question before them to-day which possesses a livelier interest than commercial union. It is discussed on 'Change, in the clubs, in the counting-room, and even in the home circle.

Last night's meeting was the third held by the Board of Trade to discuss commercial union, and the gathering was much larger than any of the previous ones.

Doctor Smith and His Sewers.

Prof. Goldwin Smith occupied his favorite seat on the sofa in the northwest part of the rotunda, and not a yard away was his right and left commercial union bowers, Mr. Henry W. Darling and Mr. Mark H. Irish. Quite close to Mr. Darling was Mr. G. B. Smith, the mercantile representative of Rural East York in the Ontario Assembly, who, when he addressed the meeting, declared himself more of a loyal Canadian than a Britisher. Mr. Smith, however, was declared to be ambiguous in his subsequent remarks, so much so that Mr. William Thomson (hardware) was constrained to remark that it was hard to say which side he (Mr. S.) was on.

All of the branches of commerce represented in the Board of Trade were amply and freely distributed throughout the meeting.

Mr. W. D. Matthews, jr., First Vice-President of the board, occupied the chair in the absence of President Wm. Ince, who is in England.

The Chairman Declares Himself.

At exactly 7.55 Chairman Matthews sounded his gavel on the table and called the meeting to order. "The debates of the last two meetings," he said, "were considered of such importance that they were not only published in the Canadian newspapers but also in those of the United States. The agitation arose from the retaliatory legislation passed by the last session of Congress. That legislation affected Canada, and, strange to say, no agitation took place as to its results until commercial union was suggested. If the Toronto Board of Trade rejected commercial union at the present time it would be years before it would be brought about; and if it should be adopted and then followed by driving trade from Toronto and the ruin of our manufacturing industries throughout Canada, it would be disastrous."

Mr. A. M. Smith at this stage rose and said that the chairman was out of order in foreshadowing his own views.

Mr. Matthews: "I have said nothing which would indicate my position."

Beginning again in the same vein, he was a second time called to order by Mr. John Macdonald on the same ground. When he declared the meeting open for the purposes set forth in the notices sent out.

The Dry Goods King Opens The Debate.

After waiting about three or four minutes for some one to declare themselves, Mr. John Macdonald rose and said he had a resolution to offer the meeting. This resolution he read, and found a ready seconder in Mr. D. R. Wilkie.

Resolved, That this board desires to place on record its conviction that the largest possible freedom of commercial intercourse between our own country and the United States compatible with our relation to Great Britain is desirable.

That the board will gladly do everything in its power to bring about the consummation of such a result.

That in its estimation no treaty which ignored any of the interests of our country, or which gave undue preference to anyone to the neglect or to the injury of any other, is one that could be entertained.

That in our agricultural, our mineral, our manufacturing and our distributing mercantile interests, in our fisheries and forests, and other products, we possess in a rare and extraordinary degree all the elements which go to make a people great, prosperous and self-reliant.

That these are fitting inducements to any nation to render reciprocity with Canada a thing to be desired, and such as should secure for us a reciprocal treaty with the United states of the broadest and most generous character, which, while fully recognizing these conditions, would contain guarantees which would prove of mutual and abiding advantage to both nations.

But that this board cannot entertain any proposal which would place Great Britain at any disadvantage as compared with the United States, and which would tend in any measure, however small, to weaken the bonds which bind us to the Empire.

SPEAKING TO HIS RESOLUTION.

Mr. Macdonald, in speaking to his resolution, said that since the previous meeting of the board Mr. Wilman, a friend of his and a very clever man, had been in Toronto and given his notions about this question. In the first place that gentleman placed a very high estimate upon the capacity and ability of the merchants of Toronto, but he at the same time said that when he found this board reaching conclusions without full information he didn't think such conclusions would carry as much weight as it otherwise would. Their meaningless resolutions would have no effect on the public mind. The speaker thought it would be absurd to produce anything that snapped jaws of self-assumption than this allusion of Mr. Wilman.

FAIR PLAY FOR THE FARMERS.

As to the cry that had been raised that the merchants were inimical to the interests of the farmers, the speaker held that their interests were identical, and that no proposal would be acceptable to the Board of Trade in Toronto that would venture to make a suggestion that would be hurtful to our commercial interests. [Applause.] He was persuaded that our farmers had been deceived—that they had been misled. [Applause.] He disputed the assertion of Mr. Wilman that Canadian farmers would be handicapped by commercial union. From the report of the State Agent of New York of the United States Department of Agriculture he quoted as follows: "On the whole they (the farmers of New York) are more in debt than they were ten years ago. There are a large number of farms which were purchased ten years ago and mortgaged which would not sell now for more than the face of the mortgage, owing to the depreciation of the farming lands, which, on an average, is fully thirty-three per cent. in ten years. Probably one-third of the farms in the State would not sell for the buildings and other improvements, owing to the shrinkage. Thirty per cent. of the farms in the State are mortgaged, ranging from 10 per cent. of their value to 100 per cent., the average being 36 per cent. of their estimated value. Contrast with that official report this extract from a late report from the Ontario Bureau of Statistics: "The value of farm lands, buildings, live stock and implements, has increased during the past four years by more than one hundred millions, or 17 per cent."

THE CANADIAN FARMER FAIRLY PROSPEROUS.

The Canadian farmers, who are evidently prospering fairly well, are asked to give up the bird they have in hand to one in the bush, to relinquish the position under which they are growing rich to place themselves on a level with men who are growing poorer. [Applause]. I am prepared to take the position that our farmers will no longer be bond-winked; I am prepared to make the statement that our farmers are better off than the farmers of the United States; but if the farmers of this country wish reciprocal trade with the United States, don't let them suppose that there is one in this board that would do anything else than help them to secure anything they want to get. And I take the same position in reference to our manufacturers. They are doing well. They are not so old but the day will come when they will achieve the same results as the very best manufacturers of the States, and I want to take the same position in regard to our merchants. There are not so many millionaires here as in the States, but let us not forget that the true element of wealth is ability to pay one's obligations. Taking that as the standard of wealth I challenge Mr. Wilman or any one else to bring forward a class of men of higher character and greater ability than our Canadian merchants.

THE TRUE MEANING OF COMMERCIAL UNION.

I think our people are pretty well satisfied that commercial union is not going to benefit them. Our people are prepared for the largest measure of intercourse with the United States as a generous English-speaking people dwelling on our border, the largest possible amount of friendly interest compatible with the maintainance of our own self-respect and the duties which we owe to the British Government. [Applause.] But, sir, commercial union, such as we have here spoken about means entrangement in the first place, separation in the second place, annexation is the third place, which this board and which this country will never entertain. [Loud applause.]

Not a Disloyal Movement.

Mr. G. B. Smith spoke briefly as follows: If I supposed that the advocates of commercial union meant that it would interfere with our political economy, that it would interfere with the political destiny of this country, if it would interfere with our relations to the Mother Country, then I would say that that would be a bar to the question at the outset. To my mind our relation with England is settled by this one fact, and that fact is that our tariff excludes from this country all English manufactures, or nearly all, which can be produced in this country, and I suppose if there are any English manufactures which can be imported into this country, the tariff which is now being passed at Ottawa will finish the job, and very soon little or nothing will be imported which can be manufactured here.

That has been the course of our legislation during the past eight years. So that to say we are taking a step in the direction of disloyalty in seeking this legislation is entirely answered by the fact that there is nothing to legislate against. There is nothing left that we could import from the Mother Country that is not already barred out. That settles the question as to our connection with the Mother Country.

As to annexation: We have already had a reciprocity treaty which didn't lead to annexation. That is a very fair answer to this suggestion. I am not able to see that in the future of this country there is any danger in our having freer intercourse with our neighbors, either with reference to the products of the soil or the products of the farmer. Such freer trade would result in bringing numerous inhabitants into our prairies; this province would be benefited, the general wealth of the whole country would be increased. If it proves to have that result, if it peoples our prairies and makes us capable of producing more goods, then if the time arrives that we will not care to continue such freer trade we would be in a better position to trade with our own increased population. These are the questions that settle in my mind that there is no danger of annexation or of doing any harm to the Mother Country.

I favor the suggestion of Sir William Howland, who says we should not take down our tariff walls, but we should make arrangements with the people to the south of us to exchange our natural products and manufactures, or in other words to extend the former reciprocity treaty by including manufactures, keeping our present tariff, exchanging those goods free, and so far as our foreign goods are concerned, out of which we get our revenue, and so far as our excise duties are concerned, we would have that entirely in our own hands. We would not have to deal with any pooling question, we would still make our own tariff, maintain our identity, without there being any danger of annexation.

I don't believe the Yankees want anything to do with as politically. We have a better system of government than they have, and as a Canadian, I say we should maintain that to the end, and look forward to a great British-American confederation on this continent that we will be as proud of as the people to the south of us are proud of their country.

I have studied this question carefully and I have come to the conclusion that it is not going to be to the detriment of manufacturers at large, who will so shape themselves to the larger markets that they will produce more under the proposed changes than they do at present. Freer trade with the States would introduce a much desired reform in the matter of short and prompt payments by storekeepers, killing off those who have neither character or anything else. I believe the latrodaction of freetrade with the States will be of advantage to our merchants. So far as I am concerned, if this should be adopted next year I shall equip two travelers for Michigan, two for Ohio and two for Illinois. [Great laughter.] And if I cannot sell as much goods there as the Yankees will do in Ontario, then I will go out of the dry goods business altogether. [Laughter.]

I may now quote a few figures to show that those who think commercial union would depopulate Toronto are quite mistaken. Michigan has 56,000 square miles of territory with a population of 1,700,000, and possessing 12 cities of over 10,000 inhabitants, or altogether a population of 345,000 in those cities. Ontario (excluding the new territory) has 95,000 square miles, a population of 1,900,000, with 11 cities of over 10,000 people, the united population of these cities being 232,000. The State of Michigan is the worst one of the states with which a comparison with Ontario could be made, and yet it showed greatly in favor of Michigan and its cities. Taking Ohio, the comparison was still more favorable in support of the theory that free trade would not depopulate Toronto. That state with 41,000 square miles and a total population of 3,600,000 has twenty cities with a combined population of 984,000. That state is a very little older than Ontario and has had to fight against the competition of the New England States. These figures show Toronto will not be depopulated. We ought to discuss this question on the principle of the greatest good to the greatest number. One-half the people of Canada are farmers and one-quarter are engaged in pursuits entirely dependent on that class. So that in numbers and in the matter of protection they are to be considered first, and they are in earnest about this question, and they have only one opinion about it. They want to send their wool and cattle, barley and horses to the United States. To show what advantage this freedom of trade would be to the farmer I will take one article, viz., oats. Last year we exported to the States, free of duty, $1,730,000 worth, while our manufacturers was not more than one-half in excess of that. The barnyard fowls have produced two-thirds as much wealth for exportation as the manufacturers of this country have! Give our manufacturers a larger field and their exportations will increase likewise.

I have been looking into this question, and I have made up my mind it will be of advantage to us all round. We will double our population in ten years. I believe free intercourse as expressed in the resolution is the very thing needed. [Applause.]

There were several other speakers, but Mr. Macdonald and Mr. Smith were the leading men on the two sides and it is not necessary to enlarge on the others in detail.

A Sudden Wind-up.

It was now 11.35 and the meeting began to get noisy again. Many of the members wanted to go home, while others expressed a willingness to stay there all night. Mr. David Illsley declared that financial men were anxious to have the discussion in the Board of Trade closed as speedily as possible. He was in favor of adjournment, but not for two weeks. Mr. Barlow Cumberland represented that the board adjourn part, Mr. Darling's conveyance. Mr. H. [illegible] said the Board of Trade was being trifled with by this flippery and delay in coming to a final decision. Mr. Wm. Kennedy, jr., shouted to adjourn till this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock and then and there put an end to the fight. Mr. Darling said he was anxious that everyone should have a say that wanted one. He thought it would be better to adjourn.

Members began to struggle out, and as it became apparent that no more speakers would be listened to a motion to adjourn till to-morrow (Thursday) evening at 7.45 was put and carried.

No more important or interesting meeting of the Toronto Board of Trade has been held for many years.

REJOICING IN VANCOUVER.

ARRIVAL OF THE FIRST C.P.R. VESSEL FROM CHINA AND JAPAN.

A Quick Run From Yokohama, but the Captain Thinks the Voyage Will be Done in Much Shorter Time—The Cargo on Its Way East.

VANCOUVER, June 14.—The steamship Abyssinia, Captain Marshall, arrived at 9.30 last night, thirteen days, fourteen hours, from Yokohama. She lost considerable time by foggy weather nearly every day. She had twenty-two cabin passengers for Liverpool, New York and Eastern points. Her cargo consists of 3230 tons of tea, silk and curios for Victoria, Winnipeg, St. Paul, Chicago, London, Hamilton, Toronto, Montreal, Buffalo and New York.

The arrival of the pioneer vessel was joyfully celebrated. The city council was in session when word came that the steamer was coming up the bay, and the meeting was summarily adjourned, the mayor and most of the aldermen making their way down to the wharf, where hundreds had congregated. The city band also turned out, and marched down street playing lively airs. Ships in the harbor ran up their colors and every flag in the city was flying. As the evening were on and it began to get dark fireworks were sent up, bonfires lighted and the principal hotels illuminated. When it became known, however, that the vessel would anchor down the bay until daylight the crowd dispersed.

At daybreak the steamer came up to the pier, and at 6 o'clock stevedores went to work discharging her cargo, expecting to have the work completed in thirty-six hours. As every train load is ready it will leave immediately for the east, which will be at the rate of one every three hours. In the cargo are four chests of tea for Everett, Fraser & Co., New York. They will be sent through by express, and it is expected that the fastest time on record from Yokohama to the Atlantic coast will be made.

In speaking of the trip across Capt. Marshall said he thought it would soon be the favorite one for all travelers from China and Japan to Europe, as by taking this route the traveler would avoid the terrible heat that is experienced in taking the trip via the Suez Canal. He said that in a very short time vessels making the voyage in ten days would be crossing from Vancouver to Yokohama. This route was an important one and would soon take the first place. Vancouver had the advantage over San Francisco in the length of the voyage and a finer trip across the continent after it was over. The harbor he considers excellent and one of the best he has ever brought a vessel into.

AN INCURABLE MALADY.

The German Crown Prince's Case Considered Hopeless.

LONDON, June 14.—The Chronicle's Berlin correspondent emphasizes the recent adverse reports regarding the condition of the Crown Prince of Germany. He asserts that Prince Bismarck considers the Crown Prince's life doomed, and that the latter's family are prepared for the worst. The correspondent says he has heard that the real statement of Prof. Virchow was concealed; that the professor went to the palace and, with tears in his eyes, declared that his examination had led him to believe that the malady was incurable, and that the Prince's life was in danger.

A specialist has written to the Berlin Tagblatt saying that he believes that the case of the Crown Prince is a serious one, and that a fitting time for an operation is being allowed to pass, owing to fears for the result. It is necessary, he says, to remove the larynx, which is the only operation that can save the Prince's life, although it will deprive him of his voice. The specialist declares that if the affection were only a simple polypus matters would never have reached their present serious aspect.

THE COFFEE MARKET STRONGER.

A More Confident Feeling Among Brokers on 'Change.

NEW YORK, June 14.—The feeling in the street among coffee brokers is stronger this morning. Cables from Havre and Rio note increase of prices, standing at Havre 2 cents above the New York quotations and 6 cents above at Rio. A private cable dated at 10.30 gives an advance of 2 francs or 40 points. This tends to strengthen the feeling on 'Change.

Speculators and brokers from Baltimore and Philadelphia are flocking into the street to-day and a general feeling of suppressed excitement rules. Brokers are gathered together on the streets discussing the situation.

THE SHEPPARD WARRANT.

A Montreal Grand Jury Censures Our Magistrate for Not Signing the Warrant.

MONTREAL, June 14.—The presentment of the grand jury, at the Court of Queen's Bench, read this afternoon, concluded as follows: The grand jury wishes to draw the special attention of the Court to the fact of the refusal of the Police Magistrate of Toronto to endorse a warrant, issued by Judge Desnoyers, for the arrest of a person in that city. Such a failure of justice on the part of a public functionary in a sister province of the Confederation, with the evident object of protecting a criminal residing in that province, without the authorities meaning to pay the slightest attention to it, is extremely regretable, and will result in rendering the administration of justice between the two provinces almost impossible.

The Prince Returns by Another Way.

LONDON, June 14.—The Prince of Wales returned to London by way of Gravesend. He left the Norham Castle, the vessel carrying him, at Mouse light. The Norham Castle has not yet arrived.

The stables of the Lafayette Brewing Company, St. Louis, were burned yesterday morning; loss $18,000.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 15, 1887.

SIR RICHARD CARTWRIGHT asserted in his place in the House—and not being contradicted, which would have been had there been a ghost of a chance of its being done successfully, it can safely be assumed that he was correct—that out of their own official records the Dominion Government stood convicted of having so mismanaged the affairs of the Northwest in so scandalous a manner that over 100,000 settlers have been driven from the Northwest in five years. And no sooner does one of our public men or public journals call public attention to such a state of affairs than the "patriotic" howl is raised, foolishly as Sir Richard suggested on the principle involved in Dr. Johnson's remark —"patriotism is the last refuge of scoundrels."

SIR JOHN has laid himself out for another constitutional drubbing at the hands of Hon. O. Mowat, arising under the following circumstances: Some time ago the Crown Lands Department of Ontario sold a number of timber limits on the Georgian Bay. The purchasers during the ten or fifteen years they have held these berths have not developed them, but have held them for an increase in value, and this increase has now taken place. Three years ago the Dominion Government, without consulting the Ontario Government, laid out eighty square miles of this country as an Indian reserve limit, and then sold the pine on it to certain of their supporters. The treaty under which the limits were converted into Indian reserves was made in 1850, and there are no Indians to take possession of the land.

THE Helton County Farmers' Institute, a very strong representative body of agriculturists, at a meeting held at Milton on Friday, passed the following resolution, after an animated discussion :—

That in the opinion of this meeting a removal of all restrictions on trade between Canada and the United States is desirable on a fair and equitable basis, either by Reciprocity Treaty or otherwise as may be agreed upon by the Governments of Canada, Great Britain and the United States respectively.

President Valancy E. Fuller of the Central Farmers' Institute, in speaking to the motion, gave statistics showing that the Farmers of Canada had nearly a billion of dollars ($868,039,740) invested in their business and that they supplied about 44 millions of dollars of the total annual exports of the Dominion, amounting to about 82 millions. It will thus be seen that farmers have an immense amount of stake in the fiscal policy of the country. The discussion was of a non-partisan character, farmers of both political paths advocating Commercial Union with the United States. There was a general consensus of opinion that the farmers had long submitted to be sacrificed in the interests of the manufacturing classes, and that it was now time that the agriculturist should have a chance. The question of Commercial Union, if not at present a live political issue, promises to take a prominent place in the political discussions of the near future, and in all circles there is no doubt its merits and demerits will be fully and intelligently canvassed.

Speed the Plough.

To the Editor of the Examiner :

DEAR SIR :—I notice in your issue of Tuesday a lengthy communication] touching the relative merits of the Riding Plough made by me and the Cockshutt Riding Plough. The letter is of so puerile a character, and has so unbusiness-like a tone, that it does not seem to me to deserve the attention that a serious business announcement of an opposing establishment should properly command.

Like the writer of the communication, I sell not not only my ploughs but all my implements on their merits, and this being my busiest season, the extent of my patronage so engrosses my attention, that I have not leisure to attend to bluffing proposals to mix up business matters with any game of chance. Nearly thirty years dealings with the farming public on square and honest principles, have secured for my Agricultural Works and their output, a reputation for equitable dealing and substantial construction, which renders it unnecessary for me to resort to modes of advertising which commend themselves to concerns more recently and less securely established. In conclusion permit me to point out, that the people of this district, know me and where I am to be found, and when they purchase machinery from me they do so with a confidence begotten of past years of satisfactory dealing, and with the knowledge that, if by any accident any part of a machine gives out, it can be replaced without sending long distances to some outside Canadian establishment, an advantage more apparent in the harvesting season when farmers can't afford to wait a week for the missing part of machinery.

Yours truly,
PETER HAMILTON.

A REVISED TARIFF LIST.

A NUMBER OF CHANGES REPORTED BY THE FINANCE MINISTER.

The Supplementary Estimates—The Inauguration Question Causes Slight Trouble—The Cedardeah Award—Death of an M.P.

OTTAWA, June 14.—On motion to go into Committee of Ways and Means Mr. Mills asked whether the Government would be able to arrange for a discussion on Mr. Jamieson's amendment to the Canada Temperance Act.

Sir John said it could not be arranged until the Government work is further advanced.

Mr. Fisher wanted Monday fixed, believing that means should be taken to put down the lawlessness which, according to opponents of the Scott Act, prevailed in Scott Act counties.

Mr. Ives remarked that on two occasions the promoters of the measure had an opportunity to bring it before the House and had failed to do so and now, at the last end of the session, demanded that it should take precedence over other matters.

Mr. Curran asked if any change would be made in the customs laws as suggested by the Montreal Board of Trade.

Sir John said the matter was under consideration, but as it was very important it had been decided to defer action until next session.

The Montreal Cotton Company's case, of goods seized for undervaluation, was brought up by Mr. Falconer (Pictou), who spent a couple of hours over the matter.

Mr. Jones declared that the merchants of Montreal were all guilty of persistent undervaluation and charged that the Minister of Customs was unable to prevent it.

Hon. Mr. Bowell defended his department.

The Cedardeah Award.

The Public Accounts Committee met this morning; when the transfer of the rolling stock of the Onderdunk section of the Canadian Pacific Railway was fully gone into. Messrs. C. Schreiber, Chief Engineer of Government Railways, Smith and Haney were examined by Mr. Mulock, M.P.

From the evidence of the former it seems that the award made to Contractor Onderdunk by the official arbitrators on account of the transfer was $72,555. This amount was not accepted, Onderdunk claiming that it was inadequate. An attempt to get the arbitrators to reconsider their award was then made. Two members of the board refused to reopen the case, but the other canvassed, paying British Columbia a visit for the purpose of obtaining further evidence. The award made by this latter arbitrator for about $120,000 was paid over to Mr. Onderdunk as a settlement in full, with the exception of an allowance for expenses of a couple of thousand dollars to the arbitrator.

PANIC IN THE WHEAT PIT.

Chicago Operators Have a Most Exciting Day.

CHICAGO, June 14.—The calm of yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade was followed by a whirlwind of excitement this morning. Traders had fuel nicely caught their breath and trimmed their nerves after the break of Saturday, when the second cyclone came. It was the wheat pit scare of Saturday enlarged and intensified. The liberal taking of July wheat yesterday by the clique made that future steady at or about 84 cents per bushel. Outside traders talked themselves into the belief that the combination permitted the sharp decline on Saturday for that purpose and that they were about to buy up July wheat as they have already done May and June. Many became "tailers," the scalpers became bears and it looked as if the world were past and that the lowest point for July had been reached, when the 3 cent drop of Saturday happened, that the outside forces were at work in the bears—thousands of cars standing on side tracks, elevators all filled to bursting, tremendous receipts reported, and everything pointing to more wheat and millions more in sight. Such was the situation when the traders went on 'Change this morning.

For the first offerings of July wheat there were no takers. It was offered under the supposed market, but still there were no takers. The fears that took hold of the bulls at the close of last week made them sellers. The uproar grew intense in the wild effort to sell wheat. July dropped from 83½c to 83c, while men were thinking what to do. Everyone wanted to unload, but no one wanted wheat. In less time than it takes to tell the story July wheat was offered at 81c, or 2½c less than the highest price yesterday. It was a short panic, but terrible in its effects on the men. Traders trembled out of the pit dripping with perspiration and weak from excitement. There was talk of failures, but none were announced to add to the feverish condition of things.

Then for an hour there was a slight rally, and the leading future sold up 82½c. This was but a lull in the storm. At 11 a.m. the indicator for July showed that it was again selling down, and in 15 minutes it was offered at 79c, 4½c below the opening an hour before.

Then came the third tumble at the noon hour, and July wheat sold down to 76½c, or 7½c below the opening price. The engine board was [illegible] then a pandemonium, and the [illegible] it fast retribution on the bull-ish wheat manipulators.

Rumors reached here that there was a run on the bank in Cincinnati, where the headquarters of the "longs" are supposed to be situated. Margins were freely called and heavy deposits demanded. The Chicago banks, it was said, refused to advance any more money on wheat, and late in the session it was stated that the checks of some of the parties interested on the "long" side had been refused.

At 12.30 came the startling announcement that all persons having trades with Rosenfeld & Co., one of the clique houses, should close them at once. The uproar had not subsided when July wheat took the fourth and worst turn of the day and dropped for a moment to 76c, and closed the morning session at 74½c.

Excitable was expected on reopening at Kershaw's and the crowd was ready for anything short of an earthquake. Throngs of people poured in from the streets and the gallery was filled with an excited throng of men and women. It was a morning session to be remembered as long as wheat grows.

The intermission at 1 o'clock gave the members a chance to catch their breath, and when the afternoon session was called the excitement had somewhat abated.

At 2.30 o'clock it was officially announced that E. W. Bailey & Co. and Fairall & Brien requested all parties having trades with them to close them out at once. The effect of this announcement was made July wheat dropped to 73½c, but soon went back to 74c.

Five minutes later Secretary Stone rapped the tumultuous crowd to order and read the following from the leading clique house of C. J. Kershaw & Co.:

"We have assurance that margins and ample funds will be forthcoming by to-morrow morning, and we request that no trades be closed out."

The announcement was received with cheers, and in a few minutes July wheat was selling at 76½c. The lowest figure touched by July wheat during the day was 10½c under yesterday's close. Although the chief excitement of the day was in July, yet June wheat sold with the wildest fluctuations from 92c down to 90c, up to 91c, and then by jumps down to 73c, when a slight reaction occurred. The lowest figure touched by June was about 20c under yesterday's closing price. June closed at 74½c. The deferred futures declined less sharply, but during the morning dropped about 2½c for August and September.

New York Market Affected.

NEW YORK, June 14.—The news of the failure of Morris Rosenfeld & Co., the Chicago wheat speculators, reached this city this afternoon and caused a sensation in wheat circles. When the telegram was read on the produce exchange announcing the collapse of the firm a considerable amount of wheat was offered and the bears bore down the market. In a few minutes wheat was selling at a rapid decline.

For some time New York brokers and speculators have believed that the collapse of Morris Rosenfeld & Co. was imminent owing to their reckless speculations, and in consequence today, when the news of their failure reached here there was little surprise.

Morris Rosenfeld, head of the Chicago firm, entered the grain business two years ago. Previous to that he had inherited, by the death of a wealthy relative in California, the sum of $1,000,000. He soon after made heavy speculating and was so successful that he decided to start in business for himself. In his endeavor to control the wheat market he over-reached his resources and collapsed.

Wheat continued nervous throughout the day, the extreme decline being 4½c on July. June came next with a break of 3c, and on later months there was an irregular decline of 1c to 1½c. The option dealings reached nearly 30,000,000 bushels, the largest ever recorded.

Failures at Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, June 14.—The sudden drop in wheat at all the grain centres causes intense excitement on 'change to-day. Three failures were announced, viz.: Frank Wilson, Jos. Wikle and Hill, Fleitzheim & Co., the latter being the Milwaukee branch of C. J. Kershaw & Co., Chicago. Hooker, Cottenden & Co. closed out all their trades. Their failure depends on the ability of the Kershaw crowd to meet all their obligations.

Cholera Infantum.

That terrible scourge among children may be speedily cured by Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. In Silent Protest.

LONDON, June 14.—In the House of Commons to-night a number of scrappy amendments were offered to the Coercion Bill and rejected, the ministers treating each in the curtest manner and the Liberal leaders refraining from speaking. A result of this absence of plan of attack will be that some of the worst proposals of the bill will escape amendment.

Like Lightning.

The rapid action of the "great pain cure," Polson's Nerviline, in relieving the most intense pain, is a matter of wonder to all who have used it. There is nothing surprising in its results, for it is made of the strongest, purest and most efficient remedies known in medicine. Nerviline cures toothache instantly; cramps in five minutes; neuralgia after two applications; rheumatism is at once relieved by its use; and the same may be said of all kinds of pain. Minister, as a class, are afflicted with throat troubles and Catarrh seems more prevalent than ever. We cannot recommend Ely's Balm too highly. ea6w24

The new tariff, which takes effect to-day, includes an advance in duty of from 5 to 50% on all kinds of crockery, glassware, silver knives, etc. All new goods must pay this advance. Drinking Fountain.

A citizen enquired of us why the memorial drinking fountain in the Central Park is not put into operation. If not intended for use it is certainly not, he thinks, qualified as an ornament, and should be removed. A different view of the matter would probably be taken if the water was turned on. The Water Works Co'y had better take this into consideration, and fulfil their part of the contract.

A New Elevator.

The Dickson Estate Company have begun the erection of a 100,000 bushel elevator for Meldrum Davidson & Co., on the north side of their mill, convenient to the projected railway spur which is to run in front of the manufacturing establishments along the Dickson race.

Trent Valley Canal.

The supplementary estimates for 1887 were brought down yesterday, and it is needless to say that not one dollar is appropriated for the completion of this public work. The general impression is that the late engineer has been successful in killing the project.

Bound to Lead.

Mr. W. M. Fair has purchased another Clydesdale stallion,—"General Lee," a three-year-old colt, imported by John Millar and Sons, Brougham, Ont. He is said to be the best colt yet brought to this part of the country. "General Lee" will take "Dollar Boy's" route for the balance of the season.

Pulled his Whiskers.

At the police court this morning Mr. Henry Wills charged Mrs. Ellen Waghorn with having pulled his whiskers. It seems that Mr. Wills entered the premises occupied by Mrs. Waghorn, whose landlord he is, to cut some grass in the front yard, about which a dispute arose, resulting in an attack upon Mr. Wills by his tenants. The defendant was fined $1 and costs.

A Youthful Thief.

James Barry, a 14-year-old youth, was arrested in Toronto yesterday on the strength of a telegram from Peterborough charging him with the larceny of a watch from an employee of the Oriental hotel. He was brought to town to-day by Acting Chief Adams. He is a Scotch lad, not long out of the Marchmont Home. He sold papers for a living in Toronto.

A Grand Jubilee Event.

It has been found necessary to use the Lansdowne Skating Rink for the rehearsals of the school children who are to sing on Jubilee day. Yesterday afternoon another rehearsal was held, and similar ones will take place every afternoon this week. Teachers are particularly requested to accompany their pupils and participate in the singing. This will be the grandest feature of the day's proceedings.

A Big Deputation.

The special C. P. R. sleeping car "Peterborough" conveyed as many as could crowd into it of the deputation appointed to wait upon the Government regarding the Trent Valley Canal, to Ottawa Tuesday night, the remainder taking other coaches. About thirty delegates boarded the train at Peterborough, while a great number more went by other lines. To-day (Wednesday) the interview with the Government takes place.

Baseball Topics.

The baseball match arranged between Peterborough and Cobourg clubs at the latter place for to-morrow (Thursday) has been declared off for the reason that the steamer can not be engaged for that day to run an excursion, and otherwise the club would have to lose a couple of days for the match. The Peterboroughs go to Lindsay instead. A match has been arranged with the Port Hope team at that place on the morning of July 1st. Campbellford and Uxbridge clubs have also written for matches on the 21st, but these cannot be arranged. Belleville is about the only club in the district not in correspondence with the Peterboroughs.

Gored by a Steer.

Monday afternoon Mr. Geo. Wainright, town, was driving in a troublesome steer purchased from an Ennismore farmer, and when between the cross and the bridge the animal took refuge in a fence corner. Mr. Wainright undertook to drive it out, when the vicious brute rushed upon him and in a trice had gored him in a vital part, making a painful and dangerous wound. The infuriated beast then attacked the horse and inflicted some ugly injuries about its legs. The horse is now under Dr. Stephenson's care. Mr. Wainwright was brought to town and under the treatment of Dr. Halliday is progressing favorably. Tuesday afternoon another effort was made to drive the fractious steer to town, but its obstinacy could not be overcome, and it was killed on the spot.

Our Member and the Scott Act.

Mr. James Stevenson, member for West Peterborough, voted for the repeal of the Scott Act, in favor of prohibition, and against the wine and beer amendment in the House Monday evening. Rev. W. W. Carson, of the Dominion Methodist church, Ottawa, on Sunday evening last during the course of a sermon on Prohibition, took occasion to glorify Sir John Macdonald as a "silver-haired statesman," and to hope that he would crown his "illustrious career" by giving the country a prohibitory liquor law. On Monday night Mr. Carson sat in the Speaker's gallery and saw Sir John Macdonald vote for the repeal of the Scott Act, for wine and beer and against Prohibition. Some of the Liberals took advantage of his presence to send him a note by one of the pages asking him for his then opinion of the "silver-haired statesman." The temperance men who voted against Mr. Cox at the recent election and in favor of the great temperance advocate, (?) Sir John, are no doubt able to satisfy their own consciences that they did what was right. Consistency, thou art a jewel!

Honor to Whom Honor is Due.

The Friends of Mr. C. A. Lawford Tender Him a Complimentary Supper.

It having become known throughout the town that Mr. C. A. Lawford, teller in the Bank of Montreal here, was soon to locate in Calgary, N.W.T., his many friends in town decided to tender him some mark of their esteem and regret at his departure in the near future. Accordingly about 25 young men assembled at the Oriental Hotel last evening, where mine host McIntyre had prepared a delectable repast, to which ample justice was done. Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., occupied the chair, and Mr. A. St. A. Smith, the vice-chair. The guest of the evening, Mr. Lawford, sat at the right hand of the chairman.

After the viands had been partaken of, the usual toasts were begun by the chairman proposing that of the "Queen, Prince and Princess of Wales, and the other members of the royal family, to which the company sang the National Anthem enthusiastically.

After "The Governor-General and Lieut.-Governor," which was also vigorously responded to by a chorus "They're Jolly Good Fellows," the "Army and Navy of Great Britain, and the Canadian Militia," elicited a military song from Mr. Ardagh, rendered with much spirit, and a humorous recitation from Mr. H. L. Kirby, "Dumas Britain."

"Our Guest" was proposed by the chairman, who expressed regret that Mr. Lawford had taken Horace Greeleys' advice literally and was going west. He referred to Mr. Lawfords' connection with athletic sports in Peterborough, in which he had ever been a shining light, and had always been a "teller" whenever he appeared on the field of sport. In his connection with the bank he had ever been obliging and courteous, and the speaker hoped that in his new field of labor he would continue to rise and realise his utmost expectations. He hoped that although distance would separate them that all would be united for each others welfare, and live in hope that at some future date we would again have the pleasure of giving "our guest" a hearty welcome back to Peterborough.

Mr. Lawford briefly replied, thanking them for the honor shown him, and for all their kindnesses to him in the past. He hoped he would find as many warm friends in the North-west as he left behind in Peterborough. (Applause). He also expressed the hope of visiting Peterborough again at a not very distant date. He was enthusiastically applauded upon resuming his seat.

Then came the toasts in general, which were responded to as stated below, all the speakers referring feelingly to Mr. Lawford's many good qualities and expressing intense regret at his departure. Wishes that he might soon be able to return to Peterborough with a wife by his side were numerous. Reference was also made to the sorrow existing among the ladies of the town over Mr. Lawfords' leave-taking, among whom he was a prime favorite.

The vice-chairman proposed the following toasts:—

The Mercantile and Manufacturing Interests of Peterborough, coupled with the names of Mr. Bain, Mr. Macfarlane Wilson and Mr. Ruf. Stevenson, all of whom made happy speeches.

"The Learned Professions" elicited an appropriate response from Mr. E. D. H. Hall.

Mr. C. H. Clementi proposed the "Banking Interests." Responses were made by Mr. A. St. A. Smith in a neat little speech, a song from Mr. J. Morris, Mr. T. G. Hault-tain a few remarks, Mr. Ardagh a song, and Mr. D. Barrit's colloquial contribution concluding the responses.

"The Insurance Interests" proposed by Mr. Hall, brought to his feet Mr. E. K. Henderson. Mr. Henderson's little "say" excited much interest.

"The Ladies, God bless 'em," by the chairman, elicited blushing disavowals of all knowledge of the fair sex from all the young bachelors about the festive board. Messrs Kingan, Choate and Roper though responded happily, the entire company uniting in quaffing an extra draught in honor of the ladies.

After "the Press" had been proposed and responded to, a determined and successful effort was made to draw a speech from "Cope" Clementi. So far he had warily avoided all traps laid for him, but at last the "Civil Service", proposed by Mr. Henderson, caught him, and "Cope" happily responded. Mr. D. Barrit also replied to the toast.

"Our Host and Hostess," was followed by the National Anthem, and the party broke up at an early hour, filled with joviality tempered by a sense of deep regret at the near departure of one who was so popular among all his acquaintances.

Mr. Lawford leaves as soon as a substitute arrives to take his place in the Bank here.

Graduation Exercises.

At the Peterborough Business College.

At 8 o'clock, Tuesday night, the students and their friends assembled at the College, corner Hunter and George Streets, to witness the closing exercises of the spring term.

There were six candidates for graduating honors, as follows:—Charles Russell, Harriette Reid, Leslie Law, Moses Ruth, Arthur Stewart and Thos. J. Crowe.

Mr. Charles Russell, who had previously completed the theoretical course and had taken charge of the College in Port Hope, graduated Tuesday night with the highest distinction. He took 3120 marks out of a possible 3200. His term average was 99% and his graduating percentage was 96. He has completed a most thorough course and is deserving of highest congratulation, especially when we recall the many clever and distinguished graduates who have preceded him. He also won the General Proficiency Prize and was the valedictorian.

Following is the standing of the class:

Name.	Term.	Final Standing.	Grade of Cert'f.
Charles Russell	1600	1440	A
Harriette Reid	1479	1290	B
Leslie Law	1447	1290	B

Mr. Mort. Kincaid, son of Dr. Kincaid, after a two years absence from town, during which time he has done considerable travelling, returned home on Monday. Mort. brought with him a number of interesting mementoes and curiosities of foreign lands.

Mr. Cameron, of the firm of Cameron, Holt & Cameron, Barristers, Goderich, is in town on business connected with the firm.

Cards Solicited.

The committee appointed to canvass the town for prizes for the athletic sports on Jubilee day, are at work, but as they cannot see every loyal person in town in the short time at their disposal, they would be obliged if all who would like to contribute something for that purpose would apprise them of the fact at once, and not wait to be called upon. The committee are Messrs. W. Brandrette, I. Richardson and F. W. Miller.

LEARY VS BELL.

Thos. Leary, Peterborough, sought to recover from Reid Bell, of Cavan, the price of drilling a well on the latters premises. It is mutually agreed that a contract was made for the plaintiff to receive 75c. per foot for drilling the first 60 feet, and $1.50 per foot after that. The plaintiff claims that after 91 feet had been drilled he notified the defendant that a vein of coarse sand had been encountered, which rendered a good well practicable at that depth, giving a head of 10 feet of water. To this the plaintiff claims, the defendant replied that he wanted from 18 to 20 feet of a head, and urged the plaintiff to continue the work and he would bear the expense. This the defendant denied having said. The plaintiff drilled 103 feet, when a vein of fine sand was struck and the defendant requested the plaintiff to draw up the valves to a higher point. In the attempt to do so the tubing broke and the well was rendered worthless. The defendant refused to pay anything for the work, and the plaintiff sued him for $170.35. Geo. Edmison for plaintiff; J. W. Curry, of Millbrook, for defendant. A verdict was rendered for plaintiff for $130.

THURSDAY, JUNE 16, 1887.

LEGISLATORS VERY BUSY.

THE OTTAWA HOUSE RUSHING BUSINESS THROUGH.

Prorogation Will not Take Place Until Next Week—Sir John Macdonald Laughs at the Reports that He is About Retiring From Politics.

OTTAWA, June 15.—When Sir John Macdonald appeared in the House to-day the long fight between the Browns and the Grays came to an end. He had finally discarded his pepper-and-salt compromise between the two factions and appeared in the suit of clothes that were manufactured for him in London in 1860. They are of an uncompromising gray in color, and the coat is after the Newmarket species, with a wide turn-over collar and long tails. Thus attired, and with the addition of the well-known necktie, the Old Chieftain looked as young as any of them, and certainly seems to stand the heat better than many of the younger men, for it is very hot here. The climate of Ottawa is torrid, with a tendency to break out into a rash. Stout legislators like Dr. Montague and Alonzo Wright laid the lean earth as they pass to and fro from Capital Hill, while all kinds seek relief in light attire and lemonade. Adam Brown, in a white linen coat and white plug hat, looks the airiest man in the House, though his laughter was turned to groaning to-night when he got into full dress to attend the state ball at Rideau Hall.

But although the heat is great it has no deterrent effect upon the avidity with which Parliament is rushing through the work. A desperate effort is being made to get through by Saturday, without much chance of success, however.

To-day Mr. Costigan introduced a bill to amend the General Inspection Act. The bill relates to the grading and inspection of flour and is introduced in obedience to the wishes of the different Canadian Boards of Trade.

Forty-four questions by members in the order paper were cleared off. Among the more important were the answers: That there are eighteen colonization companies in actual existence in the Northwest and seven that have ceased operations. That the commanders of the fisheries protection vessels were given certain confidential instructions which will remain secret for the present. That Col. Bergin is still Surgeon-General of the militia, but has no duties at present and receives no pay. That the section of railway between Kamloops and Port Moody has been conveyed to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, in accordance with the conditions of the syndicate contract. That Col. Gray, of the Toronto Field Battery, has not been appointed to the command of "C" Battery of artillery. That several conversations have taken place regarding the purchase of the Intercolonial Railway between the Government and persons who expressed a wish to buy; a partial offer had been made, but no result had been reached, and the incomplete offer was still before the Government.

Mr. Patterson (Essex) asked a question of some importance. He enquired: "Is the Government aware that attempts are being made on the part of the United States authorities to enforce their act to prohibit the importation and emigration of foreigners and aliens under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, as against Canadian citizens resident in our border towns but engaged throughout the day in the adjacent cities of the United States, and if so, what course does the Government propose to take for the protection of our citizens or for the prevention of the competition of residents of the United States with our workingmen in Canada."

The matter is under the consideration of the Government and some definite line of action will be decided upon at an early day.

Before proceeding to the orders of the day Sir Richard Cartwright, as the senior Ontario member of the Advisory Committee, referred to the death of Mr. Campbell of South Renfrew, and in fitting terms expressed the high appreciation in which the deceased was held by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. Sir John spoke in even stronger terms of respect and esteem, and Peter White also spoke a few words in the same strain.

By the way, upon such occasions, when testimony of respect is being paid to the memory of a departing colleague, if members of the House would remove their hats it wouldn't hurt the departed and would look nicer.

The balance of the afternoon was taken up with the bill of the Minister of the Interior to amend the Dominion Land Act. All that was wanted was a slight amendment in the matter of leas on homesteads.

After recess, the House finally disposed of the following private bills: Nipissing Boy Railway and Steamship Company, Western Counties Railway Company, Guelph Junction Railway Company, Ontario and Pacific Railway Company, Canada Atlantic Railway Company, Manitoba South Western Colonization Railway Company, St. Martin's and Upper Island Company, Primitive Methodist Colonization Company, South Ontario Pacific Railway Company, South Norfolk Railway Company, Tecumseh Railway Company, Berlin and C. P. Junction Railway Company, Eastern Canada Loan and Savings Company, Empire Printing and Publishing Company and Respecting the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

The Neal, Meatath and Riddell divorce bills were passed without discussion. The Susan Ash divorce bill raised an hour's debate, there being a question whether a divorce in Massachusetts should be recognized in Canada. There was a general impression, however, that aside altogether from the foreign divorce, Susan Ash was entitled to separation and the bill carried on a division by 94 to 42.

About a dozen Senate bills were passed through and the Government orders were taken up.

The Oxford Junction and New Glasgow Railway Bill and the act respecting the Department of Customs and Inland Revenue were disposed of. A dozen Government Bills were advanced a stage and the House rose at 9 o'clock.

Archbishop Fabre Going to Rome.

MONTREAL, Que., June 15.—Archbishop Fabre will proceed to Rome to lay certain important questions before the Holy See.

THE BIG DROP IN WHEAT.

IT MAKES CHICAGO OPERATORS HOLD THEIR BREATH.

The Failures of Several Firms Reported—The Chippe Firm Which was Crippled by the Turn-over Said to be Able to Meet Liabilities.

CHICAGO, June 15.—When the Board of Trade opened this morning everybody was on the qui vive for developments and while the excitement did not run as high as yesterday, the feeling was far more nervous and feverish. The uncertainty of the financial standing of some of the houses was what caused the great anxiety and as one firm after another, some twelve to fourteen in all, gave notice that they were unable to further manage their trades and asked to have the trades closed out, the anxiety increased, none knowing who would be next. Outside influences counted for nothing, everything depended on local developments. Many commission merchants have refused temporarily new trades and are giving all their attention to the settling up of their old business.

The opening was wild and excited and as the announcement was made by one of the principal firms connected with the long side that all margins would be put up, the market became very strong and prices were, after numerous sudden fluctuations, started up, advancing to a point 2½c higher for June, 1½c higher for July and 1c to 1½c higher for other futures than the closing figures of yesterday. Then came announcements, one after another, from firms to close out their trades and a panic quickly followed.

Fluctuations were very frequent, but each temporary reaction resulted in prices dropping lower and lower until toward noon, when there was a temporary lull and the market ruled steady for a while. Operators expected some further important announcement and for five minutes a deathlike stillness reigned, but in this short interval the hands of the wheat indicator quickly recorded a drop of 1c and 1c at a time, until July touched 76c.

Never before in the history of the wheat trade had such an appalling stillness reigned, with wheat dropping three cents in less than that many minutes. Operators gazed blankly at one another, not knowing where the end would be, but the reaction came and the price of July gradually shot up 1½c and 1c at a time, selling to 78c, followed by numerous fluctuations.

The decline of July from the highest point to-day was 6c and from the highest point reached last week 17½c, closing about 2½c lower than yesterday's closing. June declined 9½c from the highest point reached this morning and 8½c from the highest point reached last week, closing 4½c lower than yesterday. The more deferred futures ruled a premium over near futures, but all sold lower, August at times ruling 4c, September 3½c and December 1½c lower than the closing figures of yesterday afternoon and closed from 1½c to 3c lower.

Soon after the opening President Wright announced the suspension of three small firms, viz.: J. W. Yeoart & Co., J. B. McCleary, and S. C. Orr. The suspension of these firms did not cause any excitement as they were in no way identified with the clique.

No Failures in New York.

NEW YORK, June 15.—Though the panic in wheat in Chicago created tremendous excitement on the New York Produce Exchange, none of the home firms have gone under. Many of the Chicago failures have caused serious losses here, but the fact that the day passed, with all its excitement, without a suspension has in itself helped to busy confidence.

A Failure at Duluth.

MILWAUKEE, June 15.—A special from Duluth reports the failure of Arthur Waters & Co., one of the most prominent grain firms there. Other firms are reported in a shaky condition.

The Kimball Complaint Dismissed.

MONTREAL, June 15.—Judge Mathieu to-day, without leaving the bench, dismissed the case of Kimball v. The City, an action to recover $2000 lost by the plaintiff through the embargo put on the horse trade by the United States on account of an alleged false report of the Montreal Medical Health Officer. The plaintiff had suffered damages, but these were brought on directly by the embargo and not by the report.

THE TRIAL OF JAKE SHARP.

NEW YORK, June 15.—The story telegraphed from Montreal last night about Billy Moloney's disappearance did not seem to disturb the equanimity of Jacob Sharp or counsel for either side to-day. Sharp's counsel smiled at the suggestion that Moloney is coming or is here, and Mr. Temple, of the prosecution, said the prosecution has not secured Moloney, does not expect to secure him and, more than that, he is not needed.

The work of filling the one vacant seat in the jury box was completed. The jury was then sworn, the defendant, Sharp, standing during the ceremony at the request of the court and gazing upon the jury. The whole number of jurors called has been 2165; 1293 of these have been examined, 34 chosen, 29 challenged by the defense, 15 by the prosecution and 7 were excused by the court.

Mr. Nicol made the opening address and Mr. Sharp was then committed to the custody of the sheriff. He will be permitted to go home under guard of a number of deputies.

THE TRIALS AT LEIPSIG.

The Taking of Evidence Against the Accused Concluded.

BERLIN, June 15.—The evidence taken yesterday in the trial at Leipsig of the members of the French Patriotic League, who are accused of high treason, showed that Block, one of the prisoners, had donated largely to the Republique Francoise's fund for the erection of a monument to Gambetta.

The taking of evidence against the accused was concluded to-day. Rembert, another of the prisoners, admitted that he had contributed to the funds of the Patriotic League, but denied that he was aware that the objects of the League were illegal. Another of the accused pleaded that he only gave the League ten francs in order to obtain medals. A police inspector deposed that it was a Frenchman who divulged the names of the members of the League to the German authorities.

THE FORESTERS' HIGH COURT.

The Election of Officers and the Adjournment of the Annual Session.

BERLIN, June 15.—At to-day's session of the Foresters' High Court the following officers were elected:

R.W.H.C.R., Robert Elliott, Listowel, (re-elected); R.W.H.V.C.R., E. Towe, London; R. W.H. Secretary, Thos. White, Watford; R.W. H. Treasurer, John Woodside, Wingham, (re-elected by acclamation); R.W.H. Registrar, Geo. Shadlay, Parkdale; R.W.H. Chaplain, J. Williamson, Arkona; R.W.H.S. Woodward, W. F. Clarke, Grimsby; R. W. H. J. Woodward, J. H. Hazlewood, Sherbrooke, Que.; R. W. H. S. Beadle, A. Sleeter, Beeton; R. W. H. J. Meadle, Adam Reid, Wingham; Ch. Med. Examiner, Dr. W. M. Stanley, Watford; Assistants, Dr. J. Bissel, Dr. Sippy, Amherstville; High Auditor, H. Grimmer, Guelph.

The High Court then adjourned.

A French Exception.

ARNEIM, June 15.—Mlle. Cassaux, a young woman, was executed here to-day for matricide. She was taken to the scaffold bareheaded and wearing a white robe and black veil.

DYNAMITARDS PLOTTING.

DISCOVERY OF A DESIGN TO COMMIT OUTRAGES IN LONDON.

The Conspirators Known to and Watched by the Authorities, Who Are Confident That They Will Defeat the Conceivers of the Scheme.

LONDON, June 15.—The Central News issues the following: "A dynamite plot to be carried out during the celebration of the Queen's jubilee has been discovered. The police are reticent about it, but the details will probably be made known to-night.

Official Information.

LONDON, June 15.—The following is from an official source: Information has been received in London which leaves no doubt that dynamiters have arranged to commit an outrage, or a series of outrages, during the jubilee week, and the authorities have full knowledge of the conspiracy and those engaged in it, and are confident that they will defeat the plotters.

For months past reports of the movements of prominent plotters abroad and their probable accomplices in England have been received in London almost daily. The chief ports have been watched during the entire period in view of the arrival of certain suspects without previous notice having been received from British agents abroad.

The movements of Patrick Casey and his associates in Paris, who have been very active lately, have been closely followed by special detectives, and others outside of the Queen's ken are also known to have been watching Rossa's complaint to the New York police on June 2 was absurd. He requires little watching. Others in New York and elsewhere are more important and are constantly shadowed and reported upon.

THE CRIMES BILL DEBATE.

Mr. Smith Promises to Cut Mr. Gladstone Short.

LONDON, June 15.—In the debate on the Crimes Bill to-day Mr. Finlay, Liberal-Unionist, moved an amendment that any association or associations proclaimed be specifically named in the proclamation.

The Government accepted the amendment.

Mr. Healy moved to omit the words "or associations," so that each proclamation should deal with only one association.

This Mr. Balfour refused to accept.

Mr. Chaney, Nationalist, said Mr. Finlay's object as a Liberal-Unionist was to enable the Viceroy to mix together the National League and some murder organization.

Mr. Dillon, Nationalist, denied that there existed any national Irish association whose object was to commit crime, but there were moonlighters through whose existence the Viceroy would have power to proclaim the National League, or even the whole of Ireland.

Mr. Healy's motion was rejected by 199 to 145.

Mr. Gladstone Will Close the Debate.

LONDON, June 15.—Mr. Gladstone will close the debate on the Crimes Bill on Friday with a criticism on coercion and the general policy of the Government in Ireland.

Mr. Smith proposes to stop the debate and to declare the bill through the committee stage at 10 p.m. on Friday.

It is expected that the members of the Opposition will thereupon, without voting, leave the House in a body.

THE BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.

14 Declares Against Compulsory Religious Teaching in Schools.

ORILLIA, June 15.—The Baptist Association held a prayer meeting at 9 a. m. and the second sermon was afterwards preached by Rev. Wm. M. Walker, B.A., of Barrie.

The annual circular letter upon the condition of the church was read by Rev. John Alexander of Toronto.

A paper by Rev. G. L. Willet of Chomberg, upon pastoral co-operation in evangelistic work within the bounds of the association, created a lively discussion.

The question of dividing the association was left to future consideration, it being felt that, while favorable to the principle involved, the time had not yet come for a division of the Toronto association.

Very strong resolutions were adopted in the afternoon session declaring in favor of the prohibition of the liquor traffic and against the repeal of the Scott Act.

Resolutions were also adopted pronouncing against any effort on the part of the State to make religious instruction compulsory in the Public Schools. The Baptists are not against the Bible being in the Public Schools, but they have well defined convictions and principles that are opposed to the State in any way attempting religious work.

This evening the interests of the Sunday-school were ably advocated by S. J. Moore of Toronto. A stirring address on foreign missions was delivered by Rev. B. D. Thomas, D.D., of Toronto.

The meeting closed this evening.

Earthquakes in Paris.

PARIS, June 15.—Earthquakes visited La Roches-Sur-Yon, in La Vendee, to-day. The people were frightened into a temporary panic, but no serious damage was done.

Epidemic of Rabies.

APALACHICOLA, Fla., June 15.—Reports from the neighboring county of Calhoun state that an epidemic of rabies among dogs and cattle prevails there. Several persons, it is said, have been bitten by rabid dogs. Much excitement prevails and dog and cattle killing parties are organizing.

The Coffee Market Advanced.

NEW YORK, June 15.—The coffee market has assumed a natural tone. There was no excitement in the trading to-day, and closing rates show an advance of eighty points, Sales 176,000 bags.

New Hampshire Beefsteak.

LACONIA, N.H., June 15.—Manuel Noel, a French-Canadian aged 40, ate over one pound of raw beefsteak this forenoon and died in thirty minutes.

Three Years for Confidence Men.

WELLAND, June 15.—Two confidence men named Wells and Russell were to-day sentenced to three years in Kingston by County Judge Baxter for fleecing a traveler at Niagara Falls out of $200.

Sir Charles' Son to Marry.

HALIFAX, June 15.—Sir Charles Tupper is expected in Halifax next week to attend the marriage of his son, W. J. Tupper, barrister of Winnipeg. The bride expectant is a daughter of Chief Justice McDonald.

Getting Information.

"So that's what it is," said Bobby with indifference. "Pa said last night that you had a mighty small vocabulary, an' I thought it might be something worth seeing."

Astonishing Success

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung disease. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 50,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it, sample bottles to try, only 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and dealers, in the United States and Canada. cod w4

HALL, INNES & Co's
GREAT CLEARING SALE
At Actual COST, for Cash Only
STILL GOING ON.

The Daily Examiner.

THURSDAY, JUNE 16, 1887.

It came out in the discussion in Parliament Tuesday that the cost of running Rideau Hall is on an average $72 a day, not including the salaries of the regularly appointed officials. The Governor-General, asserts the Hamilton Times, does not ask for nor require the expenditure of over half the sum named, but it seems that it has to be spent to provide "soft snaps" for Ottawa political bosses, who labor under the impression that the country owes them a living because they aid in the return of the Tory candidates in the capital.

The result of the vote in the House of Commons on the prohibition and other amendments connected with the discussion of the temperance problem, leaves the matter in about the same position it occupied before. Apparently the most important part of the affair is the rather decided opposition shown by the House to further interference with the Scott Act with a view of weakening and emasculating it. As to the declaration in regard to prohibition it is merely a sentimental one. The question in its practical aspect was not before the House. If, with the bold declaration of principle had been considered, as they will have to be considered in practically dealing with the matter, the subjects of compensation and provision of revenue, the vote of Tuesday would have had a vastly greater significance.

The Court of Revision Again.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Although the duties of the Court of Revision with respect to the assessment of park lots are over for this year, the County Judge now having control of the matter, still the subject needs a little more ventilation, as some of the members of the Court of Revision appear to have a very erroneous idea on this question. The law respecting the separate duties of assessors and Courts of Revision is plain enough, and, some would think, too plain to be misunderstood. As regards the assessment of property, the assessors are a Court within themselves, and act independently of the Council who appoint them. When their duties are over and the roll is returned to the Council, then begins the right of the Council to interfere. This interference is accomplished by means of the Court of Revision, which is composed of certain members of the Council, chosen by the Council. The number is usually five. These appoint a chairman, and they then enter upon the duties of their office. These duties consist in regulating the amounts of the several assessments. But they have no authority whatever over the territorial limits of lands as acted upon and returned by the assessors. Some of the members of the Court of Revision, acting under the ruling and influence of their legal chairman, appear to think they possess such authority. Take a case in point: The assessors assessed "Part of "park lot No. —, in lot No. —, in concession —, of the Township of ——," at a certain sum. On this part of the park lot is the dwelling house of the owner. In law the house is part of the land, and is valued and assessed as land—and so it was assessed. But when the appeal against the amount of the assessment came before the Court of Revision, their legal chairman advanced the absurd and illegal doctrine that, in estimating the value of the park lot as farm land, they had the right to alter the territorial boundaries as acted upon by the assessors and the right to separate the dwelling house and acre of land appertaining to the dwelling house, and put a separate assessment upon it as town lots, the chairman, the better to give emphasis to his illegal ruling, saying that he would give a certain large sum for the house and acre of land! And then further stretching his false logic by saying that because he would give this larger sum, it showed that the house and acre of the park lot ought to be assessed as town lots, and it actually was so assessed by this aspirant Court of Revision by order of their legal chairman to that effect. That is to say, the Court of Revision, through their chairman, separated the house and acre of land from the rest of the park lot, thus mutilating the assessment roll, and thus doing that which they had no legal right to do. The assessors assessed the whole park lot, including the house and acre of land together, spreading the assessment equally over the whole park lot, but the Court of Revision take out the house and acre of land from the rest of the park lot and value and assess them separately. And they do this, under the advice of their legal chairman, in order to keep up the original assessment of the assessors over the whole park lot. Any person with common justice and common sense can see the point and can see the injustice done by means of such an illegal and false doctrine. But it is fortunate that we have a County Judge who is able to put this and other matters right.

ONE OF THE AGGRIEVED.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Delegates to the Pan-Presbyterian Council Chosen.

WINNIPEG, Man., June 15.—At the opening of this morning's session the General Assembly appointed its standing committees for the year, after which the result of the balloting for delegates to the Pan-Presbyterian Council in London, England, next year was made known.

The delegates chosen are: Drs. Burns, Macvicar, Cavan, J. K. Smith, D. M. Gordon, King, Cochrane and Matthews, ministers; Chief Justice Taylor, J. K. Macdonald, J. Charlton, W. B. McKerracher, Dr. Fraser, James Maclennan, Q.C., D. Morris and J. K. Macadam, elders.

The expenses of the commissioners to the General Assembly were attended to and rules for the management of the aged and infirm ministers' fund were passed.

The giving of a sum of money by St. Andrew's Church, Toronto, sufficient to maintain a missionary in the foreign field was suitably acknowledged, and Mr. Goforth, of Knox and Mr. Smith of Queens having been accepted by the church as foreign missionaries, arrangements were allowed for their ordination and designation.

From 5 o'clock to 7.30 was devoted to the enjoyment of kindness from the Mayor and City Council of Winnipeg. Fifty carriages provided by the city conducted the members of the Assembly for an hour and a half's drive. Refreshments were thereafter partaken of. In the council chamber the Mayor presented an address, the American Council offered congratulations, the Moderator returned thanks and the members left for the church.

In the evening attention was given to the subjects of the state of religion and evangelistic services.

MURDERED BY A MINISTER.

A Youthful Victim of an Ungovernable Temper.

REIDSVILLE, N.C., June 14.—Rev. George Pittard, pastor of a Methodist church and teacher of a boys' school, was crossing a lawn a few days ago when one of the boys threw a ball which struck Mr. Pittard in the face and bruised him severely. The boy begged pardon, and said the occurrence was entirely accidental. The minister, infuriated by the pain, knocked the boy down, stamped on him and dragged him about until the boys united and drove the pugnacious teacher off. The boy, who was in a terrible condition, was tenderly carried to the dormitory by his fellow-students. The minister called the boys later, and upbraided them for not dragging their school mate from him sooner, and said he had no idea what he was doing; that his temper for the time had crazed him. The boy has just died and Mr. Pittard has fled.

Death on the Ball Field.

LINCOLN, Neb., June 14.—A distressing accident occurred last evening at the ball grounds. Five or six young men were having a game, and Ed. Likely took the bat and stepped to the home plate for a strike. Harry Cluskey, the pitcher, made the usual pass, and the ball went towards the batter. Likely made a strike and the ball, glancing off, struck the batter in the mouth. He fell forward, striking squarely upon the top of the head. He was carried to a hotel but died in a short time. It is supposed that the shock to the nervous system or rupture of a blood vessel, caused death. The ball did not strike with much force.

FIREWORKS EXPLOSION.

Several Buildings in Rochester Wrecked and Several Men Injured.

ROCHESTER, June 14.—A loud explosion last night caused the hearts of many Rochesterians to beat with horse-race swiftness. Palmer Bros.' Fireworks Manufactory blew up and wrecked two buildings, entailing a loss of several thousand dollars. The explosion originated from a small building containing some nitro-glycerine. One man was thrown through a window by the force of the explosion, and had his back wrenched and his head, arms and body all severely burned. His injuries are dangerous and will probably prove fatal. The clothes on a boy named Walter Yates took fire, and he only saved his life by leaping into a creek. Two other boys had their flesh burned so as to expose the bones of their arms. Their faces were badly scorched and presented this morning a horrible appearance.

The women who worked at the factory were panic-stricken when the explosion occurred, and it was feared for some time that some were killed, but the report was unfounded.

A NEGRESS A WHITE MAN'S HEIR.

Decision by the Supreme Court of Georgia —In Favor of Amanda Enbanks.

ATLANTA, June 15.—The Supreme Court of the State yesterday sustained the will of David Dickson. This makes Amanda Enbanks the richest negro in America, with a fortune of $600,000. Dickson, who was related to the best families in the state was, before the war, one of the heaviest slaveholders in the South, having on one plantation alone 300 negroes. After the war, he was the first prominent farmer to succeed under the new order of things, and he ran up a fortune of $600,000. He died a bachelor, leaving many white relatives anxious for his property. They were disgusted as well as disappointed when they discovered that he left a will by which seven-eighths of his possessions were left to his colored mistress and her daughter, Amanda. A fight was made on the will, the principal point being that it was opposed to public policy to permit a white man to dispose of his property to his colored illegitimate children. The Supreme Court rules that the negroes have the same civil rights as white people and the will must stand.

THE ANNUAL BARREL ACT.

A Great Crowd Cheated of a Tragedy at the Niagara Whirlpool.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 15.—Carlisle D. Graham launched his barrel boat at the Maid of the Mist landing, on the American side of the river, near the Cantilever Bridge this afternoon, and found he could not properly balance the sand ballast so as to shoot the Rapids riding on top of it. So he took out the sand and jumped into the barrel and went through the Rapids about 4.30, much to the disappointment of thousands of spectators who lined both sides of the river, as they expected he would ride on the outside of the barrel as he advertised.

Gossip of the Turf.

The trotting match at Woodbine Park on Monday last between J. Cook's Chestnut Billy and J. Walford's Scotland, in which the judges reserved their decision, was decided yesterday in favor of Chestnut Billy.

The races at Three Rivers, Que., are to-day and Saturday and not yesterday, as stated in The World.

W. K. Owens' horses, Lelex, George L., Bonnie Duke and Trapper will leave for Montreal to-morrow and will likely be accompanied by Burgess' Shamrock, the Halton pair, Wild Rose and Augusta, and the Wellington Stables' Willie W.

Among other rumors afloat at St. Louis about the American Derby is one that the Higgins have sent Alcalde and Prodigal to Chicago to run for the American Derby. As to Baldwin's Goliah he was worked out at a mile and a half three days ago. He galloped strong yesterday morning with Murphy up. Good judges think him fit for a race, and he may be expected to start at Chicago for the American Derby.

TOPICS FROM TORONTO.

TORONTO, June 16.

The adjourned meeting of the friends of Mr. Alexander MacLachlan, who have inaugurated the movement for the purpose of presenting that gifted Canadian poet with a testimonial, met last night in the Queen's Hotel. Ald. J. L. Morrison was in the chair. The committee appointed at the last meeting reported: Your committee beg leave to report that the following be the form of the resolution to be submitted to the public:

That, whereas, the friends and admirers of Alexander MacLachlan are desirous of showing their appreciation of his genius, and whereas the poet is now well advanced in years and any material recognition extended to him at this time by his many appreciative readers throughout America would tend greatly to the comfort and contentment of his declining years, be it resolved that subscription lists be opened in the United States and Canada for the purpose of presenting him with a testimonial worthy of his fame as a poet, whose writings teem with hearty sympathy for his fellows and with all that tends to the elevation of our common humanity, be resolved, that a finely executed portrait of the poet be presented each subscriber of $1.

A large committee was appointed to carry out the spirit of this recommendation.

WINNIPEG, June 6, 1887.

MY DEAR SIR: Years of the 24 has been sent on to me here. I wish that I could be with you on the 9th. If a committee is formed put me on it, and if a list of subscriptions is drawn up put me down for anything in reason. We have not many poets. Let us honor at true a poet as Canada can boast in the person of Grand Old Alexander MacLachlan.

The bricklayers last night accepted the agreement entered into by their committee with the bosses. There is no change in the carpenters', plasterers' or masons' strike.

The City Clerk yesterday received the following in reply to a letter accompanying the resolution adopted at the anti-O'Brien meeting in the Queen's Park on May 14:

FOREIGN OFFICE, LONDON, June 8, 1887.

JOHN BEVERLY ROBINSON, City Clerk, Toronto:

DEAR SIR,—I am directed by the Marquis of Salisbury to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of May 18 with the enclosed copy of a resolution adopted by a public meeting of the inhabitants of Toronto. In reply Mr. Lowther desires me to state that it is a source of much gratification to him to receive so emphatic an assurance of the sentiments of loyalty and confidence with which the Representative of Her Majesty the Queen is regarded by the people of Canada.

The Drinking Fountain Question.

There seems to be a good deal of uncertainty about fixing the responsibility for the Central Park Drinking Fountain being dried up—the public are thirsting for information as well as water, and there seems to be as great a probability of getting the one as the other. It is absolutely necessary that the question should be settled one way or the other at once. But in the midst of the muddle there is one thing certain—one thing about which there can be no doubt—and that is that gough, the wonderful cheap man, is giving the most monumental bargains in ready-made clothing ever offered in this town, district or province. His $18,500 worth of ready-made clothing of the first quality, bought for 40 cents on the $, is yielding unheard of bargains. No one who wants to get double value for his money in ready-made goods can afford to neglect the chance of the coming thirty days. Remember that the place where one dollar has the buying power of $2.20 is at the sign of the Quadruple Dudes, George street.

W. C. T. U.

The regular meeting of the "Y" was held Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock in the W. C.T.U. Hall. Miss Edwards, President, occupied the chair. Before reading the open-lesson, it was suggested that a course of Bible readings should be taken up at the opening of each meeting, and with this object in view, the first chapter of St. John's Gospel was read, and that Gospel taken for the first course of readings. The apple-blossom was adopted as emblem, and, having made a change in the emblem, it was deemed advisable to change the motto also, and John XV, 8, was decided upon as being more appropriate with the apple-blossom. The "Y" are making arrangements for an "At Home" to be given in their new hall in about two weeks. The members of the flower committee remain in office for the next two weeks. The committee will be at the Hall every Thursday afternoon at half-past three o'clock to receive flowers. Will all willing to lend a helping hand in this work remember the flowers every Thursday!

East Peterborough Farmers' Institute.

A meeting of quite a number of the leading farmers and others, of the East Riding of Peterboro', was held in the Town Hall, Norwood Friday the 10th inst., with the object of forming a Farmers' Institute. The meeting was organized by appointing Frank Birdsall, Esq., chairman. Mr. Thos. Carlow, an active member of the East Northumberland Institute, addressed the meeting. The following gentlemen were elected to fill the different offices:—

PRESIDENT.—F. Birdsall.
VICE-PRESIDENT.—Robt. Burgess.
SECRETARY.—J. W. Clark.
TREASURER.—P. Doherty.
DIRECTORS.—Messrs. Jas. Moore, W. G. Patterson, John Knox, John Wright, Henry Humphrey, J. Murphy, T. M. Grover and Chas. O'Reilly.

The meeting then adjourned and another meeting will be held next Friday, the 17th, to complete organization, and appoint permanent officers and directors.—Register.

Jumped the Switch.

A gang of seventeen railway men were engaged yesterday about a mile and a half west of Cobourg, says the Guide, laying new steel rails. (The track between Port Hope and Cobourg is being newly steeled all the way through.) At six o'clock p.m. they boarded three hand-cars to return to Port Hope, and the men being anxious to get home were running their pumpers at the rate of about three miles in five minutes. In passing the switch that runs into the gravel bed about five miles east of town, the middle car jumped the track. There were seven men on it, and all were more or less injured, some severely.

The T. V. C. Deputation.

Their Holiday Journey Has "Promising" Results.

The Rent Valley Canal deputation from this district, composed of representatives from Peterborough, Lakefield, Bensfin Shiloh Enroth and other places, numbering about thirty, met at the Russel House, Ottawa, on Wednesday and resolved themselves into a committee, of which Mr. Hilliard was made chairman and Mr. W. H. Moore secretary. A lengthy and "strengthy" memorial was drafted containing "pewo orts" on paper. The memorial set forth the previous procedure of the government—that nothing had for its benefit—their committal to the scheme, and urging them to take immediate steps to continue the work. The deputation waited on the following ministers at 3 o'clock, being introduced by Messrs. Stevenson and Hilliard—Sir John McDonald, Sir Charles Tupper, and also Mr. Pope. Mr. Hilliard spoke at length, covering the whole ground, and as a good Tory member of the deputation, remarked "rubbing it into them hard." He was followed by Mr. Fell, M.P.P. for East Victoria, Robertson, M.P. West Hastings, Burnes, M.P. North Victoria, Mallory, M.P. Parkdale, Bobonygeon, and others.

Sir John heard more than he wanted to stand, and retired on the plea that his presence was needed in the House.

Sir Charles Tupper acknowledged with as good grace as possible the justness of the charges of neglect that had been made against the government. The government had not changed its mind with reference to the work. He pleaded the shaky condition to which the present government had reduced the finances of the country as an excuse for going cautiously in the incurring of new responsibilities. The government hesitated because they were not certain what parts in relation to the completed work it would be advisable to put under contract. Sir Charles pointed out that the Northwest Rebellion (which the government had provoked), had caused a deficit of several millions, and that it was probable the deficit would be overtaken by the next session, and then—the government would be in a position to make substantial appropriation.

Hon. Mr. Pope said that as soon as the session was over he would lend the light of his personal presence to Peterborough and go over the route. Meantime the "commission" would get in its work and give such information as the government thought it ought to have before it took further steps towards the prosecution of the work.

The deputation then withdrew and exchanged lugubrious condolences.

County Court and General Sessions.

June Sittings of the Peterborough County Court.

THURSDAY, June 16th.

In the case Walsh vs Howard, particulars of which were given in Tuesday's issue, a verdict was given for the plaintiff for $90.

No defence appearing in Stone vs Traynor, an action to recover fees for legal services, a verdict for full amount, $125.44, was given in favor of plaintiff. Mr. John Green, for plaintiff.

Manly Knapp was found guilty of larceny. It will be remembered that this youth's exploit with the scent bottle was mentioned in Tuesday's EXAMINER. He was sentenced to one month in gaol.

The Grand Jury made their presentation, in which they reported having examined the gaol and found everything in good condition. Some felicitous remarks were included concerning the Queen's Jubilee. The jury also concurred in His Honor opinion regarding grand juries being unnecessary, and recommended that that the same be abolished in the county of Peterborough.

The Court adjourned.

The Way it was Worked.

The Globe Ottawa correspondent says:—"I have learned that when the vote was about to be taken on the Prohibition resolution, Sir John Macdonald, who was apprehensive, from the large majorities against the amendments for the repeal of the Scott Act and for the sale of wine and beer in Scott Act counties, that the motion would be carried, turned to Mr. Bowell and declared that if such should be the result the Government would resign. Remonstrated with, he repeated the statement in more forcible terms. As a result Mr. Bowell, forgetful of his past action and of the virtue of consistency, stood up and voted against Prohibition. Every member of the Government except Mr. Foster followed his example. Sir John seems to have developed a very sincere contempt for the influence of the Prohibitionists."

Duty on Crockery and Glassware.

The new tariff, which takes effect to-day, includes an advance in duty of from 5 to 50% on all kinds of crockery, glassware, silver knives, etc. All new goods must pay this advance. Police Court.

THURSDAY, June 16.

A couple of domestic infelicity were ventilated in this police court this morning. The wife charged her husband with hitting her on her head, and demanded that he be bound over to keep the peace. She exhibited two cuts on her lips, alleged to have been made by her loving husband's fists. He on the other hand denied having beaten her, and said he only locked her up in the room while he put on his clothes. He said he led the life of a dog around the house, his wife using every effort to make him miserable. She had kicked him too, and thrown a pail of slop over him while he was lying in bed. Jealousy and quick tempers they both acknowledged to be the cause of the trouble. The magistrate acted diplomatically as a peacemaker, telling them how unbecoming it was in a wife to act so spitefully towards a husband, and how unmanly in him, under whatever provocation, to strike a woman. He gave them some good advice as to their future conduct, and after promising to live together peaceably, both were dismissed.

LARCENY.

"James Barry," said the magistrate to a pale-faced lad who stood in front of the desk, "you are charged with larceny; guilty or not guilty?"

"Guilty."

"How old are you?"

"Twelve years."

"Where is your home?"

"I haven't any."

"Have you any parents?"

"No, sir."

"Where do you come from?"

The little fellow then in answer to enquiries stated that he emigrated from the old country with Miss Leach about 5 years ago. He was taken from the Marchmont Home to raise by Peter Tully, a Lindsay butcher, with whom he lived for some years. For the last year he had been selling newspapers in Toronto for a living. A little over a week ago he engaged as bell boy at the Oriental hotel, here, where he remained until Tuesday, when he "skipped" for Toronto. He was arrested there and returned to town.

Mr. Graham, clerk at the hotel, stated that on Tuesday he gave the boy 02 to buy some stamps. The lad came back and said the store was closed, but he was again sent for the stamps. This time he didn't return. About the same time the yardman, James Telford, complained that his watch had been stolen. It was found that the boy had bought a ticket, via C.P.R., for Toronto, and a telegram to the station master intercepted his escape as he was arrested, P. C. Adams bringing him to town next day. The watch was found in a pawn-broker's shop, where it had been sold for 45c.

The youthful culprit was committed to the Penetanguishene Reformatory for an indefinite period, pending his future good conduct.

The Bathing Nuisance.

Complaints loud and numerous are being made about boys and men bathing in Little Lake early in the evening, before the least sign of approaching dusk is apparent, to the great annoyance of boating parties, who are obliged to exercise the utmost vigilance to avoid running foul of one of the many crowds of shouting, insulting "bares" who disport themselves shamelessly in and out of the water, regardless of all propriety, or of the discomfort and annoyance their heathenish actions entail upon the loads of pleasure-seekers, a large percentage of whom are ladies, who nightly seek the cool and invigorating influence of a sail over the placid waters of the lake. There is a by-law prohibiting swimming until after dark. Let it be enforced.

Local Sporting Notes.

The Peterborough club is to play in Lindsay to-day.

The match at Belleville yesterday between the Torontos and the local club was won by the Torontos by 19 to 6.

The cricket match down on the list for to-morrow, between Campbellford and Peterborough, has been withdrawn.

A match for the C.L.A. central district championship was played at Markham yesterday, between the "Riversides," of Peterborough, and the local club. It was won by Markham, four goals to one.

A matched race for a purse of $100, takes place on the Driving Park to-morrow at 3 o'clock, between "Fanny B." and "Black Diamond." There is a good deal of money up on the event.

Patrons of my tonsorial establishment will be attended to with promptness and care, by Pat and Joe at the Peterborough Shaving Parlor, Hunter street, two doors west of George street and opposite the Peterborough Business College. Ladies and gentlemen, your patronage is respectfully solicited. 6d

Mr. O'Connors will make a good job of it. He attends to his contracts with great punctuality and finishes up satisfactorily to his employers.

DECLARING AGAINST C. U.

THE TORONTO BOARD OF TRADE AGAIN SAYS NOT THIS TIME.

Mr. John Macdonald's Resolution Unanimously Carried—Also Another and Stronger One Offered by Mr. G. A. Chapman—A Hot Night in the Rotunda.

TORONTO June 17.

Again about three hundred members of the Board of Trade crowded into the rotunda last night and sweated it out till 11 o'clock listening to speeches about loyalty, annexation and commercial union. Mr. Matthews again made an excellent chairman.

By its action last night, the Board of Trade for a second time unmistakably pronounced against commercial union. Mr. H. W. Darling was the first speaker, and he was accorded an attentive hearing. Mr. John Macdonald's motion, moved at the meeting on Tuesday night, reads:

Resolved, That this board desires to place on record its conviction that the largest possible freedom of commercial intercourse between our own country and the United States compatible with our relation to Great Britain is desirable.

That the board will gladly do everything in its power to bring about the consummation of such a result.

That in its estimation no treaty which ignored any of the interests of our country, or which gave undue prominence to anyone to the neglect or to the injury of any other, is one that could be entertained.

That in our agricultural, our mineral, our manufacturing and our diversified mercantile interests, in our fisheries and forests, and other products, we possess in a very rare and extraordinary degree all the elements which go to make a people great, prosperous and self-reliant.

That there are fitting inducements to any nation to render reciprocity with Canada a thing to be desired, and such as should secure for us a reciprocal treaty with the United States of the broadest and most generous character, which, while fully recognizing these conditions, would contain guarantees which would prove of mutual and abiding advantage to both countries, that this board cannot entertain any proposal which would place Great Britain at any disadvantage as compared with the United States, and which would lead in any measure, however small, to weaken the bonds which bind us to the Empire.

Mr. Darling Makes Another Speech.

Mr. Darling spoke to the following effect:

Let me first endeavor to clear away some of the obstructions raised by way of obscuring the merits of the case. One obtained expression by Mr. Beardmore in a most offensive way to the effect that those who were discussing this matter were annexationists at heart. I not only deny this but I contend that the consummation of this proposal would do much to avert any desire which might obtain for annexation; and would entirely remove any material object to be gained by it. The Republic itself is not in favor of annexing Canada, and the opinion expressed by Hon. Robert R. Hitt, a member of Congress from Illinois, reflects the general opinion of the people of the States. That opinion is to the effect that they are no longer eager to incorporate new peoples, refusing, as they did, the rich Island of St. Thomas and the Republic of San Domingo. The work of assimilating the diverse elements they now have is quite enough for them. At present there is no mutual desire on the part of either people to annex.

I venture to remind those who have any disposition to thwart discussion upon this subject that if they refuse to discuss the means whereby the commercial relations between the Republic and Canada can be improved, and if our statesmen decline, at the dictates of any selfish claim of this community, to take advantage of any advances by the Republic to this end, they will probably find that it is not reciprocity nor commercial union that will be discussed but that there are disintegrating elements in existence which may bring about discussion of annexation pure and simple.

Commercial union would be good for the lumbermen and give added value to standing timber of every kind.

It would be good for our coasting and carrying trade.

We had the best kind of evidence at the last meeting that it would be very advantageous to our milling interests.

What, then, remains?—Our manufactures and our jobbing interests, and in regard to these Mr. Macdonald says commercial union would mean "ruin, ruin," while Mr. Wilke draws a picture of appalling desolation. I think if these gentlemen would revise their opinions they would want to qualify them somewhat.

I think it has been pretty conclusively established by the discussion that has taken place that free intercourse with the Republic would be extremely advantageous to our farmers and agriculturalists. They have been taught by advocates of the National Policy to believe their home market is their best market. It is not to be wondered at therefore that they seek to have these advantages in even larger measure than they already enjoyed them by the freest access to the markets of the States. It is no longer profitable to grow wheat in Ontario. Crops less exhaustive to the soil and a greater variety of products are desirable, and with access to such markets as the United States would afford, these could be secured.

Mr. Wilkie: Not at all.

Mr. Darling: Canadians understand the science of distribution of commodities, and would not be wanting in enterprise, and would not let any of its trade be diverted to New York. Statistics show Rochester and Detroit (which have a population about the same as Toronto) are large distributing centres, although they have no country behind them, but must cultivate the field between them and New York.

As to manufactures, Mr. Macdonald says if you throw down the customs wall the cotton factories would all close up the next day, and it is also said of our industries compared with those of the States and such as [illegible] are [illegible] the United States themselves when any new state has been added to the Union. Each one of the new states has succeeded in successfully its ability to compete with the old manufactures of the East. The [illegible] in the recent establishment of the cotton industry among the pauper-ridden people of the South, who to-day are manufacturing cottons that equal in every respect similar productions of the older states of the Union. Our manufactures are under the disadvantage of working for a limited market. They require a [illegible] market and more capital. Under commercial union they would receive both.

Manufacturers must be careful how they assert they can't compete with the manufacturers of the United States. Any assertion of that kind would consequently subject to a very pertinent enquiry by the farming community as to what was the reason. But they have fastened upon the discrimination against Great Britain as the point upon which they must make their stand. No one will underestimate the gravity of this proposal. Britain could not object to the principle of free trade with the States, but only to its limited application. Britain can not for a moment ignore the geographical contiguity of these two countries, and if the people of Canada asserted in a unanimous way that they desired the freest intercourse with the United States, even if it was disadvantageous to the British manufacturers, I don't think it is likely she would say no, but were we to say no, that separation must ensue then I have no hesitation in saying that the consequences would unquestionably fall to the ground.

Mr. Macdonald's resolution is one that I would desire to see confirmed by this board. I desire to express my sincere and honest conviction that the free intercourse with the Republic would be of immense advantage to the Republic and Canada, and give an enormous impetus to the development of her natural resources and prove of lasting benefit to both countries.

President Blain's Stand at C. U.

Mr. David Blain was the next speaker. He always felt that a difficulty for commercial unionists to get over was the protective tariff of the United States; but he thought it strange that free traders should evade this by contributing the American tariff with our own. Our Government went as far as any responsible person could go when they said that as soon as the United States would throw down their barriers Canada would be prepared to do the same. Some say that our manufacturers are able to compete with those in the United States. He would say that the Americans, with their long-established industries and their accumulation of capital, would snuff out our young industries in a very short time.

He hoped the meeting would decide forever this old-fashioned question as far as the Board of Trade is concerned. The very discussion of such a question is unsettling capital and preventing thousands of capital from being invested. This is not surprising when we remember how subtle capital is. He did not see how Canada is to be benefited by commercial union with the United States, because the products of both countries are the same to a very considerable extent. They are our keenest competitors now, and our trade is injured by these more than by any other means. If we enjoyed commercial union all the markets of the world, including Great Britain, will be closed against us. It is in our interests to remain as we are, as all influences in Great Britain are brought at the present time against their policy of free trade. Britain is beginning to believe in what he considered a wise policy, viz., to look after her industries. The cheap living and labor of India and the competition of all parts of the world is crushing out the English farmer. He knew at one time farmers who were in affluent circumstances, but now they are common laborers, owing to a false trade policy. In view of that he would like to see Mr. Wilkie's amendment proposing an imperial tariff made a main motion. It might be objected that all the colonies would not favor that but he thought some arrangement could be arrived at whereby any one colony so choosing might be permitted to keep out of the confederation. Such a scheme would be of immense advantage to Canada. If Canadian farmers were to get even five cents per bushel more for their wheat than American farmers the latter would soon in very large numbers cross over to Canada; emigration would be encouraged. Why? Because we have the best land in the Northwest for growing wheat in the world.

Mr. John Brown (Ottawa Milling Company): "What about frozen wheat?"

Mr. Blain: "I don't know, sir. Perhaps the gentleman deals in that commodity. I don't." [Laughter.]

Mr. Blain, continuing, said: The farther you go north the better the land for wheat growing, and this fact, together with greater freight facilities, would make Canada under an Imperial tariff a great and prosperous nation. He thought the farmers of Canada are at present in a prosperous condition, and more so than those of the United States.

The Canadian Farmers Well Off.

Mr. G. A. Chapman gave an interesting dissertation on the question of commercial union as it affected the farmer, and he was followed in a lively strain by Mr. A. F. Jury. Mr. Jury's contention was that commercial union was not a question of loyalty, but of dollars and cents. Mr. Chapman held that the farmers of Canada were as well off now as they would be under commercial union. "We are," he said, "believers in a limited reciprocity—reciprocity of the field, the farm and the fisheries, but that was as far as we could go." With commercial union, he held we could not hope to maintain our autonomy as a separate nation. He then read this amendment to Mr. Macdonald's motion:

That this board, whilst desirous of reciprocal trade relations with the United States, is opposed to commercial union with the United States, believing that it cannot be obtained without giving up the preservation of our autonomy as a separate nationality on this continent.

There was no seconder to Mr. Chapman's amendment, but he reintroduced it at a later stage of the meeting.

Of Provincial Importance.

Mr. Barlow Cumberland held that a vote by the board would be not of a local but of a provincial character. All interests were represented here—the farmer included, and an expression of an opinion by this Board of Trade would not be the meaningless thing some of the speakers characterized it. The speaker asked Mr. Darling whether he intended to vote for Mr. Macdonald's resolution and Mr. Darling replied he did. Then, said Mr. Cumberland, I am glad to welcome you among those who are opposed to commercial union, for that resolution was so opposed. Mr. Cumberland then read that part of Mr. Macdonald's resolution referring to discrimination against Britain as follows: "That that this board cannot entertain any proposal which would place Great Britain at any disadvantage as compared with the United States." If Mr. Darling votes for that I think he will vote against commercial union. [Loud and long applause.]

Not Adverse to C. U. Opinions.

Prof. Goldwin Smith: I do not concede Mr. Macdonald's resolution adverse to our opinions. It amounts to this merely, that we would consider any extension of our commercial intercourse with the States beneficial, provided it is not inconsistent with our duty to the Mother Country. [Hear, hear.] I feel no doubt that when the case is fairly presented to the people of Britain that they will say that free trade between Canada and the United States will ultimately redound to the advantage of England ["No, no."] It is a matter of speculation, of course, but that is my view and nothing is more hostile to their interests than the policy at present pursued, in increasing degree, by the Government of Canada. That is all I have to say, gentlemen. I feel myself perfectly consistent in allowing Mr. Macdonald's resolution to pass. I only beg to call the attention of Mr. Cumberland to the fact that a distinct resolution condemning commercial union has been brought forward and has found no seconder.

Mr. Cumberland held Mr. Chapman's motion was a substantive one, and he could not consequently second it as an amendment to Mr. Macdonald's resolution. He would be happy to second it as soon as Mr. Macdonald's resolution was disposed of. [Applause.]

Mr. Macdonald's Motion Carried Unanimously.

Mr. Joseph Simpson did not like the look of harmony between Mr. Macdonald's motion and the speeches of those who supported it. He would prefer to see a secure vote on commercial union as understood by its opponents.

Mr. Macdonald's motion was then put and declared unanimously carried.

Mr. Macdonald, after congratulating the speakers on the question and Mr. Darling on the calmness with which he discussed a change that is after all a bad case, deprecated the statements made by some of the speakers as to the unfriendliness of Americans towards Canadians. He thought from a wide experience that the Americans were good friends of annexing Canada, but he did think the true meaning of commercial union would be such a revelation. To prove that the Americans look to annexation. [illegible] read from an American paper which strongly agreed in that direction. He reminded the Americans and the farmers of Ontario that there is a law on our statute book to the effect that as soon as the Americans will admit the manufactured products of Canada free of duty we will do the same. He concluded by saying that those who thought there is a feeling in Canada for annexation are mistaken and will find that such is a losing game.

Mr. Chairman Moves Mr. Macdonald.

Mr. G. A. Chapman then moved the resolution which had been previously read to the meeting, and found a seconder in Mr. John Mellon.

Mr. Darling asked if there was a motion which might [illegible] another evening. Mr. Chapman [illegible] was, replied. He thought the time was [illegible] a good deal of discussion. He thought it was very absurd in the extreme it. There is no reason why we should lose our autonomy on political questions during commercial union.

Capt. Wm. Peard was called on to vote. He held the motion was striking at the meeting shortly [illegible] course it. He spoke for free and unrestricted discussion.

Mr. H. C. Hamilton entered the meeting, not to pass any matter on a question which was so much at variance with the principles of true economy. He was most ill-at-ease.

Mr. R. Wilkie moved the previous question, which was put and carried.

The chairman then explained that this prevented the introduction of further amendments but [illegible] reserved further discussion.

Mr. Chapman's resolution was then put and carried by a vote of 65 to 37, according to Secretary Wilkie.

The meeting closed with "God Save the Queen" and adjourned, at 11 o'clock.

Serious Charge Against a Bailiff.

GUELPH, June 16.—Jeremiah Hart, sheriff's bailiff, has been committed for trial for rape, the complainant in the case being Thomas Howes, a [illegible] in the employ of Thomas Manderson. The crime is alleged to have been committed on Saturday night, when Hart met the girl in a lonely place and assaulted her.

Hart has been admitted to bail. It is said that efforts were made to settle the matter outside of court.

A QUIET DAY AT CHICAGO.

OPERATORS BELIEVE THAT THE WORST IS OVER.

Confidence Has Not Yet Been Restored, and Many Dealers Believe Business, but the Excitement is Past and Better Times are Expected.

CHICAGO, June 16.—The failures yesterday numbered fifteen. They were as follows, with an estimate of the liabilities: Crosby & Co., $75,000; H. K. Matthews, $20,000; J. A. Edwards & Co., $20,000; M. B. Crafts & Co., $20,000; B. J. McCleary & Co., $25,000; Pickering & Co., $20,000; S. D. Eldridge & Co., $15,000; Gregg, Sun & Co., $15,000; Hard Brothers & Co., $10,000; T. B. Balding & Co., $10,000; J. H. Yount & Co., $10,000; Hibbard & Co., $10,000; M. S. Robinson & Co., $2000; Yount & Brealy, $2000; S. C. Orr & Co., $2000. Total, $261,000.

Including the failures of the day before, M. Rosenfeld & Co., Hamill & Brine, and E. W. Bailey & Co., there is a total of nineteen, with aggregate liabilities approximating $3,000,000. Some of the failures were caused by inability of the parties to reach their outside customers, while others were caused by the failure of Rosenfeld & Co., and the suspension of Kershaw & Co. It is said that in the majority of the cases the embarrassed firms will come out all right as soon as their trades can be settled, and that, in one or two instances, the books will actually show profits.

In addition to those whose failure was brought about by the causes given, there are some who were in the deal on their own responsibility, and simply got caught where they could not help themselves.

The range of prices in wheat to-day were a very fair indication of the business done. The range was narrowed and the business was extremely light. Most of the firms on 'Change were [illegible] owing to the unsettled state into which their accounts have been thrown by the wild fluctuations and numerous failures of the last few days. Several conservative concerns declared that no new orders would be executed by them until their books and accounts had been straightened out.

Confidence has not as yet been restored, though it is thought that the worst is over and that no new failures are imminent. But one occurred to-day though several were crowded quite hard, and it was expected that they would be forced to the wall.

The oft-repeated promises of Kershaw & Co. that funds would be forthcoming were again renewed to-day, but they fell with no effect on the ears of the crowd. They had been fed upon promises too long.

July wheat opened at 73c., which was 1c. higher than the close yesterday. For the whole of the morning session the price fluctuated between 73½c. and 73¾c., and after the first flurry of the morning was very quiet. June wheat, which was another of the months which has been under such heavy fire, started in unchanged at 71c., and sold as high as 71½c. and as low as 70c. during the morning. The trade in it was also light.

At no time after the first half-hour around the opening was the wheat pit comfortably filled. July closed at 73c. and June at 71½c.

A Suspension at Minneapolis.

A Quiet Market at New York.

NEW YORK, June 16.—There was nothing new in the wheat market this afternoon. There were intervals of idleness. The closing rates show an advance of ½c to ⅝c as compared with the ruling figure of yesterday. Export contracts amounted to upward of 440,000 bushels and speculative dealings were over 16,000,000 bushels.

An Attachment for $20,000.

CHICAGO, June 16.—Attachments for $20,000 were sued out to-day against Charles J. Kershaw & Co. J. J. Bryant & Co., it is said, were carrying 200,000 bushels of cash wheat for Kershaw and are probably perfectly solvent, but their money is all tied up. Nobody was willing to take the cash wheat at a figure that would satisfy Kershaw, and so Bryant & Co. thought the easiest way out was to order open trades closed.

A report telegraphed from this city to-day that Kershaw & Co. had failed was without foundation. The firm has suspended, but has not gone under.

Saturday Rates on the N.Y. Exchange.

NEW YORK, June 16.—The Governing Committee of the Stock Exchange has decided that all stock contracts falling due on Saturday must be delivered before 11 a.m., loans and deposits must be called before 11 o'clock, and contracts for non-delivery of stock can be closed out after 11.30. The Exchange will close at noon on Saturdays.

The Normal's Closing.

The closing exercises of the Normal School's spring term were held last night, Principal Kirkland presiding. An entertaining programme was provided, consisting of readings by Miss Knox, B.E., a graduate of the school, and music by the pupils. Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education, presented the gold medal to Mr. Fred Hallott of Essex Centre.

Steamship Arrivals.

THE DOCTRINE OF PROMISE.

Faith is the good and true is a charming element in the human character, but the faith which no strongly forged concatenation of broken promise can conquer, is either sublime, or the acme of fatuity. The Conservative politicians of this district, who can bring themselves to believe in a promise of the Dominion Government in reference to the Trent Valley Canal scheme, have an inexhaustible capacity for being fooled. The record of the government has been an unbroken chain of broken promises. If the discredited promises of the government could have been made negotiable they might have been discounted at a heavy rate and yet have yielded enough of funds to have built the Trent Valley Canal from end to end. The promises of the government have not been unproductive, they have been turned to capital (political) account. For the past decade at least they have elected dozens of supporters of the present government, and though they do not seem to have (in this respect) all their old power, they have still enough like Mercutio's wound to "serve." The deputation which last Wednesday humbled its self suppliantly at the feet of ministers was regaled with another batch of promises—put off with another pretext. There is always some pretext for putting off the work. In 1883 the pledge was that as soon as the giving away of the country to the C.P.R. was consummated, the canal would be pushed in earnest; now the cry is that as soon as the revenue—in desperate stern chase—overtakes the expenditure, a substantial appropriation will be made. Stuff and nonsense! The expenditure is increasing, and the day seems far enough away when the present spendthrift political combination, by exaggeration of courtesy called a government, will be able and willing to spare enough of the people's money from the prosecution of their political objects, to encourage needed public works—especially the Trent Valley Canal. What confidence can be put in promises? Mr. Stevenson declared in the Opera House on February 22nd, that he had "every assurance from Hon. Mr. Pope, that the section between Lakefield Peterborough would be placed under contract this summer." What a whopper Mr. Pope has been guilty of. He primed Mr. Stevenson for the elections with this iniquitous "yarn," to which his every word and act now give the lie. Hon. Mr. Pope "promises" to come here this summer, and Mr. Stevenson will be missing a golden opportunity if he doesn't make it hot for the Minister of Railways (on his own account) and Canals (on account of political capital.) The member for West Peterborough must have a magnificent maw for humble pie if he can stand such shabby treatment without resenting it, and the people will be double-dyed, gratuitous, egregious, asinine, forecordained fools if they ever allow another promise of the Dominion Government to influence them in electing another government supporter. When the people begin to "kick" then the member will begin—if the latter has any self-respect, after being loaded up as he was last winter with Pope's whopper, he will begin, about the time Hon. J. H. Pope has the monumental—nay, pyramidal "cheek" to set his foot in Peterborough on Trent Valley Canal business, as he proposed, to the deluded deputation, to do.

RARE ECONOMY.

In the early part of the present session the cry of the political admirers of Sir Charles Tupper, the Finance Minister was that that great man intended, so violent was his spasm of economy, to use a "broadaxe" in cutting down the public expenditures, in his preparation of the estimates. When, in his budget speech, he announced that the estimated expenditure for the year would be $38,400,000, the public naturally felt that the "broad axe" had been mislaid, and was not come-at-able by the heroic financier of pruning promise. This impression was deepened and the fear added that the axe had been altogether lost, when the supplementary estimates were brought on Tuesday night. These amount to $1,986,280, which, added to the $36,462,920 of estimated expenditure, swells the total expenditure for the current year to the enormous sum of $38,354,220, or within a few thousand of the extravagant figures of last year. Here is no sign whatever of a disposition to practice retrenchment, on the contrary, of a desire to proceed in the opposite extreme. One can hardly at first glance appreciate the immensity of these appalling figures. It may be brought, by comparison, more within reach of practical comprehension. The rate of Dominion taxation has grown to such an enormous extent, that, were the individual amount of taxation paid in a lump sum, like our local direct taxes, it would take one month of every citizen's income to pay the shot. Still the people, knowing its righteous, mark their ballots for corrupt and extravagant Tory government.

WHAT MR. MERCIER WANTS

AND WHAT THE NATIONALISTS ARE TRYING TO BRING ABOUT.

The Premier of Quebec Outlines the Programme of the Inter-Provincial Conference—Mr. Mowat to Head Quebec a Check for $400,000.

ST. HYACINTHE, Que., June 16.—The Liberal picnic here this afternoon was an immense success in point of numbers, despite continual rain. The local Ministers, as well as C. Langelier, L. Langelier, Mr. Choquette, Mr. Amyot, Mr. Beaucelail and Mr. Prefontaine, M.P.'s were present. Mr. Mowat sent a letter of regret, as also did Mr. Longley of Nova Scotia and Mr. Blair of New Brunswick.

The meeting was held in the skating rink, which holds 2000, and it was crammed to excess. The Mayor having read an address of welcome,

Mr. Mercier made a great speech in reply. After thanking the audience for the welcome and regretting that his health was not as good as he would wish, and hoping that complete restoration would soon be effected, Mr. Mercier went on to explain the so-called national movement. The parti nationale, he said, opposed its menbers on every one whose earnest desire was to place country before party, and to all who believed that prosperity was the product of an intelligent peace, and ruin the result of internal discord. Let the English, Irish, Scotch and French, Conservatives and Liberals, Protestants and Catholics, people and clergy, reunite in the forum of the nation and produce blessings which will console our citizens, heal past wounds and ensure to our dear Canada peace, happiness and prosperity.

The Premier then proceeded to discuss the financial situation of the province, holding that it was his intention to pay off the floating debt, which he estimated at $1,000,000. Speaking of the difficulty between Ontario and Quebec regarding the common school fund, dating from 1841, Mr. Mercier stated that he and the treasurer had come to an arrangement with Mr. Mowat, who belonged to a class of persons who sold their debts, by which Ontario would hand Quebec a check in a few days for $120,000, and it was probable that most of the claim, amounting to $200,000, would be made good.

He then touched on the license and colonization questions and reviewed the work of the two sessions and then went on:

Now, I will come to the inter-provincial conference, which will soon be an important event in the Capital. The object of this reunion will be to suggest suitable and practical means of adjusting the difficulties which, I regret to say, have arisen between the local and federal powers. The events of the past few years have amply proved that a revision of the constitution is necessary with a view to affirming more clearly the rights of the different provinces and preventing the danger and premature collapse of confederation. Nova Scotia and New Brunswick threaten to break the confederation, complain if the conditions of the union are not modified and we all know that Ontario has not yet obtained recognition of her northern limits, to which she attached the greatest importance.

Quebec also has her rights, and she will maintain them. Our pretensions is that the Province of Quebec has a right to all the territory to the north accorded by old treaties to New France, less that which the Privy Council accorded to the Province of Ontario. The right of disallowing provincial laws now possessed by the Federal power should also come in for mature consideration at the hands of the conference. This right should rest with the Supreme Court or with the Senate, and should apply also to Federal laws, as is the custom in the United States. Let us not forget what happened with regard to the Licenses Act. A special act was necessary in order to permit the provinces to protect themselves against this audacious attempt so coolly made upon the autonomy of the different provinces of the Dominion.

As to the Senate it should be decided that when a vacancy occurs it should not be filled by the Government of the day at Ottawa, but by the legislature of the province in which the vacancy takes place.

With regard to the monetary relations existing between the Dominion and the provinces, it is quite evident that the present system is a bad one. When a province feels the want of money she watches a favorable occasion to seize the Dominion by the throat and better terms are granted, not because they are just, but because the Ministry fears the loss of votes from that particular province. Once more it may be said that this system is a most immoral one and should give place to a rearrangement which would in future put Federal resources beyond the reach of the provinces and, at the same time, permit provincial resources to be developed in a manner that would forever prevent these incessant and dangerous demands made to the detriment and disrespect of provincial autonomy.

The basis upon which subsidies to province are calculated is unjust to all sections of the Dominion. In 1867 those subsidies were accorded to the provinces as compensation for having handed over to the Dominion the excise and customs dues. Those dues have doubled since 1867 and so have the expenses of the different provinces. The subsidies remain unchanged, while the population which produces this increasing volume of revenue augments from year to year. This is an unjust way to accord subsidies, which should be given according to population as appearing when the census is taken every ten years. The adoption of this method would give to the Province of Quebec an additional annual revenue of over $300,000.

In conclusion, the Premier referred to the hostile Protestant vote in the Assembly against the Ministry, and said: "This conduct on the part of the Protestant minority did not cause us to swerve from the straight paths of right and justice. We were as just with regard to that minority as if they had been just towards us, and we will continue to accord them that British fair play which their representatives in the House have so persistently denied to me and my Government. The Protestant minority will, therefore, permit me to say here that the National party will continue to respect, and cause to be respected, that minority; that the National party desires to live in peace and harmony with all races and all creeds, and that it intends to render justice to all, even to those who refuse to accord it themselves; to those who sought to create feeling against us amongst Protestants, and also said that we were about to drive the priest from the schools and the Jesuits from the country. All those accusations have been judged, and now our people know how much faith they can put in those modern Pharisees, who have maligned and traduced us from one end of Canada to the other. The clergy know that the National party is their friend, the friend of the church, the friend of religion and the sacred cause which they so worthily represent.

Several other speeches were made.

GOSSIP FROM THE CAPITAL.

The Session Drawing to a Close—Prorogation on Wednesday.

OTTAWA, June 16.—The first of the railway subsidies forged to the front to-day, when Hon. Thos. White gave notice of motion of the land grants for three Northwest railways. The notice is for 6400 acres per mile for the Alberta and Athabasca 220 miles, the Qu'Appelle and Long Lake 325 miles, and the Medicine Hat Railway, a distance of 3 miles. These grants shall be free grants, subject only to a charge of ten cents per acre to cover the cost of survey and other incidental expenses.

There will be other railway subsidies. The Cabinet was in session to-day discussing the subject. It is learned that applications have been made that total seventy-three millions. Some of these will be granted, but just what cases is not yet definitely settled. The Toronto and Ottawa may get a bit, and so probably will one of the roads in the Niagara peninsula. The Montreal and Champlain Junction is also likely to get subsidized.

At a meeting of the Printing Committee today the contract for the parliamentary and departmental printing was awarded for another year to Messrs. Maclean, Roger & Co. The contract for binding was given to Mr. Mortimer, Jr.

Mr. Clarke Wallace made an enquiry in the House about the matter this afternoon, and was told that the District Adjutant-General had issued to the College company seventy rifles but no ammunition, and that though they used to form a regular company of volunteers, they had not been regularly organized for four years.

Almost the whole day and evening was taken up with a discussion of the Onderdonk business. On motion to go into supply,

Mr. Mulock stated the Opposition case, opening out a discussion that lasted until after 10 o'clock.

The history of the transaction is about as follows: In the contract with Onderdonk it was provided that when the road was completed the Government might take over rolling stock on hand, at a valuation to be agreed by Collingwood Schreiber. When the time arrived Mr. Schreiber could not go to British Columbia, and arbitrators were appointed, who valued the stock at $72,000 at the time and place where it then was. But Mr. Schreiber pointed out to them that the valuation was intended to be made on the basis of the cost to the contractor of the rolling stock, this having been one of the clauses of the advertisement calling for tenders. The arbitrators again met and considering the great cost of transportation to the interior mountain districts, including freight, and that much of the rolling stock had to be built on the spot at vast expense, made the award $126,000. The amount was paid.

In supply a number of items were passed.

The House adjourned at 2 o'clock.

THE DYNAMITE PLOT.

LONDON, June 16.—The Coventry News makes the following announcement:

"The Queen has become alarmed by the report that the police had discovered that dynamite plots had been arranged to be carried out during jubilee week."

The Home Office authorities were angry because the police disclosed information about the existence of the plots, and called upon them for an explanation. The police, as an excuse, said they made the matter known in order to deter desperadoes from carrying out any plots which they may have formed, but, acting under superior orders, they now declare that the only persons they have been watching are Carey and his followers, of whose movements they have kept themselves informed.

A COAL SWINDLE.

How a Montreal Firm Defrauded Shipowners and the Customs.

MONTREAL, June 16.—Coal traders here are much excited by a certain firm having been found out in a huge swindle, which has been going on for some years. The mode adopted was as follows: Sales of Scotch coal were made by the firm in question to steamships leaving here for the return trip, but lower port coal was substituted and thus a higher price was obtained, as well as the rebate of 20 cents a ton allowed on Scotch coal exported. So not only was the ship cheated, but the customs was also defrauded. The fraud is said to have been discovered by a shipping firm who laid information before the Collector of Customs.

Powerless to Suspend Evictions.

LONDON, June 16.—In the House of Commons this afternoon Col. King-Harman, Under-Secretary for Ireland, in reply to a question of Mr. Pease, Liberal, said the Government were powerless to suspend evictions in Ireland. They would be suspended, however, during the period that Parliament devoted to the jubilee celebrations.

THE JUBILEE CELEBRATION.

Her Majesty's Program for the Week of Festivities.

LONDON, June 16.—The Queen is in excellent health. Her program for jubilee week is as follows:

Monday—The court removes to London; a dinner party in the evening.

Tuesday—Thanksgiving service; reception at Buckingham Palace.

Wednesday—Reception of colonial visitors at the palace; the Queen visits the children's fete in Hyde Park; the court removes to Windsor; the Queen receives addresses and unveils her statue on Castle Hill, Windsor.

Thursday—Reception of further congratulations; review of 200 volunteer fire brigades in Windsor Park; visit to a feast of 7000 children on the north terrace of the castle; a dinner party.

Friday—Probable investiture of orders.

The King of Denmark has started for London.

Many presents and addresses of congratulation are coming from the British colonies and every European capital.

The jubilee festivities were begun last evening. The Prince of Wales, as Treasurer, presided at a banquet given by the Temple Benchers. A host of nobilities were present. The Prince of Wales, Prince Albert Victor, the Duke of Cambridge and Prince Christian presents their respective regiments at the Reform Club, which was attended by nearly 2000 persons.

Grand Review and Review at Gladstone.

GLADSTONE, June 16.—The Queen's jubilee was celebrated here to-day. Grand musical festival service was held in the cathedral. Six thousand people were given a dinner at the public expense. One of the features of the celebration was a review of 10,000 troops. A number of banquets and balls were given this evening.

Unusual Precautions.

LONDON, June 16.—Sir Charles Warren, head of the Metropolitan Police Force, has ordered that all business belonging to the police force be stationed at various points along the route of the jubilee procession on Tuesday next.

The Duke of John of Glenconner will also supply a number of ambulances. It is proposed to secure the services of companies of the Volunteer Medical Staff Corps. Many policemen who formerly served in the Army Hospital Corps have been selected for special duty on Tuesday.

It is officially explained that all these phenomenal preparations are made simply with a view to be prepared for possible accidents, sunstrokes, etc.

The New York Celebration.

NEW YORK, June 16.—At a final meeting today of the committee [illegible] of the Queen's jubilee, arrangements [illegible] fected which are likely to result in a [illegible]te celebration. The principal event w[illegible] memorial service at the Metropolitan [illegible]ouse, with a chorus of 500 voices and an orchestra of 60 pieces, conducted by Damrosch.

At a meeting of the committee Erastus Wiman was requested to preside on the occasion. The demand for tickets for the Opera House, the sports and games on Staten Island and the fire-works at night in the Bay surpasses all expectations. The audiences are expected to be very large.

Another evidence of interest in the Canadian Club was shown by the presentation, by Senator Sanford, of Hamilton, of some splendid specimens of the heads of moose and Rocky Mountain sheep, which were received by the club yesterday.

THE PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY.

Marriage With Deceased Wife's Sister and Other Matters Discussed.

WINNIPEG, Man., June 16.—On resuming work this morng the General Assembly made a bold start for getting through a great deal of work, but the whole forenoon was devoted to a discussion on the matter of marriage with a deceased wife's sister. The result on the subject was passed into an interim act, and presbyteries were asked as to the advisability of dispensing a certain paragraph in the Confession of Faith.

Nine ministers from other churches were admitted, three were accepted conditionally and the applications of two were declined. Thirteen retired from active duty by permission. The status of ten students was established.

Addresses were passed to the Queen and Governor-General.

The matter of ecclesiastical co-operation with other churches in weak fields was given over to be dealt with by presbyteries and synods.

A letter from the American Presbyterian Church upon union was read and the Moderator, with the clerks, was instructed to respond and reciprocate fraternal feelings.

Four documents bearing upon religious instruction in public schools were received, and the whole object to which they refer was sent to a committee to report upon to next Assembly.

The evening sitting was devoted to temperance and Sabbath observance.

A Living Miracle.

"My infant daughter was taken ill with cholera infantum, the doctor said she could not live. The Rev. Wm. McWilliams would not allow her head to be lifted when he baptized her, she was so weak. Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry gave immediate relief. She is a living miracle, hale and hearty. Since that time (7 years) our house has never been without that remedy." * * * * From statement of George Johnson, Harwood, Ont. 2w24d

LOCAL NEWS.

Organ Recital.

At the organ recital given in St. Paul's church on Thursday night the intense heat of the day deterred the public from turning out, and consequently there was only a medium attendance. The first item on the programme was an overture from Auber's "Masaniello," given in fine style by Mr. Parker. "Victoria," a jubilee song, sung by Mr. J. E. Jacques with good taste and finish. A gavotte from "Mignon" was beautifully rendered. A recitative and aria from the "Creation," (a) "And God Created Man," (b) "In Native Worth," were sung by Mr. Manning in his usual good style. An organ solo, andante and minuet, from "Surprise Symphony," Haydn, were played in a finished and pleasing way, followed by Pleyel's Hymn and a transcription of "Home, Sweet Home," by Dudley Buck. Another recitative and aria, "And God said, Let the Waters," aria, "In Mighty Peas," from "Creation," were charmingly rendered by Miss Vair with her usual taste and finish. An organ solo, Grand Jubilee March, effectively played by Mr. Parker, opened the second part. Mrs. Daly followed with the beautiful song "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," in which her sweet voice showed to advantage. Another organ solo, Toccatto, in D Minor, and fugue in B Major, by Bach, and a grand offertoire, Batiste, were all played very creditably to the performer. Miss Cameron distinguished herself in Handel's charming aria, "Angels Ever Bright and Fair." God Save the Queen brought a very enjoyable evening to a close. It is only to be regretted that there was not a larger attendance. The programme was worthy of a full house.

An Early Blaze.

About three o'clock this morning one of the inmates of Mrs. Lackie's boarding house, Stewart street, below Dalhousie, awoke and discovered that the lower portion of the house was everywhere on fire. He at once gave the alarm, and not a minute too soon; as it was the occupants barely escaped with their lives, through a window in the second story. The fire alarm was rung, but even before that the house was doomed, and the efforts of the fire brigade were confined to preventing the spread of the fire. The Silsby, hose cart and hook-and-ladder wagon were on hand in good time. Two streams were soon in operation, one from the engine and another from the waterworks, but the house, a story-and-a-half brick, owned by Mr. John Pope, was speedily consumed with the contents. An adjacent brick cottage, owned and occupied by Mr. John Ryan, was considerably damaged about the roof, as was also the furniture in being removed. The cause of the fire is a mystery, as there was no lamp burning in the house at the time to create an explosion. There was an insurance of $750 on the frame sheds, and $150 on the brick stables, (uninjured) all in the Royal Insurance Company. On the furniture, owned by Mrs. Lackie, there was an insurance of $500 in the Northern. On Mr. Ryan's cottage there was an insurance of $740 on the house and $200 on the furniture in the Royal.

Help Wanted.

Mr. F. W. Millar, who is training the school children for the choral singing on Jubilee day, requests the assistance to-night and to-morrow night of several persons, to keep the enthusiasm of the children down for the time and to secure that degree of order without which the practice cannot progress satisfactorily. It is to be hoped that some capable persons will volunteer their assistance as desired.

Twelve to Five.

A Defeat for the Peterborough Baseball Club.

Lindsay had a chance to "wipe away the stain of defeat" yesterday, and they did it with a vengeance, the score being 12 to 5. Up to the seventh innings the visitors were right upon the heels of the home team, but the Peterborough's "went to pieces" in the seventh and the game was lost. They played a good game, though, on the whole. They spunk well of the entertainment they received at the hands of the Lindsay club. Very few spectators witnessed the match, the day being intensely hot. Mr. Donaldson, of Lindsay, umpired impartially. Score:—

The Hot and Dry Weather.

Weather witnesses claim that May was the driest month known for the past 30 years and June promises to equal the record. Here we are at the middle of the month and the rain still holds off, while the thermometer still holds up. The drought will have a bad effect on the crops. The wheat is heading out and unless the rain comes soon the berry will not fill and the yield will be light. But as an offset to the dry weather and the present prospect of a light crop we have the encouraging fact that gough, the wonderful cheap man, has flooded the market with a deluge of the cheapest and best ready-made clothing ever offered to the public. His $18,500 stock of bankrupt goods, as good as gold, bought at 40 cents on the dollar is being sold at the same liberal reduction in price. Gough's, George street, is the place to more than double the buying power of a dollar.

An Invitation to All.

Representatives of Societies and Superintendents of Sunday Schools are requested to attend the meeting of the General Jubilee Committee this evening in the firemen's hall, at 8 p.m., when final arrangements will be made for the citizens' procession and places assigned for those taking part in it. Citizens in general are also invited to attend. Let this final committee meeting have a large attendance of representatives from all classes and societies.

School Holiday.

The school board has in response to a petition of the pupils granted Monday as a school holiday in addition to Tuesday, a holiday by proclamation. By the time another jubilee occasion comes round the youngsters who on Monday are the beneficiaries of the school boards' liberality will have the reins in their own hands and will be able to consider feelingly the claims of the boys and girls of that day.

His Second Appearance.

Richard McBride, of Rice Lake, is addicted to the flowing bowl, and yesterday fell a victim to his unconquerable habit. He was found near the park by a "cop" in a somnambulistic state, and marched off to the station. He was dismissed this morning by the magistrate with a warning. This was his second appearance before the magisterial bench.

Jubilee Celebration Fund.

List of Contributions and Contributors to the Jubilee Fund.

Appended is a list up to date of those donations made by our citizens, principally subscribers, toward the Jubilee Celebration Fund. As will be seen, it is an exceedingly generous one, and might have been quadrupled had the canvassing committee had time to make a more general canvass. Too much credit cannot be given those who so liberally contributed of their money for this laudable purpose. All seemed anxious to do all in their power to make the celebration a success, and were always ready with a donation whenever called upon. The list of contributions of small sums is still incomplete. The Grand Jury's Presentment.

To His Honor Judge Weller:

The Grand Jurors of Our Sovereign Lady the Queen, for the County of Peterborough, humbly present to your Honor that they agree with your Honor in your remarks respecting the many admirable qualities of our Sovereign Lady, and the many advantages accruing to her subjects by her judicious administration of the affairs of the nation during a reign of fifty years. Long may she reign.

We also beg to add to the observations made by you, with reference to the appointment of Mr. Edmison to the office of County Police magistrate, our own appreciation of his fitness for the office, and hope he may long live to occupy the honorable position.

We are of opinion that, owing to the efficiency of our County Magistracy the time has now arrived when Grand Juries in this County might safely be dispensed with.

We have examined the gaol and gaol premises, and find the same clean and well kept. The prisoners express themselves as well satisfied with their treatment.

With you we regret the number of lunatics in the gaol, but feel satisfied that the County officials are doing all in their power to alleviate the condition of these unfortunates.

ANDREW MERCER,
Foreman.

The Park Tower.

Mr. William Forsyth, the contractor, has pushed the construction of the electric light tower in Court House Park so rapidly that it will be completed by Saturday at noon. The tower has a base of 15x15 feet and is 75 feet in height to the platform which supports eight electric lamps; an addition of eight feet supports two more lamps—making ten in all. Above this will be placed a flag staff 17 feet in height, giving the tower a total altitude of 100 feet. The electric light company are ready to do their share on the completion of the tower.

In the future there will be no more of the old disappointments in finding, in time of hurry, my man out on a "picnic." Patrons of my tonsorial establishment will be attended to with promptness and care, by Pat and Joe at the Peterborough Shaving Parlor, Hunter street, two doors west of George street and opposite the Peterborough Business College. Ladies and gentlemen, your patronage is respectfully solicited. 6d

A Musical Review.

A musical review was held at the Convent of the Congregation de Notre Dame last night. His Lordship Bishop Dowling presided. Rev. Fathers Conway, Fayelle and Rudkins were also present. A programme of vocal and instrumental music was presented by the pupils, which occupied about an hour and a half in the rendition. All the numbers were rendered with care and played with skill, taste and finish. The recitation of "Charity," by Rosalind, by Misses Annie Dunn, K. Hurley and J. McCabe was especially well done, while Miss Rose Shanagan sang "Silent, Oh, Moyle! be the roar of thy Water," in excellent voice. The review was pleasing and brief, and all who participated are to be congratulated. The Convent will be represented this year to exhibit the musical talent by their generous distribution of gold medals, are Messrs. O. Fitzgerald and A. L. Davis, and the Sister Superior tenders these gentlemen her most sincere thanks, as well as to Mr. Rush, who contributed a silver medal. The young ladies who had the honors of receiving the gold medals are Miss B. Fairweather and Miss A. Lynch, the silver medal going to Miss J. McCabe. The manner in which they acquitted themselves in the rendition of very difficult pieces deserves special notice. The five selections given by them were remarkable well executed, showing careful and correct technical training, brilliant execution and an appreciation and capacity for the grace of expression. The gold medallists are well rewarded for their application and perseverance, four or five hours having been devoted by them daily to diligent and conscientious practice, sometimes indeed six or seven hours has not seemed too long for them. They will now reap the benefit of these long, weary hours. Their musical education will be a source of continuous pleasure to themselves and their families, and to the public on occasions when require the services of educated musical talent.

At the close of the musical review an address of thanks was read by Miss Agnes Sullivan, to which His Lordship replied, expressing his pleasure and satisfaction at the manner in which the young ladies had rendered their respective pieces, and as a mark of his appreciation as well as to encourage the cultivation of this beautiful art, he promised to give a gold medal annually to the most proficient pupil.

This (Friday) evening the young ladies of the Convent will give a musical entertainment, for the benefit of those gentlemen who in past years have been such friends of the institution in encouraging education and art.

AFFAIRS AT THE CAPITAL.

PROROGATION DEFERRED FOR A FEW DAYS.

The Members Hastening Through With the Work—Hon. Mr. Thompson Introduces a Substitute for Mr. Amyot's Bill Regarding Ship Laborers.

OTTAWA, June 17.—Mr. G. R. R. Cockburn, Centre Toronto, this afternoon presented a petition of the District Assembly of the Knights of Labor of Toronto, praying that Mr. Amyot's bill, regarding ship laborers, be not allowed to pass.

Hon. Mr. Thompson introduced his bill immediately after routine. He said that the Government could not accept Mr. Amyot's bill and were only able to remove certain technical defects in existing legislation. The changes proposed by the bill, which is entitled, An Act respecting threats, intimidation, etc., against persons working on board of ships, are three in number. Instead of referring to persons "usually" employed aboard vessels, it will give power to deal with persons "actually" employed upon the vessels. It widens the scope of employes about the vessels, even if they are not actually upon the vessels, and it makes it a penal offence to assault persons because they have worked upon a vessel. In a word, the law regarding vessels will be about the same as regards buildings, and the changes are made because of the strike at the Quebec docks, it having been found in former strikes that with the law as it stood it was impossible to preserve the peace.

The Minister of the Interior introduced a bill to amend the act authorizing the grant of certain subsidies in land for the construction of the railways therein mentioned.

It was simply to correct an error in a former bill, and was introduced, read a first and second time, passed through committee, read a third time, finally passed and named with such a rush that it was ready to receive the Governor-General's assent before Mr. Mills could get his voice cleared to oppose it.

Sir John also introduced a bill. The elections for the Northwest Council are due in October. The bill proposes to defer them for another year, and next session the Government will introduce a measure to redivide the districts, extend the franchise and introduce the ballot.

Sir Cartwright called attention to the fact that the determination of the Government not to enforce the new iron duties until July 1 was known in Montreal, England and France several days before it was known to Toronto, Halifax and the general public.

Sir Charles Tupper said he did not know how that could be, but every effort would be made to do full justice to everybody.

The House went into supply and passed the fisheries estimates with a good deal of debate about the protection service.

The Opposition again contended that a commission should be appointed to investigate the whole conduct of the management, and Sir John in reply held that the Indians were well treated and that no case calling for the appointment of a commission had been made out.

Mr. Parley of Assiniboia said that from personal observation he knew that the Indians were well treated, in fact better than they deserved. The item passed.

The House adjourned.

THE FISHERIES QUESTION.

Sir John Defines and Defends Canada's Position.

OTTAWA, June 17.—In the fisheries estimates this afternoon, Messrs. Edgar and Davies spoke on the fisheries question, and Sir Richard Cartwright said this was a good opportunity for the Premier to explain the views of the Government on that subject.

Sir John Macdonald: Quite [illegible] to do justice to the hon. gentleman [illegible] the enquiry. The member for Prince Edward (Davies) was good enough to say that he had read the correspondence that passed between the two Governments [illegible] approve of the position taken by the Government of Canada. We [illegible] our rights. We stood [illegible] 1818. We stood [illegible] charge of years and the other commercial treaties which had been made between England and the United States did not and could not in any way in the most remote degree affect [illegible] That convention was made after due deliberation and with mutual concessions, by which a good deal was given by the United States, as well as something given up by England. We hold to that now. We hold further than it has in no way been altered, nor that it can be altered by any diplomatic arrangements since arrived at. It should not, and I have no doubt it will not be altered. The United States in 1854 and in 1871 have recognized the existence of that treaty. They recognized it in express terms in the treaty of Washington. We hold that in watching our waters we are only defending our rights. In this we may go still further and contend that if there was no convention at all we are an independent country, independent of the United States, and it is understood that every country has the territorial jurisdiction and power in every way administrative, executive and legislative over the three-mile limit on its coasts.

There are only two questions on which there may be any contention. The first is the headland question, which we are all acquainted with. We adhere to the position taken by the British Government from the time of Lord Bathurst until now, that the basis of the three-miles limit is recognized from the headlands and not from the sinuosities of the bays. All the constitutional writers in the United States agree with us.

Mr. Davies: The courts!

Sir John: Yes; and the United States courts in the Chesapeake and Delaware Bay cases.

Hon. Mr. Mitchell: The several states hold the same theory?

Sir John: The several States contend that they have their sovereign rights within their bays. The only other question is as to bait. We hold that under our treaty the American fishermen shall not enter our harbors to traders and purchase bait and deal generally as traders. We have taken the position that a fishing vessel is one thing and that a trading vessel is another thing, and that by getting a trading permit from an American collector a fishing vessel cannot change its character so as to be a trading vessel when it likes and a trading vessel when it likes. On that question of bait we hold the position of Chief Justice Young, that fishing vessels have no right to come in and make Canada, or any portion of Canada, the basis of their operations, while we are excluded from the American markets, and while they keep us out so as to supply the demand themselves. There is no doubt in my mind that on that point, too, we are in the right.

Sir Richard Cartwright: Hear, hear.

Sir John: I am glad to say that Her Majesty's Government has fully sustained that position. There never has been in the slightest degree an expression of disinclination on the part of Her Majesty's Government to sustain the legal rights of Canada. In the meantime, correspondence has been going on, of which we are duly informed. I do not believe there has been a single step taken, nor do I believe there will be a single step taken between Her Majesty's Government and the Government at Washington without consultation and conference with the Canadian Government, and I may say further, without our assent. At all events, hitherto there has not been any step taken without our assent.

I think it would be well that I go no further in speaking of this matter. I believe that the Government of the United States are friendly in the best sense of the word. I can only say that the British Government, as advised by us, is doing all it can to foster that treaty and to expedite the time when we may perhaps have enlarged commercial relations between Canada and the United States.

Throughout the delivery of the address Sir John was cheered again and again by both sides of the House, the Opposition being quite as united in support of the Government as the Ministerialists.

Hon. Peter Mitchell spoke after Sir John, endorsing every word he said.

In fact the Parliament of Canada is a unit in support of Canada's rights on the matter of our fisheries.

BUSINESS FAILURES.

The Chicago Panic Increases the Number for the Week.

NEW YORK, June 17.—The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days, as reported to Dun, Wiman & Co. to-day by telegraph number for the United States 193, and for Canada 20, or total of 213, as compared with 172 last week and 159 the week previous to the last.

For the corresponding week of 1886 the failures were for the United States, 144; and for Canada, 11; total 155. The increase noticed this week arises, of course, mainly through the wheat panic in Chicago and the West. In other sections of the country the business troubles appear to be lighter than usual.

FROM CAMP NIAGARA.

CAMP NIAGARA, June 17.—Yesterday was general equipment inspection of cavalry, artillery and infantry. There were quite a number of men slightly affected by the sun on the morning parade.

A serious accident occurred to Sergt. Eccleston of the Welland Field Battery. He received a compound fracture of the right leg, both bones being badly splintered.

The first death that has occurred on the Niagara camp grounds for three years occurred yesterday. Sergt. Thomas Horton of No. 2 Co., 19th Battalion, while descending the steps of the Salvation Army barracks, fell, and when picked up by Dr. Dow of the 31st Battalion was quite dead. Eating too much ice cream while overheated was given as the cause of death. He was a member of the Salvation Army.

NIAGARA CAMP, Ont., June 17.—To-day was a busy day in camp. The rain early in the morning laid the dust, and there was general brigade drill of cavalry, artillery and infantry. There is a vast improvement since last year in the Toronto Field Battery as regards the appearance of the men and their equipments.

The funeral of Sergeant Thos. Horton of No. 2 Company 19th Batt., who dropped dead yesterday, took place to-day from the camp grounds. A firing party of fifty men and four officers, with arms reversed, accompanied by the band of the 31st Batt., accompanied the remains outside the camp lines, and the hearse containing the remains proceeded to St. Catharines, where they will be interred on Sunday.

Sergt. Eccleston, who received a painful fracture of the right leg, was conveyed to St. Catharines to-day.

The Guelph Field Battery, in command of Col. Nicholls, arrived this afternoon and was given a hearty cheer by Col. John Gray's Battery.

UTTERING UNSIGNED BILLS.

Parent, the Absconder, Passing the Hochelaga Bank to Trouble.

MONTREAL, June 17.—The Hochelaga Bank has issued circulars to other banks asking for information regarding the number of $10 and $20 bills held by them. This is in view of the fact that Parent had in his possession and has been circulating unsigned bills of the Hochelaga Bank. To what extent, however, it is impossible to say.

It was rumored to-day that Parent had offered $10,000 cash to compromise, provided he were allowed to return unmolested.

Mr. St. Charles, the President, said the bank would not accept such terms.

Ewart, the other clerk who held Parent's check, has also been dismissed.

PARNELLITES WON'T VOTE

THEY LEAVE THE CHAMBER WHILE THE ACT PASSES COMMITTEE.

An Ineffectual Attempt to Pass an Important Amendment—The Amendment Made That this Bill Should be Read Six Months Hence.

LONDON, June 17.—When the debate was resumed on the Crimes Bill this evening Mr. Fowler, Liberal, moved an amendment requiring that before the enforcing of clause 6 (which deals with the proclaiming of dangerous associations) the consent of both Houses of Parliament be obtained. This, he said, was the most dangerous clause of the bill and ought to be resisted to the uttermost. If there was a national danger demanding such exceptional powers Parliament might be trusted to confer the necessary authority.

Mr. Balfour opposed the amendment.

Mr. Gladstone said the action of the House most responsible as guardians of Irish liberties were the Irish members. Was it henceforth to be understood that the desires of the Irish members on such subjects would be sufficient to make it the duty of the Government to provide opportunities for discussion.

Mr. Dillon declared that the belief was universal in Ireland that the bill was mainly directed against the National League. The powers which the clause put into the hands of the Viceroy would be used for the suppression of the League, which would result in a greater crop of misery and hatred in Ireland.

Mr. Fowler's amendment was rejected by a vote of 238 to 171.

While he was speaking the hour of 10 arrived. The Ministerial benches rapidly filled, the members pouring in from the lobbies. The Parnellites simultaneously arose and left the House, the chairman twice calling upon them to resume their seats.

Amid great confusion a division was ordered and the clause was adopted, 283 to 163.

The Gladstonians who went out returned after the voting, but the division having been declared, they immediately arose in a body and withdrew amid Conservative cheers and laughter.

The remaining clauses were then put and carried without comment, and the bill passed the committee stage, the Conservatives again cheering.

The report stage of the bill is fixed for June 27.

THE VICTORIAN JUBILEE.

When but a child the Princess Victoria struck the key note of the object and aims of her life and reign, when, on being informed that she would be Queen of England, she naively exclaimed, with the simplicity of childhood, "I will be good." Well and truly has she kept the promise of her youthful years. No higher character, among sovereign or subject, has the history of the world known than that developed by Her Majesty, Queen Victoria, during the 50 years which compose the half century of her auspicious reign. Of the wonderful progress made by the British empire during that time, more detailed note is taken elsewhere in this issue. It is certainly becoming at this time to call attention to the moral influence which the Queen, as both an individual and a ruler, has swayed. She came to the throne at a time when the influence of a lofty moral example was sadly needed. Her two immediate predecessors on the throne had been dissolute debauchees, who, surrounding themselves with kindred associates, moulded the lives and lowered the morals of the nation. The entire tenor of their example was evil and debasing, while the influence of the life of Queen Victoria has been only and invariably good. We read in Lockaley Hall—"as the husband is, the wife is," and we read in the magnificent epic of Her Majesty's life—as the monarch is the nation is. Contrast the circumstances of the empire at the jubilee of George III. in 1811 with that of the nation at the present time. The energy of the people was being expended in a mighty and many handed struggle. Civil liberty, in the sense experienced now, was unknown. The king ruled practically without consulting the wishes of the people. Parliamentary representation was, to a terrible extent, a matter of barter and sale, and such a condition prevailed as would be expected when the king saw in the general and venal corruption he fostered, the surest means of retaining his arbitrary power. The advent of the jubilee year of George III. found him a blind imbecile; found the nation overwhelmed with debt. Reforms were called for in vain. At that time the criminal laws were appallingly severe, no less than one hundred and sixty crimes having been punishable with death. The people were struggling and longing for constitutional privileges, the want of which in this age of the empire is unknown. What a contrast is presented at the completion of Queen Victoria's jubilee year. Moral progress and material have gone hand in hand, and the triumphs of science have kept pace with the march of constitutional liberty. The blessings of British civilization have penetrated to the remotest parts of the earth. As an eloquent writer puts it: "The Victorian age is an era by itself—an era in which all phases of thought, scientific, literary and religious, are in harmony with the altered conditions of life—an era in which the great nations of the earth are being drawn together by the interchange of thought, of labor and of international courtesy." The whole world has abundant reason not only to join in the prayer "God Save the Queen," but to pray for the continuation of the beneficent influence, religious, moral, political and social, which has sprung from the fifty years of her glorious and auspicious reign.

An exchange says Colonel Ingersoll likes good whiskey. Well, if that is so he is taking the precise course to lead him to the place where they don't have any.

STABBED THE TIMES.

Thomas Jackson, a Worthless Character, Makes a Desperate Assault on His Wife.

TORONTO, June 14.

Thomas Jackson, aged about 40, is a worthless drunken character who occasionally follows the occupation of painting. Jackson lives at 155 Davenport-road. He is a man of a family, but his relations with his wife have been anything but pleasant, because, it is said, of his drunken habits.

About a week ago Mrs. Jackson left her home and went to live with her sister at 92 Elizabeth-street, which may be described as little better than a hovel. Jackson went to the house about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon; he was under the influence of whi-ky. His wife was not there, but she came in later on. When they met they quarreled. The quarreling was kept up at intervals till about 8 o'clock last evening. Mrs. Jackson walked out to the yard at the back of the house and her husband followed her out. He did their daughter Georgina, aged 12, who had been with her mother since she left home.

Jackson made a savage attack on his wife with a penknife and stabbed her in rapid succession no less than ten times around the neck and breast. The little girl, who went between them, was stabbed once near the right shoulder. Mrs. Jackson sank to the ground and bled profusely from her wounds. Her brutal husband made off and hid himself in a shed on the other side of the street. Subsequently Policeman Lewis discovered him and locked him up in the Agnes-street Station.

Drs. F. Krauss and C. Cuthbertson were called in and after doing what they could had the wounded woman and her daughter removed to the Hospital. The doctors say the wounds are not necessarily fatal. Mrs. Jackson is a flashy woman, and many of the cuts are superficial. One of them, however, is one and three-quarter inches deep.

No trace of the knife could be found by the police. At a late hour last night the wounded woman was doing well.

For a long time yesterday in the Police Court Messrs. Love and Miller, J.P.'s, were occupied with the case of President J. E. Mossy of the recently-exiled Independent Club, at Hanlan's Point, who was charged with selling liquor without a license. Nearly a score of witnesses were examined to prove that Mr. Mossy had sold liquor and that the club's charter was not the proper one for the sale of liquor. The justices concurred in fining Mr. Mossy $50 and costs.

The annual meeting of the Ontario Jockey Club was held yesterday afternoon at the Queen's Hotel. About forty members were present. The financial statement submitted showed the club to be in a flourishing condition. These officers were chosen: President, Wm. Hendrie, Hamilton (re-elected); Vice-Presidents, Senator Frank Smith and T. C. Patteson; Executive Committee—George Torrance (chairman), Dr. A. Smith, Harton Walker. Mr. L. Ogden was re-elected Secretary-Treasurer.

The club cleared $4000 at its May meeting.

The disqualification against Mr. O. B. Sheppard and Mr. W. D. Grand was removed.

THE ATHABASKA RUNS ASHORE.

The Big C.P.R. Steamer Meets a Misfortune in a Heavy Fog at Isle of Coves.

OWEN SOUND, June 17.—The C.P.R. steamer Athabaska, Captain Foote, which left Port Arthur Tuesday afternoon, ran ashore on the northwest point of the Isle of Coves, in the Georgian Bay during a very heavy fog at 5 o'clock Thursday morning. The captain and four men took a small boat and started for Tobermorey for assistance. Fortunately the steamer Alderson was then just leaving for Squaw Island, and Captain Foote at once chartered her to go to the Athabaska and take her passengers, sixty-five in number, and baggage to Owen Sound. The Alderson arrived here about midnight, and the passengers all left for different points of destination on the steamboat express at 1 a.m., all well. The steam barge Chamberlain, laden with ties, happened to be in Tobermorey at the time, and was engaged at once to render what assistance she could to the Athabaska, but it was found that the steamer was too hard aground for her to be of much use, so she immediately returned to Tobermorey to discharge her cargo of ties, and she will proceed to take the load of grain off the Athabaska, and then try and release her. The Athabaska had on a load of 30,000 bushels of wheat and other freight. She lies in about two feet of water at her bow and deep water at the stern, but is in the neighborhood of reefs, which will render her getting off a slow process. Her hull is reported as uninjured.

What Mr. Beatty Said.

Mr Henry Beatty, Superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Railway Steamship Line, was seen by a reporter last evening. Mr. Beatty said that on Thursday morning while in the straits between Lake Huron and Georgian Bay, the Athabaska stopped near Cove Island, close to which the course runs, to hear the fog whistle which is sounded there. While at a stop she drifted on to Nat Shoal, a flat sandstone obstruction just west of Cove Island. She struck forwards amidships, the greater part of her stern being in water deep enough to float her. A lighter reached her that evening and commenced to take off the cargo which was in the forward part of the vessel. A tug arrived yesterday morning and took off the passengers who were conveyed to Owen Sound on the propeller Alverson which runs into St. Michael's Bay in connection with the Canadian Pacific Railway. The passengers reached Owen Sound Thursday night, and Toronto yesterday morning.

Mr. Beatty stated that no damage had been done to the Athabaska, the captain reported that not a leak had occurred. There is every probability that after being lightened she will be able to slide off the shoal this morning.

Mr. J. Hines, timber surveyor, of Barrie, who was a passenger, said to The World yesterday that the passengers were somewhat alarmed when the boat struck, but they were soon reassured by the captain.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY CLOSED.

Next Year's Meeting to be Held in June at Halifax.

WINNIPEG, Man., June 17.—The closing proceedings of the assembly were expeditiously put through. A number of items bearing upon the book of forms, the doctrine and policy of the church, the Manse Fund, the protection of women and girls, the elder Catechists, the names on the Presbytery rolls, the standing of missionaries in church courts, etc., were attended to.

A committee was appointed and empowered to make arrangements for some appropriate recognition of the second centennial of the event of 1688.

Collections for the schemes of the church for the ensuing year were ordered and arranged for.

The subject of marriage with the sister of a deceased wife, which has received, comparatively speaking, too much time already, was up for further attention.

The thanks of the assembly were tendered to the citizens of Winnipeg for unexampled hospitality to the pastors, officials, members and friends of the church, and for attention generally; to Governors Aikens and Dewdney for courtesies, and to the Mayor and Council of Winnipeg for abounding generosity. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company received special recognition for its privileges to members in travel and by telegraph. The press was suitably remembered, thanks being given to the publishers in this city and to The World and other papers outside for reports of the proceedings.

After the singing a hymn of praise and an address and prayer by the Moderator the thirteenth General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada was dissolved, with an appointment and order for the next meeting on the second Wednesday of June, 1888, in St. Matthew's Church, Halifax.

THE JUBILEE YEAR.

Her Gracious Majesty Victoria Has Reigned Half a Century.

AN EPITOME OF HER REIGN.

A Period of Wonderful Progress in All Directions.

Sketch of the Family Life of the Empress of India and the Ruler of the British People—Windsor Castle and Its Ways—Balmoral, the Queen's Own Home.

[Copyrighted by the American Press Association.]

On the 20th of June Queen Victoria completes the fiftieth year of her reign—an event to excite the enthusiasm of Englishmen in all parts of the world. The ceremonies of the jubilee year, began in India in February, have since continued in other parts of the empire and are to end in grand display all over the British empire on the closing day. And surely no equal period since the advent of man on this planet has witnessed such advances in science and speed, such rapid development in the useful arts, such an increase of comfort, liberty and enlightenment. Since Victoria ascended the British throne the population of the United Kingdom (Great Britain and Ireland) has increased 80 per cent.; the aggregate wealth has more than trebled; the foreign commerce has almost trebled; newspapers and schools, churches and benevolent organizations have grown as never before, and accomplished practical results as they grow. Laws have improved, humanity advanced, wages increased and the prime necessities of life cheapened, till now it is the deliberate judgment of the most cautious statisticians that the British laborer is 30 per cent. better fed, 40 per cent. better housed, 50 per cent. better clothed, and 150 per cent. better educated than he was in the short reign of William IV.

Victoria is the granddaughter of George III, and the eighth in descent, through the female line, of that James Stuart who united the crowns of England and Scotland. So from all sides—English, Scotch and German—the queen's family has been royal, ducal or otherwise noble for twenty-five generations, near 900 years. When the Saxons in England were conquered by the Normans the line of Alfred the Great was united with the royal line of Scotland; the alliance was further cemented by the marriage of a later Scotch king with the daughter of one of the Norman kings of England, and still later, Margaret, daughter of Henry VII of England, married James IV of Scotland. In the meantime all the disputed claims to the throne of England had been merged in one by the marriage of Henry VII (Henry Tudor) to the princess who was heir to the house of York; so the offspring of Henry's daughter and the Scotch king stood next to the English line in right of claim. Henry VIII's son, Edward VI, died in boyhood; his half sister, Mary, though married, died childless, and the remaining sister, Elizabeth, never married. So on her death her father's line was extinct, and the crown went to her cousin, James VI of Scotland and James I of England. He was a coward, a pedant, a glutton and a voluptuary; but he was the undoubted heir of Alfred the Great, of the Plantagenets both York and Lancaster, of Henry Tudor, and of William the Conqueror. Add that he had more learning than wisdom, and a vanity that would have been called childish if it had not been too disgusting, and one may see how easily he came to look upon himself as "divinely appointed."

His son Charles I was beheaded; his son Charles II died without legitimate issue, and the latter's brother, James II, was driven away by the revolution of 1688, after which it was enacted by parliament that none but Protestants should wear the crown. So Mary, daughter of James II, was set up, with her husband William III; but they died childless. James' second daughter Anne succeeded, but she died childless, and so the Protestant line of Charles I was extinct, and the claim went back to James I, and to his daughter Elizabeth, who was married to the Elector Palatine in Germany on Feb. 14, 1613. She had a daughter, Sophia, who had married Ernest Augustus, sovereign of Hanover; so the British parliament, anticipating the death of Queen Anne without living issue, had enacted that the crown right should be "in the Princess Sophia and the heirs of her body, being Protestants." She died before Anne, however, and her son became king of England and elector of Hanover as George I. This brought in the house of Hanover and the four Georges, and finally Victoria. In the meantime the Catholic side of the old Stuart line, namely, the descendants of James II through his Catholic sons, had become extinct, so all claims of all races, religions and dynasties are once more united in Victoria.

George III was succeeded by his oldest son George IV, who died without legitimate issue and was succeeded by William IV, third son of George III. Early on the 20th of June, 1837, he too died without legitimate issue; so the right to the crown went next to the fourth son, Edward, Duke of Kent, but as that prince had died soon after the birth of his only daughter, Victoria, she succeeded to his rights. There still remained the fifth son of George III, Ernest, Duke of Cumberland; and as the law of Hanover did not allow a woman to reign (that country had become a kingdom), Ernest succeeded to the crown and took himself off, to the great delight of Englishmen of all ranks, who detested him and were pleased with the separation of the kingdoms. Victoria was born at Kensington palace, May 24, 1819, and was therefore but 18 years old when she became queen. Her mother had reared her in great seclusion, and her education and training were excellent. The dignitaries who went before daylight to announce to the princess the death of her royal uncle relate that "to prove that she did not keep them waiting she came into the room in a loose white night-gown and shawl, her night cap thrown off and her hair falling upon her shoulders. Her feet in slippers, tears in her eyes, but perfectly collected and dignified." Lord Melbourne, the prime minister, sat the meeting of the privy council at 11 o'clock that day; there the queen took the coronation oath, and the cabinet ministers and other privy councillors swore allegiance to her and expressed themselves charmed by her gentle dignity and engaging manners.

The proclamation of the new sovereign and her speech in person from the throne in the house of lords followed soon after; but her public coronation and the brilliant pageantry connected therewith took place the next year—June 28, 1838. While many persons of royal blood and many noblemen from various parts of Europe appeared in the procession, public interest centered on Marshal Soult, Duke of Dalmatia, Napoleon's strong supporter, commander of the Old Guard at Ligny and opponent of Wellington in Spain. He had been sent by Louis Philippe, king of the French, as ambassador extraordinary for this occasion, and was received by all ranks of the people with the wildest enthusiasm. Another conspicuous figure was the Austrian ambassador, Prince Esterhazy, whose dress was literally ablaze with diamonds. Indeed, "the Esterhazy diamonds" became a synonym for grandeur. The reception of Soult, with other acts of the young queen, indicated that an era of liberal ideas had set in, and the effect was heightened by the fact that soon after she conferred the honor of knighthood on Sir Moses Montefiore, the first Jew to be elected sheriff of London and the first to receive honors from a monarch since the beginning of the religious wars. Complete emancipation of Jews and Catholics, and many minor measures of liberty, followed in due course.

The queen was surrounded and supported by able men. The Whigs, or Liberals, as now called, were in power. At the head of the cabinet, as prime minister, was Lord Melbourne, and his great opponents in the house of commons were the eloquent Lord Brougham and the acute Lord Lyndhurst. Other famous men then in parliament were Mr. Grote, the historian of Greece; Edward Lytton Bulwer, afterward Lord Lytton; Lord John Russell, Lord Palmerston, Sir Robert Peel, Mr. Gladstone, Mr. Roebuck and Lord Stanley, afterward Lord Derby. Daniel O'Connell still remained, but his great work was done, and the rest of his public life was painful and for the most part unprofitable. Disraeli was just beginning to be known, but universally ridiculed as a fop and charlatan. Soon after three very noted men entered parliament: Richard Cobden, the advocate of peace and free trade; John Bright, his co-worker, and Thomas Babington Macaulay, whose rather brilliant parliamentary career has been quite obscured by his greater brilliancy as essayist and historian. With all these and many more able men in public life, with general peace in all her dominions and the enthusiastic love of her people, the queen seemed to begin her reign with the fairest of prospects.

THE QUEEN'S MARRIAGE.

The Royal Family, Residences and Home Life.

On the 10th of January, 1840, her majesty announced at the opening of parliament that she would soon marry her cousin, Prince Albert—a step, she trusted, "conducive to the interests of my people as well as my own domestic happiness."

The marriage took place Feb. 10, 1840. His Royal Highness Francis Albert Augustus Charles Emanuel, Duke of Saxony and Prince of Coburg and Gotha (such were his full titles), was born Aug. 26, 1819, and was therefore three months younger than the queen. They became lovers early, and one of the ladies in waiting relates that the queen was sorely tried by the royal etiquette, which demanded that she should make the first suggestion of marriage. After the interview she reached her chamber in great agitation, and, being comforted by the lady, remarked: "I am indeed agitated, and with good cause—I have just proposed to the prince." Her chosen husband was at once naturalized by act of parliament, given the title of prince consort and an annuity of £50,000 sterling per year, and it was enacted that in case he outlived the queen he should be regent of the kingdom till the heir came of age. Prince Albert, though distrusted at first, soon won the hearts of the English by his purity of character and unaffected devotion to the duties of his position. He devoted himself to various reforms of a social nature, especially the abolition of dueling in the army, and was the active promoter of the Crystal palace scheme of 1851. He was the friend of peace and liberty in all nations. He died, after a very short illness, on the 14th of December, 1861. The queen long remained inconsolable for his death; her protracted seclusion caused much murmuring among her subjects, and even now her romantic devotion to his memory and extreme partiality to his personal friends provoke criticism. Nine children, of whom seven still live, were born to the royal pair; all the nine married, and several have children, so the queen has seven living children, thirty-one grandchildren and six great grandchildren. The queen's eldest, Victoria Adelaide Mary Louise, born Nov. 21, 1840, is the wife of the crown prince of Germany, and thus the descendants of the queen will occupy the seat of power in that empire. The next child, born Nov. 9, 1841, is the present Albert Edward, prince of Wales; in 1863, March 10, he married the Princess Alexandra Caroline Mary Charlotte Louise Julia, oldest daughter of the king of Denmark, by whom he has two sons and three daughters, so the succession to the throne would seem well secured.

Alice Maud Mary, third child of the queen, born April 25, 1843, married the Grand Duke of Hesse Darmstadt, and died Dec. 14, 1878. The fourth child, Alfred Ernest Albert, Duke of Edinburgh, born Aug. 6, 1844, married the Grand Duchess Marie of Russia, and is rear admiral of the royal navy. Helena Augusta Victoria, born May 25, 1846, is the wife of Prince Frederick of Schleswig-Holstein. Louise Caroline Alberta, born March 18, 1848, was married March 21, 1871, to John, Marquis of Lorne. These two are well and favorably known to Americans, as the marquis was some time governor general of Canada, and visited the United States during his term. Arthur William Patrick Albert, Duke of Connaught, was born May 1, 1850, and on March 13, 1879, married the Princess Louise Margaret of Prussia. Leopold George Duncan Albert, Duke of Albany, born April 7, 1853, was married April 27, 1882, to Princess Helena, of Waldeck Pyrmont, and died March 28, 1884. The queen's youngest child, Beatrice Mary Victoria Feodore, born April 14, 1857, was married July 23, 1885, to Prince Henry of Battenberg. We need not wonder that the marriage portions and large annuities asked by the queen and granted by parliament have often excited lively discussion, both in the house of commons and among the people. The intermarriages of royal families give rise to strange relationships in Europe; and it is matter of note that the longest wars are waged between nations whose monarchs are very near relatives. In fact all the monarchs of Europe to-day, except the sultan of Turkey, are blood relatives, every one of them descended on one side or the other from John of Gaunt, son of Edward III of England.

The queen has told us much of the happy life she led with the prince consort, especially at Balmoral, their country seat in the Scottish highlands. There nearly all the court ceremonial was laid aside, and the happy couple enjoyed themselves like a country gentleman and lady of the middle class. It was far otherwise at the regular British court, especially at Windsor castle, the established royal residence.

This noted structure is situated just east of the little city of Windsor, a place of some 12,000 inhabitants, on a high ground above the right bank of the Thames, twenty-three miles from London. An iron bridge across the Thames connects Windsor with Eton, the seat of learning; both places are very beautiful and well supplied with elegant homes. The royal castle and attached buildings cover twelve acres of ground and stand in a tract of alternate grove, gram plat, lake and garden, called "little park," though it is four miles in circumference; southward from this extend the noted Windsor avenues of old trees, which connect with the "great park," eighteen miles in circumference, and west of that again is the great Windsor forest, with a circuit of fifty-six miles. Almost every rod of all these is historic ground; for this was a residence of the Saxon kings nearly 1,000 years ago, and has rarely ceased to be a royal home at any subsequent time. In those groves and shaded walks have been held many conferences and many arguments made that settled the fate of dynasties, and from the gates have ridden many couriers bearing dispatches that have changed the destiny of nations. The castle proper was founded by William the Conqueror, but almost entirely rebuilt by order of Edward III, the architect being the noted William of Wykeham, and, in 1824-'8, the edifice was finally and completely remodeled under direction of Sir Geoffrey Wyatville. St. George's chapel is noted for the beauty of its Gothic architecture, and in its vault lie the remains of many royal personages, among them Henry VI, Edward IV and his queen, Henry VIII and Jane Seymour, Charles I, two of the Georges and William IV. In the round tower state prisoners were formerly confined, and the unfortunate James I of Scotland was some time a prisoner there. Half a mile from Windsor castle is the small palace of Frogmore, which was the residence of Queen Charlotte and of Queen Victoria's mother, the Duchess of Kent.

Despite the grandeur of Windsor and its historic associations with her most glorious ancestors, the queen's heart home is at Balmoral, in the Scottish highlands. So charming was life there to the queen and prince consort that she has taken the world into her confidence since her husband's death by writing a book on their life in the highlands. The prince leased the estate in 1848, and bought it in 1852. It is located in the parish of Crathie, Aberdeenshire, on the right bank of the River Dee, and comprises an area of 100,000 acres, in which is a tract of 1,080 acres of almost primeval forest, and 30,000 acres of deer park, which includes forest, open glade, hill and valley. The air is cool and invigorating in the warmest season. The Ben-a-bourd, a picturesque mountain peak near by, furnished Prince Albert his favorite evening view; so the queen chose that as the site of her memorial to the prince, which was erected in 1863.

At Balmoral she has always been accompanied by her daughter Princess Beatrice, and the marriage of the latter to Prince Henry of Battenberg has made no difference in this respect. His pleasant manner has made him a great favorite at the little court and among the Highlanders. There are few visitors to Balmoral. The Prince and Princess of Wales often come, making their home at Abergeldie, and at times other members of the royal family or invited guests are there. The queen spends much of her time in the open air, walking about the grounds or in the groves with her favorite collie dogs, or seated on the lawn, reading, or driving about the neighborhood, occasionally visiting the local gentry. She also visits the homes of the cotters (we might call them cottagers) frequently, and they have many tokens of her kindness in the form of books, pictures and photographs. She is often present at a christening or a funeral. But with all these gracious ways, her majesty is decidedly "near," as the peasantry say—a British form of the American slang "close"—that is, she calculates the outgo of the sixpences more than royal ladies usually do. Even at Balmoral she devotes much of her time to studying the management of her estate and the condition of her funds, as well as the affairs of the nation. A lady in waiting, two young ladies as maids of honor, a cabinet minister, an equerry, a doctor and a secretary make up the entire suite, and the household service is quite limited.

It is far otherwise at Windsor during the season. There is a regiment of attendants of all ranks, from duke to dustman and from lady of the bedchamber to scullion. The total household, who receives £1,200 a year, and has a private secretary at a good salary. Next comes the lord treasurer of the household, who pays the bills and gets a salary of £1,000 a year. These three constitute the board of green cloth, and sit as judges of all offenses committed in the palace; and to assist them and keep the record they have one secretary at £1,500 a year (as it would be in American money) and three accounting clerks at $1,000 each. Then there is the clerk of the kitchen at $3,500 a year, the chief at the same and his four assistant cooks at $1,750 each, the chief confectioner at $1,500 and his assistant at $1,200, the chief butler at $2,500, the table decker at $1,000, and his assistants at salaries somewhat less. There are also yeomen of the pantries, ladies of the linen room and a vast array of chambermaids, lamp lighters, washers, etc. The coal department alone employs thirteen persons.

Directly about her majesty's person are the mistress of the robes, the groom of the robes, the keeper of the private purse, or financial secretary to the queen, eight maids of honor, as many bed chamber women and numerous maids for other functions—all these under control of the lord chamberlain, who receives $10,000 a year and is assisted by the groom of the stole. Next to the ladies who attend directly on the queen come the gentlemen of the private household, viz: Eight lords in waiting, as many grooms in waiting and divers gentlemen ushers of the privy chamber, grooms of the privy chamber, grooms of the great chamber and pages of the back stairs. In short, life at the court even in the most ordinary times is carried on with such ponderous social machinery and routine that it almost makes one tired to hear of it. But in addition to all these, there are two distinct sets of officials for extraordinary occasions, with independent functions and different codes of ceremonial and etiquette.

At the head of one of these is the marshal of the ceremonies. He manages the etiquette on all state occasions and conducts foreign ambassadors to the queen's presence. The other is the court of the marshalsea, which has legal jurisdiction of all crimes and misdemeanors committed anywhere within the queen's private domain. It is a regular court of justice, with the same general law as other English courts, but with far more ceremony and vastly more expense in proportion to the work it does. The knight marshal, who is the same as sheriff or chief of police to this court, is a tolerably important personage with $3,500 a year, and has eight deputies, besides a few sergeants and secretaries. The foregoing gives but a mere outline of the system. There are departments of music, amusement, medicine, charity and literature, in all of which liberal salaries are paid.

The guest invited to dine with the queen is expected to remain at the castle over night. Arriving late in the afternoon he is conducted at once to his apartment, where he receives a call from the master of the household, now Sir J. C. Cowell, and if he desires, can have tea and lunch at once. Full court dress is required for the dinner; and at 8 o'clock the guests are conducted to the great gallery, as it is called—a private picture gallery, never opened to the public even when they are allowed to visit the castle. At 8:30 the queen and Princess Beatrice enter, salute the guests and lead the way to the dining room, which, if the company is small, is a comparatively cosy little room, with a broad window opening upon the central court of the palace. Sir J. C. Cowell arranges the guests and presides at the table. Conversation is not in order, though the queen often chats with her daughter. The time for eating is short, then the queen and the ladies retire and a few minutes after the master of the household gives the signal for the gentlemen to leave, and thereafter they can do very much as they please, as they will meet the queen no more. They can smoke or play billiards or whist in the rooms for those purposes; they can listen to music in the drawing room, or read in the library, or yawn and stretch themselves in their own apartments, as, no doubt, many of them feel like doing. They can retire when they please and have breakfast in their own rooms, or in the gentlemen's hall down stairs, as they like, but they are expected to leave as early as 11 next day. Meanwhile the queen has spent the evening in her private room, has retired early, risen and breakfasted early, and taken her morning drive before noon.

EPITOME OF THE REIGN.

Her majesty's accession was cotemporary with a rebellion in Canada. In the eastern provinces, now Quebec, it began with the complaints of the French that they did not enjoy equal rights with the English; there was much trouble, two or three sharp fights, and some bloodshed. In the western province, now Ontario, there was a demand for popular election of a parliament, with full control of the finances, and equality among churches in receipt of government funds; but there a large majority was loyal, and the rebellion was treated with contempt by the governor, Sir Francis Head. Nevertheless there were dangerous complications with the United States, owing to the acts of American sympathizers with the insurgents and the destruction of the American steamer Caroline, which the loyal Canadians set loose in the Niagara and let her run over the Falls. But all these matters were amicably adjusted, the Canadians obtained a very liberal system of government and in 1842 the last difficulty was removed by the Webster-Ashburton treaty defining the exact boundary. Canada has since made such rapid progress that all the colonies, from Prince Edward Island to British Columbia, are now united in a confederation, and a new nation of 5,000,000 people and nearly 3,000,000 square miles borders the United States on the north. The government is a happy combination of the British and American systems, each modified to suit the circumstances of the case. The head of the government is governor general, appointed by the crown, and is therefore a political cipher. He is commander in chief of every employe in the household, except the ladies directly about the person of the queen, the religious staff and the stable corps. He appears at court on state occasions, and appoints all his subordinates. His lieutenant is the master of the

A HAPPY GIRL.

"It was just exactly like Cinderella in the fairy-books," said Musidora, exultantly. "One evening of light and splendor—one delicious waltz with a partner, who seemed absolutely to float on wings, one glimpse of that great palm-crowded conservatory, with the arched glass roof, and the festoons of colored lamps! Wasn't it nice of Nell to lend me her blue crape dress and satin boots, and the old set of sapphires that came down to the Magnus family from nobody knows who? And now—oh yes, the lights are out, and the ball-bouquet faded, and it's ten o'clock of a snowy December day, and if I don't make haste I shall lose the Western express! Oh, dear!—oh, dear, why can't we all live in fairy-land for ever?"

"Because," Eleanor Magnus solemnly made answer, "it is not in the nature of things."

But Musidora dreamed of that one glittering ball as the train sped past the low Jersey flats, and flew shrieking on its way to the Far West. She never had been to a ball before, she probably never would see one again. Now she smiled to herself as she remembered how she had let her partner keep one of her little blue gloves—"As a souvenir," he had declared laughingly.

"But he didn't know that I was going to Dakota," said Musidora, gleefully. "I wonder how many nights he will look out for me at the opera, and at balls, and soirees, and receptions, before he gives me up? It was nice! And how divinely he waltzed! Cecil Grieve—it was such a pretty name, too. Well, good-bye, Cecil!" with a wave of her hand toward the marshes. "I shall never see you again."

For Musidora was leaving behind her all the traditions and associations of the East. She had tried in vain to earn a livelihood in the old seaport city of Maine, where fortune had originally cast her lot.

She had stormed the citadel with the needle, tapped at its gates with a pencil, written stories which were "declined with thanks," and opened a little school to which nobody ever came.

"It's no use," said Musidora. "There are too many women here. I'll go somewhere else. For surely there is some place where I must be needed."

So she had written to her uncle out in Dakota, to know if she could help him keep house there.

"I'll try not to be in the way, uncle," she wrote pathetically. "I can sew, and spin, and cook, and darn, and it will be strange, indeed, if I don't manage to pay my way."

Uncle Absalom had written back:

"Come and welcome. Girls are as scarce as sequins here. You are not a true Magnus if you can't support yourself; but even if you were a wax puppet I'd make you welcome for my brother Hiram's sake."

So Musidora had followed the beckoning of this finger of fate; and on her way to Dakota she had stayed one night in New York and been to a ball in Eleanor Magnus's new blue crape dress. If she had descended into the Valley of Diamonds with Sinbad the Sailor, or gone behind the scenes in a fairy extravaganza, the scene could not have been newer or more delightful to her.

"It's an experience," said Musidora. "I'll put it down in my diary, with my first lover, my wedding, and my first glimpse of Niagara."

And all that weary journey, when the train seemed to oscillate along the flat plains with never-resting persistency, she closed her eyes to think over the lights of the palm trees, the swaying strains of "The Beautiful Blue Danube," and the scent of the gardenia in Cecil Grieve's buttonhole.

Uncle Absalom was a tall bearded man, with grizzled hair, sun-browned face, and a coat which looked as if it hadn't been brushed for a twelvemonth.

He kissed his niece, helped her into a red cutter, and drove away through the snow-drift to a log cabin, where there was a fire as big as a blacksmithy, and a dinner of half-raw venison steaks and scorched potatoes.

Musidora looked pityingly on the carpetless floor, the cobweb-draped ceilings and the bed, which did not seem to have any linen sheets on it.

"Are you so very poor, Uncle Absalom?" said she wistfully.

"Well, not so very," said Uncle Absalom with a smile. "I've got three thousand sheep, a hundred and fifty fat cattle, and seventy horses. And I think there's twenty thousand acres on my place, if the surveyor didn't make no mistake. "Yes," following the direction of his niece's eye, "I'm aware we hain't much brio-a-brac here, but that will all come in time. It's victuals and drink, a shelter from the storm, and a good fire, that's most needed here just at present. Now you've come, you can civilize us up a bit."

So Musidora went cheerfully to work, and in a year's time the old log cabin had been transformed into a bright little home, all aglow with the tokens of woman's presence.

To be sure, it was lonesome there, and she was a little afraid of the red-browed Indians who came now and then, in stealthy bands, from the reservation. But the country was so grand and the forests so sublime that she grew to love the very solitude.

"Uncle Absalom," she said solemnly, "I like Far West. I mean to stay here always with you."

"That would suit me egzactly," said Uncle Absalom, who was smoking his briar-wood pipe on the front doorstep. "But it ain't likely. Some fellow will come along and snap you up."

Musidora laughed.

"There are no 'fellows' here, Uncle Absalom," she said; "unless you count Red Feather Jack, at the reservation, or Simple Peter, that goes around from door to door, playing the bagpipes."

Uncle Absalom said nothing, he only laughed and smoked on.

The next day came news from up-country.

"Musidora," said Uncle Absalom, "was you ever in a hospital?"

"No," the girl answered, looking at him with wondering eyes. "Why do you ask?"

"Because," he answered, "you're wanted to go on hospital duty. Those devils of redskins have broken out again; nobody can trust 'em no farther than they can see 'em. They've waylaid a party going to the mountains, robbed their mules, and left 'em for dead. Musidora, you've got pretty good pluck; will you go with me to Lovely Falls, to see what can be done for the poor fellows?"

"Yes, I will go."

Lovely Falls had been well named. The wild frantic leap of a sheet of water over a solitary precipice, with stunted pines leaning over the spray, with eagles screaming overhead—this was the scene. And on a bloodstained blanket on the trampled grass lay two wounded men—one dead the other unconscious.

Musidora stood for an instant looking at the stark forms. Brave woman though she was, she had never seen death in this fearful aspect before. It chilled her blood—it drew a white mist before her eyes.

For a moment only, however. Then she knelt bravely down, unpacked the little roll of lint and linen, and asked Uncle Absalom to give her the jug of warm water from the mule's back.

"There may be some chance for this one," she said. "The other is past our care. Tell them to dig a grave for him near where they have staked out the land for the little chapel."

For days the wounded man lay unconscious of all that was transpiring around him in Uncle Absalom's cabin. And one morning, in the yellow glow of early autumn, he seemed once more to emerge out of the troubled obscurity of fever dreams into the real world again.

"Where am I?" he said. "What has become of the copper-colored fiend's knife? And the girl I danced with—the girl in blue, with the little blue glove—where is she?"

"Eh?" said Uncle Absalom, withdrawing the everlasting pipe from his mouth, and staring as if every one of his faculties were concentrated in the one sense of sight.

"That's quite right, Uncle Absalom," said Musidora, who had just come into the room with a basket of wild flowers which she had been gathering to preserve. "I am the girl! I did dance with him in a blue dress once—in New York. But I never expected thus to meet him again."

"Then it was not a dream?" said Cecil Grieve, putting out his transparent skeleton-like hand; "and you were my guardian-angel after all."

Scarcely a month had elapsed since that bright autumn morning, when Musidora Magnus wrote a long and confidential letter to her cousin Eleanor, in New York.

"To think," she said, "that I, who am of all persons the most prosaic and horsespam, should have been living a real romance all these weeks! To think that he has loved me all this time! To think that the doctor says that it was my nursing that saved his life! Oh, Nell, Nell, that one Cinderella night was the turning-point of my destiny! And you are to come out to Dakota for the wedding, and then we will all go back East again, for Cecil declares that after this warning, he will never live in a place where there are Indian reservations. And Uncle Absalom says he does not know what he shall do when I'm gone. But of one thing Nelly, I want you to be very, very sure. I am the happiest girl alive. Yes, the very happiest."

And Uncle Absalom's sole comment was:

"I said so all along."

The American "Rag-Doctor."

The Berliners are greatly exercised over the person of an American whom they contemptuously nicknams "the rag-doctor," but whom they envy most cordially. According to Berlin reports this individual is neither more nor less than an American physician to whom the government at Washington has intrusted the important charge of overseeing the disinfection of all the rags exported from Europe (?) to the United States. His stamp alone will allow them to be landed on American soil. According to the same rumor, he is believed to receive the round salary of $20,000 from his government besides a fee of 65 pfennigs from the exporters of every bale of rags he inspects, the daily number of which is computed at about 400! This and the salary together would give the "rag-doctor" an annual income almost equal to that of the president. It seems remarkable that thus far little or nothing has been heard of anxious competitors for so snug a berth. —Paris American Register.

A life insurance agent states that he has just concluded an insurance upon the life of a man aged one hundred and two years. This centenarian enjoys good health and appears to be in the possession of his faculties. He states that his father lived to the age of one hundred and ten, and met his death from an injury due to the breaking of a millstone. His grandfather was, he asserts, accidentally killed in his mill at the age of one hundred and twenty-six. His great-grandfather lived to the age of one hundred and thirty-three. The man in question distinctly remembers his great grandfather, and has now living a great-great niece.

NIAGARA FALLS, June 17.—A very interesting and well contested game of lacrosse for the junior championship of Niagara district, took place here this afternoon between the Lincolns of Merriton and the Junior Niagaras. On account of rain the match was not commenced until late in the afternoon. The Juniors won three games and the visitors two.

Harvard Wins the Boston Trophy.

BOSTON, June 17.—The eight-oared race, a mile and a half straight away on the Charles River, for The Boston Herald trophy, was won by the Harvard 'Varsity crew in 8 minutes and 24 seconds. The Bradford crew came in second by three boat-lengths, and the Crescent third by one length. The Harvard crew rowed in the best form they have showed since 1885.

A Jockey Makes a Serious Charge.

Stoval, the jockey, had a losing mount on Mahoney on Monday at St. Louis. The following day he went to the judges and stated that Mr. Hutchinson, who manages J. T. Williams' horses, sent him an offer of $300 through Charley Cross, the jockey, to ride Mahoney to lose. This he refused to do, and the same offer was then made by Hutchinson in person. Stoval says he then refused to ride the horse, but that Harvey Colston, the trainer, came to him and persuaded him to ride. Stoval also says that the trainer told him to go out and make the running. This Stoval did so effectually that Mahoney was beaten at the end of a mile. Stoval says that he intended to tell the judges before the race, but that they were not in the stand when he went to weigh and he then rode the horse to orders. J. T. Williams, the owner of Mahoney, is not here. The general opinion is that Stoval, who has figured in a number of disreputable races during the last few years, was disappointed in some way and has told the story for revenge. The judges say that if they can find the person who approached Stoval, or, if they prove that Stoval is lying, they will inflict the full penalty.

Gossip of the Turf.

Mr. Gratz, whose horses are now at Sheepshead Bay, has decided to send Fonsion to Chicago, to contest in the American Derby to be run on June 25. Elkwood will accompany him and run for the cup.

Eugene Leigh, at St. Louis this week, disposed of the Kyrle Daly gelding W H H to W. L. Tanner for $1,350, and J. D. Pollard sold to M. Kaufman the bay gelding Jim Nave, the price being $1,250. The latter will, it is said, still carry the Bradley Bros.' colors.

The Brighton Beach Association has definitely decided to give a renewal of the Suburban. The race is to be run on Monday, June 27. The added money will be $1000, of which $200 to the second and $100 to the third. The winner of the Suburban is to be penalized seven pounds, the second horse five pounds, and the third horse three pounds.

The Brooklyn Jockey Club has introduced the Western rule, which requires that jockeys should have the number which their horse carries on the program affixed to the right sleeve. This custom, which has been in use in Australia for some years, has been found to work well in the west. It enables people to distinguish the horses much more readily, and in cases where the colors of two horses are similar or alike it facilitates the work of the judges in a close finish.

Following is the standing of the most successful American jockeys up to June 11:

	Mounts.	Won.		Mounts.	Won.
Godfrey	70	27	H. Blaylock	49	14

Capulin split his hoof at the post in the last race at Prospect Park on Thursday and did not start. As he was in the starter's hands, however, all money bet on him was lost.

Like Lightning.

The rapid action of the "great pain cure," Polson's Nerviline, in relieving the most intense pain, is a matter of wonder to all who have used it. There is nothing surprising in its results, for it is made of the strongest, purest and most efficient remedies known in medicine. Nerviline cures toothache instantly; cramps in five minutes; neuralgia after two applications; rheumatism is at once relieved by its use; and the same may be said of all kinds of pain. Sample bottles, costing only 10 cts. at any drug store. The large bottle only 25 cents. Polson's Nerviline sold by druggists and country dealers. 6dw24

Cholera Infantum.

That terrible scourge among children may be speedily cured by Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. All forms of bowel complaints, nausea and vomiting, from an ordinary diarrhœa to the most severe attack of Canadian cholera, can be subdued by its use. It is the best remedy for children or adults suffering from summer complaints. 2w24d

A TORONTO MAN'S TRIALS.

The Causes Which Led to a Buffalo Brother's Arrest.

BUFFALO, June 17.—Hugh Cameron of Toronto obtained a writ of habeas corpus from Judge Hammond on Tuesday for the production in court of his two young daughters, who were kept at the Holy Angels Academy by direction of their mother, who is separated from her husband. The writ was returnable yesterday, but before it was served Cameron, while visiting the Academy in the morning, met the mother of his children there. She has been living with A. T. Kerr, a Seneca-street broker, at 160 Hodge-avenue, since she came to Buffalo, and was supposed to be his wife. The girls had been placed in the Loretto Convent, Toronto, by the father, but was abducted by the mother and brought to this city. Mrs. Cameron and A. T. Kerr became acquainted in Toronto, where he has a wife living. When Mr. Cameron met the mother of his two little girls at the Holy Angels Academy yesterday, she appeared content and willing to surrender the children after a little talk.

The arrangement was that she and Kerr should call at the detective office of Watts & Curtis, where a satisfactory mutual under standing was to be reached. Neither put in an appearance, however, and when the father and Detective Watts called at the academy for the children they learned that they had been taken away by the mother.

Late last evening it was ascertained that an attempt would be made to remove the girls from the city. Another writ of habeas corpus was immediately procured from Judge Hatch at his house on Bryant-street, and a clerk in the employ of Kerr and a nurse were caught by Mr. Watts and the father in the very act of abducting the little ones, as is claimed by them. A closed carriage was ready to take the party away. Mr. Kerr, who was present, attempted to resist the efforts of the detectives to get possession of the children and was arrested by Mr. Watts. He was taken to Station 1 and locked up, Mrs. Cameron following in the carriage with the girls and the father.

Mrs. Cameron at first insisted upon being locked up with "Gus," preferring that, she said, to going to a hotel with her daughters for the night, but she was afterward persuaded to return to Kerr's house on Hodge-avenue where she remained until this morning, under the detective's surveillance.

Mrs. Cameron is a handsome woman, and according to the story of her husband, was led astray by Kerr in Toronto, where he has a wife and a grown-up daughter living in Gloucester street. He is about 41 years old, and quite a showy looking man. He spent the night in a cell at Police Headquarters. An action has been begun by Cameron for divorce and another against Kerr for $20,000 damages for alienating his wife's affections and breaking up his family.

Mr. Cameron appeared in Police Court with his lawyer, Leroy Andrus, but the case was not called up and they left the court to appear in the habeas corpus proceedings before Judge Hatch.

Mrs. Cameron and her two children were before Judge Hatch this afternoon. Lawyer Andrus, for Cameron, urged an immediate settlement of the case, but as Mrs. Cameron's lawyer was not ready the case went over till to-morrow morning.

Kerr has not yet secured bail.

BURNED TO THE WATER'S EDGE.

A Fatal Fire on Board a Steamer in Lake Michigan.

DETROIT, June 17.—A special from Charlevoix says the steamer Champlain, of the Northern Michigan Line, bound for Cheboygan from Chicago, was burned at midnight between Norwood and Charlevoix, at the mouth of the Grand Traverse Bay. Flames drove the engineer from his post. He returned too late to stop the engine or connect the hose. The passengers assembled on the forward deck. The steamer was running so fast that two life-boats and life-rafts were carried away. Within ten minutes after the boat caught the passengers were compelled to jump into the lake. The steward says that there were fifty-seven persons on board, including the crew.

Those saved floated an hour and a half, when they were rescued by a yawl and fish-boats from the shore. Several were badly burned. The boat burned to the hull and has been towed here. It is thought that the fire was the result of an exploded lamp. Seven bodies have been recovered. The boat was valued at $10,000.

Another Break in Coffee.

NEW YORK, June 17.—The main cause of the depression in the coffee market to-day was a break in Havre and reports of two failures in Brazil. It is also feared that there will be other suspensions, both here and on the other side. Advices from Rio are quiet, prices nominal.

A Living Miracle.

"My infant daughter was taken ill with cholera infantum, the doctor said she could not live. The Rev. Wm. McWilliams would not allow her head to be lifted when he baptised her, she was so weak. Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry gave immediate relief. She is a living miracle, hale and hearty. Since that time (7 years) our house has never been without that remedy." * * * * From statement of George Johnson, Harwood, Ont. 2w24d

Jubilee Anthem.

O God! Thou source of love!
From Thy great throne above
Bless Thou our Queen.
Guide Thou her reign of state,
Her people elevate,
And guard her empire great;
God save the Queen!

Give freedom to the slave,
Confound the traitor knave,
God guard our Queen.
Extend with favoring breeze,
Her commerce o'er the seas;
Guard all her colonies;
God save the Queen!

Protect her noble ships
That belch from flaming lips:
"God bless our Queen":
Great ramparts of the deep
That o'er old ocean sweep,
And watchful sentry keep;
God save the Queen!

Smile on us all it is day;
Lord hear us when we pray
"Long live our Queen,"
Keep all her people free,
O'er every land and sea,
God bless her Jubilee.—
GOD SAVE THE QUEEN!

The Queen's Jubilee.

A Fine Programme of Events.

On our supplement to this issue will be found a detailed programme of the proceedings on Tuesday next, jubilee day. The programme is one that cannot fail to attract crowds of visitors to town, and Peterborough's jubilee celebration will in all probability eclipse former events of this character. Let everyone turn out and help to make the day one to be long remembered.

Let it be a Holiday.

At last night's meeting of the Jubilee Committee a petition signed by about fifty clerks of the town, requesting the committee to use its influence towards inducing the merchants to close up their stores on Jubilee Day, as far as the transaction of business is concerned, and allow their employees to take a holiday, was presented and heartily endorsed by every member of the committee. It was decided to request the Mayor to issue a proclamation calling upon the merchants to observe the day as a holiday. Such a proclamation should be unnecessary. Both the Dominion and Provincial Governments having proclaimed the day, but there are a few merchants who seem inclined to do the contrary, and if these few carry out their intentions, all the others will follow their example. The Mayor has been pleased to issue a proclamation to that effect, and all loyal citizens are requested to observe the Tuesday as a holiday.

Jubilee Picnic.

Don't forget the rounds of fun that will take place on the Murray St. Separate school grounds Tuesday next. A first-class dinner for twenty-five cents, and supper likewise. A platform has been provided for dancing. The committee have been untiring in their efforts to make it enjoyable to all participating. All are cordially invited. 2d

Ladies wanting first-class Millinery at reduced prices will find it to their advantage to call at H. S. Griffin & Co. 2d

LOCAL NEWS.

KIDD has special value in ladies' Fedora hat booth.

Lawn Tennis.

Royal Scarlet Chapter.

A special meeting of the Royal Scarlet Chapter for West Peterborough will be held to-night to consider urgent business.

Decoration and Illumination.

It is pleasing to notice that our citizens are preparing for a wholesale decoration and illumination of their premises on jubilee day. Evidently the whole town will be en fete.

The Dude

of Dr. Washington's next visit will be Wednesday, July 27th, for one day only. Those afflicted with catarrh and nasal diseases should make a note of this and govern themselves accordingly.

The Public Perplexed.

Hundreds of persons inspect the Gaslight Jubilee Arch every day and then go away perplexed, and think that J. J. Sheehy erected it to show his pure black silk gloved, eight buttons length, 6/6 centers pair.

A New Association.

The East Ontario Association of the Baptist Church is in session at Colborne. The Association has been divided, the district from Port Hope eastward being now called the Belleville and Peterborough Association.

Bunting Arches.

Monday will be a busy day on our streets. The Foresters, Oddfellows, Orangemen, Sons of England and some private citizens will all be at work erecting arches for jubilee day. The S. O. E. have their arch already well under way; the others have not yet begun.

—Streamers, mottoes, bannerette, and flags printed in the most effective manner, for jubilee celebration day at the EXAMINER office. Don't wait until the last hour to send orders, but get ready now before the hurry and bustle begins.

A Call to the Ladies.

The members of the Fire Brigade would feel thankful to the ladies for contributions of flowers for the purpose of decorating the engine, hose cart and waggons, for the procession on Tuesday. Those who respond are requested to leave them at the fire hall on Monday afternoon and evening.

Toronto Conservatory of Music.

Appearing elsewhere in these columns our readers will find an advertisement of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, the first institution of this kind in Canada, and one whose object and plans for the furtherance of music must commend themselves to everyone interested in the Art.

A select stock of Millinery, Mantles, Hoop-Skirts, Bustles, Fannies, &c., &c. at Turnbull's Ladies' Furnishing Store on Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

Committee Meeting.

A meeting of the Jubilee Committee was held last evening. Everything is going on "swimmingly," all the sub-committees reporting satisfactory progress. The programmes have been issued and nothing now remains to be wished for except genuine Queen's weather. Next Tuesday will be a big day. The Committee meet again this evening.

Plans for Decoration.

If there is one man more than another in town who is happy over the Jubilee it is Mr. J. J. Turner, the tent and awning manufacturer, who has gone very extensively into the supply of flags, banners and bunting for decoration on Tuesday. He has an almost unlimited supply of these goods, and is daily receiving fresh stock from the manufacturers and can suit everybody in price, quality style and size. If you want to make any decoration for the Jubilee call around and see him, as he is certain to suit you.

Medal and Diplomas.

Mr. J. D. McIlmoyle, headmaster of the Separate school for boys, Murray street, on Friday received from the Secretary of the Indian and Colonial Exhibition held in London, England, a bronze medal and diploma, awarded to the school for the work of the pupils, in arithmetic, writing, drawing, map-drawing and other subjects. This speaks highly for the efficiency of the training imparted to the pupils, as this school is among the new separate schools in the province to which medals and diplomas were awarded.

"The Year of Jubilee has Come."

"Hang out the banner on the outer wall" is all the cry these jubilee days, and Gough, the wonderful cheap man, is not the man to neglect the signs of the times. Swung from the lofty parapet of his business premises, George street, is a mighty banner blazoned with pregnant words "$18,500 worth of ready-made clothing at 40 cents on the dollar, greatest bargain on earth." This is no "bide"—except to the high priced dealers—they are "words of truth and soberness. The goods are there, the bargains are there, and the great Gough is there with a doubled staff of salesmen kept busy all day dealing out bargains to the multitudes. Now is the time, now is the year of jubilee.

A Musical Service.

The terminal exercises in connection with the presentation of medals to successful candidates at the Convent of the Congregation de Notre Dame, last evening, were a complete success. The entertainment had a semi-private character, the institution lacking sufficient accommodation to admit of many being asked. Among those who figured more prominently on the excellent programme presented were the Misses Fairweather, Lynch and Laplante, who acquitted themselves in a way to credit both the talent of the young performers and the ladies in charge. We would like to give this pleasing soiree a more extended notice did space permit. As it is we will merely add that those present, among whom were Rev. Pere Paydie and Prof. Dutoy, spoke enthusiastically of the good manner in which their work, as also of the ability of their youthful scholars.

A Letter Written by Gilbert on his Return to the Death of the Late Wm. Gilbert.

In answer to a letter of inquiry from Mr. A. McFarlane, Secretary of Peterboro' Lodge I.O.O.F., as to the death of the late Wm. Gilbert, the following letter has been received from W. R. Johnson, Secretary of the General Relief Committee, I.O.O.F., of St. Paul, Minn.:—

ST. PAUL, June 16th, 1887.

Andrew McFarlane:—

DEAR SIR AND BRO.:—Yours of the 7th inst., inquiring about Bro. Wm. Gilbert, just received and I hasten to answer, in order to dispel, what to you, as it was at first to us, must be a story full of pain. Bro. Gilbert is not dead.

On the morning after his death, it was discovered that a relief fund had been established the night before in a colored house of prostitution. Papers (principally his card) found on his person showed him to be an Oddfellow, and this committee immediately offered to care for his remains.

The woman of the house, in whose back door Bro. Gilbert was found, denied ever having seen the man before, and claim not only that they did not kill him, but that he positively had not been in their house.

A post mortem examination by two surgeons showed that Bro. Gilbert came to his death by the hands of [illegible] inches brick, all from [illegible].

At the Coroner's inquest all was unanimous conclusively to all that this must have occurred to Bro. Gilbert while passing up Wabasha street, and, partially losing consciousness, he stumbled in a back door which was open, and with an unfortunate [illegible] in the heart of his slaughter death, at the back door of a low house of ill fame.

This is the only view that can be taken of it as the women claim positively that they never saw him until one was coming in the back way and stumbled over his inanimate form and there are no inducements for them to swear falsely as the doctors' testimony show all conclusively that he came to his death from natural causes.

Very fraternally,
W. R. JOHNSON.

En Route to the Coast.

A Balloon making an Aerial trip over Canada.

At a late hour yesterday afternoon the EXAMINER received the following telegram from the Toronto office of the G.N.W. Telegraph Co. Only a brief reference could be made to it in yesterday's issue. The telegram read:—

TORONTO, June 17th.

This afternoon, the 17th, a large balloon will start from St. Louis, for the Coast. This is done at the expense of the New York World, but principally for scientific purposes. It is expected to pass over a portion of Canada. If you see or hear of it report the matter quickly to us, giving prompt information.

Bulletin offices should let the next one in line know, so that they can be on the look out for it. A good deal of matter to be telegraphed will be dropped from the balloon, which, it is requested, will be sent forward promptly.

Please be on the alert, and send full report if the balloon turns up in your section.

Time, 2 41½, 2 40½, 2 42½, 2 40½, 2 43.

In a cricket match at Whitby, Friday, between Toronto and the Midland district, the former were victorious, winning on the first innings. The Midland District made 65 in the first innings and 85 in the second; Toronto made 87 in its first and only innings. The Midland District team was composed of players from Port Hope, Whitby, Uxbridge, Bowmanville, Oshawa and Peterborough, Mr. Sam Ray representing our town. He acted as Captain and made the top score for his side.

Church Chimes.

The services in St. Paul's Church to-morrow will bear upon the approaching Jubilee of the Queen. In the evening Mr. Torrance will preach upon "the honour due to Queen Victoria."

Special jubilee services will be held throughout the Church of England in Canada on Sunday next to commemorate the happy completion of her majesty's 50th year of her reign. In St. Luke's and St. John's churches the morning and evening services will be peculiarly attractive and interesting. What makes this day of peculiar interest to the Church of England is the fact that this Sunday is also fixed for the celebration of the centenary of the Colonial Episcopate of the Church of England. One hundred years ago Bishop Ingles was consecrated first Bishop of Nova Scotia, he being the first bishop in any of the British colonies. This single century has witnessed the increase in the colonial episcopate from one to 30.

The 57th Batt. will have church parade to the George street church to-morrow morning. Rev. Mr. Tovell will preach the sermon.

Charlotte street church.—In the morning the Rev. F. H. Wallace, M. A., B. D., will preach a sermon appropriate to the Queen's Jubilee. In the evening the Rev. I. Tovell will preach.

Not All Brimmers.

I have much pleasure in informing my customers and the public generally, that I have secured and have in my employ Mr. Patrick O'Donoghue, a first class barber, who is also a strong anti-firewater man. In the future there will be no more of the old disappointments in finding, in time of hurry, my man out on a "picnic." Patrons of my tonsorial establishment will be attended to with promptness and care, by Pat and Joe at the Peterborough Shaving Parlor, Hunter street, two doors west of George street and opposite the Peterborough Business College. Ladies and gentlemen, your patronage is respectfully solicited. 6d

A Suggestion.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—I am pleased to find that on the occasion of the Jubilee Celebration in honor of our Most Gracious Majesty the Queen, an address is to be read before the people, which will afterwards be forwarded to the Queen. Now, Sir, while expressing my approval of the action of the committee having the matter in hand, I would suggest that the address should be read by the person whose official position entitles him to stand out as the people's representative, thus giving weight to the expression of loyalty and attachment, and more fully showing the act as that of the people as an entirety. In England [illegible] by which the Sheriff is invested with the first consideration of the County. The Sheriff being highly [illegible] and as head of the County his position will be better recognized in England than would that of the Warden, an office unknown there, or of the Mayor, who only represents the town. It is hoped that my suggestion will be adopted, thus making all feel that the right man is in the right place.

I am sir,
Your obedient servant,
CIVIS.

Peterborough, June 18th, 1887.

A Meritorious Jubilee Poem.

Dr. Massie, of Keene, who has achieved a well deserved and more than local reputation as a writer of poems of a high order of worth has performed his chef d'oeuvre, under the title of a jubilee poem, dedicated to Her Majesty. It is a work of marked poetical merit and historical accuracy, and abounds with patriotic sentiments, such as are sure to strike a responsive chord in Her Majesty's heart. The best local judges pronounce the poem a work of unusual literary excellence inspired by the true poetic afflatus. It has been issued in neat form in clear type from the EXAMINER press. A specially prepared copy, bound at the EXAMINER bindery, in the highest style of the art—crimson morocco full gilt—was this morning despatched to Her Majesty. The poem will be placed on sale at the book stores, and no doubt hundreds will hasten to procure a copy of what will prove a most appropriate and valuable souvenir of the jubilee year.

A Vigorous New Firm.

Messrs. Ed. and Geo. Dawson have purchased the stock of the late John Erskine, and will continue the business under the firm name of Dawson Bros. Both young men have had good business training. Mr. George Dawson has had six years' experience with Mr. M. Sullivan, having previously been with Mr. W. W. Johnston, and Mr. Ed. Dawson has been a trusted employee of Mr. Geo. A. Cox for about nine years. The present stock must be sold within thirty days, and prices will be fixed so as to secure this object, as the premises must be cleared to permit of extensive alterations and improvements. The new firm is warmly commended to the public confidence. Both have had good business training and are known universally as young men of probity and honor. The EXAMINER has great pleasure in wishing the firm of Dawson Bros. a most liberal measure of success.

THE JUBILEE FESTIVITIES.

A BRILLIANT ASSEMBLY AT THE CAPITAL OF THE EMPIRE.

A List of the Royal Visitors—Service of Praise Held in Trinity Church at New York—A Letter from Cardinal Manning to the Clergy.

LONDON, June 18.—There is a scare regarding rumored dynamite outrages here, and it has required all Lord Salisbury's and the Prince of Wales' persuasions to calm the Queen's fears. Calm-minded people do not so much fear the peril of any dynamite outrage as the danger inevitably resulting from the agglomeration of enormous crowds of sight-seers. The multitude will be literally beyond all conception, and it is calculated that over 3,000,000 of people, at the very lowest estimate, will see the procession pass. It cannot be denied that the day will be a most fatiguing one for the Queen. Her ride from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Abbey, although comparatively so short a distance, will last close upon two hours, and during the whole of this time she will be forced to keep continuously bowing in response to the cheers of the crowd.

The ceremony at the Abbey will be likewise very fatiguing, and the drive back to the palace by a somewhat shorter route will also be very tiring. The Crown Princess of Germany and the Princess of Wales will occupy the front seats in the Queen's carriage, the Queen sitting alone. The carriage will be drawn by eight of the famous cream-colored Hanoverian horses, which are only used on great state occasions.

The Queen's escort will be formed by the four Kings of Belgium, Saxony, Greece and Denmark, and by the legion of English and foreign Princes who have already arrived to take part in the festivities. They will all be in full uniform and on horseback. A body of close upon 30,000 troops will line the street, and large detachments of Indian cavalry, brought specially for the purpose from India, will precede the Queen's carriage. The whole pageant will indeed be a wonderful and unparalleled spectacle, one such as cannot be seen in several hundred years. The whole of the magnificent residences along Pendilly will be almost hidden by costly tapestries, velvet hangings and floral decorations. Venetian masts already line all the streets through which the cortege will pass, and in fact the whole city already wears a general holiday attire.

Royal Guests

LONDON, June 18.—The Queen is in receipt of numerous messages of congratulation from all parts of the world. Nubar Pasha, who will represent the Khedive at the jubilee celebration, has arrived in London.

The King of Saxony, Prince Ludwig of Bavaria, Prince and Princess William of Prussia and the Princess of Saxe-Meiningen have arrived in London for the purpose of taking part in the ceremonies attending the Queen's jubilee.

The following royal personages also arrived in the course of the day: Archduke Rudolph, Crown Prince of Austria; Prince Ernest and Princess Alexandrine, of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, and Prince Henry of Prussia, second son of the Crown Prince, who arrived with an escort of seven German torpedo boats. The King and Queen of Belgium, Prince Gustaf, Crown Prince of Sweden, Prince Karl August, heir apparent to Saxe-Weimar, and Monsignor Ruffo Scilla, the Special Papal Envoy, will arrive to-night. The German Crown Prince and his family are the guests of the Queen at Windsor Castle, where the royal visitors are enjoying a gala time.

The following Americans will attend the jubilee ceremonial on Tuesday: James Russell Lowell, Gen. Lawton, United States Minister to Austria, who arrived to-day; James G. Blaine, Senator Hale, Senator McPherson and Perry Belmont.

The Marquis of Salisbury, at the Queen's command, has requested Mr. Phelps, United States Minister, to attend at Buckingham Palace on Monday to deliver President Cleveland's jubilee congratulations.

Memorial Services in New York.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Two flags, one of the United States and one of Great Britain, were trailed together in the vestibule of Trinity Church this afternoon and during the hour between 3 and 4 o'clock several thousand persons passed into the church to attend the Jubilee choral services to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the accession of Her Majesty Queen Victoria. Inside each person received a program of the services printed in red, blue and gold, with the lion and unicorn of the British coat-of-arms emblazoned upon the title page.

Rev. Jas. W. Hill conducted service, Rev. Dr. Dacosta read the first lesson, Rev. Mr. Turner the second, while Bishop Potter read the evening collect and said the benediction. The sermon was delivered by Rev. D. Morgan.

Tuesday Celebration at New York.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Four thousand tickets have been sent out for the exercises at the Metropolitan Opera House on Tuesday morning in honor of the Queen's jubilee. For the afternoon sports and games at Reunion, S.I., 15,000 tickets have been issued. The company to these entitle the bearers to admission to the grounds, lunch and admission to the fireworks enclosure at St. George in the evening. The Sons of St. George and the Caledonian and Albion societies will take part in the games. Delegations are expected from similar societies in other cities. A large number of boats, tugs and scows have been engaged for use in the fireworks display at St. George. There will be jubilee religious services at 4 p.m. to-morrow in Trinity Church.

A Letter From Cardinal Manning.

LONDON, June 19.—Cardinal Manning, in a letter to the clergy, says: "No sovereign in our long annals has been more beloved or has so won the love of the people as has Her Majesty Queen Victoria. She has shown the heart not only of a queen, but also of a mother of those who mourn. Her home and her court are bright and spotless examples for all who reign and a pattern for all her people.

"You will, I am sure, with joy offer our Heavenly Father thanksgiving prayers for Her Majesty on the jubilee of her just and happy reign."

AN UNPROVOKED MURDER.

A Volunteer Stabbed to Death at London.

LONDON, Ont., June 19.—Last night about 10 o'clock a party of volunteers, who had been in the city during the evening, while proceeding up Adelaide-street on their way back to the camp, heard a couple of shots fired from a house quite close to the street, and the voices of a man and a woman seemingly in a heated quarrel. They halted to see what was wrong, when suddenly a man burst out of the house with a large butcher-knife in his hand and ordered them to move on. As they did not seem disposed to do so, however, the man flew into a passion, and, stepping up to the force, exclaimed with an oath: "If you don't go away I will make you," at the same time aiming a blow at one of the volunteers named Ralph Shaw, a private in the Chatham company of the 24th battalion, burying the knife in the poor fellow's side, severing one of his ribs and inflicting a fatal wound.

The wounded man was picked up by his comrades and carried to the camp surgeon's tent, where he expired in about two hours.

The murderer, Charles Stephenson, well-known throughout the city as "Pipe Fees Charlie," was immediately put under arrest and taken to the police station.

Feeling ran high in the 24th Batt. when they heard of their comrade's sad fate, and lynching was openly talked of. In fact, a party of about 150 men did actually start for the Jail, but were stopped at the camp ground boundary and ordered back. Orders were subsequently given not to allow any of the 24th men out of the grounds during the rest of the day without a pass.

An inquest will be held to-morrow, after which the remains will be sent to Chatham in charge of a company of men from the 24th.

THE BODYKE EVICTIONS.

O'Callaghan's Agent Gives His Version of the Case.

LONDON, June 18.—The agent of the O'Callaghan estates at Bodyke writes to The Times that almost all of the tenants held their lands under leases at judicial rates made by the land courts. They paid their rent regularly until the National League incited them to demand 20 per cent. reduction. Even then many of the tenants paid their full rents secretly and had their receipts back-dated prior to the league mandate, and some went so far as to implore that ejectments be served on them although they had paid all in order to avoid the league's vengeance.

"The whole resistance," the agent says, "was due to the action of ten tenants. In the final negotiations nineteen tenants offered to accept the proposal to pay £318 in lieu of £902 due, but Father Harmon declined the offer on behalf of the tenants." In conclusion the agent says, "I have not the least doubt I could have effected a peaceful settlement but for the mischievous interference of outsiders."

Evicted Tenants Sent to Prison.

DUBLIN, June 18.—Several of the tenants arrested at Bodyke for resisting officers sent to evict them have been sentenced to prison at hard labor for terms ranging from one to three months. After being sentenced they were taken to Ennis Station under a heavy escort of police. Crowds of sympathizing people cheered the prisoners, and became so demonstrative that the police charged and dispersed them. Several persons were severely injured.

THE ELEPHANT WALKED ROUND.

Several Persons Injured in a Panic at a Circus in Ohio.

WELLSVILLE, Ohio, June 19.—During the evening performance of a circus at New Lisbon last night a panic occurred which nearly resulted in much loss of life. A baby elephant which was performing became unruly and attacked one of the clowns, injuring him seriously. The trainer, who was coming into the ring with another elephant, hastened to the clown's assistance. The larger animal also started on the rampage, causing a terrible stampede.

The confusion for a time was terrible, men, women and children yelling and crowding for the entrance. Quiet was finally restored, when it was found that one young lady's leg had been broken and several women and children badly bruised. One of the equestriennes, during the excitement, fell in the midst of the four horses she was riding and was terribly injured about the head and chest. Her condition is precarious.

London Stock Market.

LONDON, June 19.—During the past week on the Stock Exchange dealings were very much restricted, still prices were firm and business was in a fairly sound condition. American railroad securities were unsettled early in the week. Under the influence of the collapse of the Americus corners the market became steadier, the tendency to realize lessening daily.

SUBSIDIES FOR RAILWAYS

THE LAND GRANTS TO COMPANIES IN THE NORTHWEST.

The Terms to be Granted for the Construction of Roads in Ontario, and the Aggregate Amount Which Will be Granted in Each Province.

OTTAWA, June 18.—At the opening of the House to-day Sir Hector Langevin presented a bill, modelled on the report of the select committee appointed for the purpose, as a basis on which all future railway bills will be modeled. The debate on the bill was adjourned until Monday.

The land grants to the Northwest railways were next taken up. Hon. Thos. White moved the House into committee on the following resolutions:

(1) That it is expedient for authorizing the Governor in Council to grant to the Alberta and Athabasca Railway Company Dominion lands to an extent not exceeding 6400 acres for each mile of the company's railway from some point on the Bow River pr the Canadian Pacific Railway, at or between Calgary and Crowfoot Creek, to a point on the Athabasca River, crossing the North Saskatchewan near to the town plot of Edmonton, a distance of 200 miles.

(2) That it is expedient to authorize the Governor in Council to grant to the Qu'Appelle, Long Lake and Saskatchewan Railway and Steamboat Company Dominion lands to an extent not exceeding 6400 acres for each mile of the company's railway from the northern terminations of the portion of that railway already completed to a point at or near where the fifty-second degree of latitude crosses the South Saskatchewan, a distance of about 120 miles, and from thence to the elbow of the North Saskatchewan, a distance of about twenty-five miles, with a branch to Prince Albert, a distance of about eighty-five miles, and also a branch to Battleford, a distance of about eighty-five miles, making a total of about 320 miles.

(3) That it is expedient to authorize the Governor in Council to grant to the Medicine Hat Railway and Coal Company Dominion lands to an extent not exceeding 6400 acres for each mile of the company's railway from Medicine Hat station, on the line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, to the Medicine Hat coal mines, on the south bank of the Saskatchewan, a distance of about eight miles, to be selected out of such lands as are at the disposal of the Government in the proximity of the line of the company's railway.

(4) That it is expedient to provide that the said grants shall be free grants, subject only to the payment by the grantees respectively of the cost of the survey of the lands and incidental expenses at the rate of 10 cents per acre in cash on the issue of the patents therefor.

The Minister of Interior explained that no land grant would be given until fifty miles of the railway had been built, and that unless that fifty miles was constructed within twelve months the land grants would lapse. And further that no lands would be granted until they were earned.

Sir Richard Cartwright said that the time might be extended as in other cases he instanced and urged that there should be a substantial deposit that would ensue the building of the road. He spoke of charter bargaining.

On the second clause, regarding the Qu'Appelle and Long Lake Railway, twenty miles of which has been built,

Mr. Mills suggested that a general bill be passed granting a land subsidy to any railway as the work progressed, which would prevent charter selling.

The third clause caused some discussion, it being pointed out that a number of Toronto lawyers and others were interested in it.

The resolutions were adopted and a bill founded on them was read a first and second time.

The bill respecting a loan to the Fredricton and St. Mary's Railway Bridge Company was passed through committee and finally disposed of.

An order-in-council has been passed changing the names of certain mountains in the Rockies to the names of persons intimately connected with the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway. It is provided that Boundary Peak shall be changed to Pope's Peak, Mount Hermit to Mount Tupper, Mount Carroll to Mount Macdonald, Mount Cunningham to Mount Mackenzie, and an unnamed mountain to Mount Macpherson.

The following government bills were finally disposed of: To amend the general inspection act, for the appointment of a solicitor-general, respecting the expropriation of lands, to confer certain powers on Boards of Trade as to licensing weighers, respecting representation in the House of Commons, respecting the publication of the statutes, the advance to the Quebec Harbor Commissioners and the Western Counties Railway Bill. The House went into supply and passed the votes on customs, postoffice and Dominion lands.

The State dinner takes place on Monday night; the House will rise at 6 o'clock, commencing its sitting at 1. In moving the resolution Sir John stated that the House would sit as usual on Tuesday, although it was a public holiday. Her Majesty's life, he said, had been an industrious one, and the House could best celebrate her jubilee year by industriously imitating her example.

The Government gives notice of the following subsidies to Western railways: St. Catharines and Niagara Central, $96,400; Brantford, Waterloo and Lake Erie, $67,000; Guelph Junction, $61,200; South Norfolk, $54,400; Tecumseh and Inverhuron, $76,800; Leamington and St. Clair, $6400; railway from Woodstock towards Centreville, $64,000, and Lake Erie, Essex and Detroit River, $118,400; Ottawa Railway and Navigation Company, $22,400. All the lines are to be commenced within two years from Aug. 1 next and completed within four years.

The total subsidies amount to $3,187,600, divided up as follows: Ontario, $472,600; Quebec, $1,225,200; Nova Scotia, $216,800, and New Brunswick, $272,000.

Premier Mowat is here, and had an interview with Sir Alex. Campbell yesterday. Rumor has it that there is a probability of Mr. Mowat resigning the Premiership to accept the position of leader of the Opposition at Ottawa, but this is considered merely corridor talk.

Hon. Mr. Chapleau's appointment to the Governorship of Quebec will probably be gazetted early this week.

Hon. Alexander Mackenzie and Mrs. Mackenzie will summer at Banff.

MANY LIVES LOST.

A Party of Pilgrims Caught in a Storm on the Danube.

PESTH, June 18.—While a party of 250 pilgrims were crossing the Danube River near Paks, the boat on which they were making the passage was caught in a hurricane and capsized. Only a few of the party are saved. Over 100 bodies have been recovered.

Give Them a Chance!
That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.
When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.
Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

The Daily Examiner.

MONDAY, JUNE 20, 1887.

WHAT IS THE MATTER?

Everything is evidently not going smoothly at Ottawa. The Government seems to be in a shaky condition. There is, apparently, trouble in the camp. The leader of the Dominion government has issued a circular to his supporters in the House of Commons commanding them to remain in their places all through each sitting of the House, lest the government should on some occasion be overthrown. This circular disposes effectually of the boasting of the ministerial organs with respect to the government's majority. The circular reads as follows:

(Strictly private.) June 10th, 1887.

It is of the utmost importance that every supporter of the Government should be in attendance at the House during every session of the house, and under no consideration should be absent, except when paired. It is urgently requested that for the future this should be strictly attended to; if not the opposition will soon hold a majority, and consequently the actions of the Government will be seriously imperilled. As this is of the greatest importance to the interests of the party, I must request the friends of the Ministry to remain in their places for the rest of the session, and not to accept invitations or make engagements which may take them from the House while sitting.

Yours faithfully,
JOHN A. MACDONALD.

The Queen's Jubilee.

Its Observance at "Home."

As the time draws near for the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of Queen Victoria's coronation, her portraits are met with at every turn. She is most often depicted crowned and dressed in her robes of state, or receiving homage at some Court ceremonial, or participating in some public event.

The Queen has arrived at Windsor, in order that many important details of the great Jubilee ceremonial may be settled by her approval. The festivities will last a fortnight. The great day will be June 21st—the day of the Coronation and Thanksgiving service in Westminister Abbey. All members of the royal family and all royal visitors from abroad will be present at the Jubilee services. The Queen is to sit in the Coronation Chair, which will be placed in the centre of the dais which has been erected at the top of the choir under the lantern. There are to be thirty-two chairs on the dais for members of the royal family, the Prince of Wales being on the left of the Queen and the Crown Princess of Germany on her right. The representatives of foreign courts will sit on chairs within the altar-railing. Thousands of pounds have been spent in preparing the venerable Abbey for this new historic occasion. Windows on the route that the Queen will take from Buckingham Palace to Westminister Abbey on that day are let for £30, and single first floor rooms for £20.

The Queen will give a State banquet in St. George's Hall, Windsor Castle, on Wednesday, June 22nd, at which the members of the royal family and imperial and royal visitors from abroad will be present; and on the subsequent evening a banquet in the same noble room to the Knights of the Garter. The Kings of Denmark, Saxony, Greece and Belgium will be present.

Private enterprises and benefactions innumerable are being identified, in one way or another, with the Jubilee festivities.

Mr. T. H. Ismay offers the Mayor of Liverpool, as a "Jubilee" gift, $100,000 to establish a fund for the support of old Liverpool sailors on a home pension of $100 each. Others may add to this amount if they like, but Mr. Ismay gives outright. His name is position best known in America in connection with the White Star Line. Such generous observances of the occasion must be the most effective of all in diffusing amongst the people a Jubilee spirit of genuine rejoicing and thanksgiving.

A Modest Suggestion.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I notice in Saturday's issue of the EXAMINER, a communication, which is remarkable, considering the fact that it dictates a course of action to the General Jubilee Committee, which, they appear to me, to be competent to decide. As to the gentleman who may read the address to Her Majesty, he will do so, I am informed, as the mover of a motion, for its adoption and the very fact of its adoption by the people assembled, will make it an expression of the popular feeling on the subject, equally satisfying as if any state functionary had read it. Here it may not be amiss to point out that suggestions, similar to the one in hand, come at too late an hour to command attention. The members of the committee have worked hard and untiringly in sympathy from those whose aid when work was to be done, could have been appreciated, and they would be little more than human if they did not feel like resenting with warmth any action tending to discredit the efforts they have made, with the most honest intentions of assisting to promote a celebration of Her Majesty's Jubilee, in a manner worthy of the occasion, and worthy of the town of Peterborough and the village of Ashburnham. Though not an active member of the committee, I know much of the difficulties they have had to contend with. They would have highly appreciated assistance at an earlier stage of the arrangement. But, after having worked up the celebration to a promise of a successful issue, they cannot with cold respect step down and out and allow the assignment of the affair to lapse into other hands, who without having moved a step in the matter would reap whatever credit may accrue. The circumstances suggest the case of Holy Writ who was an hard man reaping where he had not sowed and gathering where he had not strawn.

Yours, etc.,
ALEPH CYIN.

Citizens No. 2 Speaks.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR:—It is pleasant to notice the praiseworthy efforts of all classes of our citizens to show their attachment to our beloved Queen Victoria on the occasion of the Jubilee of her reign, and the sending of an address to be forwarded to her meets my approval. It is perhaps, too late, now, to tender advice as to the shape it should take or as to the person who should represent the people in sending it. I am sure no one wishes to mar the harmony of the day's proceedings by raising objections to present arrangements I may be allowed without giving or offering offence to any one, to suggest that a representative man should be the mouthpiece of the people on the occasion. The religious fear that the address is thus forced to "emanate by stealth nowise in a notoriety where all denominations are equal, and equally loyal. On this occasion Methodist and Churchman, Catholic and Presbyterian, and men of every shade of religious thought, vie with each other in doing honor to our noble Queen. And hence someone should be selected to be their common mouthpiece who will be acceptable to all. My present apprehension is the whole assumes a quasi-religious and quasi-denominational attack, not to harmony with the common thought of the citizens. No clergyman should be forced to the front where in doing so the appearance of undue prominence to creeds or parties might be even remotely inferred. Let no religious or denominational jealousies be engendered on this occasion. And let not the seed be sown that may produce either hereafter. By having the sheriff represent the people to-morrow, no offence can be offered or taken, and Catholic and Protestant alike can meet on common ground and do common honor to our noble Queen. If the gentleman announced to read the address, would request the sheriff to do it the act would be duly acknowledged as a graceful compliance to the wish of all classes.

I am yours, &c.,
CITIZEN No. 2.

A Visitors' Remarks.

MR. EDITOR.—A stranger to your bright incipient little city cannot but feel impressed with the romance of its situation, its shaded streets, the beauty and neatness of its various structures and the activity and cheerfulness of the inhabitants. I have visited mostly all the cities and chief towns in Canada and doubt if there is one to surpass in natural attraction, apparent comfort and general pleasing surroundings, the progressive town of Peterborough. The number of magnificent churches and the multitudes to be seen wending their way thereto attest without a doubt the religious spirit of the population. I myself had last evening the pleasure of assisting at service in St. Peter's Cathedral and certainly was edified to observe so large and devout a congregation I had heard of the eloquence of the new Bishop who was announced to preach, and also of the excellence of the music furnished in the church. I may say my expectations were realised in both. His Lordship explained in terse reasoning the Catholic doctrine concerning the Real Presence, interlarding his remarks with brief anecdotes in point and impressing every one with the beauty of this belief. The Bishop is a clear, forcible speaker, with voice sweet and very pleasing; style, argumentative; and period, neat and chaste. We very much enjoyed his discourse, which lasted about half an hour. The musical portion of the service delighted us no less. The boy Shakespeare was not far from right in regarding with distrust the man with no soul for music. An "Ave Maria" was rendered by Mrs. McIntyre, whose full and well-taken notes pleased us not a little. Rossi's "Tantum Ergo" was given in brilliant style by full choir. The piece de resistance, however, was Verdi's celebrated trio "Jesu, Dei Vivi," executed by Miss M. Dunn and Messrs. T. Dunn and M. Tierney. Now stirring the soul to its utmost depths by the entrancing power and charm of well-interpreted crescendos, then with subdued accord a mellow note resembling an angel's whisper! If there be anything to elevate the soul not dead to the purer and nobler influences of religion, it is the charm of sweet harmony and sacred song.

We may add, the organ was presided at by Prof. John B. Denys, whose brilliant touch we did not fail to recognize.

Yours, etc.,
VISITOR.

Proposed New Bridge.

The great chain of inland lakes which traverse this district, though it furnishes splendid navigation, is not entirely without disadvantages, for it prevents the establishment of direct roads north and south, and in some places localities are completely cut off from ordinary communication by road. The township of Harvey is situated in such a manner that the south portion can only obtain communication with the world by a most circuitous route, and to obviate this difficulty a movement has been made for the purpose of obtaining a bridge across the narrows between Harvey and Emmemore. The point proposed is between Lawson's Mill and Jacob's Island. The narrows are not more than a thousand feet wide, and the greatest depth of water twelve feet. Such a bridge would shorten the distance from portions of Harvey to Peterborough by about eighteen miles. The blind channel behind Jacob's Island would be bridged and crossroyed by an interested ratepayer, and the right of way across Jacob's Island would be free. The project is one which commends itself to the common sense of every person acquainted with the locality and the memorial to the County Council of Peterborough asking for aid, which has been taken round by Mr. T. H. Crowley, has been signed by nearly everyone in the neighborhood. The bridge proposed is a pier bridge, with piers 33 feet apart, and a 12 foot causeway of 3 inch lumber on cedar stringers. The cost would be moderate, and the benefits to a very extensive district great. It is to be hoped the movement will be successful, and that the County Council may grant the required end.

LATEST SPORTING NEWS.

The Baseball League Games Saturday—News From the Turf.

TORONTO, June 20.

Scranton made its first appearance on the home grounds Saturday afternoon and up to the ninth inning the atmosphere was decidedly murky. From the outset the "coal heavers" wielded their picks with such effectiveness that the Torontos were unable to get a runner to a base till the fourth inning. Every ball that was sent to the field safely lodged in the hands of the visitors, whilst their "output" measured two runs. From this out, however, the Torontos batted Backer's curves to the great delight of the 2500 spectators, who, however, were not stinted in their approval of the splendid fielding display of the league baby. Score:

Gossip of the Turf.

The old racehorse Bostjack has broken down again. His retirement from the turf is now permanent.

It is reported that Garrison is about to sever his connection with Capt. Brown's stable, and will don the white and orange of Mr. Scott.

The following horses leave by express to-day for Montreal to contest in the races there Thursday and Saturday next: W. E. Owens' Felix and Trapper, the latter has not yet started in a race, but will make his debut in the Derby at Montreal; E. Burgess' Shamrock and Moonshine and Halton Stable's Wild Rose and Augusta.

Col. Milliken, who created the disturbance at the Brooklyn track on Tuesday last when Ben Ali was left at the post, on Friday sent an apology to President Dwyer, and the charge of disorderly conduct made against him after his arrest by Pinkerton was dropped.

It was doubtful whether Shauer would be able to ride in the Suburban. At the post for the last race on Thursday he was crowded against the rails, and his foot was badly hurt. The following day he could hardly get his boot on. Shauer will probably be permanently engaged by Mr. Gratz.

Demonstrated.

Sometimes it costs hundreds of dollars to convince a man; very often less is required, but in the case of Polson's Nerviline, that sovereign remedy for pain, 10 cents tests the bill and supplies enough Nerviline to convince every purchaser that it is the best, most prompt and certain pain remedy in the world. Nerviline is good for all kinds of pain, pleasant to take, and sure to cure cramps and all internal pains. It is also nice to rub outside, for it has an agreeable smell, quite unlike so many other preparations, which are positively disagreeable to use. Try it now. Go to a drug store and buy a 10 cent or 25 cent bottle. Polson's Nerveline. Take no other. 6dw25

Miraculous.

"My Miraculous Cure was that I had suffered from kidney disease for about two years, was off work all that time. A friend told me of B.B.B., I tried it and am happy to say that I was cured by two bottles."—Wm. Tier, St. Mary's, Ont. 2w24d

THE McGLYNN DEMONSTRATION.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The McGlynn parade and mass meeting, for which preparations have been in active progress for several weeks, took place to-night. It was organized by a number of the parishioners of St. Stephen's Church, the trades organizations represented in the Central Labor Union, the Anti-Poverty Society and the United Labor party. Its purpose was to protest against the action taken by Archbishop Corrigan and the ecclesiastical authorities in Rome in removing Rev. Dr. McGlynn from the pastorship of St. Stephen's, and depriving him of his priestly functions on account of the stand he has taken in support of Henry George's theories.

It had been given out that at least 200,000 men would be in line, and it was arranged that in order to move so many, there should be two processions moving simultaneously over different routes. Instead of the number expected not over 6000 persons were in line, and about 15,000 gathered to listen to the speeches in Union-square.

Dr. McGlynn reviewed the parade, and a number of speeches were made and a long series of resolutions were passed. They recite the story of Dr. McGlynn's ecclesiastical troubles; declare that the members of the meeting are loyally of the Catholic faith; that they will stand by him in refusing political dictation from Rome and in advocating the Henry George land doctrines, which they pledge themselves to work for the establishment of in this country by all fair means, and to oppose Roman interference in American politics.

A thousand policemen were held in reserve for any emergency, but there was not the slightest need for their services. The crowd was extremely enthusiastic, but entirely orderly, and no incendiary mottoes or anarchistic banners were carried.

WILBERFORCE AT NEW YORK.

A Large Audience Greets Him at Chickering Hall.

NEW YORK, June 13.—There was a large audience gathered in Chickering Hall this afternoon to greet Canon Wilberforce of England, who was announced to speak under the auspices of the National Temperance Union. Rev. Dr. Talmage presided, and many clergymen of various denominations known in connection with the temperance cause had seats on the platform.

The Canon spoke energetically and rapidly for an hour and awoke great enthusiasm. Among the things he said were: The noblest of enthusiasms is the love of the Lord, and the basest the passion for drink.

There are too many people with too much religion to enjoy the world and too many with too much worldliness to enjoy religion.

I feel that in speaking in New York I am speaking to America, and America is the great Anglo-Saxonizing machine of the whole universe, and I wish to warn you not to let the liquor traffic control America as it controls England.

There is an aristocracy in this country, but it is an aristocracy of intellectual power, of character, of beauty and of grace.

In England we put our big brewers in the House of Commons instead of putting them in jail, as they do in Maine.

A QUIET CHICAGO MARKET.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 18.—Both the wheat and corn pits were almost deserted to-day and trading in wheat did not amount to a tenth of its usual volume. June wheat closed at 71½c, July 72⅝c, and Aug. 74⅝c.

C. J. Kershaw & Co. this morning gave the following notice:

Litigation of various kinds has interfered with securing a favorable settlement of our affairs that seemed practicable. Negotiations are still pending with possibility of success, but if not consummated to-day a meeting of our creditors is requested at 3.30 o'clock Monday to receive a statement of our affairs as close as can be obtained up to that time, and for them to take such action as they see fit.

June 18, 1887. C. J. KERSHAW & Co.

This notice created no comment whatever. It had no effect, either, of any kind on the market. Wheat was a trifle more buoyant than expected.

Another Failure.

CHICAGO, June 18.—The firm of R. H. Labagh & Co., Board of Trade commission merchants, failed this morning. The firm is quite a large one, and the amount of the failure is probably between $25,000 and $50,000. The smash is the direct result of the break of the wheat corner.

London Cheese Market.

LONDON, June 18.—Thirty-six factories registered 7622 boxes June; sales over 3000 boxes at 8⅝c to 9c; market fairly active.

A Living Miracle.

"My infant daughter was taken ill with cholera infantum, the doctor said she could not live. The Rev. Wm. McWilliams would not allow her head to be lifted when he baptized her, she was so weak. Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry gave immediate relief. She is a living miracle, hale and hearty. Since that time (7 years) our house has never been without that remedy." * * * *

BLEEDING HUMORS.—It has done me so much good, I want you to send me two more bottles immediately. I have been afflicted with Catarrh for over ten years—frequently my nose would bleed and leave the nostrils in a dry, inflamed condition, with constant soreness. I experienced relief after the first trial of Ely's Cream Balm. It is the best of a great many remedies I have tried, and I can fully recommend it.—E. .*.In all the churches, yesterday, references were made to the Queen's Jubilee. St. John's church was handsomely decorated.

.*.Ladies are requested to send contributions of flowers for decorating the fire engine and hose waggon for the procession, to the fire hall this evening.

.*.It is to be regretted that the hotel keepers have not seen fit to contribute to the jubilee fund. Apart from all considerations of loyalty, the occasion is one which eminently invites their financial co-operation from the fact they will receive the most benefit from it.

.*.The final meeting of the committee is to be held this evening.

.*.A special meeting of the Ashburnham village council was held Saturday evening, and a grant of $30 was made to the general jubilee fund. It was also decided to erect a large flag staff at the school house and hoist a mammoth Union Jack to-morrow.

SPECIAL.—Every member of the General Jubilee Committee is requested to be at the Fire Hall this evening at 8.30 o'clock sharp, to complete arrangements for to-morrow.

Pop on the Run.

A little excitement was created on George street Saturday afternoon by the running away of Messrs. Trebell & Croft's delivery horse with a cart load of pop and ginger ale. The clinking bottles made a great noise and the runaway narrowly escaped a collision with other vehicles on the street, but fortunately it was stopped by some plucky men in front of the EXAMINER office without any damage being done.

The Pope and the Jubilee.

The Pope has, entirely of his own accord, and without any hint from Cardinal Manning, issued a rescript which ordains that on Jubilee day, the 21st of June, high mass and a Te Deum shall be performed in all Roman Catholic churches in England. The Catholic clergy are said to be gratified by this command, although somewhat astonished. It is said that his Holiness could not, according to the ecclesiastical etiquette governing such things, have done more in the case of the most faithful Catholic Sovereign. The English clergy might return the compliment on the occasion of his Holiness' approaching Jubilee.—Catholic Review.

The Changes of Fifty Years.

An "oldest inhabitant" calls attention to the wondrous changes which have taken place in the past half century. A village of 900 persons has become a town of 10,000. Scattered huts have given place to solid blocks, and in all respects the people have made great progress. The swell family carriage of 1837 is put to shame by the butcher's cart of to-day. Fifty years ago a calico dress was a grand affair, equal to the silk of to-day, and a man getting a Sunday suit was a family event like the purchase of a piano. All has been changed. Now servant girls wear silk and navvies can dress like lords, especially those navvies who will take advantage of the great cheap sale of Gough, at which $18,500 of the primest ready-made clothing is going like hot cakes at 40 cents on the dollar. Don't forget this deluge of jubilee bargains at Gough's, George street, Peterborough.

Sermon to the Volunteers.

The officers and men of the 57th Battalion paraded to the George street Methodist Church Sunday morning, accompanied by half a dozen members of the cavalry troop. Rev. I. Tovell preached the sermon from I Peter, ii, 17:—"Honor the King." The sermon taught devotion and fealty on the part of subjects to their sovereign, and referred more particulary to the Queen who reigns over the British Empire. The preacher reviewed the history of the British nation under her beneficent rule, recounting a number of the most important events, coupled with the names of some of her most illustrious statesmen, warriors, scientists and theologians. He concluded with an elegant peroration, touching upon the personal popularity and pure, unsullied life of Her Majesty both as a Queen, a wife and a mother. Upon the volunteers present he urged the necessity of loyalty, not only to their sovereign lady the Queen, but to the king of kings who sits upon a heavenly throne. The sermon was one of Mr. Tovell's best efforts, and infused the congregation with the spirit and feeling of the speaker.

Ladies and gentlemen, your patronage is respectfully solicited. 6d

A Voice From Behind the Plough.

INSPIRED BY THE PREPARATIONS AND THE CELEBRATION OF OUR QUEEN'S JUBILEE.

Long back full fifty years ago, just as the break of day,
In youth's sweet slumber, calm repose, a girl of eighteen lay,
She was aroused from peaceful sleep upon that bright June morn,
To hear of joys and sorrows too, so quickly to her borne.
She rose up from her gorgeous couch, white as the pearly morn,
Around her shoulders in great haste her mourning shawl she threw.
She tarried not to wash nor dress nor brush her locks of auburn hue.
Adown her shoulders loosely flowed as she tripped down the stairs.
With slippers on her dainty feet, composure on her brow,
She met her guests with outstretched arms and graceful modest bow.
Two Statesmen in her presence stood, these words they did declare,
Your uncle's dead; to Britain's crown you are the lawful heir.
The tears flowed down her youthful cheeks when she heard he was gone,
Her uncle's death seemed more to her than honours of a throne.
In a short time that crown was placed upon her youthful brow,
She has worn it faithfully fifty years and with honour wears it now.
With modest pride, with calm resolve, she grasped the reins of power;
Though young, a mind she did possess sufficient to the hour.
Her judgment and decisions clear, her acts both good and wise,
Made hoary-headed statesmen stand in wonder and surprise.
Though young, and wearer of a crown, she felt love's winning art.
And soon Prince Alfred, called the Good, gained both her hand and heart.
How short their matrimonial bliss; death laid her consort low,
Amidst the world's wide joy to-day her heart still aches with woe.
As maiden, mother, wife and queen, she nobly bore her part
No pomp nor crown could check the flow of love within her heart.
The husband and the father gone, on her the burden lay
To train her children for their rank and God's laws to obey.
Weighed down with all a widow's grief and duties as a queen,
A mother's duty, mother's love, lets nothing come between.
Her precepts and examples good their fruits to-day we see,
God bless her children that still live on this her Jubilee.
Not only in her palace but all o'er her vast domain,
Her subjects' welfare and their good has marked her lengthened reign.
Of all Old England's kings and queens a brighter never shone,
No kinder ruler ever sat upon the British throne.
She holds the reins of state and power with firm but gentle hand.
Humanity guides all her acts, honour with mercy blends,
Her peaceful rule and honoured name, has spread o'er land and sea.
Till emperors, kings, and queens rejoice on this her Jubilee.
She sways the sceptre more by love than as the tyrants rod,
Her highest aim has been to please her people and her God.
How fully she achieved her wish, the joy to-day will prove.
She still lives in her people's hearts in true, undying love.
Although a seldom crown she wears, in robes of crimson dressed,
Compassionate to love within her heart, strikes on the highest key,
Her people echo back that sound on this her Jubilee.
When any of her soldiers brave some daring deed perform—
Rush boldly to the cannons mouth, or dangerous trenches storm,
Saved one or more brave comrades lives regardless of their own.
To heroes worthy of regard, her gratitude was shown.
When sad calamities transpired, or want spread o'er the land.
Her's was not sympathy alone, but liberal giving hand.
Each woe that crushed her people's hearts, she felt in some degree,
Her pity moved, and still it flows on this her Jubilee.
She kindly feels for heavy hearts, grieved by bereavement's darts,
Because its poisoned barb still stings her own long wounded heart.
Wisdom springs from beneath her crown, love gushes from the throne;
The orphan and the widow's grief, she measures by her own.
And when she treads auld Scotia's hills to breathe refreshing air,
She enters the poor peasants cots, and feeds the hungry there,
Her angel hand, her queenly voice give debt and comfort free
How grand auld Scotia's hills will ring on this her Jubilee.
"Long live our gracious, heaven sent queen," to-day rings far and wide,
Above the sound of booming gun, or noise of ocean's tide.
That shout has gone up fifty years, upon her natal days,
They were but shadows of the joy her Jubilee displays.
When she lays down her earthly crown, so long and faithful worn,
We hope a brighter heavenly crown will her loved head adorn.
Her people's prayers:—"God spare our Queen, in health and life, that she May reign o'er us for many years beyond her Jubilee."

Smith, WM. TELFORD.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 22, 1887.

A MAGNIFICENT PAGEANT.

THE LIKE OF IT NEVER SEEN IN EUROPE BEFORE.

The Gorgeous Spectacle Connected with Queen Victoria's Progress to Westminster—A Million People Witness the Greatest Show in History.

LONDON, June 21.—The jubilee demonstration was a stupendous success. Vast multitudes, numbering over a million people, have witnessed the greatest state pageant in English history. With perfection of order not a single incident occurred to mar the harmony of the great demonstration. The scene presented by the long lines of streets, what with the draped pavilions, the endless floral vistas, the innumerable gaities of flag, banner and trophy blended into masses of decorations, and the ever-moving and immeasurable sea of faces, has been one of dashing brilliancy and marvellous animation.

The impression left on the minds of those who saw the pageant is that whatever boundless wealth, military pomp and illustrious rank could do to create and heighten the effect of a state show of loyalty, or demonstrate the affection of a people for their sovereign, was done for to-day's demonstration, and that the result surpassed anything of the kind ever seen in Europe in modern times at least.

A day of glorious sunshine, an atmosphere of rare purity for these latitudes, and a sky of the clearest blue favored the spectacle. The people who camped out all night, or who had risen early this morning in order to secure places in the line of march, passed a pleasant time, every moment from dawn downwards presenting some new transformation. Sunrise saw the roads converging toward the route of procession covered with crowds. By eight o'clock the massed myriads along the route had become so compact that it was almost impossible to move.

The Scene in Westminster Abbey.

The scene in Westminster Abbey was most brilliant. Every seat was filled and every person present was a distinguished person. When the identities were enumerated it seemed as if every locality the world over had sent one or two of its representative personages to do honor to England's Queen on Britain's greatest holiday. There never probably in modern times assembled under one roof an audience so well and so brilliantly arrayed. Every man present entitled to wear a uniform or decoration had both on. When this audience was all seated the scene presented was incomparable. When the sun shone brightly through the noble stained windows of the Abbey its rays fell upon an unaccustomed sight, and the picture was indescribable. The audience, banked up as it was in church, was anything but sombre.

For a while when all were seated there was quiet, but this was only temporary, and lasted only long enough to enable the people to locate one another. Then there was the life of recognition and of gossip, and it graduated rapidly into a noisy hum. This was startling to a person who entered suddenly, considering the place and who were buried there, but the stranger was soon fascinated and himself added to what had struck him as desecration. Busy and interested as were the people making this irreverent congregation, some personages entered the Abbey strong enough to compel attention and recognition. When the Marquis of Salisbury, the Queen's Prime Minister, entered and proceeded to the place set apart for him he was observed. When Mr. Gladstone was observed quietly edging his way to his seat he was also observed.

The Line of the Royal Progress.

The line of the procession from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Abbey was as follows: From the Palace portals along Constitution Hill, Piccadilly, Regent-street, Waterloo-place, Pall Mall East, Cockspur-street, Northumberland-avenue, Thames embankment, Bridge-street to the Abbey. The line of route was kept by nearly 10,000 troops representing all branches of the service, and in addition 600 boys from the naval training ships were drawn up at the base of the Nelson monument.

In addition to the military and navy, thousands of police, both mounted and on foot, were on duty under the command of Sir Charles Warren. The military force was under command of Gen. Gipps and Col. Stirling of the Coldstream Guards. The purple-lor feature at Buckingham Palace was that the two services were equally honored, the Guards lining one side of the roadway as Buckingham Palace gates, and on the other side the blue jackets were posted. The same services were also represented in a like manner at the entrance to Westminster Abbey.

The first of the royal procession was composed of the Indian princes and 4 Sikh minor German princes.

This was well received by the populace. A few minutes before 11 o'clock the second part of the procession came. This was composed of nine fifteen carriages, the occupants being the King of Denmark, the King of Belgium, the King of Saxony, the King of the Hellenes, the Crown Prince of Austria, the Crown Prince of Portugal, the Queen of the Belgians, the Crown Prince of Greece, Prince Charles of Greece, the Princess of Austria and the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Strelitz. The queen who also rode escorted by the purple Horse Guards, Prince Edward of Saxe Weimar and Commissioner Roland Hay. She was received at the Abbey doors and to the strains of the most magnificent music ever heard within the walls of the Abbey passed up the nave and choir to the Queen.

Her Majesty Appears.

Punctually at 11.15 a.m. the Queen in an open carriage emerged from the palace gates. As sight of her thousands of voices were lifted up in cheers, the applause being accompanied by the music of the Abbey military bands stationed in front of the palace. The Queen did not wear her state robes, but was dressed in black. Her carriage was drawn by eight ponies. The Prince of Wales, the Duke of Edinburgh, the Duke of Connaught, her sons; the Crown Prince Imperial of Germany, the Marquis of Lorne, Prince Christian of Schleswig-Holstein and Prince Henry of Battenberg, her sons-in-law, and Prince Albert Victor and George of Wales, Prince Alfred of Edinburg, and Prince William of Prussia, her grandsons, all rode in full uniform beside the Queen's coach as a body guard. When the people of the palace had departed themselves nearly preparing for the Queen they continued to cry out "Long life to the Prince and Princess of Wales."

The Queen as she left the palace seemed to be in excellent spirits, and she smiled and bowed graciously to the people on every side. The Queen's carriage was a large one of cream-lake color, wheels red and the royal arms in gold emblazoned upon the panels. Red morocco harness was used for the horses which were otherwise decorated with royal blue ribbons. All the servants were state liveries of scarlet and gold. The other carriages containing members of the royal family were of a gorgeous character, fitted with four bays each and all open.

The procession proceeded at a smart walking pace into Constitution Hill, and then shortly made its way until the Wellington Arch was reached, where the first introduction to the London streets ensued. Emerging from the Wellington Arch, the first to greet the Queen were the convalescents, patients and others at St. George's hospital, which was pushed front themselves to roof, seats having been erected for many thousands over the roof of the hospital.

In Piccadilly.

On reaching Piccadilly the Queen was seen to look up at Apsley House, and as she passed the mansions of her intimate friends she glanced somewhat hastily at their abodes, more especially when passing the Duke of Cambridge's, Baron Rothschild's, Baroness Burdett Coutts' and John Bright's old apartments. It was not until Devonshire House was reached that the Queen began to realize the grand preparation that had been made to greet her.

Here the Marquis of Hartington had had a spacious gallery erected, from which many hundreds of gaily-dressed ladies waved their handkerchiefs and cheered the Queen. Facing Devonshire House at the Bath Hotel another gigantic booth had been erected, and from this point to Westminster Abbey every point of vantage had been seized by contractors to fix seats. Soup fronts and first floors rented at from £20 to $80, and in some cases even more. The front of the Burlington Arcade, the Royal Academy, the Egyptian Hall, St. James' Parish Church, where 1000 children were seated and sang "God Save the Queen," and the Museum of Geology were all packed with human beings.

A Memorable Sight.

On reaching Regent-circus, where six main streets converge, the sight was a memorable one, the streets being all splendidly decorated with flowers, flags, evergreens, etc. The imposing building of Swan & Edgar's great drapery store, the County Fire Office, the Cafe Monico, the London Pavilion and the world-famed Criterion restaurant, were one sea of heads. Many of the shops hereabouts had their fronts removed and elegant boudoirs formed in their places.

The procession as viewed from the Duke of York's column passing down the hill from the circus to Pall Mall east was a remarkable sight. The shouts of the multitude were loudly heard from the top of the column as one vast roar. Many American ladies and gentlemen had secured seats at the palatial establishment of Lovell & James in Waterloo-place, and joined in the excitement as heartily as the Britishers. Passing around Pall Mall east a large gallery was erected over the colonnade of Her Majesty's Theatre, within 1500 chairs, at from three to five guineas each, were all filled in the Waterloo House in Cockspur-street.

Trafalgar-square was now reached and everywhere one looked nothing but heads were to be viewed. The crowd was tremendous and completely eclipsed any thing has assembled at political gatherings of recent years. The steps and lions of the Nelson Column were packed with people, while the roofs and steps of St. Martin's Church and the steps of the National Gallery were packed with a dense multitude. After crossing Trafalgar-square, where the police had great difficulty in keeping the people back, the procession gradually approached Northumberland-avenue, which on its south-west side is mainly covered with two gigantic hotels, viz.: The Hotel Victoria and the Hotel Metropolitan. These as well as the newly erected Constitutional Club were packed.

Along the Thames Embankment.

On reaching the Thames Embankment the procession had to make a sharp detour. From the new National Liberal Club to St. Stephen's Club the enthusiasm was indescribable. The crowds clambered up the trees, some of which got badly injured. All along the embankment, where not occupied by public gardens, seats had been erected. On turning into Bridge-street, around St. Stephen's Club, Her Majesty obtained a full view of the Abbey and the preparations which had been made in Parliament-square.

The ground floor of the Abbey was concealed by the lofty grand stand called St. Margarets, the seats of which were sold for five guineas each. Another block of seats called the Canning Stand accommodated 1400 people. All around the square, and even across the river at St. Thomas Hospital, windows were crowded with a living mass.

On the procession nearing the Abbey the troops saluted, guns fired, the bells of the churches rang out merry peals and flags were run up, the cheering being continued until the Queen had reached the west door.

A Scene of Surpassing Splendor.

Inside the Abbey the picture was one of surpassing beauty. The lords and ladies had arrived early. Many of them continued that they had not breakfasted, and exchanged sandwiches and wines. The scene was absolutely dazzling. The ladies discarding their wraps displayed their jewels, which flashed and reflected as they reflected the rays of the sunbeams that found their way through the stone ops. In the Abbey three tiers of galleries with seats were already existing about 10,000 persons. The peers and their wives were ranged in the south transepts. The ambassadors and diplomatists [illegible] the peeresses in the north transepts, while the seats for members of the royal [illegible] of Commons in the north transepts, while the seats for members of the [illegible] of Commons in the north transepts, while the seats for members of the [illegible] of Commons in the north transepts, while the seats for members of the Zozo, the Magic Queen.

A large and appreciative audience witnessed the first performance of "Zozo" last evening, many there were who had been drawn out from idle curiosity through a mistaken impression that had gone abroad in regard to the character of the entertainment. That portion of the audience which expected to discover in "Zozo," anything that would offend the refined taste or cater to morbid appetites were beautifully disappointed. "Zozo" is a fairy tale, illustrated and embellished by a fanciful play-writer, who has departed from the usual channel and actually given the public something new, fresh, airy, wholesome and palatable to all lovers of amusement. Necessarily a spectacular production, "Zozo" depends largely upon its gorgeous mountings and fine tableaux for the climaxes. This feature of last evening's entertainment was an innovation to our theatre-goers, the transformation scenes, together with the full stage set pictoring in all its elegance, fairyland, were indeed a revelation.

All in all, the company is far above our most sanguine expectations. The Times take pleasure in recommending it as a most wholesome and enjoyable entertainment.—Brooklyn Daily Times.

THE DAY IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, June 21.—The second act in the great jubilee drama in New York at the Metropolitan Opera House was quite as grand a success as that of the first act on Sunday afternoon at Trinity Church. The immense structure was filled to repletion, every nook and cranny of the enormous edifice being occupied by loyal admirers and well-wishers of Her Majesty.

A chorus of nearly three hundred voices and an orchestra of sixty pieces, under the direction of Frank Damrosch, rendered appropriate music in the highest style of the classical art, greatly to the delight of all present.

The boxes were filled with city officials, prominent politicians, Masonry and business men. Large delegations came from Philadelphia, Paterson, N.J., and from Amherst, Ohio.

Reuben Wilson occupied the chair, and after a prayer made an address indulging in the expression of the most loyal sentiments and concluding with the hope that the United States and Canada might be bound together by ties of mutual advantage and unity and the most intimate trade relations. That if such a work should be accomplished during Her Majesty's reign, no greater act would more fully illustrate the glory of her career.

The speech of the day, however, was delivered by the Hon. Seth Low, ex-Mayor of Brooklyn, who, amidst constant enthusiasm, uttered sentiments regarding Her Majesty, indicating the great regard felt for her by the great masses of the American people. The speech was a model of excellence, and was most enthusiastically received

A formal address to Her Majesty, breathing sentiments of the deepest loyalty, was moved by Mr. H. W. O. Edye, President of the St. George Society, and most ardently seconded by Mr. James R. Cowing, President of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, who pronounced himself an Irishman and a strong Home Ruler. Nevertheless he paid the highest compliments to Her Majesty and deemed it an honor to be present on an occasion so glorious in her career.

Mayor Hewitt of New York also made a capital speech.

The jubilee ode by Robert C. Winthrop was then beautifully read by F. Hopkinson Smith, both author and reader being direct descendants of signers of the Declaration of American Independence.

The proceeding closed with Weber's splendid jubilee overture, at the conclusion of which is "God Save the Queen," the whole audience rising en masse and joining in the singing. At the close three tremendous cheers were given for Her Majesty the Queen.

It is estimated that at least 3000 people were present. The solemnity, dignity and oneness of the occasion was universally admitted.

In the afternoon at Erastina, on Staten Island, a monster picnic took place, over 12,000 people participating. Four hundred entries were made for the various athletic sports. A game of baseball between picked teams from the League and Association, a game of lacrosse between the New Yorks and the Druids of Baltimore, a football match between teams from Newark and New Haven, and other sports occupied the afternoon. A free lunch for over 10,000 was served, each lunch being enclosed in a square box containing sandwiches, pie, cake and fruit.

The fourth part of the program consisted of a monster display of fireworks in the Bay of New York and at Point Saint George, Staten Island. Prior to this, however, dancing on the green sward of Sir Roger de Coverly and old English dances was indulged in by between 1500 and 2000 people.

The fireworks display was the largest ever given here and was a most pronounced success, the whole bay being lit up for miles, and all the shipping and landscape brought out clearly to view. The boxes at the Casino were allotted to many distinguished individuals, and the whole occasion was a most interesting one. The 7th Regiment Band of sixty pieces performed loyal airs all the evening, and the weather was simply perfect.

On the whole, the celebration of the Queen's jubilee in New York may be set down as an unqualified success, nothing having occurred to mar in the slightest degree the comprehensive arrangements originally made, and which were carried out to the letter.

The Day in Toronto.

The down town streets of Toronto did not savor very much of a jubilee aspect yesterday. Things looked just about as they do on ordinary days. There was plenty of rain and little or no enthusiasm. However, our jubilee day is to come yet. The banks, Government offices and courts were closed. That is about as far as the observance extended. Services were held in the St. James' Cathedral in the morning, in the Richmond-street Synagogue in the afternoon, and at St. Andrew's Church in the evening.

STRUCK DEAD BY LIGHTNING.

The Appearance a Body Presented After Contact With the Electric Fluid.

DETROIT, June 20.—During a heavy thunder storm about 4 o'clock Sunday morning, at the Michigan Central yard, George B. Rodney, a switchman, while standing on top of the end car of his train was struck by lightning and fell to the ground dead.

The body was conveyed to the morgue, where examination showed that the lightning struck him in the forehead, as a space there, two inches in diameter, looked as though coarse gunpowder had been blown into the skin at close range. One side of the face was also colored bluish-black and the course of the fluid could be traced down the body to the feet, where on one instep was a bluish spot. On the bottom of the foot was a corresponding spot, as though the lightning had passed directly through, but the skin was not broken on either side. The clothes on one side of the body were torn and there was a hole through the top and bottom of the boot.

Rodney was a fine-looking man, 35 years old, with short auburn hair and a heavy mustache. His moustache was not injured, but the hair on the breast and leg was burned off. He leaves a wife and two sons.

A SMALL RIOT AT CORK.

A Mob Assails the Office of a Conservative Newspaper.

CORK, June 21.—A mob to night attacked the office of The Constitution, a Conservative newspaper, and smashed the windows in the building. A body of police hurried to the scene and charged on the mob, but the rioters broke through their ranks, injuring several of the officers. The police then made another charge on the mob with drawn staves, which they used with good effect and succeeded in dispersing them.

WHAT AILS MR. CHAPLEAU?

He Declines to Accept the Lieut.-Governorship of Quebec.

OTTAWA, June 22.—There was a political cyclone here to-day. Hon. Mr. Chapleau sent in a letter definitely declining the Lieutenant-Governorship of Quebec, and, it is said, threatens to resign from the Cabinet and go on to the back benches.

There is trouble in the camp, sure, and the fun of it is that most of the Frenchmen side with Mr. Chapleau. They point out that he bore the heat and the burden of the fight in Quebec, and carried the day. That Sir Adolphe Caron, for instance, did not bring a single follower back with him from the contest, and that Sir Hector has at best but a meagre support. They hold that the successful man is the man who should be considered, and there is no doubt that if Mr. Chapleau has a mind to go into retirement and form a cave he can create lots of trouble. However, the season is about over and there will be a long recess in which to straighten up the tangle.

As to the vacant Lieutenant-Governorship there are several rumors. One is that ex-Governor Robitaille will be called on again. Another, and a more probable one, is that Mr. Justice Taschereau will be given the position and Senator Lacoste appointed to his place on the Supreme Court bench. Something will have to be done very shortly.

The House did an iniquitous thing to-day. The Susan Ash divorce bill was brought up from the committee and after a considerable debate was finally thrown out by a majority of five after three divisions. Dalton McCarthy led the opposition to the bill and got the entire French and Catholic vote with him.

Poor Susan was, it is understood, all ready to be married again; the bridegroom was in the House in waiting, and as Susan's husband has had another wife in Massachusetts for fifteen years it does seem rather hard lines for the couple here. The prospective husband, it is said, was prostrated when the vote was announced.

The Government to-day announced the withdrawal of the proposed export duty on elm logs. This was quite a blow to several of the western members, and Adam Brown protested strongly against this move, which was due to Mr. Patterson of Essex.

The further supplementary estimates came down to-day. They are of a comparatively trifling nature, with the exception of $45,000 for a drill shed at Hamilton; $5000 goes to assist in the publication of the proceedings of the Royal Society; ice piers at Sorel, $10,000; works on the Columbia River, $10,000 and other miscellaneous items bring the total up to $67,630. Only $5000 of this is chargeable to capital.

The following private bills were disposed of: Royal Victoria Hospital, Nova Scotia Permanent Building and Loan Society, Canada Atlantic Steamship Company, Manitoba and Northwestern Railway Company, Anglo-Canadian Bank, Hereford Branch Railway Company, Kincardine and Tees-water Railway Company, British Canadian Loan and Investment Company, Quebec Railway Bridge Company and the Western Counties Railway Company.

A SAD AFFAIR AT GODERICH.

A Young Man Loses His Life by the Premature Discharge of a Cannon.

GODERICH, June 21.—A heart-rending accident occurred here to-day. At noon, while a royal salute was being fired in honor of the Queen's jubilee, a premature discharge occurred while Gunners Oliver Pennington, Richard Parker, and Master were loading the cannon. Both men were blown aside, [illegible] struck James Coutts, son of Mr. Gustave Cluss, who was standing in front of the gun, and passed through his body in the region of the heart, [illegible] him to the ground. His death was instantaneous. The rod on withdrawal disclosed a frightful wound to the awe-stricken spectators who witnessed the sad affair.

Mr. Parker's injuries were found to be very serious, the discharge having struck him in the face and body. It was feared his eyesight was destroyed but it is thought that calamity will be averted.

THE DANUBE CALAMITY.

It is Estimated that Three Hundred Lives Were Lost.

VIENNA, June 21.—Later particulars show that the recent ferry accident at Pakz, on the Danube River, was much worse than was at first reported. The boat was fearfully overloaded, having 600 persons on board. It is stated that the boatmen were intoxicated. The panic on the boat was fearful. Abbe Sieples blessed the pilgrims, jumped overboard and swam ashore with a child that died an hour afterward of a rupture of a blood-vessel.

The bodies recovered give evidence of fearful death struggles in their tattered clothes and distorted faces. It is estimated that 300 persons were drowned. Over 200 bodies have been recovered. The recognition of bodies by friends on shore is attended with heart-rending scenes.

LORNE TO SPENCER.

The Marquis Takes the ex-Lieut.-Governor of Ireland to Task.

LONDON, June 21.—The Marquis of Lorne, in a letter to The Times, takes Earl Spencer to task for complaining of the mildness of the Government's language regarding the Canadian tariff. He asks whether Earl Spencer is prepared to go to the length of vetoing any protective tariff voted by an Irish parliament in Dublin. His Irish friends would hardly thank him for denying to Ireland what they consider the first of their necessities, namely, the encouragement of her industries through some form of protection.

THE DISLOYAL IRISH.

A Fight Between Loyalists and Nationalists at Dublin.

DUBLIN, June 21.—A fight occurred in Cork to-day between the Loyalists and Nationalists during the military review held in honor of the jubilee. The Nationalists paraded past the reviewing ground carrying black flags. This angered the Loyalists and they attacked the Home Rulers. During the fight that ensued shots were fired from both sides but no one was injured.

In several towns the Nationalists to-day hoisted black flags. In each instance the police tore them down.

THE FIDELITY BANK CLOSED.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The Comptroller of Currency to-day received a telegram from Mr. Powell, regular bank examiner for the Western District of Ohio, saying that he has taken charge of the Fidelity National Bank of Cincinnati. The liabilities of the bank, exclusive of capital stock, are about $1,500,000. The individual deposits are about $2,000,000. John R. DeCamp, Vice-President of the Metropolitan Bank, has been appointed to take charge of the institution.

HELD UP BY THIEVES.

A Grand Trunk Train at Port Gratiot Boarded by Robbers.

PORT HURON, Mich, June 21.—This morning five men boarded the 1.15 a.m. Grand Trunk train at Port Gratiot, going east, and "held up" the passengers. Several lost what money they had and one man lost $160.

Three men have been arrested and are now in jail here, and more arrests will probably follow.

An Editor Jailed for Libel.

WINNIPEG, June 21.—Mr. Kirkland, owner of Siftings, a weekly paper here, was arrested last night on a charge of criminal libel preferred by Hugh John Macdonald, son of Sir John Macdonald, and Charles Hoare, manager of the Imperial Bank. The case arises out of an article in the last issue which intimated that the two gentlemen named were guilty of adultery and other offences. The affair has created a great sensation in society circles here.

Demonstrated.

Sometimes it costs hundreds of dollars to convince a man; very often less is required, but in the case of Polson's Nerviline, that sovereign remedy for pain, 10 cents foots the bill and supplies enough Nerviline to convince every purchaser that it is the best, most prompt and certain pain remedy in the world. Nerviline is good for all kinds of pain, pleasant to take, and sure to cure cramps and all internal pains. It is also nice to rub outside, for it has an agreeable smell, quite unlike so many other preparations, which are positively disagreeable to use. Try it now. Go to a drug store and buy a 10 cent or 25 cent bottle. Polson's Nerviline. Take no other. 64w26

Miraculous.

"My Miraculous Cure was that I had suffered from kidney disease for about two years, was off work all that time. A friend told me of R.R.R., I tried it and am happy to say that I was cured by two bottles."—Wm. Tier, St. Mary's, Ont. 2w24d

INSECT PESTS IN ILLINOIS.

The Southern Part of the State Overrun by Injurious Parasites.

CHICAGO, June 21.—In his report to the trustees of the University of Illinois, Prof. Forbes, director of the State Laboratory of Natural History, states that Southern Illinois is peculiarly unfortunate this season, being overrun by injurious insects.

In certain localities the Hessian fly has done great damage to the wheat crop, while in others the first planting of corn was almost wholly taken by cut worms. In some places the last-named insects did not by any means confine their attacks to corn, but ate garden vegetables, oats and grass with equal relish. Some fields of oats were so completely cleaned out as if a mowing machine had been run over them close to the ground.

However, a hopeful indication for the future is to be found in the fact that an epidemic disease appeared among the worms and carried them off by thousands. This disease is caused by bacteria. The same disease has recently been found destroying great numbers of army worms in Jackson County.

The subject is being elaborately studied and experiments are being made to see whether these bacteria cannot be propagated and used for destroying great farm pests generally.

In many portions of Southern Illinois there has been much complaint among farmers because of dying meadows, and one of the chief causes of this has recently been found to be the presence of an insect never heretofore reported as seriously injurious in America, though allied species are often frightfully destructive in England. The insect is the young or larva of the common large mosquito, like those flies, which cut off the grass roots just below the surface of the soil.

The chinch bug is again at work throughout a large portion of the area infested last year. Experiments have been begun to test the influence of various fertilizers in supporting farm crops against their attacks. There has also been throughout a large portion of the state, north as well as south, an extraordinary outbreak of the corn root web worm, an insect which has only been known to entomologists a few years, but which has increased with such rapidity that thousands of acres of corn have been destroyed by it this season. Field and laboratory experiments have [illegible] indicate that its ravages may be successfully checked by an application of arsenical poison.

LOST IN LAKE ERIE.

Eight Lives Lost by the Wrecking of a Steambarge.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 21.—The steambarge P. H. Walters was sunk in a storm off Black River, Ohio, last evening, and eight lives were lost. The vessel left Marblehead yesterday afternoon, and when off Black River, the captain's wife, who was on board, begged the master to put in at Lorain, as the threatening weather alarmed her. The vessel was headed toward the harbor, but had scarcely turned about when she was struck by a terrible squall. The wind bore the barge round and round. The hold filled with water, and in half a minute she sank. The captain, the mate and two of the captain's sons saved themselves by clinging to the floating fenders.

This morning about 2 o'clock the cries of the shipwrecked quartet attracted the attention of the lookout on the steamer Pearl, bound to Cleveland from Detroit. A lifeboat was lowered, and the shipwrecked mariners were brought to Cleveland.

The lost are: Mrs. J. G. Gillespie, wife of the master, Alphos and Jennie Gillespie, the master's children; Engineer Peter Grines of Cleveland, Fireman John Peterson, Wheelman Gus Shaffer of Sandusky, O.; Deck Hand Peter Powley of Lighthouse Station, O.; Stewardess Kate Powley, wife of Peter. The rescued are: Capt. J. G. Gillespie of Port Clinton, O.; Mate James Fora of Port Clinton and George and Ikey Gillespie, sons of the captain. The survivors were brought to this city.

IN THE SHERIFF'S HANDS.

An Attachment Issued Against Gordon & Morey of Belleville.

BELLEVILLE, June 21.—The Gordon & Morey trouble has developed into a seizure by the sheriff on an attachment issued by one Bercome, an employe. The stock amounts to about $5000, and the indebtedness, it is rumored, to four times that amount. Mr. Morey, who lives in Montreal, is here, and is very much cut up at the fraud which has been practised upon him. Gordon has fled the country with, it is believed, a heavy booty. It is said he has been living here under an alias, and that his real name is Thomas S. Coffin. On Wednesday his wife went to Detroit with a very large and heavy trunk, which circumstance first aroused suspicion.

Murdered by Indians.

WINNIPEG, June 21.—Graham and Bell, two horse traders belonging to Moose Jaw, were murdered two weeks ago by Crow Indians on the Crow reserve, Montana.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 22, 1887.

THE DAY OF JUBILEE.

Patriotic Peterborough's Magnificent Pageant.

How We Kept the Jubilee.—Superb Decorations.—Brilliant Illuminations.—General and Enthusiastic Exhibition of Loyalty.

The twenty-first day of June in the year of grace, 1887, was a memorable day in the annals of Peterborough. Never on any occasion, local or national, religious or secular, social or political, was there so general and active, nay eager, a spirit of enthusiasm developed by the people as in the observance of the Jubilee year of the reign of Her Majesty Alexandrina Victoria I., the present occupant of the British throne, but throned in millions of hearts by the simple title of "the Queen". Certainly Peterborough and Ashburnham never woke up so generally and thoroughly to the grandeur of the occasion. The demonstration on Tuesday was a magnificent success. The glorious rain which fell during the day—for it was a glorious rain for the crops—did not interfere with the most essential part of the jubilee demonstration. It prevented the carrying out of the most complete arrangements ever made in Peterborough for the holding of a gala day, but it did not suppress nor hinder a display and development of the spontaneity of desire and effort on the part of every class of citizens, regardless of sex and age, to mark the day in some appropriate manner. The General Jubilee Committee went on quietly but actively with the inception and development of the programme. There was no particular effort made to stir up the people, yet a more general, hearty, loyal, enthusiastic and popular demonstration never took place in Peterborough. Everybody was interested in the work, and each doing his or her share, tended to make the 21st day of June unique in historic annals, as an occasion for the exhibition of loyalty to the British throne and especially to her, who has occupied it so efficiently, in every respect, during the past half century.

The rising generation had the first part in the programme of the day, though the drenching downpour of rain, to a large extent, destroyed, at least, the scenic effect of their share of the display. At half past nine o'clock children gayly clad—the girls in white—began to gather at the Charlotte street skating rink where they were prepared for entering the procession which was to leave the drill shed at 10 o'clock. As the children passed out each was served with a small British flag to carry, and the number of flags distributed gives a good idea of the number of children present. Though large numbers of the children, particularly those of one or two of the Sunday Schools, had been provided with flags before leaving the school rooms, yet nearly 1500 flags were distributed by the committee, thus making the number of children present from 1500 to 1800. The children then marched, but without music or any attempt at display, to the drill shed, their march being hurried by the premonitory drops of rain which the dark and lowering clouds yielded. The military, the Fifty-seventh Battalion, under Lt.-Col. Rogers, Major Grover and Adjutant Bell, had already mustered. The children were ready, the citizens had gathered in large numbers to join in the procession, while the Fire Brigade made a magnificent display with their beautifully ornamented and flower-decked steamer, hose wagon and hook and ladder wagon. Just at the moment when the signal to start was being given the rain began to descend heavily, and of course there was no procession. After waiting for a long time and in vain for the chance of fine weather, it was thought best to carry out the programme as far as possible under the circumstances. The girls of the procession were placed in the gallery at the north end of the shed, in the middle of which the chairman and other members of the General Jubilee Committee and the few invited gentlemen who had braved the prospect of rain and accepted invitations to be present, were stationed. These were Rev. Messrs. Wallace, Torrance, Bell, Wilson and Messrs. J. Stevenson, M. P., J. E. Strat-M. P. P., Mr. R. Weir representing the School Board, R. Morrow and Professor Sawyer, and if the day had been fine there would certainly have been a very large deputation of our leading citizens present. The proceedings began with the singing of the Jubilee hymn to the air of "God Save the Queen"—in fact it was a jubilee version of the National Anthem. The singing was magnificent and the children deserve great praise for the splendid manner in which they acquitted themselves.

The chairman of the General Jubilee Committee, Rev. W. C. Bradshaw read the following

ADDRESS TO THE QUEEN

TO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY:

Most Gracious Sovereign,

We, the loyal inhabitants of the town and county of Peterborough, in the province of Ontario, and Dominion of Canada, assembled on this 21st day of June, in enthusiastic commemoration of the Jubilee year of Your Majesty's reign, beg to offer our most heartfelt congratulations upon the conspicuously happy completion of the fiftieth year of your gracious reign.

Among the many colonies and dependencies, which comprise the vast area of your realm, you will, we beg to assure you, find none who cherish British connection more fondly, nor more highly appreciate the blessings arising from that connection, as the results of your wise and gracious sovereignty, than the inhabitants of this town and district.

From the very beginning of Your Majesty's reign, whose opening days were signalized by the memorable [illegible] the munificent gift of [illegible] by reason of that gift and by virtue of Imperial respect for our rights and interest in our welfare, flourished and advanced until what was fifty years since a scattered stretch of [illegible] has become a [illegible] Dominion, [illegible] with [illegible] and [illegible] which [illegible] other portion of the Dominion, the town of Peterborough, which is now aglow with enthusiasm, in honour of Your Majesty's Jubilee Year, has shared, to a very large extent, the progress and prosperity of the [illegible] century. A [illegible] of skilled hats has become a thriving, well-built town, with a healthy commercial life, possessing all the advantages of modern civilization and enjoying its full share of the numerous blessings which the Empire enjoys under your benign sway.

As an integral part of the great British [illegible] and fully responding to what [illegible] is maintained by the sentiments of [illegible] devotion, which centre in Your [illegible] Majesty, we pray that you may long be spared to rule happily and peacefully over the many millions, who acknowledge your benign sovereignty, and we trust that Canada's connection with the Mother Country may be maintained throughout all future generations.

W. C. BRADSHAW,
Chairman Jubilee Committee.

CHAS. H. ALLISON,
Secretary Jubilee Committee.

Peterborough, June 21st, 1887.

Rev. W. C. BRADSHAW in moving the adoption of the address said:—Fellow citizens, the task to which I have been appointed by the Jubilee Celebration Committee, imposes upon me the pleasant duty and high honor of reading an address to Her Most Gracious Majesty, Queen Victoria, expressive of the deep feelings of loyalty and attachment held for our Sovereign by the citizens of this town and county of Peterborough, and offering our most heartfelt congratulations to her on this most auspicious occasion of her Jubilee. I cannot but regret that the task was not laid upon one who would have been better able than I am to do the duty and to do such a subject ample justice. But this magnificent demonstration, and the hundreds similar to it occuring to-day, in all parts of Canada, sufficiently attest the esteem in which Our Gracious Sovereign Lady, the Queen, is held, and amply proves our readiness as loyal Canadians to express our gratitude for the rare and glorious privilege of keeping her Jubilee. It is indeed with thankful hearts we acknowledge to-day the numerous, varied, and ever-increasing blessings we enjoy under her benignant sway. This being the case, and each being the spirit in which I am sure you keep her Jubilee, the duty assigned to me becomes a very easy one. I feel fully convinced that the sentiments of devotion to the Person, and loyalty to the Throne of Queen Victoria which are set forth in the address I am about to read, express the feelings of all before me, and are earnestly echoed by every true Canadian from the shores of the Atlantic to the fruitful slopes of the Pacific. We Canadians are emphatically a loyal people. In no part of the vast British Empire has the Queen more faithful and devoted subjects. We know that in her Majesty we have a perfect constitutional ruler, one who has, on every occasion, bowed readily and gracefully to the will of the people, as expressed by the votes of Parliament. To this loyal adherence to public opinion we owe the blessings of Confederation, and we are grateful that under her benign rule, this Dominion has enjoyed peace and prosperity and that perfect liberty which, we think, is most fully attained under the British flag. We may well, therefore, express the hope that these rich blessings may be continued to us in future generations, and that our connection with the mother country may be maintained and become more secure and permanent with the lapse of ages. On such a rare occasion as the present, we are privileged to review the glorious reign of our Sovereign for a very lengthy period, and we cannot but note with deep feelings of satisfaction how freedom, enlightenment, and happiness have spread in it to millions of our race and nation. The marvellous increase of the empire, the progress of science and art, the development of British trade and commerce, the numerous discoveries and inventions, the rapid growth and extension of the colonies—all these mark the Victorian Era as one of unexampled progress. No 50 years in the world's history has produced such changes, affecting all classes in their domestic life and prosperity. Witness the growth of railways, the invention of the telegraph, the improved postal arrangements and the rapid communication of intelligence to all parts of the civilized world. Religion has also awakened to great exertions. Education has advanced with rapid strides. Peace and happiness have largely prevailed. Liberty and freedom have been fostered, and now it is impossible to find within the British possessions the clank of slavery's chain. But there are other reasons why we rejoice at this Jubilee celebration. I think I am justified in saying that no sovereign in the annals of British history has so won the esteem and love of her people as the present occupant of the throne. She has proved herself not only a noble Queen but a noble wife and mother. Her virtues and purity in the Court and in domestic life have set a bright example and pattern to the entire nation and to other lands. Her throne has been established and maintained in righteousness. She has strenuously upheld the authority of Scripture. She has been ever ready to sympathize with the sick and the needy and suffering and has proved in many ways her right to a more august title than Defender of the Faith, namely, Victoria the Good, the Friend and Defender of the Poor. I therefore respectfully ask you to endorse the statements of love and loyalty to our beloved Queen which appear in this address and to join with me in the fervent hope that her reign may long continue and that in the good providence of God she may long be spared to maintain the duties of her exalted position. May children's children in future generations say of her:

"She wrought her people lasting good,
Her life was pure, her court serene,
God gave her peace, her land restored;
And these and claims to reverence closed
In her as mother, wife and Queen."

Mayor STEVENSON in seconding the address pointed out that while Canadians were distinguished for their loyalty the fact was accounted for by the proximity of a republic with a form of government less perfect than that of Canada which he pronounced the best in the world. After referring briefly to the events which made Her Majesty's reign so glorious, he said the day was one worthy to be remembered, and he was proud to see that Peterborough had taken her place in the celebration of it with great credit. He wished the Queen a yet long and prosperous reign.

Rev. Messrs. Wallace, Bell, Wilson and Torrance and Mr. J. R. Stratton, M. P. P., made brief stirring addresses in support of the motion.

The address was carried with jubilant expressions of endorsation, the whole vast assemblage which packed the drill shed breaking into enthusiastic cheers again and again renewed, the band playing "God Save the Queen."

The children then went through the remainder of their musical programme. This comprised "Rule Britannia," sung with excellent concord and great vim by the youthful chorus; "The Red, White and Blue," the chorus of which was exceedingly effective, the children waving their flags in time to the music of the words, almost every element, outside the children, was wanting to give the best effect to the admirable singing of the young people. They acquitted themselves with very great credit, and great praise is due Messrs. Miller and Gilchrist, who had the charge of their training for the occasion.

"Three Cheers for the Red, White and Blue."

A special selection, "Long Live Our Gracious Queen," "The Maple Leaf Forever" followed, and the delightful programme was brought to a close by the singing of the "Doxology."

At the conclusion of the singing, the sun having ceased for the time, the children adjourned to the Court House Park, and the military, headed by the band, and followed by the beautifully decorated steamer, Rose Queen and Weed and Lyster Bros. floral [illegible], passed up George Street to Charlotte and up Water to the front of the Court House where the 57th was formed in line and fired a feu de joie with a precision worthy of volunteers, followed by the centenary three cheers for the Queen, the band playing the National Anthem. The children were then into the Court House where the promised refreshments were served out to them.

The Afternoon.

A large crowd assembled on Riverside Park in the afternoon, but [illegible] had been done rain [illegible] the projected sports could not be held. It rained steadily until four o'clock, when the clouds rolled away and the rest of the day was fine.

While the crowd was gathering on the park the centre of the ground on the east side of the grounds gave way with a great wind let down thirty or forty people in a heap. Fortunately no one was injured. The stand was old and rotten, and the weight on it proved too much for its endurance.

Over town the people crowded into doorways, under awnings, jammed the hotels, and occupied every possible place of shelter. At the storm cleared up, and the crowd [illegible] again and thronged the streets as before.

The Regatta.

By seven o'clock a large crowd had gathered on Burnham's Point, but it was half-past seven before the first race was started. Fully three thousand people were there. The band played several selections. In the unavoidable absence of Mr. A. McNeil, Mr. J. McClelland acted as starter. The following races were held, when darkness put an end to the regatta which was held under the auspices of the Otonabee Canoe Club:—

DOUBLE CANOE RACE, two miles.—Four entries: Watson and Lyons, Carveth and O'Dette, Stock and Barry, Giroux and Devol. The two Indians took first prize and Watson and Crate second. Both crews were Indians from Rice Lake. The first prize was the two handsome medals presented by the Otonabee Canoe Club; second prize was two handsome Satin Jubilee Banners presented by Miss Lansden. There should have been more entries for this race.

SINGLE CANOE RACE, half mile.—Three entries: Anderson, Howard and Laplante. Laplante came in first, but as it was claimed that he turned only one buoy, he was ruled out. Howard took first prize, a fancy cradle presented by D. Belleghem, and Anderson second, a walnut paper holder presented by Craig & Mooney.

FOUR-OARED BOAT RACE, one mile.—Two entries: Messrs. Loch, Strickland, Cox and Holden; Messrs. Mahon, Halliday, Fanning, and McIntyre. After a close and exciting pull the latter crew won narrowly. The prize was a box of cigars presented by J. Craig.

DOUBLE CANOE RACE, Boys under 14.—Three entries: Nesbitt and Halloway, Minore and Sharpe, Roberts and Gilboe. The latter took first prize, a pair of boots presented by R. J. Kidd, and a lamp presented by J. J. Bagnsley.

DOUBLE CANOE RACE, two-thirds mile; four paddlers in each canoe—Three entries: Arthur Blade, H. Matthews, S. Clegg and J. Craig; Howard, Wesing, Crowe and Moward; Messrs. O'Dette, H. Stock, A. Mason and J. Carveth. The last named crew came in first, winning the group cabinet photographs presented by Mr. F. H. Green.

The Parade.

It being quite dark an end was put to the races, and soon colored lights in fantastic shapes were seen flitting noiselessly but swiftly over the water. The steam yacht "Dot" led the procession, which comprised about twenty handsomely illuminated canoes. After sailing about for about a quarter of an hour the procession disbanded and the people returned to the town.

Messrs. H. Stock and T. Barry were awarded first prize for illuminated canoe, with Mr. D. Breeze a second. Messrs. Stock and Barry had their canoe rigged like a ship, with lanterns suspended from every part of the rigging. Mr. Breese had an expensive and beautiful illumination, a large colored glass lantern surmounted by a glittering crown. It was very pretty, but did not make such a brilliant show on the water as some others. The scene on the lake was pretty indeed. A feature of the canoe parade was the exhibition of illuminated club swinging of Mr. T. McNaughton in a canoe, which was paddled slowly along the shore.

Col. J. Z. Rogers and Mr. John Millar were judges for the regatta and parade.

The Town's Illumination.

George street was a blaze of brilliancy in the evening. From almost every window, from the roofs, from projecting poles and other points of vantage were suspended strings or bunches of Chinese lanterns, the whole intermingled with gaudy bunting, making a scene of flashy gorgeousness seldom witnessed. The gas arch erected by the Gas Co. was without doubt the chief illumination of the evening. It was truly beautiful indeed. Beginning at the lower end of George street, the following special illuminations were noticed: Bowman & Gordon, a circle of gas in their show window; McAndrew & Noble, a crown of gas, enclosing the letters V R, over the doorway; Chamberlain's restaurant, a circle of gas, in the centre of which were the figures 50; the C. P. R. office was nicely decorated, as also were the stores of Messrs. R. Nell, F. Hall and China Hall. On Simcoe street the premises of Hall, Innes & Co., T. W. Robinson, the Bank of Montreal and Snowdon's Hotel made a pretty show. Messrs. Gough and R. Fair made brilliant illuminations, the whole front of the former's place of business being strung with lanterns and flags, while the Golden Lion made a fine interior illumination. In one window was a bust of the Queen, attired in royal robes, wearing a crown, in which the jewels were represented by gas jets. A shamrock outlined in gas over the doorway of R. W. Manchester's jewelry store was unique, while a mammoth boots-shoe, encircling the words "Vive La Reine," on the front of Mr. H. LeBrun's city clothing store made a big display. Along Hunter street, as on George street, nearly all the stores were more or less decorated with lanterns and bunting, the whole helping to add lustre to the bright scene. Over the entrance to Mr. A. Hall's hardware store was a large T of gas, on either side the letters V. R. The upper stories of the Crystal block were resplendent with light, an ornamental design of gas jets extending across the front of the building. A transparency in the show window of Foot & McWhinnie, representing a crown, the jewels marked in various colors, was very prettily outlined. All the stores were exposed to view, with blinds drawn, every means of illumination and utilized, some in less elaborate display than others, but all creditable. On Water, Brock, Charlotte and other streets there was some display of illumination, as well as in Ashburnham, but the disinclination of the citizens to venture out in the rain rendered it impossible to get particulars. The Electric Light Company erected two Jubilee towers, the one in the Park, 75 feet high, bearing ten lights, being extremely effective, while the one on George Street, with seven lights, added much to the brilliancy of the crowd's appearance. They were the most brilliant features of the illumination. The light was singularly clear and steady, and the general committee and the public are indebted to the Company, of which Mr. T. G. Hazlitt is manager, for their generosity in supplying the lights free of charge.

IN THE PARK.

The Fire Brigade Band on returning from Burnham's Point proceeded to the Court House Park, where they gave an open air concert. The park was thronged with people while the streets adjacent and George Street were crowded with moving masses of humanity, who continued to stroll about till midnight, by which time the streets were pretty well cleared—and the Queen's Jubilee was over, for the present at least.

The Decorated Town.

The decoration of the buildings of George Street especially and the business portions of the adjoining streets were truly magnificent, and in a minor way the other portions of the town did their part nobly. Many private residences were beautifully adorned, and the attempt at decoration and the recognition of the day were general. Hardly any but so small and modest but it bore one or more flags, and some ambitious citizens threw arches over their gate ways and decked them with flags and flowers. The finest feature of the decorations was the almost universal co-operation of all the business men on George Street. There was not a building from the market Square to Brock Street but had decorations more or less profuse, though some of the tenants of some of the buildings were conspicuous by their refraining from joining in the beautifying of their premises.

Beginning at the market square, Brown's restaurant was the first. Next came Sheppard's, finely and artistically adorned. Morrow's grocery was most beautifully and profusely decked in Jubilee attire. Next came Carten's Auction Rooms, Chamberlain's restaurant, the Review office, Neil's Boot Store, and Matthews' meat store. The offices above these, Messrs. E. A. Peck, C. W. Sawers and the Masonic Hall, were finely decorated, the latter hanging out a large royal blue banner with a square and compass in white. "China Hall" presented a beautiful aspect, a huge "V" starting from the walk in front of the door was formed by ropes profusely studded with little flags, extending outward and upward to the cornice of the building. On Simcoe street Mr. J. W. Flavelle, the Metropolitan Grocery, Clark's jewellry shop, Hall, Innes & Co., and the Bank of Montreal were bright with bunting and flags. The C. P. R. Hotel and the Snowden House were plentifully adorned.

Continuing up the east side of George were the shop of Ormond and Walsh and above, the law office of Mr. W. A. Stratton, J. Braden, Sallsbury & Bros., Miss Armstrong, Fairweather & Mills' hat store, Butcher, McFadden's photograph gallery, H. Best, P. Counal & Co., and McNeils store. The profuse decoration of the latter must have created a small corner in flags. Continuing we find O. C. Rowse's trade palace, McKee's drug store, James Best and John Cameron falling in line, followed by R. B. McKee and H. LeBrun. The latter had a conspicuously beautiful shop front. The golden horseshoe was surrounded with flags and the window space it encircles was filled with a tablet bearing the words "Vive La Reine." Next came G. W. Rubridge and John McClelland.

On Hunter street Dawson Bros., G. Hutchinson, G. D. Mitchell, W. J. Devlin, J. Bagnsley, Jas. Mitchell, the Stewart House, Morgan House, and Croft's Hotel made good displays, the latter adding an evergreen arch to his other decorations. West of George Messrs. G. B. Sproule, Kingsin & Co., Jos. Griffin, J. Nugent, D. Belleghem, W. VanEvery and others made creditable displays. Returning to George street the decorations received full justice at the hands of Taylor & Macdonald, W. W. Johnston & Co., T. Menzies, G. A. Schofield, Breese & Bain, Harry Long, Foote & McWhinnie, Johnston Carey, Ostrom & Ostrom, E. B. Stone, J. Craig (two shops,) Miss Sanderson, Miss Jenkins, M. T. Butcher, Singer Sewing Machine Company, Kennedy's Hotel and the EXAMINER Office. The latter was decorated a large display of small flags, several large ensigns, and along the wall a streamer, having the mottoes "God bless our Queen", "Long may Victoria Reign", and "Our Sovereign's Jubilee," punctuated with small flags.

On Brock street Messrs. Fitzgerald & Stanger threw a huge streamer across the street, with the motto "God Bless our Noble Queen".

The Y.M.C.A. rooms were bright with flags, and across the street the example of J. J. Howden was followed by Hodson's grocery, Miss Karch, Craigs & Mooney. The display of the Bank of Commerce was overshadowed though not outdone by those of Messrs Dumble & Leonard, the Customs offices and Mr. John Miller's on the second floor. Next came the palatial offices of the Central Canada Loan and Savings Company, the telegraph and express offices, W. J. Mason, A. Clegg, D. Smart and W. H. Wrighton, in whose two windows hung the letters V. R., worked out in evergreens and field daisies. A. L. Davis & Co. showed besides flags a wreath of evergreens encircling a portrait of the Queen. The space between this and Hunter street was filled in very creditably with the displays of Stenson Bros., J. D. Tully, Adam Hall, J. H. Ames and Mercer & Co. Mr. Hall solved the annexation problem. In his window a toy statute of "Uncle Sam" was made to hold aloft in one hand a tiny British flag.

Otonabee Lodge rooms were beautifully decorated. Mr. Muncaster had a most artistic and striking display. His shop front, in addition to flags, bore a huge crimson tablet having on it in artistic lettering the words, "Jubilee (1837—1887) Year." Alongside of Fertye and Phelan's display was the fine one of R. Fair. In the doorway over the shop entrance hung a huge floral crown flanked on either side in the windows, by the letters "V." "R." also beautifully wrought in flowers. Gough had the front of his buildings a blaze of flags. Down street the decoration was continued by Messrs. Stethem, Keating, Middleton, Shortley, Abraxander and Fairweather & Co. A very splendid floral "V. R." and crown on a background of red, white and blue, distinguished the display of the latter. T. Kelly continued the display followed by Rush Bros., Elliott & Tierney, the C. P. R. offices, Grand Central, J. Garvey, W. J. Green, Geo. Carton, McAndrew & Noble, Bowman & Gordon, and the Floral Drug store. Facing the market on the south was the conspicuous decorations of the residence of Mr. E. Phelan.

The other decorations outside of the limits treated of were too isolated to add to the general display of the business part of the town, and the residences decorations were too numerous to admit of their being specially treated of. Any omissions in giving due credit to either decorations or illuminations will be rectified as far as possible if the attention of the EXAMINER is called to them.

The Arches

were not the least attractive element of the decorations. Beginning at a corner of Charlotte and Aylmer streets, the arch erected by Porter Bros., carriage-builders, demands attention. While expressing loyalty it had a symbolic significance. The chief adornment of the arch was a vehicle of fifty years ago, labeled 1837, flaced by one of Porter Bros. nobby turnouts labeled 1887. The Foresters' arch near the market was exceedingly effective and was blessed with the symbols of the order. The Orange double arch spanning the square corner George and Simcoe attracted great attention. The Sons of England arch was perhaps the most elegant of the lot. It was built with great care and was of a most elaborate design. At the corner of George and Hunter streets, opposite Otonabee (Oddfellows) lodge room, was hung a splendid banner of the order flanked by flags. It was adorned with symbols of the order and representations of the flag and crown, all done in a most artistic way. It is the work and gift of Mr. E. M. Roy, who deserves credit for producing one of the most unique and artistic displays of the day. A fitting society companion piece of Oddfellow display was the peculiar yet beautiful arch erected by Peterborough Lodge and Mount Hebron Encampment. It was in the form of a tent and was freely decked with flags and the symbols and insignia of the order. Altogether, the arches, though some were hurriedly constructed, were most creditable and effective features of the display. Lack of space compels the holding over of several little details of interest in reference to the Jubilee celebration.

At the call of the chairman, a special meeting of the General Jubilee Committee, will be held to-night, in the Firemen's Hall. Special and important business demands immediate attention.

THE CHILDREN'S FETE DAY

THOUSANDS OF LITTLE ONES GREET THE QUEEN AT HYDE PARK.

The Prince and Princess of Wales Honor the Gathering and Mix Freely With the Crowds—The List of Distinctions Conferred by Her Majesty.

LONDON, June 22.—Among the presents received by the Queen to-day was one of $75,000 subscribed by 3,000,000 women. Her Majesty accepted this and graciously thanked the donors.

The Queen left Buckingham Palace this evening and went to Windsor Castle. At different stations along the route she was cheered by enthusiastic crowds.

The Children's Fete.

At the children's fete in honor of the Queen's jubilee, held to-day in Hyde Park, thirty thousand little ones were present. They were arrayed on the great lawn and made a pretty picture.

The Prince and Princess of Wales and their sons and daughters, accompanied by a number of royal guests, visited the park during the fete. The children at once freed themselves from restraint, broke the rope barriers, and rushed pell mell toward the pavilions and clustered themselves in solid groups around them. All etiquette vanished and the princes and princesses, who seemed delighted at their position, mixed among the children with perfect freedom and pleasure. All at once the children began to sing "God Bless the Prince of Wales." They sang in every key, but their earnestness and enthusiasm made up for the lack of harmony.

The visitors then made their way to the platform erected for their accommodation. The Queen soon arrived. When it was announced that she was coming the children massed themselves in an orderly manner along both sides of the road over which Her Majesty's carriage passed, and greeted with it toward the stand, the assembled bands playing the National Anthem, which the children all sang with grand effect.

The Queen reached and ascended the platform while the music was proceeding and at its conclusion she presented a memorial cup to a little girl who had been selected to represent all the children assembled. When the Queen departed the whole assemblage sang "Rule Britannia."

Mrs. Gladstone and Lord Spencer were present. A number of aristocrats lent their assistance in making the fete a success.

DISTINCTIONS CONFERRED.

There are no Colonists Among Those Receiving Titles.

LONDON, June 22.—Among the peers to be created are Sir John St. Aubyn, a Liberal Unionist member of Parliament for the St. Ives division of Cornwall; Mr. Henry William Eaton, a Conservative member of Parliament for Coventry and Mr. Edward Followes, a copious contributor to the Conservative electoral fund and formerly member of Parliament for Huntingdon.

Baron Londesborough will be made an Earl. The Earl of Strathmore, now a Scotch representative peer, and Viscount Galway, an Irish peer, will be made peers of the United Kingdom.

Baronetcies will be conferred upon thirteen persons, including Sir Algernon Borthwick, editor and proprietor of The London Morning Post; Mr. Moon, Chairman of the London and Northwestern Railway, and Mr. William Pearce, the shipbuilder, and M.P. for Govan.

Thirty-three persons will be knights, including Mr. Lang, editor of The Sheffield Telegraph; Martin Holloway, the heir of the Hillmans, and the Mayors of York, Liverpool, Leeds, Sheffield, Bristol, Portsmouth, Salford, Windsor, Norwich and Newcastle.

Among the honors to be conferred the Crown Prince of Austria will be made an extra knight of the Garter, and the Grand Duke Sergius of Russia, the Grand Duke of Hesse, the Grand Duke of Saxe-Meiningin, Prince Edward of Saxe-Weimar, Prince Victor of Hohenloh-Langenburg and Prince Louis of Battenberg will be decorated with the Grand Cross of the Order of the Bath. A long list of minor decorations will also be conferred.

Huron Indians Celebrate the Event.

QUEBEC, June 22.—A report just received states the Queen's Jubilee was celebrated with great pomp and ceremony by the Huron Indians at Loretto yesterday. Besides a full program of sports, a salute of 21 guns was fired by 21 squaws, as a guarantee of their loyalty to the Queen. The following message was telegraphed to Sir A. P. Caron to be forwarded to the Queen:

"The chiefs, warriors, squaws and pappooses of the Huron Indians of Loretto honor Queen Victoria, who has been preserved from all misfortunes and continues to reign happy."

The ceremonies wound up with a wedding, the participants being Warrior Groundeau and the beautiful squaw Rose Annal. After this the party broke up singing "God Save the Queen."

Valparaiso Illuminated.

VALPARAISO, June 22.—Queen Victoria's jubilee celebration here passed off with great eclat. The ships were gaily decorated and the outdoor sports were numerously attended. At night the city was brilliantly illuminated.

A KENTUCKY FEUD AGAIN.

Craig Tolliver, the Notorious Brigande, Shot by Bloodhounds.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 22.—Considerable has been occasioned by another battle in Rowan County which occurred on Thursday night, 9 o'clock. In this fight Craig Tolliver, the desperado who has terrorized that section, was killed. He was shot by a party of constables accompanied by the bloodhounds. It is reported that Christopher was killed at the same time.

The Operations of the Crimea Still.

LONDON, June 22.—Lord Huntingford has written a letter in which he says that it would be most unwise to limit the duration of the Crimea Bill to three years, as suggested. Parliament, he says, has power to repeal or amend the act, and he trusts that the state of Ireland will enable Parliament to dispense with some laws at no distant date.

THE SESSION'S LAST DAY.

OTTAWA, June 22.—At this writing a tremendous struggle is going on in the Commons of Canada between the two parties over the question of [illegible]. The Conservatives are bound to prorogue to-morrow and the Reformers are bound that they shall not. The running is easy and bets are about even, with the odds slightly in favor that the Government will win, but there is every appearance of an all night session.

This morning the Commons did not quit until the gray dawn was breaking in the east, and started in again at 1 o'clock.

The third reading of the Tariff Bill was the first order of the day.

Sir Richard Cartwright led off with a stirring speech against the time duties, one of his favorite planks of the platform, a masterly attack upon the principle of developing the iron industry by applying protection.

[illegible] great bills were put through without opposition: The Amendments to the Immigration Act, the Indian Act, and respecting [illegible] to the navigation.

The bill respecting threats and intimidations was opposed by Mr. Watson, who said that while it was an improvement on Mr. Amyot's bill, still it was not satisfactory, and he advised delay.

Mr. Amyot supported the bill and showed its necessity.

There was some desultory talk, and the bill was put through its final stages.

The act respecting the Northwest Council, conferring the present body for another year, was passed.

Go applies to go into supply.

Mr. Mills brought up the case of Editor Marmette of Quebec who had been imprisoned for libel and asked why he had been released.

The Minister of Justice said that petitions had been presented and it had been found that Marmette's health was suffering and that if he were kept confined for the full term, he, he had, therefore, been released after the usual license had been gone through with.

CAPTURED AT BUFFALO.

Parent, the Embezzling Cashier of the Mechanics Bank, Arrested.

BUFFALO, June 22.—A. D. Parent, formerly cashier of the Mechanics Bank of Montreal, has been since yesterday a close prisoner at Police Headquarters, and the case, which is an important one, has hitherto been kept very quiet.

Parent was arrested in this city yesterday and is held on a warrant charging him with having stolen funds and securities of the bank in his possession. It is alleged that he embezzled funds of the bank or its bills to the amount of $50,000 or more. He fled on May 27 with the bundle and then the discovery of the heavy defalcation was made. The Montreal authorities and the bank officials began an investigation and first traced the fugitive to Chicago and from there to this city. He had been in Buffalo four or five days when arrested.

A successful effort was made after the arrest to make Parent disagree. An attorney from Montreal and one of the directors of the bank were here to-day busily engaged on the case, and it is a result at 5.30 this afternoon it was stated that some $30,000 in money, drafts, etc., had been recovered. It was then decided that there need be no further secrecy in the case.

Parent cannot be taken back under the extradition laws, but can be prosecuted here for having the stolen securities in his possession. What the disposition of the case will be remains to be seen.

CHOKED BY A CHICKEN BONE.

How Death Came Speedily to a Hamilton Laborer.

HAMILTON, June 22.—Edward Tompkins, laborer, in the employ of the corporation, choked to death at his home, No. 288 Kingstreet west, yesterday evening. He was at the Crystal Palace in the afternoon, and on returning to his home sat down to supper. During the meal, while picking the leg of a chicken, a small bone crossed in his throat, and in a few minutes he was a corpse. Three physicians were summoned, but not one of them arrived in time to see him alive. Tompkins was 38 years of age. He has a grown up family. Dr. Woolverton was notified, but did not think an inquest necessary.

Almost Strangled.

HAMILTON, June 22.—Mr. Wm. Scott Stewart of Chicago nearly met his death yesterday at the cricket grounds. While at lunch he nearly choked by a piece of meat becoming stuck in his throat. Dr. Woolverton and two medical students, who were among the players, succeeded in bringing him to rights after a great deal of difficulty. He [illegible] almost ceased its action, and he was [illegible] for an hour afterwards.

DROWNED IN SHALLOW WATER.

A Young Woman Loses Her Life While Bathing at Burlington Beach.

HAMILTON, June 22.—At Hamilton Beach this afternoon a young woman named Ada Builder, in the employ of Mr. Chas. M. Counsell, met with her death by drowning. Between 11 and 12 o'clock Miss Builder went out bathing with Mr. Counsell's children on the bay side. She was only in about two feet and a half of water and must have been seized with cramps as she suddenly fell on her face. The little children were surprised at their nurse not answering them when they called to her, and ran and told Mr. Counsell. That gentleman was promptly at the scene, and pulled out the unfortunate girl, but too late, as she had ceased breathing. Every effort was made to resuscitate her, but without avail.

Deceased was an American, between 18 and 19 years old. Her father works at Dundas.

EXPLOSION OF CHEMICALS.

Many Workmen in a Manchester Laboratory Injured.

MANCHESTER, June 22.—A terrific explosion occurred in Robert J. Dale & Co.'s chemical works to-day destroying the building. The ruins took fire and the flames spread to Pomona Palace. Windows were smashed for miles around by the force of the explosion.

The explosion occurred in a large retort containing picric acid. The iron plates, of which the retort was constructed, were blown a great distance. Many houses near the factory were partially demolished and it is feared many persons have been killed. The burning ruins threw out an intense heat, and the firemen found it impossible to approach the fire. A large number of workmen were assisted by acid or injured by falling debris.

THE NIAGARA CAMP.

Fine Weather Cheers the Campers—Target Practice Nearly Concluded.

NIAGARA CAMP, June 22.—The weather was very fine to-day, and was highly acceptable after yesterday's rain, which made the camp a dreary place.

Target practice is about completed. As the regulations are very strict the men are running a soldierly hearing, which is much encouraged by the fine appearance of C infantry although it is the general opinion that some of C infantry are a little too fresh. The fact that [illegible] is better drilled than the rest entitles it to look it over the non-commissioned officers and men of the militia, on whose self-sacrificing spirit the country must depend for defence, is a little too thin. The volunteers are now here to be instructed, not to be bossed.

The 31st Battalion will have an excursion over the Michigan Central to the Falls to-morrow.

Sixteen men of the Toronto Field Battery left for Port Colborne for target practice to-day.

The Celebration Elsewhere.

KINGSTON, Ont., June 22.—The troops which unhappily receive days' drill here arrived yesterday afternoon, and to-day begin drill.

The troops are the 46th RIFLES and 49th Battalions of the Kingston, Portsmouth and Cataraqui Field Battalion, a detachment of "A" Battery and the 2nd Regiment of Cavalry. There are about 1,200 present, non-commissioned and men and 215 horses.

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, June 22.

All yesterday [illegible] the Criminal Assize Court-room was filled with an eager crowd in attendance [illegible] the trial of John Hall [illegible] and Oscar Hall, charged with having [illegible] bank notes and [illegible] [illegible] it will be remembered, were arrested with Joseph J. Cassidy last February, when a [illegible] of counterfeit money was found in their possession. The defence was on the insanity plea. Mr. Hugh [illegible], Q.C. was Crown prosecutor, Mr. N. W. Hoskin appeared for Oscar Hall and Mr. E. Murphy for Hopkins.

The evidence [illegible] was practically the same as at the preliminary investigation before the Police Magistrate. It was shown that on the night of Feb. 19 Johnston passed a $5 "junk" of British North American bill in the store of J. Dallaire & Co., 240 Queen-street west, and that Hopkins who also had entered the store alone and as a stranger to Johnston, was a few minutes afterwards seen passing the steps in company with [illegible]. Other evidence proved that on Feb. 19 Hopkins, after [illegible] entering to pass a $50 Consolidated Bank note, one of the gang [illegible] some cents were in it in the store of W. Lyttell Pearce and Thomas Ferguson, who identified the [illegible] as one of John Davis' [illegible] [illegible] Messrs Hoskyn and Murphy made [illegible] addresses to the jury and the judge charged strongly against the prisoners. The jury retired at 5 o'clock and returned at 8.30 with a verdict of guilty. His Lordship sent them back to decide as to whether the prisoners had been working together and it took the jury two hours to conclude that they had.

Cassidy's trial has been fixed for to-morrow, when Johnston and Hopkins will be arraigned on three other indictments.

The pickets doing duty for the striking carpenters are said to perform their work with more than their usual vigilance. At several yesterday where there were [illegible] to persuade the men at work to join their ranks, rows were imminent. No disturbances, however, [illegible].

The [illegible] of the Homestead, Building and Loan Association was organized last night at a meeting held in Richmond Hall. The object of the association is to assist shareholders by loans. The capital stock is $2,000,000 in shares of $100. The [illegible] by the United Empire Loyalists Centennial Committee of Upper Canada, is encased in a red morocco cover and [illegible] and engrossed and illuminated by Miss Edith M. Shaw of this city, has just been sent to Governor Campbell to be forwarded to Her Majesty.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH FOR MAY.

Mortuary Returns From the Twenty-Six Canadian Cities and Towns.

From The Canadian Health Journal, June.

In the death rate in May in the twenty-six principal cities and towns making monthly returns to the Department of Agriculture in Ottawa, there was a slight decline as compared with April. This fall in the mortality in May is usual in this climate, and is usually followed by a rise in June or July. The total number of deaths recorded for the month in the twenty six cities and towns, comprising an assumed population of 650,000, was 1,295, the number in April being 1,377. This shows a mortality of about 24 per 1000 for the month—or 1 per 1000 lower than in April.

While in nearly all other cities the mortality was below the total average of 24 per 1000, in Montreal, Quebec and Hull it was considerably above the average.

In the total mortality from zymotic diseases there was a slight decline during the month, although in Montreal, Toronto and Quebec there was an increase in this class.

Measles, which caused 23 deaths in the twenty-six centres in April, caused only 14 in May. Only one death was recorded from scarlet fever.

From diphtheria there were 30 deaths—an increase of 76 in April. Of these 20 deaths, 15 were in Montreal, 21 in Toronto and 17 in Quebec—making in these three cities 65 of the total of 80 deaths from this cause.

From diarrhœal diseases and fevers the mortality in May was about the same as in April, while from rheumatism there was an increase.

From local diseases there was a marked decline in the mortality, while from constitutional and developmental [illegible] there was an increase.

Without there was but little notable change in the public health in May as compared with April.

PARIS, June 22.—The Irish revolutionists celebrated Queen Victoria's jubilee by giving a black banquet at a restaurant in Belleville. The room was decorated with Irish, American and French flags, and on the mantelpiece lay an effigy of the Queen with a banner appended bearing the word, "Vengeance." Speeches were made advocating the union of England's enemies.

OUR COUNTY PARLIAMENT

June Session of the Peterbor ough County Council.

The Warden's Address—The Grand Junction Suit—Jubilee Resolution—Bridges and Bridges.

The County Council met in half-yearly session at the Court House Tuesday afternoon, all the members present except Mr. John Lang, M.P. The Warden, Mr. George Stewart, occupied the chair.

The Warden addressed the Council, as follows:—

GENTLEMEN.—It is a matter of devout thankfulness to the Giver of all Good that we are all permitted to meet again in the enjoyment of our usual health and strength and that, although the drought has been rather severe, still as a result of the very favorable seeding time and the recent rain, the prospect is fair of an abundant harvest.

GRAND JUNCTION VS. PETERBOROUGH.

As you are doubtless well aware our Solicitor, Mr. E. B. Edwards, has gone to England to defend the County in the case now before the Privy Council. I have received most encouraging correspondence from him, with regard to the appeal, which will be laid before you.

BOBCAYGEON BRIDGE.

You will remember that application was made to you last session by the County of Victoria, to appoint an arbitrator to determine the proportion of the expense to be paid by this County in the matter of the repairs of the Bobcaygeon bridge, and that inasmuch as we were advised that this County was not liable, we declined to make such an appointment. Application has since been made by the County of Victoria to the Attorney-General to appoint an arbitrator on our behalf. This action I have instructed your Solicitor to resist on the ground that before an arbitrator is appointed a legal investigation should be had in order to ascertain whether we are in any way liable. The application is now pending.

THE FLOATING BRIDGES.

The Pigeon Creek bridge was so much damaged by the ice as to be unfit for public travel. Our very efficient caretaker, Mr. John Flood, has, under the direction of the County Engineer, Mr. Sanderson, and myself, repaired the bridge to such an extent as to be fit for traffic. I notified the Warden of the County of Victoria and the Mayor of the Town of Peterborough as to the state of the bridge, and that this County was willing to join with other interested municipalities in making the necessary repairs. I have received no reply from either the Town or the County of Victoria.

The Mud Lake bridge also suffered from the action of the ice, but it has been repaired by our obliging caretaker, Mr. Kelly, under the direction of the County Engineer.

THE LOCKS BRIDGE.

I sent the Council of the Town of Peterborough a copy of your resolution in reference to this bridge. You will receive the County Engineer's report with regard to this, and also the other bridges above mentioned, which I trust will receive your attention.

COUNTY BUILDINGS.

In compliance with your instructions, the alterations to the old gaol have been completed, and that part of the Court House formerly occupied by the gaoler has been fitted up for chambers for the County Judge, office for the Clerk of the Peace and a law library.

SCOTT ACT EXPENSES.

I congratulate you on the successful issue of the efforts of the committee too whom was referred the consideration of the demand of the Board of License Commissioners for West Peterborough. When the matter was referred to this committee the County was liable for two-thirds of the expense of carrying out the provisions of the "Canada Temperance Act," no provision having been made by which the Town of Peterborough, which, although separated from the County, forms part of the West District of the County for purposes of this Act, could be made to pay any portion of these expenses. At the suggestion of your committee, ably seconded by Mr. Blezard, M.P.P., the law in reference to this matter has been amended so as to provide that towns separate from counties shall pay a just share of the expenses of the licence district of which they form a part, such share to be separately estimated and determined by the Board of License Commissioners; and it is further provided that such towns shall be liable for their proportion of the expenses for the license years of 1886 and 1887.

SCOTT ACT FINES.

I regret that our efforts to get the Order-in-Council relating to the disposal of fines imposed and collected under the Canada Temperance Act changed have not resulted satisfactorily, although Mr. Lang, M. P., rendered us every assistance in his power. The correspondence and documents relating to this subject will be laid before you.

EQUALIZATION.

The equalization of the assessment rolls and other matters which will be brought under your notice, with I trust, receive your special consideration.

THE QUEEN'S JUBILEE.

I feel sure that I shall have the hearty concurrence of every member of this Council when I suggest that a jubilee address of congratulation from this Council be presented to Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen, whom we all love and respect, not only as our beloved Queen, and as one of the best sovereigns the world ever seen, but who, as a woman and a mother, has set such a noble Christian example to her subjects and to the world; and that we all unite most heartily in the prayer, Long Live our Gracious Queen.

GEORGE STEWART,
Warden.

Peterborough, June 21st, 1887.

After the Warden's address, Mr. Kidd moved, seconded by Mr. Finlay, that Messrs. Burnham, Sanderson, Moloney, Strickland, Mansfield, and the mover and seconder be a committee on the Warden's address.—Carried.

Mr. BURNHAM moved, seconded by Mr. Sanderson, that a committee be named by the Warden to draft an address to Her Majesty the Queen.

The Warden appointed Messrs. Burnham, Sanderson, and Strickland for that purpose, and the Council adjourned for a short time to allow the committee to complete their labors. They presented the following address:

May it Please Your Majesty:

The Council of the County of Peterborough, Province of Ontario, and Dominion of Canada, respectfully beg your Gracious Majesty's permission to present their congratulations and good wishes on this public anniversary. The Victorian age has been to this younger Britain a period of prosperity and happiness, and the loyalty to your Majesty which makes England the heart of a united empire is more wide spread in Canada than ever. The people of this country feel that the example your Majesty has set as beloved mistress of the British nation has made that nation mistress of the world in all the arts of civilization, peace and commerce; and may your majesty be pleased to accept this humble tribute of loyalty sent by your loving subjects of the county of Peterborough; and our prayer will ever be, "God save the Queen."

The address was adopted and ordered to be engrossed, signed by the Warden and Clerk, and forwarded to her majesty; and that a cablegram be sent to the Queen to-day as follows:—"The County of Peterborough congratulates Her Majesty on her happy Jubilee."

WEDNESDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

The committee appointed on the Warden's address reported:—

The committee concur in the opening remarks of the Warden in regard to the prospects of an abundant harvest, and hope that his expectations may be realized.

In the matter of the suit with the Grand Junction Railway, the committee are glad to learn that matters are progressing favorably for the county, and trust that we shall soon see an end to this long-pending and vexatious litigation.

With regard to the Bobcaygeon bridges we regret that the County of Victoria has not seen fit to adopt other means of ascertaining the liability of this County but seeks to submit the question to arbitration.

We concur in the action of the Warden in regard to the Pigeon Creek and Mud Lake bridges, and we trust that the municipalities most interested in the matter, the County of Victoria and town of Peterborough, will see it is their interest to join with the county in making the Pigeon Creek bridge safe for public travel.

In the matter of the Locks bridge we trust that the town will act promptly in providing for their share of the expenditure necessary.

Your committee are pleased to learn that the necessary changes in the County buildings have been satisfactorily completed.

It is gratifying to your committee to learn that the law in reference to the expenses of the enforcement of the Canada Temperance Act has been so amended as to provide that the town of Peterborough will be called upon to pay an equitable proportion of such expenses.

The report was adopted.

Mr. Bennet, representing the County Solicitor in the latter's absence, addressed the council on the Bobcaygeon bridge matter, and laid down the correspondence which had passed between himself and Mr. Edwards' Toronto agent on the subject.

On motion of Mr. STRICKLAND, seconded by Mr. Kidd, the Warden, and Messrs. Sanderson, Burnham and Pearse were appointed a deputation to go to Toronto and lay before the Attorney-General the position taken by this Council in the matter.

Some letters from Mr. Edwards to the Warden in reference to the Grand Junction Railway were read.

Mr. SANDERSON moved, seconded by Mr. Brown, that the Warden name a committee to enquire into the position of the county in regard to our police magistrate, and report to this council what steps should be taken to relieve this county from its position. The Warden named Messrs. Burnham, Strickland, Kidd, Sanderson, Moloney, Findlay, Fitzgerald, Brown, Elmhirst and Mansfield.

Dr. Douglass and Mr. James Ingram addressed the council, and solicited a grant of money to be expended on the road from Lakefield to Young's Point. The matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

Mrs. Vernon, Mrs. Gilmour and Miss Rogers visited the council and requested a grant towards the completion of some projected improvements to the Protestant Home. Dr. Bell accompanied the delegation and spoke in its favor. On motion the matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

Messrs. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., D. H. Moore and Dr. R. W. Bell appeared before the council and addressed them in committee in support of the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:—

Moved by Mr. MOLONEY, seconded by Mr. Kidd, that this Council grant to the Oddfellows of Peterborough for the holding of the Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Oddfellows the use of the Court Room and adjoining rooms for the 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th of August next, on condition that Messrs. J. R. Stratton, D. H. Moore, and Dr. R. W. Bell hereby guarantee to indemnify the Council for any damage that may occur to the building, such damage to be assessed by the county clerk and caretaker immediately after the session of Grand Lodge.

The Council then adjourned.

THURSDAY.

There was no session of the County Council to-day, the council having accepted an invitation of Mr. C. Young, of Young's Point, to visit Burleigh and inspect the bridges there. They left on the 9 o'clock train for Lakefield, from whence Mr. Young will convey them to their destination in the steamer Fairy.

Everything went off smoothly as could be wished, and the committee are to be congratulated upon the great success of the annual picnic. Gossip of the Turf.

The racing partnership formerly existing between Messrs. Cotsen and Evanson, of New York, has been severed, and on Monday last, at the Brighton Beach track, the sheriff, by virtue of executions issued by Justice Lawrence, of the Supreme Court, seized the race horses Breakfast, Ortid and J. J. Sanford, the second named was bought on an affidavit of Mr. Cotsen, in which it was stated that Mr. Evanson held no right, title or interest in the racers, and the ownership of Rio Grande and Brilliant, with the other racers named, will be tested in the courts.

The St. Leger is still practically a dead letter in the betting market; 4 to 1 is offered against Merry Hampton and Enterprise.

It will be remembered that a match was made last summer between E. J. Baldwin's Volante and J. B. Haggin's Tyrant to run at St. Louis. Neither of the horses were fit to race, but Volante, not being quite as badly off at the time as Tyrant, Mr. Haggin paid forfeit. Volante walked over the course for the St. Louis Association refused to pay Mr. Baldwin half the added money. He has therefore filed a suit for $250, the amount in question.

Entries to the great summer trotting meeting at Glen Grove Park June 30, July 1 and 2, close to-day, July 23. Three thousand dollars are being up in premiums, and it is most judiciously divided. The novelty race, a handsome purse to the horse doing nearest to three minutes, is quite a novelty in this section, and will attract a good deal of attention. The meeting is likely to prove one of the most brilliant trotting events of the season.

Sometimes it costs hundreds of dollars to convince a man; very often less is required, but in t' e case of Polson's Nerviline, that sovereign remedy for pain, 10 cents foots the bill and supplies enough Nerviline to convince every purchaser that it is the best, most prompt and certain pain remedy in the world. Nerviline is good for all kinds of pain, pleasant to take, and sure to cure cramps and all internal pains. It is also nice to rub outside, for it has an agreeable smell, quite unlike so many other preparations, which are positively disagreeable to use. Try it now. NO ROOM FOR ANARCHISTS.

An Interesting Talk With Mr. Powderly About the Expelled Knights.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—General Master Workman Powderly was asked yesterday for an expression concerning the trouble between District Assembly, No. 126, consisting 16,000 carpet weavers, which was recently expelled from the order, and the General Executive Board. "I was not present," he replied, "but the time the board decided that expulsion was the only remedy when the district's insubordination had really gone almost beyond human endurance, but after I returned and heard all the evidence I was convinced that the board acted with justice. In regard to any appeal that may be made by the malcontents to the General Assembly I feel sure that the General Assembly, if it concurs the General Board at all, will concure us for not acting in more haste and crushing the rebellion at once. I understand the whole upcrop of this fight, and it is perfectly ridiculous for the expelled members to cry out that personal spite played an important part in the decision of the board. As if," said Mr. Powderly, with great earnestness, "a great movement for reform could be held back or influenced by personal motives. Whatever the rank and file of District Assembly are, and there are no doubt good Knights among them, their leaders are violent men—men of a stamp that we don't want in the order. Their sympathizers are the Western Anarchistic element, and, if I am rightly informed, John Morrison himself is a member of the International Workingmen's Association, which is only another name for red flag and anarchism.

"The Knights of Labor are at war with such ideas and we will not have them in our order. I intend to do all I can," exclaimed Mr. Powderly, as he brought his clenched fist down with impressive force, "to purge the order of this violent element. These men cannot remain with us any longer. The authorities have been too lenient with them. I hold that when such a man as Johann Most delivers inflammatory utterances against life, liberty and property, encourages bloodshed, and exhorts people to follow the red-handed example of the seven Chicago murderers, he ought to be put in prison and kept there. We should not wait for some overt act of wickedness; his declarations are enough. We have much evidence against this element in our order and we are becoming rapidly cleansed of all malcontents. The evidence in the District 126 matter would make a book as big as a dictionary. The board, besides preparing a summary for the present needs of the order, will prepare an exhaustive report for the General Assembly. I am interested in seeing justice done, and will myself, irrespective of the board's report, prepare a history of the case for presentation to the General Assembly at Minneapolis in October.

"The remedy for all these troubles is a greater diffusion of learning, and it is the object of my life," continued Mr. Powderly, "to see that every child in this land receives an education. Two methods of the Knights will assist this: By obtaining for the parents just wages, and by doing away with all child labor. I am going to work along with the whole order in this direction. With the children educated on the subjects that every citizen should be acquainted with, we may expect a better republic, free from these cankers of red-flagism. Again and again have men written to me asking me to declare that property is robbery, and that there is no God. I have ever refused to join with such men. They were unscrupulous in exposing their own designs. One letter said that if I would express myself as converted to their ideas, then most of the Knights would follow. That was their idea, and what then? They, having sown the seeds of discord, hoped to further a diabolical revolution and to found a society of atheistic anarchy. The Knights of Labor will never support such ideas. Our only safety is by keeping such without the pale of our order."

Cholera Infantum.

That terrible scourge among children may be speedily cured by Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. All forms of bowel complaints, nausea and vomiting, from an ordinary diarrhœa to the most severe attack of Canadian cholera, can be subdued by its use. It is the best remedy for children or adults suffering from summer complaints. 2w24d

A Living Miracle.

"My infant daughter was taken ill with cholera infantum, the doctor said she could not live. The Rev. Wm. McWilliams would not allow her head to be lifted when he baptised her, she was so weak. Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry gave immediate relief. She is a living miracle, hale and hearty. LOCAL NEWS.

The Rain, the Crops, the Harvest.

The farmers are in high feather over the huge rain of last Tuesday. While they are loyal they think, as far as their interests are concerned, the reign of Victoria would be of little account without the rain of Jupiter Pluvius. The struggle on Tuesday was one between patriotism and potatoes and the potatoes won. Not only have potatoes, but all crops have been alike benefitted, and the prospect of a glorious harvest is good. While the grain is ripening the farmers have time to devote to the reaping of another harvest, and that harvest is the monumental bargains offered by Gough's wonderful cheap sale of $18,000 worth of first-class ready-made clothing, bought at 40 cents on the $ and being sold at the same slaughtering rates. The clothing is of the best quality and could not be sold at the present figures had it not been bought at a reduction of more than half price. The Great Gough, George street, Peterborough.

Coming Oddfellows' Decoration Day.

Now that the Jubilee celebration is about over, the Oddfellows decoration of graves at the Little Lake Cemetery on Tuesday next, the 28th inst., at 2 p.m., should not be neglected nor forgotten by the public. This yearly interesting ceremony promises this season to be conducted on a more elaborate scale than ever before, and, this being the case, the general public can form a good idea of what may be expected on the occasion. Every Oddfellow, of course, and every citizen who takes an interest in the beautifying of our lovely cemetery, and takes an interest for the credit of our enterprising town, should be present and assist, so far as in their power, the Oddfellows in their laudable efforts.

Lost His Medal.

On Tuesday, June 21st, Mr. F. C. Knight lost a valuable silver medal presented to him by the Queen, accompanied by £100, for bravery in saving a couple of men from the jaws of a shark in the Arabian Sea a few years ago. Mr. Knight is the only man in the Dominion of Canada entitled to its possession. By reference to an advertisement elsewhere it will be seen that he offers $60 reward for its recovery.

Duty on Crockery and Glassware.

The new tariff, which takes effect to-day, includes an advance in duty of from 5 to 50% on all kinds of crockery, glassware, silver knives, etc. All new goods must pay this advance. The public should, therefore, buy at once anything needed in those lines from China Hall and save the extra duty, as the goods now in stock will be sold at old prices.

Save the Programmes.

The children who participated in the singing on Jubilee day are particularly requested to carefully preserve their flags and song programmes, as no more will be issued if avoidable. The programme will be repeated July 1st. Those having programmes of the day are also requested to preserve them, as the sports will be exactly the same.

A False Alarm.

An alarm of fire last night called out the firemen for practice. In as near half a minute as possible from the first tap they had two streams playing from a hydrant across the market square, and a third stream a moment after. The boys can do pretty quick work when they try.

A Handsome Present.

Dominion Day.

The Jubilee Programme to be Completed July 1st.

A meeting of the Jubilee Committee was held last night and it was unanimously decided to have a partial repetition and completion of the programme of Tuesday on July 1st, Dominion Day, with a few alterations. The procession will start at 9 o'clock from the drill shed instead of 10, and proceed directly to Riverside Park, where after the children singing the programme of sports will be carried out. This arrangement has been made necessary as the grounds are otherwise engaged for the afternoon.

In the afternoon on Little Lake the regatta will be completed in its entirety. Some little dissatisfaction was manifested over the arrangement of the regatta Tuesday evening, which was entirely owing to a misunderstanding as to whether it would be held or not on account of the heavy rain in the afternoon.

A committee was appointed to wait upon the merchants and request their permission to leave the prizes donated by them in the hands of the committee, to which those already seen have heartily acquiesced. The street arches will be left standing, and there is nothing (except another rainstorm) to prevent a big celebration on Dominion Day.

The Kennealey Fortune.

The Sum of $265,000 to be Divided Among the Family.

Mr. Wm. Kennedy, of Peterborough, has returned from New York, where he attended the investigation in the Probate Court before Mr. John Wilkie, Referee, of the claims of the Kennealey family of Peterborough to the estate and fortune of the late Wm Kennealey, who died in 1868, leaving $265,000 to be divided among his heirs. The family connection was about as follows. The deceased gentleman was a British soldier, stationed at Amherstburg, Ont., in 18-18. His regiment was recalled to England, and his sons, Edward and William, were left in Canada in charge of a friend. The two boys separated, William going to New York, where he amassed a fortune. Edward also left Amherstburg, and, marrying, raised a family, consisting of four sons, two of whom are dead, and the others, Messrs. John and Martin Kennealey, live, the former in Keene and the latter in Peterborough. They are uncles of Mr. Wm. Kennealey, of the Kennealey House.

At the investigation the claims of the Kennealey family of Peterborough were found to be ahead of all others, though several other claimants appeared. The investigation has been concluded, and the Messrs. Kennealey of this town will be considerably wealthier therefrom. They are to be congratulated upon this unexpected acquisition of wealth, in the securing of which Mr. Wm. Kennealey has been particularly active.

Mr. Claxton's bid of 8½ for selections was followed by Mr. Wrighton's of 8¾ for the board, which was accepted by all the factories.

Personal.

Mr. F. W. Jaques, of Liverpool, Eng., was in town Tuesday visiting his brother, Mr. J. E. Jaques, organist George street church. Mr. Jaques is returning home after a prolonged stay in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Parker left Tuesday for England, via Allan Line.

Mr. P. Randall, ex-Mayor of Port Hope, is in town to-day.

Our thanks are due to Mr. G. J. Early, who is at present doing London, England, for copies of city papers. A private letter from Mr. Early states that he will leave England for home to-morrow (Friday.)

Cricket.

Peterborough vs. Whitby.

Owing to the rain not much was done in this match on Jubilee day. Peterborough batted first and had lost only three wickets for 60 runs when the rain stopped further play. S. Ray as usual played good cricket, while Thomas, a new acquisition, promises to be a most useful man for the club. The catch, which disposed of him was a phenomenal one.

Jubilee Day.

Jubilee Thoroughfare Illustrated.

In the list of decorations the firm of H. S. Griffin & Co. was inadvertently omitted. Their decorations were among the finest on the street, consisting of [illegible] Miss [illegible], and [illegible] many other handsome and appropriate devices, of which mention was unintentionally omitted.

Flags were flying everywhere Tuesday. Probably the loftiest one was that at the top of the Keeseine brick works chimney—that is the highest above street surface.

Mr. Lundy's house in Ashburnham as viewed from Little Lake in the evening was pretty indeed. Every window contained candles and lanterns; the grounds were also illuminated.

The Salvation Army held a big jubilee demonstration, led by Adjutant Bolton. Officers and soldiers from surrounding outposts attended. The street parade was held in drenching rain.

The Wizard Oil Company's travelling musicians in the afternoon drove through the streets singing patriotic airs. Their singing was beautiful and appreciated.

The sidewalks on George street were painted red Tuesday afternoon, the rain washing out the coloring of some of the flags which dripped down to the sidewalk and spread over them in streaks reminiscent of the gory rivulets of a hard fought field.

The committee have to thank these gentlemen and ladies, the latter especially, for efficient assistance in connection with the management of the children during their training and also on jubilee day.

The magnificent penmanship upon the address to be sent to Her Majesty, which was engrossed by Mr. Harry Grandy, is equal to that of any professional in the land and could be excelled by few of them.

Mr. M. O. Fisk, of the Electric Light Company, is deserving of great credit for the push and skill displayed in getting the electric lamps ready for Jubilee night, especially on short notice.

Turner reaped a rich harvest on flags. Peterborough patriotically cleaned out his stock of flags and bunting. He sold between $400 and $500 worth of flags within three days. Any outside town with jubilee day yet to celebrate, Port Hope especially, will find Turner happy to supply their wants.

Messrs. Sproule has taken photographic views of George Street from several different points of view.

The Fire Brigade band had hard work on Tuesday. They distributed themselves pretty liberally and rendered their selections cheerfully.

The magnificent luminosity of the electric light on jubilee night was the theme of universal praise. The seventeen lamps placed ten on the Court House Park Tower, and seven on George Street and Hunter Street intersection, by the generosity of Mr. T. G. Hazlitt, manager of the Electric Light Company, added miraculously to the effectiveness of the illuminations, and by their brightness prolonged jubilee day far into the night.

The illuminated address to Her Majesty the Queen, adopted on June 21st, is on exhibition in the window of Mennies' bookstore.

The streamer across Brock street was credited to Fitzgerald & Stanger, whereas it was the joint work of them and Mr. J. J. Turner.

The little band of naval cadets showed up to excellent advantage in the children's procession. Great credit is due to the excellent training of Mr. Cooke.

By a misconception the illumination of Mr. R. W. Mancaster was put down as a "shamrock" instead of a Prince of Wales' plume.

The following contributions of sugar to the Refreshment Committee are thankfully recognized:—Mr. M. Carton, 50c. worth; Mr. W. VanEvery, 25c. worth; Elliott & Tierney, 50c. worth; T. W. Robinson, $1 worth. Mr. Wainwright kindly furnished the ice.

The following message was dispatched via G.N.W. Telegraph line and cable yesterday:—

To Her Most Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria, Buckingham Palace, London:

The County of Peterborough congratulates Her Majesty on her happy Jubilee.

Wedding at Warsaw.

Wednesday afternoon in the village church at Warsaw, Mr. Wm. L. Payne, of that place, was married by Rev. Mr. Farncombe, of Lakefield, to Miss Addie Choate, daughter of Mr. T. G. Choate, of Peterborough. The wedding created a ripple of excitement in the village. A number of guests went out from Peterborough.

Messrs. Irving and Marshall, evangelists, are announced to commence a series of gospel meetings in a tent to be pitched on George street, on a lot opposite Mr. P. Hamilton's foundry. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tally and all druggists.

IMPORTANT!

At the time of selling our stock of Dry Goods to Sheehy & Co., we had fully determined to give up that particular branch of our business, but, as previously announced, did not do so, for various reasons. However, it is now our intention to dispose of the Dry Goods Trade, and have consequently made up our minds to clear out the whole stock

This is one of the BEST Dry Goods stocks in the country, having been imported from the best markets direct to ourselves. Remember this will be a GENUINE CLEARING OUT SALE. While we will still retain our Clothing Trade, yet we will, during this sale, offer ALL our Ready-made Clothing, for Men and Boys, (with all kinds of Furnishings) AT COST PRICE.

FRIDAY, JUNE 24, 1887.

PROROGUED IN DUE FORM.

A VERY BUSY DAY IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

The Members Summoned to the Senate Chamber at 3.30, Where the Governor-General's Speech, Bringing the Session to a Close, is Read.

OTTAWA, June 23.—I closed my despatch last night with the statement that the prospect was for an all-night session and that the Government were slightly the favorites as to prorogation to-day. We did not have an all-night session, but the Government have won, and the first session of the present Parliament is a thing of the past.

Sir John announced that the House would prorogue at 3 o'clock.

Mr. Casey asked for information regarding the Labor Commission, and the Premier replied that it had not met yet, and that no expense had been incurred, but that it would meet during the recess. The House took vacation until 8 o'clock.

Meanwhile the Senate had been busily engaged in finishing their work. They met early, and about the first thing they tackled was the Susan Ash divorce bill. The fathers were moved with compassion and gave Susan relief. The wedding will take place, it is understood, immediately.

By 3 o'clock they had disposed of everything but the Supply Bill, and an adjournment until 5 o'clock was declared to wait for it. At that hour the Senate resumed business and finished their work.

At 5 o'clock the Commons re-assembled, and Messrs. Trow and Alonzo Wright made short, facetious, congratulatory speeches while waiting for the summons.

Presently the three significant knocks were heard and Black Rod Kimber shut himself up and opened himself out in the jack-knife style by law and in such cases made and provided. The Commons went away to the Senate Chamber, where His Excellency, who had been received with the usual honors, dismissed the House with the following speech from the Throne:

Honorable Gentlemen of the Senate; Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

In relieving you from further attendance in Parliament I desire to convey to you my appreciation of the diligence and earnestness which you have shown in the performance of your important duties.

I thank you in the Queen's name for the cordial and affectionate congratulations you have offered to Her Majesty on the completion of the fiftieth anniversary of her happy reign. I have taken care to transmit your loyal address to be laid at the foot of the throne.

The readjustment of the tariff for the purpose of further developing our home industries upon principles which have been received with such marked acceptance by the people of Canada, will, it is confidently expected, in an especial manner enhance the working of our vast mines of iron and coal, and promote the producing within our own country of all the more important iron manufactories.

The establishment of a Department of Trade and Commerce under the supervision of a responsible Minister, and the measures you have passed for the better organization of other Departments of Government will, I trust, tend to aid in the extension of our home and foreign trade, as well as to improve the efficiency of the public service.

The numerous acts relating to railway and other industrial enterprises, to which I have given Her Majesty's assent, indicate a steady growth in the national progress of the Dominion, and your liberal appropriation for the construction of the Sault Ste. Marie Canal ensures the completion of our great system of inland navigation at an early period. Our agriculturists will, I am sure, learn with much pleasure of the provisions you have made for the amalgamation of the experimental farms in two working and the establishment of auxiliary stations in the several provinces.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

In Her Majesty's name I thank you for the provision you have made for the requirements of the public service. I shall see it is used with all due regard to economy.

Honorable Gentlemen of the Senate:
Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

I trust that under the blessing of Almighty God the present promise of an abundant harvest may be fully realized and that when we meet again I shall be able to congratulate you on a still further increase in the general prosperity of the country. Meanwhile, I bid you farewell.

And so ended the first session of the sixth Parliament of Canada.

EXPLOSION IN A MINE.

Three Miners Killed and Several Injured at Wilkesbarre, Pa.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 23.—An explosion of gas occurred at No. 4 slope of the Susquehanna Coal Company this morning, but in what manner no one will in all probability ever know. At 8 o'clock last night a gang of men who were engaged in driving a gangway in the slope entered the subject and this morning were brought out by their comrades, three dead and the others so badly burned that their lives are despaired of. The names of the killed are: John Mellenaman, a miner, aged 40, he leaves a wife and three small children; Mike Kelly, a miner, aged 24, single; Latery [illegible], a laborer, aged 28, unmarried. The injured are: Jos Lazarus, a driver boy, aged 15, Anthony Leskoski, a door tender, aged 18. Another man named Norman Thomas [illegible] will survive. The gentleman who fell out of the [illegible] escape Tuesday will die.

Joseph Lazarus died at noon. The others are all unconscious and may die at any moment. It is believed by those who were at work in the mine at the time of the explosion that the gas was set on fire by a powder explosion, some 200 feet that several kegs of powder are missing.

THE NOTABLES SEND RICH PRESENTS TO THE QUEEN.

The Money Contributed by the Women of England to be Expended in Erecting a Statue of Prince Albert—A Review at Aldershot.

LONDON, June 23.—At the afternoon reception at Buckingham Palace the Queen received numerous addresses and gifts. The women's gift of £75,000 was subscribed to erect in Windsor a replica of the famous Glasgow equestrian statue of the Prince Consort. The Queen will lay the foundation stone of the statue on July 4. The surplus remaining will be devoted to some charitable object. Lady Stafford made the presentation. The donors include nearly all of the titled ladies of the kingdom, many of whom were present.

The German Crown Prince, on behalf of Emperor William, presented a marble slab upon which is carved the arms of Germany and medallions of the Emperor and Empress.

The King of the Belgians presented a beautifully figured silver cup two feet high.

The Prince of Wales gave an oil painting. Numerous other presents were received from town corporations, public bodies, etc., throughout Great Britain.

At Windsor the Queen unveiled a statute of herself, the gift of the citizens of Windsor, in the presence of an immense gathering.

The Royalties Visit Aldershot.

LONDON, June 23.—The Prince of Wales, accompanied by the Kings of Greece, Denmark, Belgium and Saxony, the Crown Prince of Germany and several other princes, and Lord Wolseley and the Duke of Cambridge, reviewed 12,000 troops at Aldershot to-day. The weather was clear and sunny.

A YOUTHFUL MURDERER.

An Inmate of the N. Y. House of Refuge Kills the Watchman.

NEW YORK, June 23.—Moses J. Speight, a boy 15 years old, in company with four other inmates of the House of Refuge on Randall's Island, last night attempted to escape from the institution. William Edgar Cole, night watchman, was enticed to young Speight's cell, where the boy had concealed a baseball bat under his cot. This he drew out suddenly and struck the watchman over the head, fracturing his skull. The boy took the keys from the prostrate man's pocket, but was unable to unlock the gate. The other boys, frightened, refused to participate and Speight was arrested and committed. Cole died this morning.

THE POPE'S LOVE FOR FRANCE.

The Papal Nuncio Bears a Peaceful Message to President Grevy.

PARIS, June 23.—Mgr. Rotelli, in presenting his credentials to President Grevy as Papal Nuncio, referred to the Pope's affection for France as the eldest daughter of the Church and as a noble and generous nation, and said that the Pope desired that a perfect understanding be maintained which would form a safeguard to their common interests.

The President thanked the Nuncio for the friendly sentiments he had expressed, and said that the Vatican could rely upon the cordial co-operation of the French Government in consolidating the present good relations between them.

A FEW WORDS FROM O'BRIEN.

United Ireland's Comment on the Jubilee Celebration.

DUBLIN, June 23.—United Ireland says:—"Ireland is the only civilized country in the world which did not share in the jubilee celebration. She stood sternly and sorrowfully aloof. Ireland's place ought to have been beside England at the throne. Irish blood and brain helped to build the empire. Poverty, misery and slavery are her rewards. She shared England's labors, but she may not share her triumphs. England's joy is for fifty years of liberty, prosperity and progress. The Irish grief and wrath are for fifty years of misery, famine and oppression. England is cumbered by the struggles of a sullen captive, when she might purchase by justice the aid and comfort of a friend."

The Break in Stocks at New York.

NEW YORK, June 23.—The break in stocks is generally believed to be a sequel to the wheat panic in Chicago and bankers believe that if the rumors regarding the weakness of banking institutions in Boston and Chicago, resulting from the failure of the Fidelity Bank of Cincinnati, should prove unfounded, the course of prices would tend upward at once.

An Outrage at Uxbridge.

UXBRIDGE, June 23.—On Saturday night last Mr. Thos. Armstrong, milkman and farmer, of Uxbridge, a prominent Scott Act worker, had his herd of milch cows poisoned by scoundrels who placed Paris green mixed with salt in the field where they were enclosed for the night. Of the nine cows which were poisoned two are dead (valued at $125) and two or three others are not expected to live.

The Town Council, at its meeting on Wednesday night, offered a reward of $500 for the apprehension of the guilty parties. Great indignation is felt by all the citizens over the outrage, as Mr. Armstrong is much esteemed for his upright character and earnest efforts to enforce the Scott Act. He has been a member of the Town Council now for two years.

Struck by Lightning.

ELMIRO, Ont., June 23.—A heavy rain storm passed over this vicinity yesterday evening, accompanied by hail and lightning. A large frame barn and outbuilding belonging to Wm. Capner was struck by lightning and totally consumed by fire. A number of farm implements owned by the tenant, James Farr, were also destroyed. There was no insurance on the building or implements.

The Crown Prince's Condition.

LONDON, June 23.—The Lancet says: "The Crown Prince Frederick William of Germany, is enjoying excellent health. The appearance of the larynx is quite satisfactory. There is no congestion, but the ventricular bands are slightly relaxed. A solution of per chloride of iron has been applied on several occasions. It is probable that more of the growth will be removed early next week."

A. T. Kerr Sues a Newspaper.

BUFFALO, June 23.—An action was entered to-day by A. T. Kerr against The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser for defamation of character, in connection with the recent Kerr-Cameron matter. Damages are laid at the sum $10,000.

Colonial Governorships.

LONDON, June 23.—It is officially announced that Sir Henry Blake, Governor of the Bahama Islands, succeeds Sir George Des Voeux as Governor of Newfoundland.

Mr. Shea is appointed Governor of the Bahamas.

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, June 24.

Frank Hopper, the Cincinnati forger, drew a sixty cent sentence and a disappointed and used-up look in the Police Court yesterday. He absconded from Cincinnati about a year ago, having bested his employer, J. R. McGraw, a big bourgeoned grain dealer, out of $6000. He belongs to a good family, is 28 years of age, and enjoyed the confidence of Mr. McGraw. His stealings extended over several years and he covered them up by false entries in the books, and also realized considerable by raising checks. Finally things got so hot that he was forced to fly.

Detective Crawford returned here yesterday and was ready to give evidence against Hopper in the Police Court, preparatory to further extradition proceedings against him, but the prisoner, penitent and worn out, was in no condition to offer a defence, and expressed his willingness to go back for trial without the necessary papers. This was quite a relief to all parties concerned, and Detective Crawford and his man took the late train for home last night. The officer attributed Hopper's downfall to poker playing. He got in with a bad gang," said he; "they skinned him and he had to fall back on McGraw's pile." While on the topic Hopper worked the Knights of Pythias, of which Order he is or was a member, for all the brethren were worth. He got $5 from one lodge at Hamilton, and $5 from another, the German lodge recently organized there. Mr. Crawford spoke highly of the Toronto detectives, and was warm in his expression of thanks for the assistance they had rendered him. Altogether it was a short but slick job, and Canada is well rid of another United States fugitive.

James A. L. Wilson, the alleged forger from Philadelphia, had a preliminary hearing before Judge McDougall yesterday afternoon on extradition proceedings. Not much progress was made. Detective Peter Miller of Philadelphia identified Wilson as the man wanted in that city, and put in President Gillingham's (of the Delaware and Chesapeake Canal Company) deposition. Mr. Clarke, the law partner of County Crown Attorney Badgerow, represented the latter, and Mr. H. B. Osler, Q.C., appeared for Wilson.

DEATH BY CHLORAL.

A Buffalo Newspaper Reporter Found Dead in His Room.

BUFFALO, June 23.—Last night at about 11.30 o'clock C. E. Morse, a newspaper reporter and canvasser for the city directory, registered at the St. John's House, on Swan street, and was assigned to a room. At 11.30 this forenoon, not having made his appearance, the door was broken open and the body of Morse was found lying on the bed outstretched and perfectly cold. Two bottles of chloral were found on the writing table in the room, and part of the contents were scattered on the floor.

It is supposed that after Morse went to his room last night he took a large dose of chloral, and then sat down with the intention of writing several letters to his relatives or friends, but before he could complete his writing the deadly poison must have commenced taking effect, for none of the letters were completed. It is thought Morse committed the act while temporarily insane.

A MISMANAGED INSTITUTION.

An Inquiry Probable Into Affairs at Gouverneur Hospital, New York.

NEW YORK, June 23.—The Mail and Express says the sudden and unexpected death of Capt. Jack Hussey at Gouverneur Hospital bids fair to cause an active investigation into the management of that institution, and it is not improbable that Policeman Hahne's counsel will set up as a defence the allegation that Hussey's death was due to lack of proper treatment at the hospital, and not the officer's bullet.

For a month or more reports that the hospital is not in proper hands have been in circulation, and to-day Mark M. Pomeroy sent to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction a letter calling their attention to the subject and enclosing copies of statements substantiating them.

Wilson's Partner Arraigned.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—Henry V. Lesley, the defaulting secretary-treasurer of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal Company, who was arrested Saturday at his home in this city, after having passed a year in Canada, was arraigned this afternoon on a charge of forgery and embezzlement. The amount stolen by Lesley and his cousin, James A. L. Wilson, who is now in custody in Toronto, will reach nearly $600,000. Counsel waved a hearing.

STILL GOING ON.

The Daily Examiner.

FRIDAY, JUNE 24, 1887.

EXTRAVAGANT EXPENDITURE.

The plunge of the country into debt is still going on, and the extravagance of our Tory rulers knows no abatement. The total outlay as fixed by the Government, with the aid of its parliamentary majority, is as follows:

Ordinary Estimates for 1887-88	$35,041,255
Capital Expenditures "	4,231,000
Supplementary Estimates for 1886-87	3,213,639
Supplementary Estimates for 1887-88	1,956,920
Additional Subsidy to Prince Edward Island	20,000
Additional Judge for Quebec	4,000
Two New Ministers, at $5,000 each	10,000
Pension for Superintendent Laviolette	2,600
Grant to Mr. Laviolette as removal expenses	1,000
Railway Subsidies	2,187,600
Loan to Montreal Harbour Commission	365,000
Loan to Quebec Harbour Commission	1,200,000
To Build the Oxford and New Glasgow Railway	724,000
For the Purchase and Completion of the Western Counties Railway	500,000
Salaries of the New Exchequer Court	7,000
Additional Supplementary Estimates, 1886-87	87,635
Total	$49,572,249

within a few thousands of fifty million dollars. These figures are taken from the Mail, that erstwhile Tory organ, and still Tory in its sympathies, and may be counted on as no exaggeration.

MR. H. SUTHERLAND, President of the Hudson Bay railway, estimates that the cost of the line, including improvements at the terminal points and elevators, will be $16,000,000.

A FRIEND sends the Globe a Scottish grocer's price list, by which it appears that at Peebles American-made granulated sugar is selling at two pence per pound. Canadian-made granulated sells at the refinery at 6¾ cents.

MR. BLAKE opposed the proposal of the Government to suspend the public business in order to welcome Governor Lansdowne back to Ottawa after a short absence. This, the Tory lip-loyalists assert, was basely disloyal. Sir John Macdonald refused to adjourn Parliament over the day fixed by his Government for the observance of the Queen's Jubilee, on the ground that by continuing industriously to perform their duties, the House would be paying her a compliment. This was both sensible and patriotic. Such is Tory logic.

THE Government at Ottawa has adopted an Order in Council placing the salaries of Revising-Officers at a fixed sum of $300, and in addition an allowance of five cents for every name up to four thousand, and three cents for every name up to ten thousand. This, it is estimated, will make the average salary of a Revising-Officer $680. The salary of $300 is not to be repeated where the Revising-Officer has the revison of the lists in more than one constituency.

CANADA prides herself on being prominently an agricultural country, and the fact that the sum total of the exports of her animals and other products amounts to over twenty-three millions, and the value of her grain exports amounts to over twenty-one millions, would at first thought confirm her right to such a claim. But the fact that our exports of money to pay interest to British capitalists is over thirty millions, goes to show that we are, thanks to Tory rule, almost as conspicuous for being in debt as for our other branches of national enterprise.

THE farmers throughout the province of Ontario are declaring emphatically in favor of unrestricted reciprocity with the United States — commercial union. The subsidized Tory journals, having been unable to give currency to their alarmist theory, that Commercial union means annexation, resort to the cry that the National Policy is in danger. 'Twas ever thus. Every popular demand for a change in the affairs of the country affecting the public interests, brings forth the wail that some peculiarly precious Tory interest is in danger. The granting of popular rights and privileges cannot otherwise than adversely affect the Tory party, which thrives on monopoly and special class privilages.

Mr. MCNEIL presented the report of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, as follows:—

The report also recommended that the hydrants be placed at corners of Murray and College, and Brock and Sheridan streets, provided the County Council bear one-half their cost, and that the Clerk request them to comply with the proposition.

That the petition of G. D. Mitchell and 13 others for a hydrant on McDonnell Street be referred to the Peterborough Water Company, ordering them to comply with the petition in accordance with the by-law.

The report was adopted.

Mr. McNeil also presented the report of the License Committee, which recommended a rebate of the eating-house license of A. Kennedy and J. Carr; that the constables be directed to see that better order is preserved at the fruit stands on the streets, and that the parties owning such stands be notified to keep the immediate surroundings in a more cleanly condition.

The report was adopted.

THE BY-LAW.

The Council then went into committee of the whole on the second reading of the by-law to provide for the issuing of debentures to the amount of $20,000, for the construction of certain bridges in Peterborough and the oribbing of Crescent Street. Voting on the by-law takes place on Thursday, July 28.

The Council then adjourned till Monday, June 27th.

BASEBALL YESTERDAY.

Toronto Trounced at Syracuse.

SYRACUSE, N.Y., June 23.—The Torontos are blamed for their tactics to-day in the effort to avert defeat. Thirteen runs to three was the score in favor of the Stars in the fourth inning, all got by hard hitting on the part of the Stars, and all this while Toronto was trying to delay the game so that rain might prevent a full game. Alberts and Crane pretended to have been hurt, and called for physicians, and the Torontos used every pretext to delay the game. Their movements were the refinement of slowness until the latter part of the fifth innings, when their laziness and injuries disappeared with the prospect of winning. As Toronto came to the bat a slight drizzle of rain came down, but the spectators held their seats and Umpire Hoover refused to call the game. The Stars were nervous, and with the rain and wind favoring them the Torontos scored six runs. The rain ceased after Tereau's retirement, but fell again in the ninth inning, after the Stars had made two runs and the game was called with the score as it stood at the close of the eighth. Score.

Demonstrated.

Sometimes it costs hundreds of dollars to convince a man; very often less is required, but in the case of Polson's Nervoline, that sovereign remedy for pain, 10 cents foots the bill and supplies enough Nervoline to convince every purchaser that it is the best, most pleasant and certain pain remedy in the world. Nervoline is good for all kinds of pain, pleasant to take, and sure to cure cramps and all internal pains. It is also nice to rub outside, for it is now an agreeable [illegible] quite unlike [illegible] which are [illegible]. Try it now. Go to a drug store and buy a 10 cent or 25 cent bottle. Polson's Nervoline. Take no other. d&w25

THE NIAGARA CAMP.

Preparing for the Week-end—"C" Company Charged with Drunkenness.

NIAGARA CAMP, June 23.—This was battalion-drill day and the parade ground was a lively place for many hours.

Preparations are already being made to break up camp on Saturday.

Late last night a private of No. 3 Company, 35th Batt., was stabbed in the cheek by a fellow soldier.

A grand hop given by the officers is in progress at the Queen's Royal Hotel to-night. A number of American officers from Buffalo are present, the guests of the Canadian officers. Trouble exists between [illegible] Infantry and the other corps in camp and there has been a slight breeze caused by the officers of "C" Company giving orders which cannot be executed.

McGLYNN'S STRONG LANGUAGE.

He Speaks of the Church in Rome as the "Romish Machine."

BUFFALO, June 23.—Father McGlynn was to-day interviewed in Buffalo upon an article which appeared in yesterday's New York Herald, signed by a "Catholic Lawyer." In answering the arguments there set forth he presented his case as that of a man who has been condemned, being forced to appeal without any idea but that the result was a foregone conclusion, and that he would be snubbed and insulted by the Propaganda.

He sneered the church in Rome as the "Romish machine," and closed as follows: "The engineers of the machine, who are profiting by its power and its emoluments, are really laughing in their sleeves at us for our excessive submissiveness to their power and for our excessive generosity in contributing the Peter's Pence to the support of the whole army of lackeys and flunkies, both lay and clerical, who surround the Pope with a barbic pomp scarcely equalled by that of any imperial despotic court."

THE COUNTESS CAMPOS.

She Arrives in England and Refuses to Return to Her Relatives.

LONDON, June 23.—The Countess Campos, the heiress who was carried off from Paris by her lover, has arrived at Dover.

The Countess was accompanied to Dover by M. Garbouef, her lover, and three other gentlemen. The Campos family agent and a French detective, arrived with a warrant and visited the hotel where the Countess was stopping, accompanied by the Spanish consul. The consul explained to Mlle Campos how her family felt over her abduction and that the warrant for her arrest was to recover her from her abductors and restore her to her family. She declared that she wished to marry Garbouef, and that she was not a prisoner against her will. Upon this declaration the English police refused to sanction her arrest, as she was of legal age and was qualified to act for herself.

RUN DOWN AT SEA.

A Prince Edward Island Brigantine Sunk by a Steamer.

BALTIMORE, June 23.—Capt. Hunnell of the British steamer Lero, which arrived this evening from Rotterdam, reports that on Tuesday last, at about 6 o'clock in the evening, his vessel was in collision with the British brigantine Aldwyth of Prince Edward Island, which was carrying a cargo of sugar from San Lucia to New York.

The collision occurred off Cape Henlopen in a dense fog. Three of the brig's crew jumped aboard the Lero, but though the steamer laid around for several hours nothing could be seen of the brig. The only damage to the Lero was the loss of her foretopmast.

THE BROKEN FIDELITY BANK.

The President and Cashier Lodged in Cincinnati Jail.

CINCINNATI, June 23.—Vice-President Harper and Cashier Hopkins, of the Fidelity Bank, spent to-night in jail, their bondsmen having surrendered them. Assistant Cashier Baldwin's bondsmen stuck to him.

J. L. Wiltshire, the broker who took the checks of the Fidelity Bank to Chicago to try to hold up the market, was arrested to-day charged with aiding and abetting in the wilful and unlawful misapplication of the funds of the bank.

The Egyptian Convention.

LONDON, June 23.—A hastily-summoned Cabinet meeting was held to-day to consider the hitch in regard to the Anglo-Turkish convention in reference to Egypt. The Secretary of War abandoned his intention to be present at the review of troops at Aldershot in order to attend the council. The Government are irritated at the opposition to the convention on the part of France and Russia.

LOCAL NEWS.

New Bridge at the Narrows.

This morning Messrs. W. P. Chase, T. H. Crowley, Archibald Wilson, Harvey; and Messrs. J. P. and G. P. Galvin, of Ennismore, waited upon the Road and Bridges Committee of the County Council, presenting and supporting a largely signed petition for a grant towards building a bridge across the arm of Pigeon Lake near the Narrows. On motion of Mr. John Lang, M.P., East Peterborough, a grant of $5,000 was made, with the understanding that this sum was to be the contribution of this county, the townships interested to make up whatever balance might be required to complete the bridge.

Only $12 to New York and Return.

Peterborough's Fire Extinguishing System.

A Thorough Test made on Thursday Evening.

Mr. Sutton Pell, Toronto, representing the Fire Underwriters' Association of Canada, as special schedule rater, has been in town two or three days, investigating the fire extinguishing system of the town, in reference to the desire of the town to have the rates of insurance reduced from "C" to "B," representing a large saving to the mercantile community. On Thursday evening a trial was made of the Fire Brigade, the water-works and the steamer. At 7.40 Mr. A. McNeil, Chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, sounded the fire alarm from Sheriff's Floral Drug Store, corner of Charlotte and George streets. The central station at once repeated it, and the alarm was instantly given, by the electric signal placed in the residence of every one of the volunteer firemen in the brigade. Of course the regular firemen were on hand, and the steamer and hose waggons were promptly out. In a minute and a half after the first alarm one stream was playing from the Garvey hydrant; in two minutes a second stream was on, in three minutes a third stream and in four minutes a fourth stream. All these streams were powerful and steady, reaching, when so directed, higher than the clock tower of the Opera House Block. At the pump house 120 pounds pressure was put on and the mains stood the pressure without drop of flow. With an efficient and prompt brigade and first-class apparatus, first-class pumps at the water-tanks, and tight, sound mains, the water works part of our fire service is as good as there is in Canada.

In reference to the share of the steamer in the test, from the engineer not thinking that the steamer was included in the trial, he did not prepare for work, but the moment he received orders the Silsby was put in commission, and in a very short time she was throwing two steady, strong streams which were thrown clean over the length and height of the Cox block, corner Charlotte and George streets. Meantime a line of eight hundred feet of hose was laid from the Garvey hydrant to the Peter Hamilton Works, and a very strong stream was thrown at least 90 feet in perpendicular height. Mr. Pell made a complete survey and diagram of the system of hydrants—62, including those under contract and to be put in at once. He also inspected the fire hall, stables, etc., and expressed himself as very favorably impressed with the efficiency of the Peterborough fire sytem. If his report corresponds to the favorable opinions expressed to the representative of the Examiner and other citizens, there is little doubt that the desired new rating of the town for fire insurance purposes will be granted.

Military Mention.

The 31st Grey Battalion is in camp at Niagara. No. 5 Company, of which Mr. Geo. W. Bennett, of Peterborough, is Lieutenant, carries off the palm. Col. Otter says it is the best company in the brigade. Among the battalion staff is Paymaster Capt. W. Loch, also of Peterborough.

Lieut.-Col. Rogers, in camp with the 3rd Cavalry at Kingston, complains of the ill-treatment by the government of his regiment. The result is disastrous to the efficiency of the regiment.

The Kingston Whig says:—"Sergt. C. Billings, of "C" troop of cavalry, commenced soldiering in 1837. He joined the Seventieth Foot Imperial regiment in Guernsey and went to Gibraltar. After serving with the regiment in the West Indies he was transferred to the Seventh Hussars in 1838, and came to Laprairie, P.Q. He was in Kingston at the time Von Schultz was executed. Billings says the unfortunate man was not guilty of rebelling. Billings went back to England in 1842, and in 1853 was discharged. He came to Canada and joined the Fifty-Seventh regiment at Peterborough, and after two years' service connected himself with the Third regiment of cavalry, with which he has been for eighteen years. His father was a member of the Royal horse guards, and was killed in the battle of Waterloo at the age of twenty-eight.

Educational Meeting.

An educational meeting was held in the Opera House last night, at which there was a fair attendance of teachers. Addresses were delivered by Mr. H. Hough, manager of the Educational Department of Grip, and Dr. McLellan. The subject of Mr. Hough's lecture was "The Martyrs of Scholarship," being a rehearsal of the difficulties and persecutions encountered by literary and scientific men in the darker ages of the world, and a contrast of these with the favor with which educational qualifications are received from scholars of the present day. Dr. McLellan followed with a stirring address, in which he referred to the relative duties of parents and teachers to children, impressing upon teachers the necessity of the strongest sympathy towards those under their care. He dwelt on that subject for a considerable time, and gave a great many illustrations and references thereto. At the close a vote of thanks to the speakers was moved by Mr. D. W. Dumble, seconded by Rev. Mr. Wallace, and carried with hearty unanimity. The proceedings closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

The Grand Junction Suit.

If the oldest inhabitant has a good memory he may recollect when this long-spun-out litigation began. During the past quarter of a century or so, it has been on the tapis, and suits and appeals, injunctions, demurrers, flats, cognovits, ipsi dixits et hoc genus omne, of legal phraseology form a long, ghastly and costly procession. The suit is still alive and vigorous, considering its age, and is now before the Privy Council. It has been a long and costly suit and a suit that wears well, but it doesn't wear as well as one of the cheap suits to be got at 40 cents on the dollar at Gough's great sale of $12,500 worth of ready made clothing. The most stupendous bargains on the earth or in the solar system are now going at Gough's. Don't neglect the opportunity. Gough's, George Street, Peterborough. A Corporation Jaunt.

Crowds of the Public Work Its Products at Intermediate Stations—The County Council Engage the Burleigh Bridge.

On Thursday the members of the County Council, Mr. Graham, M.P.P., the County Clerk, County Engineer, and County Jailer, took advantage of an invitation of Mr. P. Young, proprietor of the "Fairy," to take a trip to Burleigh. The ostensible object of the jaunt was to inspect the Burleigh bridge, and personally see what repairs were necessary. The party got off by the Lakefield train, and the day coming fine had the steamer "Fairy" and arrived at Burleigh. After dining sumptuously at the hotel of mine host Holmes, the Council inspected the bridges but arrived at no definite conclusion at the time.

The Councillors improved what little time was left from the discharge of their official duties, to look over the work on the Trent Valley Canal construction at Burleigh. Work on the double lift locks is advancing steadily, but, from the nature of it, not rapidly. The dam to overcome the rapids is almost completed, and the half of the double lock nearest the dam is so far advanced as to be ready for the gates, which are being made. The party had a [illegible] all hours. On all sides were seen [illegible] of the night summer settlement of the islands. Here and there in frequent succession gleamed the white tents of the campers, and numerous more substantial cottages are going up, and all eligible sites and islands are being rapidly pre-empted. Yesterday Mr. Wm. Hamilton, jr., accompanied by Mr. Edgar Page, a practical carpenter, went up with the civic party to select a site and arrange for the construction of a summer cottage for Mr. William Hamilton and family.

The site selected is a large island about 4½ acres in area, near the entrance of Stony Lake. The cottage will be one storey with gable 18x26, and will have a verandah extending round three sides. It will be built of planed and matched lumber inside and outside, the latter painted a chocolate color. If

Lively Litigation in Sight.

An Aggressive Chief Engineer Somewhat of a Subordinate.

A lively bit of legal business is in prospect. Some time since Mr. Tom S. Rubidge, late, (or if Mr. Stark's appointment for election purposes has been rescinded) still engineer of the Trent Valley Canal, purchased from the Canada Land Company a lot on the shores of Stony Lake. He induced Mr. J. S. Aylmer, engineer in charge of construction, to build a dwelling a short distance from his. Mr. Aylmer beautified his lawn with flower plots etc. This spring a dispute arose about the dividing line between the two properties and the contention of both parties waxed warm. The dispute ended in somewhat undignified ruction on Monday, when Mr. Rubidge sent up men and teams to plough up Mr. Aylmer's flower plots and figuratively sow the place thereof with salt and convert them vi et armis to his own possession and use. Mr. Aylmer declining to permit his official superior to enjoy the seafruit of his property against his will, sent up a party of men to prevent the plough of desecration from doing its work. But better counsels prevailed, Mr. Aylmer withdrew his forces and a bloody melee was averted, and the accomplishment of dire threats of head-splitting was averted. The arbitrament of the bludgeon having failed to give solution to the question, the lawyers will take up the cudgels, and lively litigation and spicy details of the affair may be expected. At Burleigh on Thursday the people were expecting to hear of the arrival and boom of the cannon.

Personal.

Mr. James A. Dawson, representing the Monetary Times, Toronto, is in town.

For some past Mr. Blezard, M.P.P., has been deprived of the sight of his left eye, the result of an accident, during the last local election. On Monday he went to Montreal for treatment, and on Wednesday Dr. Butler of that city, successfully performed the operation of removing the eye. Mr. Blezard is now doing well. His many friends will sympathize with him in his affliction.

Murray Street Social.

A pleasant social was held in the grounds of the Separate School, Murray street, last evening. The attendance was large, and all thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Refreshments were served in abundance. Dancing was also indulged in, a fine orchestra supplying the music.

Thanks From Mission Band.

The young ladies of the Mission Band of St. Paul's Church beg to acknowledge with thanks the kindness of Mr. Millar in giving the services of the band at their social last evening. They also wish to thank Mr. Wm. Hamilton for kindly allowing them the use of his grounds.

A little before 12 o'clock last night, fire was discovered in a small frame building in an angle of the diamond of the C. P. R. and G. T. R. tracks. The brigade with the Silsby were on hand in good time, but there being no available water in the vicinity they could do nothing, and the building was burned to the ground. It was occupied by Jas. Warner, porter at the Grand Central. Most of the furniture was saved.

Removal.

Hall, Innes & Co., pending the extensive alterations to their Simcoe street premises, have removed their huge stock of Dry Goods, etc., to the parlor roller rink building, Water street, where it will be rushed off at a great sacrifice. Their stock must be cleared off. Call and get their prices, and you will be convinced.

The Horticultural Society.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—It has seemed very strange to the writer, who has been for many years connected with horticultural societies, that a town of the extent and standing of Peterborough, having apparently a flower-loving population, judging by the windows and gardens, should take such little interest in supporting a Horticultural Society worthy of the place, the exhibitions being far inferior to those in much smaller towns. This appears to be short-sighted, as these exhibitions tend greatly to the improvement, not only of the taste for the beautiful, but of the useful as well, seeing that encouragement given to the producers of flowers, fruits and vegetables causes them to grow the best of these articles, as competition increases their sales, and not only that, the larger production of a good article causes a corresponding demand. A good fruit or vegetable is always cheaper than a bad one, even if the consumer does pay a little more for it, but the writer imagines that the [illegible] caused by competition would keep down prices. Last year's exhibition was the first he took particular notice of, and he thought it simply a farce, it seemed to be kept up only by the hard and disinterested efforts of a few public-spirited individuals. The professionals' show was good of its kind, but very small, and that of the amateurs made by some five or six exhibitors only made him wonder at the apathy shown.

Now, this being the Jubilee year, a splendid opportunity offers of celebrating it, though not on the exact date, by getting up such a show as has not yet been seen in this, one of the, if not the nicest town in the Province. So let it be—let us astonish the strangers who may be here at the time, and the natives as well.

Another thing, the writer begs to propose, and that is, that some one better able to do it, should write up this matter vigorously, and that those who can should canvass for subscriptions.

Yours truly,

Gamen.

A HEAVY DROP IN STOCKS.

NEARLY ALL THE LEADING SECURITIES FORCED DOWN.

It is Supposed That the Gould Party Brought About the Decline to Break the Ives-Stayner Party That Has Recently Come into Prominence.

NEW YORK, June 24.—The stock market opened with a feeling of confidence in many of the stocks which suffered so severely yesterday, and large supporting orders were given all over the room. In a few moments, however, there was very heavy selling apparent, and a report was started that there had been a falling out between Jay Gould and Russell Sage and Cyrus W. Field. At the same time Berdan offered some heavy blocks of Manhattan stocks which were taken by Wight & Co., and in a short period the sales by Berdan amounted to 7000 shares and Wight's purchases to 11,000 shares. These sales were made at about 156, but as soon as Wight & Co.'s orders were filled the price broke to 149½, and at that point Minzesheimer & Co. had a stop order reached, and they offered the stock down 19 per cent. without making a sale.

A rally did not occur until the price of 120, a fall of 36½ per cent. from the opening figures. The room was crowded with brokers, and the decline brought on selling orders with all classes of securities. Western Union, which held firm for awhile, began to break about 11 o'clock, and in a quarter of an hour had dropped 8 per cent. The fall of the stocks corresponded. The greatest excitement was the loan call, but the parties who have been prominent in loaning refused to lend any. Missouri Pacific was very prominent in the decline. It is said Gould has his Manhattan in loans, and is amply able to take care of it. Brokers say there is no reason for the raid. No failures are reported as yet.

Cyrus Field Interviewed.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Cyrus W. Field was seen this afternoon in regard to the rumor that he and Gould and Sage had had a falling out, causing the big drop in stocks to-day.

Mr. Field said: "There is nothing in it, not the slightest foundation for the story. I was down to Gould's office to-day. We are on the best of terms."

When asked in regard to the drop he said, with a knowing smile, "Why, somebody has been selling, that's all."

An Explanation of the Break.

NEW YORK, June 24.—The Post's financial article says that the most plausible explanation of the break in the stock market to-day is that the Gould party desired to break the Ives-Stayner party who, it is alleged, have run against Gould's plans by securing control of the Vandalia line to St. Louis and their proposed amalgamation of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, the Vandalia and Baltimore and Ohio.

THE PATENT MEDICINE CASES.

The Seizures of Ayer & Co.'s Goods Before the Exchequer Court at Montreal.

MONTREAL, June 24.—The Exchequer Court opened here to-day, Chief Justice Sir Wm. Ritchie of the Supreme Court presiding, to hear the cases of the Crown against J. C. Ayer & Co., one to confiscate the goods valued at $79,000 and the other to recover penalties amounting to about $380,000. The defence claims that the goods imported were practically of little value and possessed no market value whatever. The whole value of material sold consisted of what was added to it in this country and the Government was really imposing a tax on this. The Government claim that the goods seized were imported in a nearly complete condition, and that they had been misrepresented and introduced at a valuation much lower than the correct one and not in accordance with the requirements of the act of 1883. The mere fact that the goods imported had no market value under the names put on them did not alter their actual character.

The Crown is represented by Messrs. Hogg and Tremayne of Ottawa and Atwater, Q.C., of Montreal, and the defendants by Messrs. McGibbon, Q.C., McGibbon and McLennan. Several witnesses were examined until the case will be continued to-morrow.

All Going to the Wheat Centres.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Dun, Wiman & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: The failure of the Fidelity Bank of Cincinnati, with such evidence of systematic [illegible] has been looked for by [illegible] natural result of the wheat corner. [illegible] disturbed business during the past week, the prospect that [illegible] recovering, that more than [illegible] which there will have been [illegible] and [illegible] of collections [illegible] with [illegible] Pacific [illegible] cago, failures [illegible] will assess the stockholders to make good the losses, and the caution in loans in Cleveland results from the losses of the banks there, while one or two considerable [illegible] in Ohio have been forced to failure by the collapse of the Fidelity.

DIED IN THEIR BOOTS.

CRAIG TOLLIVER, THE FAMOUS KENTUCKY DESPERADO, SHOT DOWN.

His Two Brothers Also Killed—One of His Followers Brings the South Kid up to Date—End of a Feud, in Which Twenty-One Lives Have Been Sacrificed.

LEXINGTON, June 24.—The worst criminal in Kentucky is dead. Craig Tolliver, assassin and desperado, was shot down in the streets of Morehead, Rowan County, yesterday morning. With him died his brothers Bud and Jay and Hiram Cooper. They died with their boots on, and Craig and the men who were killed with him in one of the bloodiest affrays on record will help to swell the long list of assassinations for which they have been responsible.

Morehead has been in a state of perpetual terror for several weeks. With his hands reeking with gore, Tolliver a short time ago got himself elected a judge, simply because people who feared him dare not vote against him. Since then he has been paying off old scores. Dr. Logan, an old-time enemy, was arrested on a trumped-up charge and thrown into jail. Then Tolliver sent his deputies to arrest Logan's two sons. They did it, but the two sons were shot dead first.

The immediate cause of Tolliver's murder to-day was the cold-blooded assassination of the Logan boys. Thoroughly cowed, many of the best people of Morehead had fled from the place where Tolliver ruled supreme. Things were in a bad state. A few days ago the Governor set Dr. Logan free. Tolliver and his band of murderers were highly incensed and swore vengeance. So did Logan, and he heartily entered into a plan of the Sheriff to rid the county of his enemies.

Sheriff Hogg, presumably acting under instructions from the State authorities, for he recently visited Frankfort to see Governor Knott, has been for about a week quietly organizing a very large posse of determined men in the upper part of Rowan county and in the adjoining counties for the purpose of arresting Craig Tolliver, or all the party who were implicated in the murder of the Logan boys some two weeks ago. Craig had received intimations of this, but they were so vague that he supposed the party would be regulators instead of a sheriff's posse. Tolliver and his party, consisting of about ten men, were quite vigilant and went heavily armed to meet every eastward-bound train at the depot to search for suspicious characters, and to see that no one got off at Morehead but those whom they desired.

Sheriff Hogg equipped his large party with Winchester rifles and the ammunition was secretly conveyed to his rendezvous while he was organizing the posse. Everything was ready for the move on the Tolliver gang several days ago, but as it was known that neither he nor [illegible] of his men would peaceably submit to arrest of any kind, it was deemed best to have the plans thoroughly matured before taking any decisive step. It was finally determined to attempt the arrest of the assassins in the day time, to prevent any women, children or inoffensive citizens from being killed by accident. Accordingly, at an early hour this morning people living on the line of the railroad, within two or three miles of Morehead on each side of the town, were notified to stop all trains and inform the conductors what was going on in Morehead, so that the passengers and trainmen would not be placed in danger.

Sheriff Hogg's band of resolute men, numbering probably more than 200, appeared suddenly at Morehead about 8 o'clock this morning. A cordon was first established around the entire town in the brush, where the men could not be seen. The Sheriff then entered the town at the head of about 100 well-armed men.

Craig Tolliver and his ten followers immediately retreated to the Cottage Hotel, which they had previously barricaded in such a manner as to make it quite a formidable fortress. Sheriff Hogg then notified Tolliver that he had warrants for the arrest of all the men implicated in the killings of the Logan boys, and asked that they all submit peaceably to arrest under the law. Tolliver's reply was that neither he nor his men would be arrested, and that a hundred men could not take them. His party then opened fire upon the Sheriff's posse. Quite a brisk rattle of musketry ensued, and the fighting was kept up probably for two hours. The only casualty for a time was a flesh-wound received by one of the Sheriff's posse. The attacking party, however, were gradually drawing their lines closer around Tolliver's fortification and the besieged party, finding things growing too warm, finally concluded to make a bold rush for liberty, cut their way through the Sheriff's lines and take to the adjacent bush, which once reached would afford them a secure escape. But as they made the rush they were met by a tremendous volley, which killed Craig Tolliver, Bud Tolliver, Jay Tolliver and Hiram Cooper. They were all shot through the heart and died instantly. Craig Tolliver seems to have been a general target, as he was so thoroughly riddled as to be scarcely recognizable. The other men of the gang got through safely, but as they approached the brush they were met by a volley from the outside cordon, a line of men stationed ten or twelve feet apart all around the town. This volley wounded Cale Tolliver, a 12-year-old boy, and three others, all of whom were captured except Cale Tolliver, who crawled into the brush and escaped. The other three also escaped, but one was captured afterwards. This brought the battle to an end.

The Tolliver-Martin feud dates from the August election in 1884, and like most of these mountain vendettas originated in politics. It is probable that the hatred of the hostile families was fanned and kept alive by shrewd politicians to serve their own ends. In 1886 Cook Humphrey, a young man of 23, was the Republican candidate for sheriff against Sam Goodwin, a Democrat. The county had ordinarily gone Democrat by a small majority, but Humphrey, being very popular personally, was elected by twelve majority. The feuds engendered by this contest are still alive, although that is more than can be said for a score or more of men engaged in them.

The Martins allied themselves with Humphrey's and the Tollivers with Goodwin's cause. Craig Tolliver, the leader of the latter faction, whose name in Kentucky has grown as notoriously familiar as was that of Jesse James in Missouri several years ago, swore after the election that Humphreys should never ride Rowan County as Sheriff. Since that date life after life has been offered up on the altar of hatred and bad blood, with increasing frequency, despite the best efforts of judiciary and militia, backed by the strong arm of the State Government. The male members of the Martin family, the original enemies of Craig Tolliver and his faction, were obliterated long ago and the house burned to the ground, their women and children barely escaping with their lives. The Logans espoused the Martin side of the feud, and although three of the younger Logans have been killed, two of them but a short time ago, the elder Logan headed the attack which has ended the career of Craig Tolliver and his brethren.

In the three years dazing which this feud has existed the militia has been called out twice and Rowan County placed under martial law. In the front door of one of the principal hotels of Morehead, the county seat, seventeen bullet-holes could have been counted more than a year ago. In the walls of the sitting-room of the same hotel five bullet-holes were visible, all the result of the various fusillades growing out of this feud. Business was brought to a standstill on numerous occasions, no one daring to come to town or venture into the streets for several days after one of the periodical outbreaks of the feud. The county was shunned by strangers and its prosperity greatly retarded. No one could ever be brought to justice, although many of the participators in the shooting affrays were indicted. Two special sessions of court were held, under the protection of the militia, for the trial of these cases. Nobody was convicted, for the simple reason that the residents of the county were afraid to testify against men who would shoot them in the back or burn them out of house and home in the night.

The feud has been likely to have culminated through the folly of Tolliver himself. Although scarcely able to write his own name, he concluded that the position of Police Judge of this county was [illegible] to [illegible] and [illegible] to [illegible] which to [illegible] as a candidate for the position and was elected, receiving only 10 votes, but having no opposition, naturally desiring to appear as formidable as possible. Instead of [illegible] resisting the service of a writ issued by Tolliver two of the Logans were killed by Tolliver's friends.

He grew arrogant, warning those who doubted him to leave the country. Dr. J. A. Hall, a prominent Prohibition candidate for State Senator, was recently warned that he must not enter Rowan County at the risk of his life. The situation had simply become intolerable, and while no one can commend the manner of his taking off, all order-loving people in Rowan County and outside of it will be glad the desperado is dead.

After the destruction of thousands of dollars' worth of property, and, up to this writing, the loss of twenty-six lives, Rowan county can now return to peace and prosperity. Craig Tolliver, the famous desperado, was probably the immediate cause of the outraged law being vindicated. To-day's work, it is to be hoped, ends the succession of tragedies that have been enacted in that county since the beginning of the Martin-Tolliver feud, not quite two years ago, the result of which up to date has been the sending of twenty-one souls into eternity, the maiming and crippling for life of at least a score more of persons, the destruction of all social relations and of nearly the entire business interests of the county, and the bringing about of a state of lawlessness and terrorism that have driven good men, with their families, away from home and friends to seek new homes in other parts of the country, where they might live without being in constant fear of their lives.

Solomon Bradley, John Martin, Whit Pelfrey, B. Candelle, Deputy Sheriff Baumgardner, Mason Keeton, John Marlow, John Harris, Wiley Tolliver, a railroad employe named Witcher, Willis Logan, Ben Rayburn, John Day, Floyd Tolliver and a party whose name is not remembered. Besides the two present victims, John B. Logan and W. H. Logan, and to-day's list, Craig Tolliver, Bud Tolliver, Jay Tolliver and Hiram Cooper.

THE CABINET STILL BUSY.

Council Meetings to Clear off Routine Work —Movements of Ministers.

OTTAWA, June 24.—A Cabinet council was held to-day, but nothing was done beyond reducing the mass of routine work which has accumulated during the session. The Ministers will take a rest to-morrow, but on Monday there will be another council meeting, and probably one almost every day until business is settled up for the summer and the Ministers go away for their holidays.

The movements of the Ministers this summer are pretty well settled except Sir John's. The story in some of the papers that Lady Macdonald left or would leave for Riviere du Loup to-day is nonsense. Neither Sir John nor Lady Macdonald are at all likely to go to Riviere du Loup this summer, their house there being rented. Lady Macdonald left Ottawa a week ago yesterday for Metapedia, and will probably on her return join her daughter at Alta Beaff Hot Springs. Whether Sir John will accompany her or not is doubtful. Sir Hector Langevin will run down to Quebec next Thursday for a few days, returning the following week. He will probably visit New York and Washington this fall. Sir Adolphe Caron will be here all next week and perhaps longer before he can get away for his proposed trip to Manitoba and British Columbia. Speaker Ouimet is still here, but goes to Montreal to-morrow, and will leave for England next week to join the Wimbledon team, of which he is commander.

The Government has decided to establish a fog bell to be worked by machinery at Pleasher Pass light station, British Columbia. This is only a part of the proposed system for improving the service on the Pacific coast.

The Cape Breton pilotage authority resolutions have been approved of.

An order-in-council has been passed reserving for sale and settlement the inland and shores of the northern end of Lone Lake in the Northwest Territories.

Hon. J. A. D. Thompson, Minister of Justice, will shortly visit Halifax in connection with the international fishery case now pending before the Admiralty Court. He will subsequently visit Manitoba, the Northwest Territories and British Columbia on official business.

Trumpeter Coates of the Prescott Cavalry now in camp here was thrown from his horse this afternoon and had his arm broken.

ANOTHER MYSTERY.

OTTAWA, June 24.—Private James Perreault of No. 1 Company, 56th Battalion, in camp here, was found in an unconscious condition on the roadway near New Edinburgh Thursday evening. He was taken to the camp, where it was found that he was in the last stages of exhaustion caused by poisoning. The usual restoratives were applied. Perreault is still alive but in a bad condition.

A comrade, who brought the volunteer to camp, has given information to the effect that the latter when discovered rallied sufficiently to state that he had spent the evening with a young woman from Prescott. He also directs suspicion towards this same woman by swearing that she has been threatening Private Perrault with a suit for breach of promise for several years past.

Fire at Oshawa.

OSHAWA, June 25.—About 12 o'clock last night a fire broke out in a frame building owned by Mrs. Hedlar and occupied by Hern, flour and feed; Smith & Adams, grocers; Rice, butcher, and Mrs. Brimscombe, milliner. Damage to building about $200; covered by insurance.

PORT ARTHUR, June 24.—The nominations for West Algoma took place yesterday. James Flaherty, seconded by W. C. Dobie, nominated James Conmee, who was declared elected by acclamation.

George Rankin, who was nominated yesterday in opposition to M. A. Lyon in East Algoma, has retired.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung-distempers, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Bamboo's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. ed&w

SATURDAY, JUNE 25, 1887.

RICH AND POOR.

The Conservative party has never been charged with undue favoritism to the working classes, nor with neglecting the interests of the privileged classes, the wealthy capitalist and the fostered manufacturing monopolist. It has been reckless in adding to the debt of the country, and corruptly reckless in increasing the annual expenditure, because such increase does not only add to its political influence, but does not bear upon the rich, only upon the poor. The incidence of taxation does not fall upon the rich with the same force that it does upon the poor. The annual expenditure as fixed by the Dominion Government through parliament is this year for all charges, the enormous sum of nearly fifty millions, and that to be raised in one year by five millions of people, making a tax charge of $10 per head. When we consider that the thousands of Indians in the Dominion who do not buy dutiable goods, it comes to this, that the average per head is raised to about $12, or sixty dollars per family. This is a virtual tax, though it is paid indirectly, and is therefore not consciously felt as one blow, like a similar or even smaller amount of direct taxes. But the tax is felt in the higher price of all that is consumed, and in the diminished comforts of the home of the ordinary citizen. For the incidence of taxation is so arranged as to fall most heavily on the mechanic and labouring man, that is, in proportion to his ability to pay. Thus is a direct injustice done to these classes, through an indirect system of taxation viciously arranged. From this might be deduced an argument in favor of direct taxation for state purposes. A man with ten thousand a year can't eat much more than the poor man, that is, if the latter gets what he can eat, yet if the latter has a family of ten and the other of three, as is the general ratio, he will, on an average income of $400 per year, pay more indirect taxes than the man with ten thousand per year; while, if the state funds were raised by direct taxation on his income the rich man would pay his fair proportion with poor men, unless, as sometimes occurs in municipal matters, the former can swear himself out of the income tax altogether. This state of things only emphasizes the contention that the present Tory Government habitually, and of malice aforethought, discriminates against the poorer classes and in favor of the richer classes. The Dominion Government has promised a factory act in the interest of the working classes, since 1883; such a bill has been introduced and dropped, session after session, till the present, when it was not mentioned at all. During the recent Dominion elections, in order to carry the labour vote, a Labour Commission was promised, to investigate the claims and rights of the working classes, but, at the last hour of the present session, Sir John stated that the commission, composed of three incompetent government party hacks "have not yet met." Of the railway subsidies promised, to influence the election, nearly three millions have been voted, with great promptitude, but the Labour Commission "has not yet met". By contrast, what is the course of the Mowat Government towards factory employes? That government has passed an efficient factory act and has appointed three inspectors, under the act, who will at once enter upon their duties. In the one case we have prompt practical and cheerful compliance with the wishes of the working men; in the other case the working men are worse than ignored—they are deluded with bogus promises, and weighed down with vexation and burdensome imports, which fall with undue severity upon the working man as compared with the rich man and the manufacturing monopolist. The tariff is perpetually tinkered to enrich the manufacturer while the poor employe gets additions to his taxes and contemptuous indifference to his claims for justice and redress of his manifest grievances.

No Monopoly.

Though the thousands in town on Tuesday gazed on the magnificent decorations, scores of them were level-headed enough to call at Bellingham's, go through his warerooms and admire his magnificent display of splendid furniture. While they were loyal to the Queen they were loyal to themselves, and therefore came when they could benefit themselves and get the best goods at the lowest prices. The warerooms were not open for business, but they will all come back.

Monopoly and Disallowance.

To the Editor of the Daily Examiner:

"Oh Liberty, Oh sound once delightful to every Roman ear, once sacred but now trampled upon."

He who would be free must himself strike the first blow. He who would be respected must first learn to respect himself. He who employs another to do him a great service must take care to employ one who is to be relied upon. One who will be faithful and honest. One who will not be turned from the path of duty by flattery or bribery. And the same rule applies to a whole people. They must be above prejudice and their own hands must be clean. And when the life of the nation is at stake, all personal or party feeling must be made to give way to the nation's welfare and happiness. The old thirteen colonies, a hundred years ago, acted upon this rule. And they laid aside all old sympathies, and they fought for their rights and they won them. In 1837 when the new Province of Ontario was oppressed, and when the people's rights and liberties were trampled upon, they rose up against their oppressors and they won the victory. Their country henceforth became free, and the government was carried on in accordance with the public will. Manitoba and the whole Northwest are now groaning under the weight of the bondage which is placed upon them. The Government at Ottawa are committing great wrongs upon the people in order to make still richer a grasping, soul-less railway corporation, which is fast sucking the very life's blood out of the people. Our own brothers and our own neighbors, who were induced to go and settle in that far-off country, under the promise of enjoying the full blessings of British liberty and of being allowed to have the benefits of their hard toil, and thus to be able in their own good time to sit in peace under their own vine and fig tree, are crying out for redress, and are looking to us for encouragement and help. Will we their nearest and their best friends, stand idly by and let them go down to discouragement and ruin? Will we thus forsake our own kith and kin, and doom them to a life of poverty and misery? Or, will we not rather hold out to them encouragement and hope? Tell them they will not be left to their misery. That they will not be left alone to fight for their rights. Tell them that their co-patriots in the east are not forgetting them. Tell them to have courage. Tell them that God never forsakes the right. And then, when those far off, oppressed people, feel that they can look to their brothers here, feeling that they will stand by them and encourage them, they will take courage, and when they take courage the day is won. They will not be left alone in their struggles for justice. There are sixty millions of free people living near, the majority of whom are of their own blood, whose moral support they are sure to have. And the moral support of sixty millions of people is a great and a might power. And blood is thicker than water. They are marching on in liberty and progress. They are marching on side by side with all the peoples of this great continent, and their voices will go up with a mighty sound to all others to be of good cheer and no one shall make them afraid. When Cicero, the great Roman lawyer and orator, made use of the words at the head of this article he was engaged against one of the greatest and wiliest of Rome's enemies. A most reckless man, who was engaged in midnight plottings against the peace and liberties of his country. Rome then had her Cataline, and Canada has her Cataline also, plotting against the rights and the liberties of our friends in Manitoba and the North West. The people here may not have a Cicero to protect them, but they have what the Roman people did not possess, education and intelligence and the ability to defend themselves. And they know right from wrong and how to secure the right. They are not slaves, like the majority of the Roman people, but they are freemen, filled with the love of freedom, and able, when necessary, to protect themselves. They are patient and slow to anger, but the lion in them, when once roused, is hard to subdue. "Romanus sum" was the magic expression of the Roman patriot, but it is a mere empty sound compared with the declaration "I am an Englishman." The reason of this difference is because liberty and the word Englishman are synonimous terms. And all men are free, and an Englishman's house is his castle. Whereas in Rome the vast majority of the people were ignorant and were slaves. Now, the people of Manitoba and the North West are educated and are so determinedly free that they will never say die. They are like Wellington's soldiers on the plains of Waterloo who, Napoleon said, did not know when they got whipped. They won't stay beaten. Their trust is in God and the right. Their cause is just and justice they will have and woe to those who stand in their way. "Britians never will be slaves" The day is not far distant when justice must be done to Manitoba and the North West. The minions of the C.P.R., at Ottawa, may plot and resist for a while, but their fall is near and when they are gone then will come justice and truth. A tyrant's career is necessarily short lived, for his ways are dark and treacherous. But truth and justice stand upon a rock, which exists forever. Man is created of God and God's laws govern the universe, and God meant man to be free. The great battles of freedom have been fought and won in America, and freedom never dies. The people of Manitoba may suffer for a time, but they will come out from their struggles all the better and purer from having to go through the fire. Their privations and sufferings may be great, but, like the people of this province fifty years ago, they will wipe away the stain, and then will come their emancipation prosperity and happiness. The Ottawa authority as administered in Manitoba and the North West, is unconstitutional, and grossly unjust, and the people there cannot be made to submit to it. There is no people on the face of the earth who can be prevented from helping themselves. Where such a power is exercised, resistance becomes a duty. Every instinct of human nature revolts at oppression and revenge. People have only one life to live in this world, and they want that to be free. Every province in the Dominion, except Manitoba and those lying westward, have full liberty of action in all that pertains to their growth and prosperity. They can build all the railroads they want and they can do everything which, in their estimation, can condoce to their power and happiness. They can build as many roads to the American boundary as they think proper. But the people of the great North West are forbidden to do anything. They are scarcely allowed to breathe, except by the grace of the C.P.R., and their tools at Ottawa. They were invited to settle there by the Government, expecting when there to be treated justly. They imagined that they were there to be under the protection of British laws, and to be treated as free British subjects. But they are not. They have been shamefully deceived. And they have been reduced to the condition of hewers of wood and drawers of water. They are very little better than white slaves, toiling on in hardship and poverty, to pour their hard earnings into the lap of their foreign masters. Now, let me ask, how much longer is this state of things to continue? How much longer are our brothers there to be oppressed and enslaved? How much longer will they quietly submit to be overborne and robbed by their present taskmasters. If they are true Britons, not long. They know their rights, and, knowing them, they will have them. And they have only got to say the word, and put forth their right arm and call aloud and instantly tens of thousands of armed men will go to their rescue. And this they will do if they are goaded on much longer. They must not be driven to desperation. It is still time to put away this trouble. It is still time to conciliate. But bye and bye, and that ere long, it will be too late. The die will then be cast, and then justice will come too late. And a great country, capable of supporting fifty millions of people, will have passed away into other hands, and the C. P. R. and the poor, short-sighted, selfish rulers at Ottawa will forever lament their wickedness and folly.

THE PACIFIC MAIL SUBSIDY.

The Subject Discussed in the English House of Commons.

LONDON, June 24.—In the Commons last night, on the question of the adoption of the Peninsular and Oriental Company's India-China mail contract,

Mr. Anderson, member for Elgin and Nairn, moved that the Canadian Pacific proposals be postponed. The Canadian rate, he said, was three-and-sixpence, with fourteen knots speed, as against the Suez Canal rate of six-and-sevenpence, with eleven or twelve knots speed. On military, commercial and general grounds he urged the adoption of the Canadian proposals.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer said the Canadian route proposed was only supplemental, not competitive, to the Suez Canal. The Government were fully considering the Canadian proposals, which were quite distinct from the Peninsular and Oriental contract, which would continue. One Canadian proposal was for £100,000 subsidy for five ships, the Canadian Government paying £30,000, and another for a monthly service of three ships for £80,000, the Canadian Government paying £15,000. The Government had to consider whether the postal, military and commercial advantages of the Canadian route were worth the large sum asked in the extremely comprehensive Canadian proposals. He urged the withdrawal of the amendment.

The Postmaster-General said the attitude of the Government towards the Canadian proposal was sympathetic.

Admiral Commerell earnestly supported the Canadian proposals.

The amendment was withdrawn in view of the sympathetic tone of the Government's reply. The general debate was then adjourned.

THE NIAGARA CAMP.

Artillery Inspection by Lieut.-Col. Irwin—Three Batteries Leave for Home.

NIAGARA, June 24.—To-day the artillery were inspected by Lieut.-Col. Irwin, Inspector of Artillery for Ontario. The Colonel expressed himself as thoroughly satisfied with the appearance of the men and the fine condition of their equipments, especially the harness.

The Welland Field Battery left at 6.30 a.m., Hamilton at 3 p.m. and the Toronto Field Battery embarked on the steamer Chicora at 4.10 p.m. to-day. The Chicora comes back to-night to take the cavalry over to Toronto.

The statement that appeared in a Toronto paper stating that the bread supplied was "indigestible" is utterly untrue.

The shooting at Port Colborne so far has resulted as follows: Hamilton 444, Toronto 397, Welland 393, with two batteries to shoot.

The annual cook's parade was held last night, and was headed by the Scotch pipers of the 20th Lorne Rifles, Col. Allan's regiment, and were greatly admired.

PARENT DISGORGES.

After Giving Up $36,000 He is Committed for Examination.

BUFFALO, June 24.—The Hochelaga Bank of Montreal has succeeded in obtaining all but $9000 of its money from Alphonso D. Parent, its absconding cashier. Parent disgorged $25,000 and gave L. J. Bieque, the attorney of the bank, a key to a safe-deposit vault in Chicago where he has $6000 deposited.

Parent was before the Police Court this afternoon on a charge of having stolen funds and securities of the bank in his possession. It was stated that the bank officials having recovered all that was possible of the amount embezzled did not desire to prosecute the fugitive.

Justice King said that if a crime had been committed the guilty party should be punished, and decided to hear the evidence. Parent was held for examination on Monday, and, in default of $10,000 bail, was committed to the care of Sheriff Gilbert.

SUSPENDED PAYMENT.

MacIver & Barclay, Montreal Brokers, Broken on Telegraph Stock.

MONTREAL, June 24.—MacIver & Barclay, stock brokers, suspended payment to-day. The liabilities are not known. The announcement caused quite a panic on the market.

The firm makes this statement: "The decline in telegraph and one or two losses through clients has been the cause of our having to suspend. We have been carrying telegraph from 130 downwards, and our loss on that alone would be about $60,000. Our total loss will exceed $100,000. The liabilities to the Stock Exchange will be about $60000, and there will be enough left out of the wreck to pay the amount in full."

Cattle Shipment Safely Landed.

MONTREAL, June 24.—The Allan S. S. Lucerne, from Montreal for London, arrived out on Friday and landed her live stock shipment of 274 oxen and 11 sheep in good order and condition.

Demonstrated.

Sometimes it costs hundreds of dollars to convince a man; very often less is required, but in the case of Polson's Nerviline the sovereign remedy for pain, 10 cents loots the bill and supplies enough Nerviline to convince every purchaser that it is the best, most prompt and certain pain remedy in the world. Nerviline is good for all kinds of pain, pleasant to take, and sure to cure cramps and all internal pains. It is also nice to rub outside, for it has an agreeable smell, quite unlike as many other preparations, which are positively disagreeable to use. Try it now. Go to a drug store and buy a 10 cent or 25 cent bottle. Polson's Nerviline. Take no other. 6dw25

A PRETTY SMALL BUSINESS.

The Alien Labor Act Put in Force Against Canadians.

LOCKPORT, N.Y., June 24.—The recent order of the Dominion Government to the Canadian Customs officials at Windsor to enable search of all Americans residing in Detroit and visiting other daily cases, also to engage in work in Canada has led to a counter movement by Collector Cutler at Niagara Falls and Suspension Bridge. This morning at the Canadian [illegible] numbering about 200, who are employed in employment on this side reached the frontier they were surprised to find at this end of the two steamers [illegible] duties stationed by Collector Cutler, who demanded their names, age, residence, occupation and where and by whom they were employed. During the day notices were served upon the employers of these foreigners that if they should continue to employ such foreign labor after July 1 the United States District Attorney would be recommended to proceed against them according to law.

What Minister Bowell Says.

OTTAWA, June 24.—I had an interview to-night with Hon. Mr. Bowell, Minister of Customs, with regard to the Associated Press despatches from Lockport, N.Y., to the effect that on account of the "recent order of the Dominion Government to customs officers at London to make a record of all Americans residing in Detroit and vicinity who daily cross the line to engage in work in Canada," it had been decided to put the American Alien Labor Law in operation against Canadians.

"There is not one word of truth," said the Minister, "in the story that a circular has been issued by the Canadian Government with reference to American citizens working in border towns. No such order has been given by this department, nor any other order of similar purport. We have never had any census made by the Customs Department, and even for statistical purposes. Far from it being the case that Canadian officials have been interfering with American workmen who reside in the United States but are employed in Canada, the very reverse is the fact, for the American customs officials at Detroit have lately been causing great annoyance to residents of Windsor, Ont., who are engaged in business in Detroit and cross the ferry daily."

"Do you think the despatch is true?"

"I know nothing of it officially," he said. "If the alleged action of Collector Cutler is true, then it is a very unfriendly action on the part of the United States Government."

"What is the motive?"

"To keep Canadian workmen from competing with American workmen. If any such action has been taken it has probably been done at the instance of the labor organization, under pressure from these bodies. Congress at its last session passed an act prohibiting the importation of foreign contract labor. This act was aimed at the large bodies of Hungarian and Italian labourers brought over by railway and other corporations, and was never meant to apply to Canadians. Indeed, it seems to me that it is only by a very strained construction of the law that it can be made to do so."

Thanks.

The EXAMINER occasionally strikes a streak of luscious luck. Only a day or two ago Mr. Emmerson, of Otonabee, left a basket of fine, plump berries and now thanks are in order to Mr. J. Braden, Mr. Pearson, of the south ward, and Mr. J. H. Bailey, of Smith, for very highly appreciated contributions of this toothsome luxury. This is coming it rather strong, but it can be endured. An order given for a new fruit refrigerator, will not deter any other of the poor printer's friends from showing their generosity nor create the fear of an embarasse de richesses in the Fragarian fruit.

A New Brass Foundry.

The industries of Peterborough are rapidly increasing. In old times brass was held to be a measure of value. A Tory Standard of the Roman time would have accused the Roman Whigs of bribing the electorate in the general election with ces alienum—foreign brass, instead of Pittsburg gold. In those days the man with abundant "brass" was a millionaire, and now Peterborough has a citizen who has taken steps to introduce a new industry in brass. Gough, the wonderful cheap man has erected in his store a system of beautiful brass standards for the display of his goods, especially those wonderful cheap suits comprised in the $18,500 stock purchased in Montreal at 40 cents on the dollar, and being sold at the same slaughtering rate. Just think of it! Prime ready-made clothing at less than half price these hard times. Don't forget the place, Gough's, George Street, Peterborough, where monumental bargains are always on tap.

A New Industry.

"Where did you get all the fish, Johnny?' asked a little urchin of his chum, who had a big basket on his arm. "Down at the market, to be sure," returned Johnny. "I'm going to take them out in the country and sell them to the fishermen coming home."

Jubilee Flower Gifts.

The Floral Friends of the Fire Brigade Mentioned.

Everybody noticed, with pleasure and pride in the team of the boys, the beautiful and artistic decorations of the steamers and hose waggons on Jubilee day. While the display would have been exceedingly creditable to them it would hardly have been possible, except for the kindness of the friends of the brigade, whose generous donations of flowers enabled the former to carry out their plans. The brigade, therefore, wishes to thank those persons who generously placed them, and to formally acknowledge their kindness by making public the following list of contributors:—

Mrs. (Rev.) Clement, basket of flowers.
Mrs. R. Cossey, 24 button-hole bouquets, and six handsome bunches of flowers.
Mrs. — Meeny, large hand bouquets.
Miss Dunlop, hand bouquet.
Mrs. Wm. Hamilton, (Reid St.) 3 hand bouquets.
Mrs. Sherwood, 1 hand bouquet.

Dominion Day.

Peterborough's Jubilee Celebration.

The public are again reminded of the grand Jubilee celebration to be held in Peterborough next Friday, July 1st, Dominion Day. The programme prepared for June 21, which the committee were unable to complete on account of the rain, will again be presented with a few variations. As the Riverside Park is engaged for the afternoon of that day for something else, the committee have secured it for the forenoon, the procession and singing by the children will be held earlier, the procession leaving the drill shed at 9 o'clock and proceeding directly to Riverside Park, where, after the singing the sports will be held. The same prizes will be given as announced previously.

In the afternoon, at two o'clock, the Otonabee Canoe Club will hold a regatta on Little Lake. Good prizes will be substituted for those which were won on the occasion of the previous regatta. This regatta will be one of the finest features of the programme.

In the evening a band-concert and general illumination of the town, as before, will take place. The arches erected by the Societies, and other decorations on George street, will be left standing till after July 1st, so that the town will present just as gala an appearance.

Citizens are urged to remain in town that day, and participate in the Jubilee celebration and residents of the country are urged to take a holiday and visit Peterborough, and enjoy the festivities.

The Gun Burst.

Says the Norwood Register:—Belmont furnishes us with a nice, spicy item this week, being nothing more or less than an attempt to shed human blood through the agency of a double-barrelled shot gun, loaded with buckshot and slugs. In this, as in all other shooting "fiascos" in Belmont, the aggressor could not screw his courage up to the pitch necessary for effectual shooting, and it is owing to this fact that the intended victim is still in the land of the living. The facts, as gathered from Constable Hill are as follows: G. A. Parcels and A. H. Myers work a farm on shares. On Friday morning while Parcels was engaged in milking a cow, Myers, in a joking sort of way, commenced throwing pebbles at the animal. Parcels became highly indignant at this and threatened vengeance most dire. Myers paid no attention to these threats but still kept annoying Parcels. Finally they commenced pelting each other with stones, and Parcels on seeing that he was getting the worst of it ran to the house and secured the gun. Myers fled to the barn and was followed by Parcels. Here they played "hide and go seek" until noon. Parcels then returned to the house, left the gun inside and commenced inflicting. This was Myers' opportunity and he made good use of it. Stealing stealthily from his hiding place at the barn, he entered the house from the back entrance, secured the gun and appeared before Parcels at the front door. Parcels now thought it was "all day" with him, but Myers contented himself with smashing the gun into atoms. The case was tried before Squire Drain on Monday.

Kingston Military Camp Notes.

Kingston Whig:—The wife of Lieut.-Col. Villiers, D.A.G., commanding officer of the Kingston brigade camp, is dead, and Col. Boulton, of Cobourg, is elevated to the position of commandant.

In 1837 Col. Boulton entered the Queen's Own regiment at Toronto as a captain, and remained in the service three years. Nearly all the officers that were in this regiment when he joined it are now dead. He has the old role containing the names of the following among others: Major R. Brown, Peterborough; G. Elliott, Cavan; Captain James Thomas Lowe, Peterborough.

Lieut.-Col. Rogers, who is now in command of the Third regiment of cavalry, in consequence of Lt.-Col. Boulton's elevation to camp command, has been in the militia a great many years. His father formed "A" troop of the regiment. In 1832, he and eight troops, camped on the dock yard property at Kingston. He commenced soldiering in 1855, was connected with the Peterborough rifles, and was on duty during the Fenian invasion. Major Rogers, the great grandfather of the present colonel, commanded a regiment known as Rogers' Rangers during the French war. Rogers the ranger was authorized to organize a regiment of scouts, and sailed up the lakes in boats and took over the forts vacated by the French about 1765. A brother of Robert Rogers was in command, in 1776, of the fortifications at St. John, P.Q. Lieut.-Col. Rogers's grandfather, David Macgregor Rogers, had charge of the first post office between Kingston and Toronto. He sat in the Upper Canada legislature for Prince Edward county, and was afterwards member for Northumberland. Lieut.-Col. Robert Rogers, commandant of the 49th regiment, is a brother of Col. Rogers, of the cavalry, and Col. James Rogers, of the 57th Battalion in Peterborough, is his cousin. The late Col. Williams, of Port Hope, was his second cousin. Col. Rogers was educated in Kingston and is now postmaster at Peterborough. He is a very courteous officer and very popular with the volunteers.

Literary.

A UNIQUE WORK ON CANADIAN TOPICS.—Mr. Erastus Wiman, President of the Canadian Club, writes to the editor of the EXAMINER as follows:

"It is the intention of certain members of the Canadian Club, in New York, to issue, in the form of a beautiful book, the papers which have been delivered before the Club during the past winter by prominent parties, together with those which are to be delivered during the remainder of the season.

"These papers will include a speech on 'Commercial Union' by the Hon. Benjamin Butterworth, member of Congress, who is said to be one of the most eloquent men of that body. A remarkable production by Prof. Goldwin Smith on 'The Schism in the Anglo-Saxon Race.' A paper by Dr. Grant of the Queen's University on 'Canada First.' One by J. W. Bengough, editor of Toronto Grip. By Mr. Le Moine, of Quebec, on 'The Heroines of New France.' By J. A. Fraser, 'An Artist's Experience in the Canadian Rockies.' By Edmund Collins, on 'The Future of Canada.' By Professor G. D. Roberts, of Kings College. By Geo. Stewart, jr., of Quebec. By the Rev. Dr. Eccleston, on 'The Canadian North West.' By John McDougall, on 'The Minerals of Canada.' And by the Editor, G. M. Fairchild, jr., on 'The History of the Canadian Club.' The work will also include extracts from the speeches and letters of the President.

"The book is to be issued in beautiful style, at $1 per copy.

"A great many Canadians will doubtless desire to possess themselves of this rare compilation, and by purchasing copies, indicate the interest which is manifested throughout Canda in the attempt of the Canadian Club to lay before Americans the resources, advantages, and attractions of their native country.

"Parties desirous of obtaining copies can do so by enclosing the price of the book to JAMES ROSS, Canadian Club, 12 East 29th street, New York."

THE END OF JUBILEE WEEK

MANY OF THE ROYAL GUESTS TAKING THEIR DEPARTURE.

The Dangerous Condition of the Crown Prince—A Letter From the Queen Thanking the People for the Loyalty they Have Displayed.

LONDON, June 25.—At last the jubilee week is over and a good many of the royal guests from abroad are taking their departures. London is assuming its wonted aspect, and faces hitherto beaming with enthusiastic loyalty are becoming long at the idea of the bills which will have to be paid for all the festivities, entertainments, decorations and processions of the past week.

In the first place the Crown Prince of Germany has paid a severe penalty for his participation in the royal procession to Westminster Abbey on Tuesday last. The dust, fatigue and excitement of the day were too much for him, and when he reached home at night he was so ill that his medical attendants and Dr. Morell Mackenzie had to be summoned in all haste. His throat was found to be greatly inflamed and his condition worse than at any time since a month before his first operation. The swelling is so strong that Dr. Mackenzie has not even been able to proceed with a further operation as had been agreed. The news concerning his health has been kept from the public as much as possible, but his immediate entourage seem in very low spirits about his condition. He is exceedingly popular here, and received a greater ovation from the crowd on Tuesday than almost any other prince, either native or foreign. In fact, seeing him there in his white uniform and with his magnificent physique towering above the heads of all other princes present, it was difficult to realize that he is so near the door of a painful and lingering death.

An unpleasant feature of the past week has been the difficulties in connection with the Queen of the Sandwich Islands, a self-invited guest, whose presence was most unwelcome and productive of endless squabbles. High and mighty potentates such as the Crown Princes of Austria and Germany were naturally unwilling to waive their precedence in favor of a monarch whose title after all is a mere parody, and who is nothing better than the wife of a small black, colored chieftain of doubtful descent and reputation, and whose immediate predecessor feasted on the corpse of one of England's greatest naval captains. Queen Kapiolani was pointedly omitted from the banquet given on Tuesday night at Buckingham Palace by the Queen to all the foreign royalties present in London, and it is probable that she will return to her island home a sadder and maybe a wiser monarch.

The Queen's grand party at Buckingham Palace is looked forward to with fear and trembling. Over 8000 invitations have been issued, and Heaven only knows what will be done with all the guests if it happens to rain.

A Letter From the Queen.

LONDON, June 25.—The Home Secretary has received the following letter from the Queen:

I am anxious to express to my people my warm thanks for the kind—more than kind—reception I met with going to and returning from Westminster Abbey with all my children and grandchildren. The enthusiastic reception I met with then, as well as on all these eventful days in London, as well as at Windsor on the occasion of the jubilee, touched me most deeply. It has shown that the labor and anxiety of fifty long years, twenty-two of which were spent in troubled happiness, shared and cheered by my beloved husband, and while an equal number were full of sorrows and trials borne without his sheltering arm and wise help, have been appreciated by my people. This feeling and sense of duty towards my dear country and my subjects who are so inseparably bound up with my life, will encourage me in my task, often a very difficult and arduous one, during the remainder of my life. The wonderful order preserved on this occasion and the good behavior of the enormous multitude assembled merit my highest admiration. That God may protect and abundantly bless my country is my fervent prayer.

DROWNED HER CHILD.

A Woman Throws a Baby Into the Sea at Atlantic City.

ATLANTIC CITY, June 25.—While a number of belated loungers on the beach were walking near Ohio-avenue at midnight Thursday a tall, graceful woman was seen to walk down to the sea with a little child in her arms. Still, kissing the helpless little one, fling it into the receding waves. Those who had observed her actions ran after her and continued in pursuit until she reached Pinston-alley. At that point she turned as by and presenting a revolver at the men, threatened to shoot. Under cover of this threat she escaped. The Life Guard was notified and searched for two hours for the body, but without success.

French Hatred of Germans.

BERLIN, June 25.—The position of Germans in France has become, under social persecution, barely tolerable. They would be hunted out of the country altogether but for the protection guaranteed them under the Frankfort Treaty, which debars the French from placing a prohibitive impost upon Germans resident in France.

SIR M. C. CAMERON DEAD.

THE LAST OF AN EMINENT AND WELL KNOWN CANADIAN.

His Succession to Indisposition of the Bench—Sketch of His Life—Lawyer, Politician and Judge—A Brilliant Career—Funeral Arrangements.

TORONTO, June 27.

At the residence of his son, Dr. Irving H. Cameron, southwest corner of Sherbourne and Gerrard-streets, there died at 11 o'clock on Saturday night a man widely known throughout the whole of Canada, but particularly in Ontario, and as widely popular and respected as he was known. The man was Sir Matthew Crooks Cameron, Chief Justice of the Common Pleas Division of the High Court of Judicature of Ontario. For some weeks past he had been ill, caused by blood poisoning from a carbuncle. It was thought at first that he would recover but only four days ago he was attacked, with inflammation of the bowels and these disorders, together with the constant suffering which he has experienced since the accident which made him a cripple from his boyhood, were too much for his slight frame and he had to succumb.

The death of the eminent Chief Justice is largely due to the zealous discharge of his official duties. For days he continued to sit upon the bench in an enfeebled condition. On June 18, after having been confined to the house for a few days, he was removed to the home of his son, Dr. Cameron, because of alterations being made in his own house, 144 Duke-street. His condition for a week was critical, but on Friday last he rallied somewhat, and hopes were entertained that he might recover. A change for the worse, however, was noticed on Saturday morning, and he grew continuously worse till death ensued at 11 o'clock that night.

Sir Matthew was conscious up to the moment of his death. The primary cause of death was the blood poisoning resulting from a carbuncle on the back of his neck, but the immediate cause was inflammation of the bowels. During his illness Dr. H. H. Wright was the attending physician, and Drs. Richardson and Ogden assisted in several consultations. Dr. Wright said Sir Matthew's death was undoubtedly due to his determination to discharge his duties when he should, in his enfeebled condition, have been in bed.

The late Chief Justice is the subject of a sketch in Dent's Canadian Portrait Gallery. Matthew Crooks Cameron was for many years the best known nisi prius lawyer at the bar of his native province, and his personal appearance is, perhaps, familiar to a greater number of persons than is that of any other professional man in Western Canada. For some years prior to his elevation to the Bench he was also prominent in political life, but it was as the Bar that his greatest laurels were won, and it is by his professional achievements that he will be longest remembered. He was born at Dundas, in the County of Wentworth, October 2, 1822, consequently being nearly 65 years of age at his death. His father, the late Mr. John McAlpine Cameron, was of Celtic stock, and emigrated from the Highlands of Scotland to Upper Canada in 1819, settling in Dundas, where he engaged in commerce. In 1826 he became Deputy Clerk of the Crown for the Gore District and removed to Hamilton, and subsequently entered the service of the Canada Company. He died in Toronto in 1866. The mother of the Chief Justice was Miss Nancy Hoy of Northumberland, England, who died here many years ago.

Sir Matthew was the youngest of his family and the only one of it born in America. He was named after Mr. Matthew Crooks of Ancaster, a brother of the Hon. James Crooks and an uncle of the late Hon. Adam Crooks, Minister of Education. When he was 4 years of age his family removed from Dundas to Hamilton, where he attended a school kept by a Mr. Randall. Later he was a pupil at the Home District Grammar School, Newgate and New-streets, now Adelaide and Jarvis-streets, Toronto. In 1838 he entered Upper Canada College, where he remained till 1840, when his college career was cut short by a lamentable accident. While shooting on the Island with two companions one of them accidentally shot him in the ankle, shattering the joint. For months he was confined to his room, he was told that he would never again be able to walk without a crutch; and the active, sprightly boy of 18 suddenly became a thoughtful, serious student, whose one ambition was to be a light in the legal profession. He quit college, entered the law office of Gamble & Boulton, Toronto, was admitted as an attorney and solicitor in Trinity Term, 1843, and called to the Bar in Hilary Term 1849.

Then began a career which made him eminent in a high degree. While still a young man and new to the work he distinguished himself against such men as Henry Eccles, John Hillyard Cameron, Philip Vankoughnet and the present Chief Justice Hagarty, his most salient qualifications being a competent knowledge of his profession, a subtle power of analysing evidence, a ready command of language, an impressive utterance and delivery and a manner which was open and confidential without being familiar, and which to most jurymen was suggestive of honest convictions. He was an extraordinarily hard worker, and he was ever noted for the unremitting attention which he gave to his work. On the Bench he would sit from 9 in the morning till 7 in the evening without leaving it, never taking lunch. In his early legal career he practised much in the Gore District, but later he extended his practice, and it is said that Lanark and Renfrew are the only two counties in the province in which he has not tried a brief. His first firm was one formed with his former principal, the late Mr. William Hidny Boulton. Later he entered into partnership with Hon. Wm. Cayley, Dr. Daniel McMichael, Q.C., who married a sister of Sir Matthew's wife, being subsequently admitted.

In 1859 Sir Matthew began to take a part in public affairs, being elected to represent St. James' Ward in the Toronto City Council. Two years later he was an unsuccessful candidate for the Mayoralty. In 1861 he was elected to represent North Ontario in the Assembly, but in the general election of 1861 he was defeated, only to be re-elected in 1864, when a vacancy occurred in the representation for North Ontario. He sat in the Assembly until Confederation; when he was defeated in an effort to be elected to the House of Commons. Then he was elected to represent East Toronto in the Assembly, became a member of the Sandfield Macdonald Coalition Administration, was Provincial Secretary and Registrar from July, 1867, to July 25, 1871, when he became Commissioner of Crown Lands. After the downfall of the Government he led the Opposition against Hon. Edward Blake's Government. He was always a staunch Conservative and a thoroughly honest politician.

Sir Matthew was appointed a Q.C. in 1860, a Bencher of the Ontario Law Society in 1871, a Puisne Judge of the Court of Queen's Bench in 1870, and Chief Justice of the Common Pleas Division in 1884. Only two months ago he received the honor of Knighthood. He was the first President of the Toronto Conservative Association and was connected with many other organizations.

The deceased was married in 1851 to Miss Charlotte Weeld of Hamilton, now dead, and he leaves six children.

NO LONGER IN THE CHURCH

A BISHOP DECLARES M'GLYNN TO BE OUTSIDE THE PALE.

The Interviews with the Contumacious Priest Giving Great Annoyance—The Priest Says he was Misrepresented by a Buffalo Interviewer.

NEW YORK, June 25.—A Buffalo special says: Dr. McGlynn did not start for Chicago until 8:35 p.m. yesterday. His declaration of defiance to the Papal court was disbelieved by many until they saw him. In private conversation he intensified the utterances which he made Thursday. Yesterday afternoon Bishop Ryan said: "Father McGlynn, by his utterances, has placed himself outside of the pale of the church. He has started where all hitherto have started, from Luther to Henry VIII., by attacking the authority of the head of the church, which has divine authority. Dr. McGlynn's idea of bringing in Galileo is absurd, for that misapprehension was corrected centuries ago. That Dr. McGlynn would have been insulted or snubbed at Rome is absurd. Were his doctrines not widely at variance with the church precepts he would have been allowed to preach them. His statement about Cardinal Simeoni is false. Dr. McGlynn was too proud to bend to the church's authority. It was a shameful statement that an embassy to Washington could or would debase the church."

Bishop Ryan denied that the Pope was opposed to Home Rule for Ireland. The Pope was thoroughly in sympathy with all that was natural in the movement for Ireland's relief. The Bishop also denied that the church had been devoted to politics, or had disregarded the spiritual welfare of its children. Dr. McGlynn's theories never had or could have mortal existence. They were opposed to the church and to society.

McGlynn's Denial.

CHICAGO, June 25.—The Rev. Father McGlynn, who arrived in this city to-day, speaking of the alleged interview with him in Buffalo, in which he is made to call himself the Martin Luther of the nineteenth century, said:

"What appeared in the Chicago papers is simply a condemnation of an interview had with a newspaper correspondent in Buffalo. The condemnation is simply a sacrifice of truth to sensationalism. It is simply to me an outrage. I would never, never acknowledge myself to be the Martin Luther of the nineteenth century. I could not, and would not if I could, do such a thing. In one sense it would be an exhibition of outrageous cheek to think I could produce such a revolution as Luther produced. Besides, I know of no man less inclined than I or having less desire to do what Martin Luther did. For me to attempt it would be to be a traitor to what I cheerfully confess I hold most dear and precious and sacred, viz., the spiritual doctrines and holy sacredness of the Catholic Church."

A FIRE FED WITH LARD.

CHICAGO, June 26.—A million and a quarter dollars went up in smoke at the Union Stock Yards to-day. Early this morning one of the employes of the Chicago Packing and Provision Company discovered a fire in the tank room. In a few moments one of the tanks exploded, scattering burning lard over the adjacent buildings, and a dozen separate fires were soon competing with each other in the destruction of the immense establishment. The fire burned fiercely for fourteen hours, but is now extinguished.

The Chicago Packing and Provision Company's works occupy about six acres of ground, but the fire was kept within the district bounded by Fortieth-street, Centre-avenue, Forty-second-street and the railroad tracks, a block west of Centre-avenue. This territory contained four large buildings, the main building, 300 by 475 feet, was totally destroyed, and the other buildings were very badly damaged.

A CLASH OF AUTHORITY.

The City Sheriff of Dublin Locks Up the County Sheriff.

DUBLIN, June 26.—County Sheriff Hamilton called a meeting of Loyalists for to-day, to be held in the Green-street Court House, which belongs to the city. Hamilton and a party of friends having entered the building the City Sheriff locked them in, preventing the audience from entering. Hamilton appeared at an upper window, and amid much laughter exhibited the predicament and announced that the meeting would be held in the Court of Queen's Bench. The Loyalists accordingly proceeded to the place named and held their meeting.

A BERLIN SENSATION.

An Officer Deprived of Rank Because He Did Not Challenge an Opponent.

BERLIN, June 25.—The social sensation of the week has been the verdict of the officers of the Court of Honor in the case of Major Hinze, accused of omitting to challenge to a duel his political opponent in the Reichstag election who, during the campaign, aspersed his honor as an officer. He was a Progressist deputy in the late Reichstag. He opposed the septennate and favored the short service system. He became intensely unpopular among his former brother officers, who denounced him during the electoral struggle as unfit to bear an army title or to wear a uniform. He prosecuted his slanderers in a court of law and obtained a successful verdict, whereupon the staff officers of the guards corps appointed the Court of Honor, whose decree deprives Hinze of the right to the title of major and to wear the uniform of the army.

The Emperor has confirmed the degradation of Hinze, although there is a clause in the criminal code, applying equally to soldiers and civilians, which forbids challenging to a duel, under a penalty of six months' imprisonment. The Emperor's decision puts the stamp of the highest authority on dueling as a laudable custom prevailing over the law forbidding it.

Hinze's friends charge that the military court was influenced by political hatreds. They say that he only refrained from challenging his opponent because the offence was directed against him as a politician.

In Brief, And To The Point.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Grese's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents. eodw

OUR COUNTY PARLIAMENT

June Session of the Peterborough County Council.

Reports of the Several Committees adopted—New Bridge at the Narrows—Claiming Scott Act Fines—Refusing Grant to Protestant Home.

SATURDAY, June 25th.

Council met in regular session.

Mr. KIDD moved, seconded by Mr. Crowe, that a by-law of the township of Dummer establishing a road less than 66 feet wide be confirmed.—Carried.

Mr. Burnham presented the report of the Committee on Equalization and Assessment, as follows:—

EQUALISATION AND ASSESSMENT.

Your Committee have examined the assessment rolls of the different municipalities and find slight variations in the acreage of some of the municipalities, but not so perceptible as to lead us to vary the basis of last year. Your committee would therefore recommend that the basis adopted by this council last year be the basis of assessment for all county purposes for the year 1887, as shown by the schedule hereto annexed.

The report was adopted, and a by-law to confirm it was passed.

ROADS AND BRIDGES.

Mr. MOLONEY read the following report of the Committee on Roads and Bridges, as follows:—

(1) Your committee are pleased to observe that the county of Hastings has granted the sum of $50 for the boundary line road between the townships of Wallaston and Chandos, being a grant equal to that of this county for the same purpose.

(2) Your committee recommend that hereafter when the county engineer has notice that any county bridges are in an impassable state, that he be hereby authorized and directed to take immediate action to repair the same as he sees fit.

(3) Your committee recommend that the County engineer be instructed to paint the Young's Point bridge, and also to raise the guard pier above this bridge as high as he thinks advisable.

(4) Your committee recommend that the planking on the Lakefield bridge be turned.

(5) Your committee recommend that the Nassau bridge be repainted, and that guards be placed at the approaches to each end, and also that the County Engineer be instructed to call upon Mr. J. M. Irwin to straighten the grade from the track from this bridge, and to report to this council at its next session.

(6) Your committe recommend that the guard pier above the Otonabee bridge be repaired by the County Engineer as he sees fit.

(7) That the County Engineer be instructed to forthwith call together the joint committee of this council and the town of Peterborough appointed to confer upon the Locks Bridge.

(8) Your committee recommend that the county assume jurisdiction over all bridges lying within any township in this county over fifty feet in length, such length to be calculated from the natural bank of each stream under the ordinary flow of water, and to be finally determined as against all parties by the County Engineer, and that the County Clerk be instructed to prepare a by-law for such purpose.

(9) Your committee recommend that this council build a pier bridge over the Narrows between Harvey and Eanlamore, on a site and according to the plans to be settled by the County Engineer, at a cost to this county of not more than $5,000.

(10) Your committee recommend that a grant of $250, payable to the Commissioner of Crown Lands, be given for expenditure on the South Beckhorn road running from the 14th concession of the township of Smith to Beckhorn, on condition that the Ontario Government and the township of Smith grant a like amount for the same purpose.

(11) Your committee recommend that whereas a committee has heretofore been appointed to build and place a new bridge at the Locks jointly with the town of Peterborough, the power of such committee be extended so as to alter and change the site of such bridge to such place as the committee deem most fit.

Mr. BURNHAM moved, seconded by Mr. Strickland, that the report be referred back to make the length of bridges assumed by the county 100 feet and over.

Mr. KIDD moved an amendment, seconded by Mr. Findlay, that the report be referred back with instructions to make the county responsible for only half of the cost when the bridge does not exceed 100 feet and is over 50 feet, and in any event not until the county Engineer has become satisfied of the necessity of such construction and repairs, and that the Treasurer only pay on certificate of the engineer.

Mr. Kidd's amendment was lost on the following division:—YEAS—Messrs. Walsh, Moore, Kidd, Findlay, Elmhirst, Wild, Brown, Crow and Mansfield—9; NAYS—Messrs. Moloney, Gerbutt, Burnham, Strickland, Hicks, Creagh, Forster, Lang, Sanderson and Fitzgerald—10.

The original motion was then carried.

Mr. STRICKLAND moved, seconded by Mr. Burnham, that the following be added to the 10th clause:—"Provided the Reeve of Smith be appointed commissioner to expend the money."—Carried.

Mr. BURNHAM moved, seconded by Mr. Walsh, that the report be amended to state that any excess of cost of the Harvey bridge over $5,000 be guaranteed by the township of Harvey before the contract be let.—Carried.

The report was adopted as amended.

MOTIONS.

Mr. ELMHIRST moved, seconded by Mr. Findlay, that a special grant of $60 be given to repair the Deer River bridges, provided the county of Hastings give a like sum.—Carried.

A motion of thanks to Mr. C. Young, for his kindness in affording the Council a free trip to Burleigh on Thursday, was carried unanimously.

COUNTY PROPERTY.

Mr. Sanderson read the following report:—The Committee on County Property beg leave to report:

(1) That the county secretary be instructed to furnish the Registry Office with a suitable clock.

(2) That the gaoler be authorized to remove the fence in front of the gaol, and place the same on the south and east sides of the Court House property.

(3) That the Warden and Treasurer be authorized to sell to Mr. James Mayler the interest of this county in lot No. 4, in the 5th concession of Fenelon, in the county of Victoria, at the best price they can get, and to execute all proper conveyances.

(4) That no action be taken with reference to the communication of the Clerk of the town of Peterborough, asking this council to bear one-half of the cost of proposed hydrants on the corner of Murray and College streets, in the town of Peterborough.

The report was adopted.

AN ILLEGAL APPOINTMENT.

Mr. FORSTER read the report of the Committee on Appointments, as follows:—Your committee recommend that the county secretary be instructed to notify the clerk of the town of Peterborough, that this council objects to the appointment of Thomas Cahill, one of there municipal councillors, as arbitrators on behalf of the town of Peterborough re the administration of justice, etc., as the said appointment is illegal.

The report was adopted.

BOARD OF EXAMINERS.

Mr. WALSH read the report of the School Committee:—

(1) That Messrs. J. Stratton, J. C. Brown and Rev. W. C. Bradshaw be the County Board of examiners to examine teachers and give certificates in accordance with statutes in that behalf.

(2) That the report of the County Inspector be received and adopted.

The report was adopted.

FINANCE.

Mr. KIDD read the report of the Finance Committee as follows:—

(1) That the Protestant Home be granted $2300 towards the furnishing of their building.

(2) That a grant of $25 be given to the East Peterborough Farmers' Institute.

(3) That the following accounts be paid:—

(7.) That Mr. D. W. Dumble be granted the sum of $100 in full settlement of his salary for the present year with this Council and that he be paid the sum of $200, his salary for last year.

(9) Your committee recommend that the County Treasurer be instructed to demand from the town of Peterborough all fines, penalties and forfeitures imposed under the Canada Temperance Act of 1878, prior to the 15th day of November, 1887, and received by them but not heretofore paid to this county; and that Mr. D. W. Dumble be instructed if necessary, to take legal proceedings to collect the same on the refusal of the town to pay over the amount.

(11) Your committee recommend that all county officers ordering books, paper and other accounts to be paid by the county shall do so through the County Treasurer.

(12) That the County Treasurer be instructed to furnish instructions to justices and constables as to the proper mode of making and rendering their accounts upon the arrest of prisoners, etc.

(13) Your committee recommend that the payments of the accounts hereto annexed by the treasurer be confirmed.

Mr. WALSH moved, seconded by Mr. Burnham, that the report be referred back to strike out the grant to the Protestant Home because the town council disapproves of expenditure for the purpose for which it is intended, and further for the reason that on account of the attitude of the town council towards the county as regards the Scott Act fines, this council will not make grants to town institutions.—Carried.

Mr. ELMHIRST moved, seconded by Mr. Findlay, that the report be referred back to make the grant to the police magistrate for rent, fuel, blanks, etc., $100 instead of $20, and that the words "as provided by law" be struck out.—Carried.

The report as amended was adopted.

More Sadness for Toronto at Scranton.

SCRANTON, PA., June 26.—Scranton to-day won her second consecutive game from Toronto. The game was the most brilliant and exciting one ever played on the home grounds. Until the third man had been put out in the last half of the ninth innings it was nobody's game. In the last inning Toronto had two men on the bases and only lacked one run of tieing the score, but were unable to do so:

IMPRISONED IN A MINE.

Six Men Intombed in the Gould & Curry Mine, Virginia City.

VIRGINIA CITY, Nev., June 26.—Unavailing efforts were repeatedly made to-day to rescue six miners remaining intombed in the burning Gould & Curry mine, in which five miners lost their lives last night. The fire was extinguished about noon to-day and the cage sent down, but it was driven back after it had reached the 1000 foot level. Relays of miners are tunneling through from the Consolidated Virginia mine and expect to reach the place of the imprisoned miners by noon to-morrow. The damage to the mine from the fire is very slight. It is known that the imprisoned men were alive at 2 o'clock this morning, which has occasioned great energy on the part of the relief parties, holding out hope that the miners may still be alive when the tunnel is completed.

TORONTO CROOKS CAPTURED.

TORONTO, June 27.

On Saturday Detective Reburn added another to his already long list of successful efforts in behalf of the enforcement of the law and the punishment of crime, and probably reached the principal authors and actors in the series of burglaries that have been very frequent of late in this city. These burglaries have extended over a period of two or three months and covered all portions of the city, and were conducted with such skill and boldness as to for a long time utterly baffle the efforts of the official detectives of crime.

Mr. Reburn took charge of the case, and with the assistance of his fellow officers on the detective force has achieved a very considerable success. On Saturday a number of search warrants were obtained and Detectives Cuddy and McGrath visited certain portions of the eastern part of the city, but were unsuccessful. Reburn, Barrows and Acting Detective Cuddy were more successful. They first visited the second-hand establishment of F. Smith, 403 Queen west, where a search was rewarded by the discovery of some $2000 worth of silverware and other valuables, all stolen property. Smith was promptly arrested and landed in the cells, but as it was only about noon, and as there was other work to do, his arrest was kept secret.

At 2 o'clock the detectives visited No. 169 Frank-street east, the residence of one Thomas Jones, a laborer, where a lot more of stolen silverware was obtained. Jones was absent, but Reburn shut up the house and kept Mrs. Jones company until 6.30, when the head of the household arrived, and was promptly invited to pay Court-street a visit, where he was given such accommodation as the cells afford.

The charge against Smith is that he was a "fence," or receiver of stolen goods, and it will be sought to prove that he was also concerned as an active participant in the burglaries. Jones is charged with burglary. The police report that he has already served a term in penitentiary for a similar offence.

A portion of the silverware has been identified as belonging to Mrs. Brodie, No. 2 Elm-avenue, Rosedale, whose house was burglarized on the night of May 2. A tab brush that was part of the proceeds of the burglary of Mr. Macdonald's house on Ceciliast was found with Jones. A large quantity of silverware and other valuables found in the two places have not yet been identified. The owners will probably be discovered to-day. The detective department attach a great deal of importance to the capture of Smith and Jones and believe that it will lead to the entire breaking up of the gang if not to further arrests.

SAVED FROM SUICIDE.

A Woman Arrested at Niagara Falls as She Was About to End Her Life.

NIAGARA FALLS, June 26.—About a week ago a woman took a situation as dish-washer at the International Hotel, Niagara Falls, N.Y. She gave her name as Mrs. Carrington, but appeared much above the ordinary class of servants and would not associate with them. Friday night she had some trouble about her sleeping quarters and seemed despondent all day Saturday. About 5 o'clock on Saturday she came down stairs dressed for going out, and had a small satchel and a bundle done up in a shawl strap. She told one or two that she was tired of life and would commit suicide. She left the hotel by the back way and hurried toward Goat Island. Policeman Haley, who was in the vicinity, was notified and followed in a hack. He overtook her just as she was crossing Bath Island Bridge and arrested her. She made several attempts to get away, but he placed her in a hack and took her to the lockup.

For some time she refused to give any information in regard to herself, but finally admitted that Carrington was not her name but said it was Austin Whitley, that she was a widow, and had a son living. She came from Belgium about a year ago and had resided in Montreal, where she was in a store. In her satchel was a bank book bearing her right name and address, 1745 Notre Dame-street, Montreal. She said she had no friends, was tired of life, and would be better off dead. In her satchel was the name of I. J. Thompson, St. Catharines, who, she said, was her friend, but had left there and gone to Toronto. He was to have come here to-night but she got a letter this morning saying he could not come. Mrs. Whitley is between 35 and 40 years old, tall and fine looking, with light red hair. She is well educated, and has probably seen better days. The lady is now in the lockup awaiting an examination.

Anniversary Services.

The Prize Shoes.

A certain young grocery clerk, in town, sports a pair of shoes that took first prize at the Colonial and Indian Exhibition, in London, last year. They were made by Dack, of Toronto, who sold them to a Peterborough dealer. A clerk with such excellent understanding should command a high salary.

Duty on Crockery and Glassware.

The new tariff, which takes effect to-day, includes an advance in duty of from 5 to 50% on all kinds of crockery, glassware, silver knives, etc. All new goods must pay this advance. The public should, therefore, buy at once anything needed in those lines from China Hall and save the extra duty, as the goods now in stock will be sold at old prices.

Celebrating the Twelfth.

A Jubilee meeting of the Orangemen and True Blues of the county was held in the Orange Hall Saturday night, and arrangements completed for the grand demonstration on July 12th, which will eclipse all former occasions of a similar kind. It will be one of the biggest days in the history of Peterborough.

A Stallion Dies.

The well known stallion "Hobby Noble" owned by Mr. John Dixon, of Otonabee, died at the premises of Mr. John A. Robb, Stony Lake, on Friday last. This was one of the regular stopping places on his route, and soon after his arrival there on Thursday the beast was attacked. A veterinary surgeon from Norwood was at once sent for, but all treatment failed and "Hobby Noble" was dead in 26 hours after his attack. The animal was valued at $600.

The Reciprocity Question.

A farmer's picnic will be held in the town park, Port Hope, on Monday, July 4th, under the auspices of the township of Hope Agricultural Society, at which Erastus Wiman and Hon. Ben. Butterworth, of New York will be present and deliver addresses upon the question of "Unrestricted Reciprocity" between Canada and the United States, a subject which is occupying the attention of the hour. Single fare railway rates have been secured.

"Brother, to thy Grave We Come."

To-morrow afternoon at one o'clock (instead of two, as previously announced), the Oddfellows of the town will assemble at their respective lodge rooms and march to the Central Park, where order of procession will be formed and the march begun to Little Lake Cemetery, where the usual ceremony of decorating the graves of deceased brethren will be performed. The decorations will this year be carried out on a grander scale than ever before. It will be an interesting ceremony indeed.

Here's to Our Member.

"Say," said a citizen to the EXAMINER this morning, "I wish you would enquire when the Spaulding's Bay nuisance is to be alleviated? The stench arising from the stagnant pool this weather is almost intolerable, especially during the heat of the daytime. Sunday afternoon scores of people visited the cemetery and in passing the Bay had to hold their noses. Why doesn't Mayor Stevenson push his "scheme" for the filling in of the Bay? We ratepayers of the South Ward gave him a good majority, and we expect some return for it. Something will soon have to be done about the matter!"

The Locks Bridge.

A petition is being circulated through South Monaghan and Otonabee praying the town and county councils to remove the locks bridge from its present site about half a mile further down stream at the foot of George street. One thousand dollars has been already subscribed for the work by private individuals. The removal is asked for because of the too close proximity of the proposed railway bridge to the structure used for public traffic, which it is feared will be a source of serious trouble to the travelling public.

Exchanged Pulpits.

The transfer of pulpits between Rev. Messrs. Wallace and Tovell has been formally made, and on Sunday both ministers made inaugural and farewell addresses—in the morning addresses of introduction to their new congregations, and in the evening of farewell to the old. It is a rare circumstance for ministers to introduce themselves to new and farewell to old congregations on the same day, and still more rare to make an inaugural address before the final words of parting have been said to the old. Rev. Mr. Wallace becomes pastor of George street church, and Rev. Mr. Tovell of the Charlotte street church. Their new pastoral duties begin this week. Parsonages will be exchanged next week.

No Delusion.

There is no delusion, no discount on the fact of the great cheap sale of Gough, the wonderful cheap man. The bona fide bargains are there in all their stupendous reality. There is no room for doubting the facts. When first-class goods are bought in bulk of $18,500 worth at 40 cents on the $, to be sold by a man who has a reputation to maintain for square dealing and big bargains, the public must expect that they will get the benefit, and they are getting the benefit in bargains such as never before were heard of. Ready-made suits first-class goods, worth at ordinary rates $16, going for $5, and all other styles of suits at similar knock-down prices. These marvellous bargains are being rapidly gobbled up. Call early and secure bargains which will make your cheeks turn pale with emotion. At the Great Gough's, George street.

To KIDD's for boots to boot your kids.

Another Rehearsal.

A grand rehearsal of the Jubilee songs to be sung by the children, Dominion Day, will be held in the skating rink, Thursday evening.

Consolidated Cheese Market.

Nine hundred boxes were offered Friday and sold: 300 to Hodgson Bros., and 600 to Warrington Bros., at 9 1/16 cents.

Ladies' Pantiers with shirt fronts, also the Latest Improved Shapes in Bustles just received at Turnbull's.

The "Magic Queen" at the Opera House.

Had the prices been reduced to 25c. earlier Saturday evening the Opera House would have been jammed. After 8 o'clock, very few persons being in the hall, the 75 and 50c. prices were chopped down to 25c., and for a quarter of an hour a steady stream of humanity poured into the hall and nearly filled it. It was about nine o'clock before the curtain was rung up on the first act of "Zozo," a spectacular drama, but the audience was entirely satisfied with the performance. "Zozo" is a plotless extravaganza, largely composed of bosiery and scenery, full of ridiculous climaxes, funny sayings and hosiery, which kept the audience in almost continual laughter. The scenery was really elegant, and some of the characters well taken indeed, and should Mr. Geo. H. Adams and his company ever produced "Zozo" in Peterborough a crowded house is assured—if some other night but Saturday is chosen and the prices are not too high. There was nothing in the slightest degree objectionable in the entire performance. Miss Laura Hanlon's singing was meritorious and frequently encored. It is the wish of all that "Zozo" should be repeated here at an early date.

Railway Notes.

Samuel Brown, a brakeman on the Grand Junction division, fell from his train Thursday and sustained very severe, if not fatal, injuries. After the freight train left Stirling he went to the caboose and was engaged cleaning the cupola. Two miles south of the village, as the train was rounding a sharp curve, Brown was pitched off, lighting on the ground on his head and shoulder. The conductor at once missed Brown and cut the van loose from the train to pick him up. It was found that his collar bone had been fractured, besides sustaining other injuries. He was taken to his home in Belleville, says the Ontario, and Dr. Wilson called in. Brown suffered all night with concussion of the brain and at times it required the combined strength of four men to keep him in bed. The injured man is 28 years of age, and was the support of his mother and two sisters. He lived on the Canifton road, north of the crossing. His injuries are probably fatal.

Mr. W. Malloch, the engineer who was so severely injured by an accident on the Grand Junction Railroad, a few weeks ago, is now able, with the aid of crutches, to take short walks. He expects to be all right again in the course of a short time. Taylor the fireman has also recovered.

Personal.

Dr. A. M. Rosebrugh, Surgeon to the Toronto Eye and Ear Dispensary, will be at the Grand Central Hotel, Peterborough, Thursday, July 7th. 2d1w

At the commencement of Loretto Abbey, Toronto, Miss Wrighton, daughter of Mr. W. H. Wrighton, again distinguished herself. In English Literature she was awarded the bronze medal presented by Lord Lansdowne. Miss Wrighton was also awarded the gold medal for excellence in English, superiority in drawing and honorable distinction in painting and music. Both Miss Wrighton and her friends are to be congratulated on her eminent success, indicating not only unusual talent, but praiseworthy application and appreciation of her educational advantages.

What is a cold in the head? Medical authorities say it is due to atmospheric germs, uneven clothing of the body, rapid cooling when in perspiration, &c. The important point is, that a cold in the head is a genuine rhinitis, an inflamation of the lining membrane of the nose which, when unchecked, is certain to produce a catarrhal condition—for catarrh is essentially a "cold" which nature is no longer able to "resolve" or throw off. Ely's Cream Balm has proved its superiority, and all sufferers from cold in the head should resort to it before that common ailment becomes seated and ends in obstinate catarrh., eodw26

A meeting of the Treasury Board was held yesterday morning at which, it is understood, the question of superannuating several old members of the service was considered. The names of Messrs. FATAL FIRE IN LONDON.

Several Lives Lost in the Burning of a Tenement House.

LONDON, June 26.—Fire broke out in a tenement house off Oxford-street this morning and the flames spread so rapidly that several of the inmates were unable to make their escape. Several frightful scenes were witnessed by the enormous crowds of people that had been attracted to the spot. One youth jumped from a top story to the ground and was instantly killed. His mother followed him. In her descent she struck upon the railing in front of the house and rebounded on the heads of the crowd. She was conveyed to a hospital.

Another woman appeared at a window holding a child in her arms. A moment later she fell backward into the flames. The charred remains of herself and two children were afterwards discovered.

Sudden Death of Mr. Cimon, M.P.

QUEBEC, June 26.—Some consternation was caused in this city to-day on receipt of news from Murray Bay that Mr. S.-X. Cimon, M.P. for Charlevoix, had died suddenly at 4 this morning. Mr. Cimon was in this city yesterday and appeared in his usual good health. He left by steamer during the afternoon, arriving home about 6 p.m. He retired about midnight, and about 4 this morning took an epileptic fit and died in a few minutes.

The Emperor Recovered.

MERELY OFFICIOUS ACTS.

THE U. S. OFFICERS GO BEYOND THEIR AUTHORITY.

They Have No Instructions From Washington to Enforce the Contract Labor Act Against Laborers From This Side of the Line.

NEW YORK, June 27.—A Washington dispatch to The Herald says it is learned from the Department that no instructions have been given to collectors of customs at ports on the Canadian border to take a census or in any way ascertain the number of men who live in Canada but who work on this side and then cross the border at night. On May 18 Assistant Secretary Thompson wrote to the Collector at Niagara, in reply to his enquiry, calling his attention to the Contract Labor Act of Feb. 26, 1885, and informing him that the Act provides how offenders violating it may be punished. Since that time no further instructions have been given, and if, as alleged by Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, the Dominion Minister of Customs, the collector at Niagara is preventing Canadians from working in this country, or is compiling a list of non-resident workingmen, he is doing so on his own authority.

Secretary Thompson concluded his letter as follows: "If offences have been committed or are threatened, it would not seem that any further regulations on the part of the Treasury Department are necessary in order to enforce the penalties of the statutes."

An Interview with Mr. Bowell.

OTTAWA, June 27.—Mr. Patterson, M.P. for Essex, was in the city to-day and had an interview with Sir John and the Minister of Customs with reference to the action of the United States customs collector at Detroit with regard to Canadians living in Windsor and working in Detroit, a subject to which, it will be remembered, he directed the attention of the House near the end of last session.

Hon. Mr. Bowell stated that the Government had no official knowledge of the matter, but he had seen several items about it in the newspapers and had instructed the customs inspector for that district to investigate and report, not only on any difficulty or inconvenience which had been experienced at Windsor, but also at other places along the border. So soon as this report was received the Government would be in a position to take any action which may be required, and would, if necessary, have the attention of the authorities at Washington called to the matter.

In conversation with Mr. Bowell to-night your correspondent was informed by him that in view of the statement said to have been made by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Thompson to the correspondent of The New York Herald and published in to-night's papers, he (Mr. Bowell) was disposed to think that the trouble had arisen out of a misconstruction by some of the American collectors of the United States Contract Labor Act of 1885, which was never intended to apply to Canada.

Mr. Bowell called attention to an act passed in the last days of the recent session of Parliament, amending chapter 65, section 24, Revised Statutes, with regard to prohibiting the landing of "criminal or other vicious classes." Mr. Bowell said that near the end of the session his attention was directed to a newspaper paragraph in which it was stated that a large number of ex-convicts from the French penal settlement of New Caledonia were being deported to San Francisco, and as it was also stated that they would not be allowed to land there it occurred to him that they would very probably be dumped in British Columbia. He consulted Sir John in the matter and the subject was referred to the Minister of Justice, who at first thought that we had already an act on the statute book, which would prevent the landing in Canada of this very undesirable class, but on reference to the statute it was found that the clause only applied to criminals coming from Europe.

The clause reads as follows: "The Governor-General may by proclamation, whenever it is deemed necessary, prohibit the landing in Canada of any criminal or other vicious class of immigrants during the continuance of the proclamation, except upon such conditions as may be prescribed for returning them to the port in Europe whence they came."

It was therefore proposed to amend the act by striking out the words "in Europe," so as to make it apply generally, and this amendatory act was passed. It will be noticed that it applies only to "criminal and other vicious classes," and similar acts are in force in most civilized countries.

Drowning Accident at Gleneoe.

GLENCOE, June 27.—About 3 p.m. yesterday a young man by the name of Dougald Gillies, aged 23 years, was drowned while bathing in the Thames River, a short distance from Strathern Postoffice. His body was found about 7 o'clock last night. He was a resident of Bismarck, Ont.

Buried Alive in Russia.

From an Ottawa Correspondent London Free.

A horrible case of trance has occurred here, and, owing to the position of the person, has caused considerable sensation. Major Majuroff, an artillery officer and aide-de-camp to the Governor-General of Odessa, aged 36, died, as was supposed, three weeks ago somewhat suddenly and was interred forty hours afterwards. His funeral was marked by much military pomp and by the presence of all the civil and military notables. A few days ago, while the family vault in the necropolis was being renovated for the Russian Feten des Morts, the coffin lid was noticed to have been partly forced open. It was immediately removed and the body was found face downward. The face was dreadfully lacerated and the flesh gnawed from the hands. The corpse was still bleeding, which confirms the statement of a workingman that his attention was first attracted by a noise in the coffin, and the unfortunate major died only on the instant of the appalling discovery.

THE DEAD CHIEF JUSTICE.

EXPRESSIONS OF REGRET FROM THE BENCH AND THE BAR.

Eulogies from the Attorney-General, Chancellor Boyd and Mr. Justice Rose—The Death of Sir Matthew Crooks Cameron a General Topic—The Funeral To-Day.

TORONTO, June 28.

Every day in Toronto has its new topic of conversation and the topic of yesterday, which was regretfully discussed, was the death on Saturday night of Chief Justice Sir Matthew Crooks Cameron. On the streets, in clubs, hotels, places of business, the exchanges, and particularly in the courts it was referred to and many were the regrets expressed at the death of such an upright man.

Chancellor Boyd's Tribute.

The lawyers who gathered in the corridors and rooms at Osgoode Hall yesterday had their feelings fully expressed in these words by Mr. Chancellor Boyd on opening Chambers at 11 o'clock, the members present rising to their feet while His Lordship addressed them:

I cannot begin the business of the day without allusion to the subject of the obituary notice which we have all read in the morning's newspapers. The loss of the distinguished Canadian who has passed away is a great one not to the whole country. It was not my fortune to have much intimate personal and official relations with the late eminent Chief Justice as some of my judicial brethren, but I can testify of my own knowledge to his conscientious and high-minded discharge of his duties, and to the bright, cheerful temperament of his character, even when trouble was upon him. In a public way he ever upheld the dignity and purity of the bench. How manfully, and with what devotion and self-sacrifice he discharged the duties of his high office should never be forgotten. His great stores of energy and learning were ever at the service of his country. It has pleased Providence to remove Chief Justice Cameron before he had long worn the imperial distinction conferred upon him. Never was knighthood more worthily bestowed. He was the very embodiment of the old Knightly idea—one without fear and without reproach. Upon Sir Matthew Crooks Cameron's tomb might fittingly be inscribed the epitaph composed by Lord Lawrence for himself: "Here lies a man who tried to do his duty."

The Attorney-General Speaks.

A large and distinguished representation of the Ontario Bar gathered in Convocation Hall, east wing of Osgoode Hall, at noon in response to a call from the Attorney-General, who was appointed chairman, while Mr. Walter Barwick was requested to perform the duties of secretary.

Attorney-General Mowat spoke most eloquently and pathetically of the dead Chief Justice, whom he always knew as an honest and honorable man, whether as lawyer, judge or politician. He was fortunate in having possessed the friendship of the deceased, and there was consolation in the fact that political differences had never caused a breach between them. The death of Sir Matthew Cameron was a loss to the country, and it would be a long time before there could be found so laborious, able and excellent a judge.

Mr. Æmilius Irving, Q.C., of Hamilton, who had been a student with the late Chief Justice in the office of Mr. Clark Gamble, spoke in a similar strain and, seconded by Mr. James Beaty, Q.C., D.C.L., moved that the Attorney-General, Mr. Christopher Robinson, Q.C., Mr. Hector Cameron, Q.C., Mr. Æmilius Irving, Q.C., Mr. Dalton McCarthy, Q.C., Mr. James Maclennan, Q.C., and Mr. Charles Moss, Q.C., be a committee to draft a resolution of regret at the death of the Chief Justice and sympathy with his family, the resolution of course being unanimously carried.

On motion of Mr. Hector Cameron and Mr. C. Moss it was decided that the Bar should attend the funeral in a body; and on motion of Mr. James Maclennan, seconded by Mr. James Beaty, the society was requested to engross upon its minutes the proceedings of the meeting. It was decided, on motion of Mr. B. B. Osler, Q.C., seconded by Mr. J. H. Morris, Q.C., that the County Law Associations of the province be forwarded by telegraph copies of the resolutions.

AFFAIRS AT OTTAWA.

The Jubilee Committee at the Capital Short of Funds.

OTTAWA, June 27.—It is rumored here that Mr. S. Cimon, son of the late member for Charlevoix, will be the Conservative candidate for the county. Mr. Cimon is a staunch Conservative and his election will be a gain, as his late father during the last session steadily voted with the Opposition, having so voted on the Riel question.

Prof. Saunders will shortly start for Manitoba and British Columbia with a view to locating experimental farms there. He will probably be accompanied by the Minister of Agriculture.

Senator Fortin, who was taken ill some days ago, is as yet unable to leave his boarding house on Victoria-street.

Lieut.-Governor Sir Alex. Campbell attended divine service in St. John's Church yesterday morning.

Mr. Frank Jones, ex-M.P. of Kemptville, is laid up in the General Protestant Hospital with a paralytic stroke.

Nearly 150,000 colonization pamphlets were given to the members during the late session for distribution among their constituents. Mr. Patrick Hardy, superintendent of lighthouses, accompanied by Mr. James Robertson of the Marine Department, starts from Montreal about July 1 in the steamer Canada on his annual trip for furnishing supplies to all the lighthouses between Lake St. Louis and Port Arthur. He will be absent about two months. Mr. Robertson, his assistant, has already gone over the route six times.

The German population of Ottawa has very much increased of late years, and now numbers something like 1000 souls. The small Lutheran Church, which has hitherto been sufficient, is now found to be too small, and it is proposed to erect a handsome new church at a cost of $10,000.

The Canadian Pacific Railway station at Papineauville was entirely destroyed by fire this morning. The cause is supposed to be a spark from a passing engine.

An old man named Villeneauve, an inmate of St. Patrick's Orphan Home, accidentally fell out of a third story window last night and was instantly killed. It was not considered necessary to hold an inquest.

Quite a sensation has been caused in Aylmer, a village in Ottawa County, Quebec, nine miles from Ottawa, by a sermon preached yesterday by Archbishop Duhamel, on the occasion of his blessing the new bell for St. Paul's Church. In this sermon he strongly animadverted on the practice of Catholics, especially young men and girls, forming intimacies with Protestants, and greatly discountenanced such friendly relations. The sermon created quite a sensation, especially among young Catholics who have been in the habit of being on intimate terms with their Protestant neighbors, members of whom from Ottawa spend the summer in Aylmer.

The Ottawa Jubilee Committee is not meeting with very great success, it being short of funds and finding it difficult to raise them. Still, there is hope of the affair being a success. A meeting of the Governor-General's Foot Guards will be held to-morrow evening to arrange for receiving the Royal Scots of Montreal on their arrival here. The children of the Separate Schools will not participate in the jubilee singing exercises, which will form part of the program. The reason of this is said to be the failure of the proper parties to furnish the list of songs in time.

There are no new developments here to-day in the Chapleau matter. There is very little doubt but that Quebec matters were under consideration at the Council meeting to-day, but no announcement was made of anything having been done.

Sir Hector Langevin had an interview with Sir John at Earnscliffe this morning, and after Council Sir Hector Langevin, Sir Adolphe Caron and Hon. Mr. Pope remained together for some time after the other members had left. Mr. Chapleau is expected

THE PRINCES AT DUBLIN.

THE CONSERVATIVE CITIZENS PRESENT THEM WITH AN ADDRESS.

While Passing Through the Streets They are Cheered by the Loyal, but the Disaffected Cry "Coercion" and Cheer for Parnell.

DUBLIN, June 27.—Business was conducted to-day as usual, and Dublin did not seem to take much of a holiday over the arrival of the Princes, Albert Victor and Prince George of Wales. The Corporation Council will hold aloof from participation in the celebration. There was, however, sufficient display of bunting in the streets and of bustle among the Loyalists to indicate that there was public interest in the event.

A military escort and a number of Crown officials and prominent people awaited the arrival of the princes at Kingstown. Several steamers went down the bay to meet and escort the royal boat. The princes arrived at the appointed time, and were received with great enthusiasm. The Marquis of Londonderry met them and the town commissioners presented them with an address. Upon their arrival in Dublin they were presented with an address of welcome by the Conservative citizens. One of the sentiments expressed in this address was as follows:

"We welcome the grandsons of her Majesty the Queen, under whom Ireland has enjoyed the blessings of just laws, true liberty and constitutional government."

Prince Albert Victor responded to the address and then he and his brother with their party proceeded to the Vice-Regal lodge. During the journey through the streets there was much cheering by the crowds, and cries of "Coercion" and cheering for Parnell.

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, June 28.

For the past three years Waterloo County has been infested by a gang of horse thieves, who, until recently, have baffled the officers of the law. Various persons have been arrested during this period, but the evidence was not strong enough to establish their guilt. The officers, however, continued their efforts, and have at last succeeded in running their game to earth. Three weeks ago Chas. Storm, an elderly German, was seen loitering around Berlin, and on Friday night last he was arrested on suspicion. On the day following he was brought before the County Judge and pleaded guilty. Sentence was deferred.

Whilst in fail Storm wrote to one Isaac Carson of Kendal, Ont., and by some means the officers became cognizant of the contents of the letter. Thereupon High Constable Hilliport went to Kendal, and yesterday morning took Carson into custody. Carson at once proceeded to unbosom himself, acknowledging that he had in his possession two horses and a like number of harness sets and a buggy, which he had received from Storm. He also confessed to having disposed of about eighteen horses which had been stolen by Storm from the residents of Waterloo County. Carson was at Police Headquarters last night, and will be taken to Berlin this morning.

Secretary Wells, of the Board of Trade, telegraphed to the Minister of Customs at Ottawa for an interpretation of the words "actually landed," in a recent circular issued by the Customs Department, reading as follows:

Goods which in other respects have complied with regulations re purchase, etc., prior to May 15, which are actually landed in Canada prior to July 1, though they might not have reached inland port of destination may be entered at old rates, provided entry is actually tendered and duty deposited prior to that day.

The Minister's reply received yesterday was to this effect:

Goods within the limits of a port and reported at Customs will be interpreted as landed.

The steamers Hastings and Chicora brought over the Guelph Field Battery from the Niagara camp yesterday. The boys went home in the evening.

ENGLAND AND THE VATICAN.

Diplomatic Relations Between the Two not Contemplated.

LONDON, June 27.—In the House of Commons to-night Sir James Ferguson, Under Foreign Secretary, replying to Mr. Campbell Bannerman, said the order in which the Queen received the ambassadors and envoys on the occasion of her jubilee was devoid of special significance. The Papal envoy was received somewhat earlier than some of the others. The audiences appeared in the Court Circular in the order in which they were held. The mission of the Papal envoy was confined to offering congratulations to the Queen. W. H. O. Smith, replying to Mr. Johnston, M.P. for South Belfast, said that no proposal to establish diplomatic relations between England and the Vatican had ever been contemplated, nor had any such proposal been made to or by the Government.

London Stock and Money Market.

LONDON, June 28.—Discount was firmer and more active during the past week at 1⅛ to 1⅛. On the Stock Exchange business was very limited, every department being dull and weak. On Monday the settlement begins and after that more activity is expected. American railroad securities were distinctly lower, everything dropping daily, excepting the Vanderbilt stocks, which remained fairly steady. The actual business done throughout the week was unusually small. The New York panic only slightly affected the markets, the chief decrease cabled being in stocks that are not dealt in on this side. English investors showed no disposition to part with the better class of stocks under a feeling of confidence, American railroad earnings appearing favorable and general business sound.

WAR ON THE BUCKET SHOPS.

An Attempt will be Made to Close up These at Montreal.

MONTREAL, June 28.—War has been declared here by large grain and stock operators against the bucket shops, and an attempt will be made to close them up. This has been brought about by alleged dishonest dealing of one of the largest firms, which refuses to pay profits amounting to $17,000 in one case and in another to $9000 on a pork deal. An indictment was laid before the grand jury on a charge of gambling, but was thrown out. Now civil proceedings will be instituted to place the concern in insolvency. The prime mover against the bucket shops is A. Kissock, a leather merchant. He is backed by others, who claim to have been swindled. The shop in question has forty-two branches in Canada, and has coined money everywhere. It has ruined several parties here.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failedyou, you may depend upon this for certain. eod w

ASSISTED IMMIGRATION.

In spite of all the protests made by the parties most directly interested—the working men and labouring classes—the Dominion Government still persists in continuing its policy of assisted immigration. The pauper and criminal population of the mother country, which can truthfully and literally be described as leaving the country for the country's good, is dumped upon our shores to swell our list of paupers which have to be maintained by the taxes paid by those who work, and increase the ranks of the criminals who prey on the property of the honest, and people our prisons, thus adding additional items of expense. If all the assisted immigrants who land upon our shores were capable and willing workers their being brought at the public expense would be a great injustice. The laboring man has difficulty enough as it is to get steady employment without contributing of his scanty wages to the importation of foreigners who will render his chance of getting work more precarious, or, at least, will glut the market and still further reduce wages. It is no wonder that in the old country the authorities are in high glee over the policy of the Dominion Government assisting to dump their criminals and paupers into Canada. A telegram to the London Times of recent date, noting the shipment of 400 families, states:—

"The police authorities regard the relief afforded by assisted passages to Canada as one of the best means for insuring the peace of the districts, as it is for the most part only those dependent on precarious employment who engage in lawless proceedings."

It is rather cool to gloat over the success of the plan of transferring criminals and paupers to Canada. In every town immigrant compete in the labor market with old established citizens—ratepayers—who can't get a job, because they want a day's pay for a day's work, whereas the very men whom a portion of their hard earned money in the way of Dominion taxes, helped to come to Canada, cut under them in price and cut them out of work. The Dominion government has appropriated this year $279,925 for immigration purposes, of which $200,000 is directly devoted to assisting immigrants to reach our shores. The honest, industrious laboring classes of Canada have to contribute their share of the cost of bringing old country paupers and criminals to Canada, to either compete with them in the labor market or to be maintained in our prisons or prey upon the substance of the honest and industrious.

Peterborough's Parliament.

Regular Meeting of the Town Council—Spaulding's Bay and the Locks Bridge—Mr. Edwards' Salary Again.

Mayor Stevenson and Councillors Hartley, Kendry, Menzies, Douglass, Moore, Yelland, Stenson, McNeil, McNaughton, Davidson and Cahill, attended the council meeting Monday evening.

THE MUD LAKE ROAD.

The MAYOR stated that in reply to the council's petition to the government to prohibit the removal of the rails from the Mud Lake branch of the C. P. and M. B. R., a clause had been inserted in the bill giving the purchasers no more privilege than they obtained by the sale. Mayor Stevenson also said he had been told by Mr. Bell, on behalf of the G.T.R., that the company intended to run that branch of the railway themselves.

THE LOCKS BRIDGE.

Mr. Geo. Stewart, Warden of the County, Mr. Deyell, Reeve of South Monaghan, Mr. Dawson Kennedy and Mr. Rose, appeared before the council to request the removal of the locks bridge from its present site to the 14th concession line of Otonabee, at the end of George street. At present it was situated alongside the proposed new railway bridge, and the road on the west side ran alongside the proposed railway track for half a mile, and this would be a serious inconvenience to persons travelling over the road. The farmers of Otonabee and Monaghan would save at least a mile's travel every time they came to town. The bridge would have to be repaired or rebuilt anyway, and it would be better for all parties to have it removed. Messrs. Stewart and Kennedy spoke on the subject, clearly setting forth the advantages derivable from the change.

Mr. MENZIES moved, seconded by Mr. Kendry, that the proposition of moving the Locks Bridge to the feet of George street be referred to the joint committees of the town and county to report to this council.—Carried.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Messrs. Jas. Stratton and J. J. Hall, auditors, reporting having examined the Treasurer's books and found everything satisfactory except in the difference of opinion as to whom rightly belonged the Scott Act fines, the town or county, and suggesting the advisability of the council taking some steps to settle the differences.—Referred to the Finance Committee.

From Mr. E. A. Peck, on behalf of Mr. R. Phelan, protesting against the raising of the new Simcoe street bridge higher (as is proposed) than the old bridge stood, as the street had already been raised from time to time until the crown was higher than the foot of the entrance to Mr. Phelan's hotel; and threatening proceedings of injunction to restrain if the attempt was made to do so.—Referred to the Finance Committee.

An account of Mr. J. D. Baptie of $45, for doors for the fire hall, was paid.

STRAIGHTENING THE GRADE.

Mr. CAHILL introduced a by-law to establish the grades of certain portions of George, Reid, Murray and Smith streets, according to plans prepared by Mr. Rubidge, town engineer. The by-law received its first reading, and in committee of the whole a motion for the committee to rise and ask leave to sit again, in order to allow the councillors to examine the plans and inform themselves thereabout, was passed.

PLACING A SWITCH.

Mr. MOORE moved, seconded by Mr. Douglass, that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company be and are hereby permitted and authorized to lay and place a branch of their railway track across Dalhousie street and Water street in the town of Peterborough, so as to connect the main line of their railway by a switch with the premises of John Carnegie known as the "Romaine Brick Factory," the said railway company to place their said track over the said street in a proper manner with the necessary grading to the track and to plank between the rails; and that the Mayor and Clerk of the town do sign and seal this resolution to give it the force of a by-law.

The motion passed without opposition.

ASHBURNHAM'S DEBT.

Mr. MCNEIL moved, seconded by Mr. McNaughton, that the clerk prepare a statement of the village of Ashburnham's indebtedness to the town for supplying the said village with fire protection, and ask for a prompt settlement of the same.—Carried.

SPAULDING'S BAY NUISANCE.

Mr. McNaughton brought up the matter of the nuisance existing at Spaulding's Bay, into the south end of which parties were in the habit of dumping all sorts of refuse. The stink was fearful. Mr. McNaughton wanted the Board of Health to take the matter in hand.

Mr. CAHILL moved, seconded by Mr. Davidson: Ordered, that the Board of Health be instructed to take steps at once to remove the nuisance existing at the south end of Spaulding's Bay.—Carried.

Mr. DAVIDSON moved, seconded by Mr. Cahill, that the street inspector be instructed to draw all the coal slack he can get to Rink Street to cover the nuisance existing there.—Carried.

SCOTT ACT FINES.

Mr. McNEIL introduced a motion instructing the Finance Committee to take immediate steps to secure from Mr. D. Daniell the fines for Scott Act convictions yet in his hands. The motion was allowed to drop, the majority of the councillors being of opinion that it would be safer to await the action of the County Council against the town to secure all the fines.

POLICE SECURITIES.

Mr. DAVIDSON made a motion that the police constables provide securities as per by-law. Mr. Davidson said the policemen had not as yet done so, and as it was the wish of this Council that they should, they ought to be called upon to do so at once.—Carried.

TRAM APPOINTMENT.

Mr. CAHILL introduced a motion, in view of the recent action of the County Council in objecting to his (Mr. Cahill's) appointment as arbitrator for the town, to have the Clerk correspond with the County Council and enquire who would be acceptable to them, so that the Council might comply with their wishes.—Carried.

INSURANCE RATES.

Mr. MCNEIL moved, seconded by Mr. Stenson, that the Clerk write R. McLean, Secretary of the Fire Underwriters, Association, Toronto, asking what action the Association have taken upon the application of of this council asking to have our insurance rate placed in Class B.—Carried.

A MUCH-TALKED-OF SUBJECT.

Mr. KENDRY moved, seconded by Mr. Hartley, that the town treasurer be instructed to pay to E. B. Edwards the sum of $700 for services rendered in connection with the enforcement of the Canada Temperance Act to 1st May, 1887.

There was the usual amount of discussion on this matter which has been before the council several times before. Several Councillors spoke on the subject, the discussion falling back on the police force, who were condemned in round terms for their neglect of duty in the collecting of fines and enforcing the Act.

Mr. Kendry withdrew his motion, and the following resolution was carried:—

Mr. MOORE moved, seconded by Mr. Yelland, that the members of the police force be required to collect and pay to the treasurer of the town without delay the amounts of all warrants in their hands, and that this matter be referred to the committee on police.

WEEDS AND THISTLES.

Mr. MOORE moved, seconded by Mr. Douglass, that the Street Inspector be instructed to have the weeds and thistles on all the streets cut down.—Carried.

HALF THE COST.

Dr. Burnham and Mr. F. E. Bell appeared before the council soliciting a grant of half the cost of erection of the jubilee tower in the Court House Park, $36, the other half having been provided by the county council. The request was granted.

TO BE SOLD.

Mr. MCNEIL moved, seconded by Mr. Stenson, that the Chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee be instructed to have the old hook and ladder truck sold.—Carried.

FINALE.

Mr. DAVIDSON moved, seconded by Mr McNaughton, that a sidewalk be placed on Stewart street, from Perry street south to houses on east side of same.—Carried.

The council then adjourned for three weeks.

Riding Plough.

BRANTFORD, Ont., June 20th, 1887.

To the Editor of the Examiner, Peterborough.

DEAR SIR:—Our attention has been directed to some articles on Riding Ploughs in your paper, which require some statements from us to place ourselves right before our Peterborough customers.

Re the article, "Peter Hamilton Ahead," we have to say that no test trial took place, nor was there any arrangements for or judges appointed for any. Also had there been any intention of so doing the Cockshutt Plough Company's agents certainly would not have ploughed gravel streets with a thirteen inch share against a ten inch on the Peter Hamilton Sulky Plow, as was the case in the instance referred to, which was merely a voluntary exhibition of the work to be done by either.

The writer of the above mentioned article evidently does not know the difference between Sulky and Riding Ploughs, which have been our speciality for the past seven years, and our experience certainly should have helped us to produce an article now that we can confidently say is the Best Riding Plough in America for practical work to the farmer, for which we refer all who are intending to purchase to the evidence and reports of those who have tested the merit of this truly excellent article which is not an "imported design" but a Canadian patent and invention. We, also, constantly keep on hand at our agencies a full supply of our castings which can be furnished at a moment's notice.

Yours truly,
COCKSHUTT PLOW CO. (LIMITED.)

The Last of the T.A.A.C.

Three cups and a silk flag, the property of the lately disbanded Toronto Sailing Skiff Club and already twice won by Mr. Kilgour's Barb, were sailed for finally on Saturday and now become the property of the third time winner, Mr. Kilgour. The race was a beauty and the wind, being of the steady order for most of the club, and its closeness may be realized from the fact that at no time during the entire triangular course—from the Club house to a buoy off Hanlan's to spar buoy at the gap, twice around, some seven miles—not more than a few boat lengths separated the fleet and nearly all times, and Mr. Kilgour's Barb only beat Mr. Denison's Queen Scatter 20 seconds. Mr. Mearns's Eva, the other starter, was out of the race after the first half mile. It is to be regretted the Argonaut Sailing Fleet looses the Barb, which leaves for Montreal in a few days, her owner having been transferred to the Merchants' Bank in that City.

POLISH FIRE ON STRIKERS.

An Attempt to Shoot Non-Union Men off Worth Its Exertion.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., June 27.—At 7 o'clock this morning nearly every laborer in the city left his work at the command of several union labourers, and a paralyzing strike was inaugurated for nine hours' work at $1.75 per day. The strikers number about four hundred, and are principally "Mackinbergers," as they are termed. As soon as the men left work the contractors commenced importing a few non-union men to fill the vacancies.

Late in the forenoon a crowd of strikers appeared in the parts of the city where the non-union men were working and in small gangs forced them off. At a sewer on Goodman street the strikers tried to stop an engine which a crowd of laborers was trying to start, and after sharp fight they were driven off.

This afternoon matters remain unchanged on Goodman street, which is being improved. A mass of 50 strong intimidating men at work there forced them to quit. Several arrests by the police was kept up to the close. The most serious trouble the strikers who finding their places filled upon the non-unionists, chasing them down the street. Two policemen who arrested Ireland, a striker, were attacked by the crowd and rescued. Ireland was then shot through the leg. It is now reported that two others were shot, one had his head split open by a brick. One of these is now reported as dead. The city is quiet to-night but more trouble is feared.

CONSTABLE BROTHERS FINED.

The Hamilton Magistrate Decides That He Assaulted Mrs. Zimmerman.

HAMILTON, June 27.—The Magistrate gave his decision this morning in the charge against Scott Act Constable Brothers of Milton for assaulting Marian Zimmerman. He overruled the objection that the defendant had no power to make the arrest on the ground that the warrant was not backed before the arrest as the distance between the place where the warrant was issued and the Hamilton and Northwestern Station was not more than seven miles. He held, however, that according to section 66 of chapter 178 of the Revised Statutes of Ontario, the defendant had no power to arrest the complainant in Hamilton under a warrant of commitment, after the return of a warrant of distress, where it is issued in another county. He accordingly fined Brother $50 and costs or thirty days.

THE ROTHSAY CONVENTION.

The Instrument Will Not be Ratified Until July 4.

LONDON, June 27.—The Morning Post says the Egyptian negotiations have reached an acute stage. France threatens to break off diplomatic relations with the Porte and recalls her claims regarding the protection of the Oriental holy places if the convention be ratified, while Russia demands recompense in the direction of Erzeroum. The Porte, therefore, asks England whether in the event of the ratification of the convention Turkey can rely upon the fulfilment of the convention relating to Cyprus. A reply to this note has not yet been received at Constantinople.

Turkey Granted a Delay.

LONDON, June 27.—Sir James Fergusson, Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, announced in the House of Commons this afternoon that Turkey had urgently asked England to consent to a postponement until July 4 of the former's ratification of the Anglo-Turkish Egyptian convention, and that England had consented.

They rushed into the parlor and found their daughter in a swoon upon the floor, with the blood flowing from a bullet hole in the head. Jetel says he was asleep with his head in the lap of the girl when the shot was fired and that she committed suicide. Jetel is in jail on a charge of murder.

The Ward Workers Filled With Fear.

BALTIMORE, June 27.—Judge Duffy to-day sentenced Charles W. Owens, Isaac Waters, John Brandon, John B. Sanner and Wm. J. Byrnes, judges and clerks of election in the First Ward, to two years each in jail.

James H. Hamlin, judge in Eighteenth Ward, was sentenced to two years in jail and fined $100. All of them were convicted of fraud in the last municipal election. The sentence has created consternation among the ward politicians.

Death on the Rail.

A Young Brakesman Killed on the C. P. R. at Norwood.

A shocking accident occurred at Norwood yesterday afternoon, whereby a young man named Pinkerton met a horrible death. Pinkerton was brakesman on the C. P. R., and lived at Toronto. He has been employed on the road only about two or three weeks. He was working on the way freight which passed through Peterborough eastward about 1:20 in the afternoon, and at Norwood, in boarding the train as it was pulling out of the station, reached for the front steps of the van, instead of the rear as is usually done. Somehow he missed his footing and fell beneath the wheels, which passed over the hip of his right leg, the ankle of the left leg, and near the shoulder of the right arm, horribly mangling his body. Medical assistance was useless, and after lingering four or five hours in agony he expired. Before passing away the young man dictated a letter to his brother, living in Bruce county. Deceased was a young man about 28 years of age, and unmarried.

Every member of the above committee is requested to meet in the Masonic Hall, on Wednesday evening, 29th instant, at 7 o'clock sharp.

Examiner Bindery.

Merchants and business men, now is the time to call at the EXAMINER bindery and leave your orders for journals, day books, ledgers, invoice books, cheque books, and all blank books used in business. Don't wait till the moment you want to use them. All blank books last longer for not being used immediately after being finished.

Nocturnal Sports.

It is understood the directors of the P. A. A. A. intend having four electric lights placed in the Ashburnham grounds for the purpose of holding sports in the evenings during the summer months, avoiding the inconvenience arising from the intense heat of the day. The sports will be of the usual character. Several gentlemen of the town, patrons of sport, have contributed medals for competition, and the novelty of the thing should attract a large crowd. Look out for the announcements.

Becoming the Regatta.

A fine programme of events for the regatta on Little Lake on the afternoon of July 1st, in connection with the Jubilee celebration, was prepared at Monday night's meeting of the Otonabee Canoe Club. Committees were appointed to make final preparations, and this regatta will doubtless be one of the finest ever held in Peterborough. The club's boat-house, next Mr. English's, is now ready for use. There are forty-two racks in the boat-house, the majority of which were sold at Monday night's meeting.

Poisoned by Hellebore.

This morning the members of the family of Mr. H. C. Rogers, postmaster, had an unpleasant experience with powdered hellebore. An omelette had been prepared for breakfast, the cook having used powdered hellebore instead of pepper, there being no difference in appearance between the two substances. All who partook of the poisoned dish were affected unpleasantly—Miss Rogers and Miss Cuddy of Cobourg, niece of Mr. Rogers, dangerously for a time, but the prompt application of suitable treatment by the family physician brought recovery. All effected are now doing well.

The Town Council "Sees" the County Council.

Monday evening Dr. Geo. Burnham who is one of the most active and energetic directors of the Horticultural Society, waited upon the Town Council and secured a companion grant of $33 to that of the County Council to defray the cost of the electric light tower in Court House Park. The Society is, therefore, relieved of the expense of this tower and can devote the funds thus represented to its more immediate objects. It is doing a good work, and, it is to be hoped, that to corporate appreciation will be added the active co-operation of the citizens generally.

Hazel Brae.

There are Socials and Socials! The one held last evening in the beautiful grounds of Dr. Barnardo's "Home" was specially enjoyable. Good music and brilliant light within and without, bazaar stalls and dainty flower stands, appetizing refreshments tables, gala robes and smiling faces made an altogether attractive and pleasant time. Such ample provision had been made that a quantity of cake, lemonade and fruit was left and was given to Mrs. Annesley to be used in the "Home." Captain and Mrs. Annesley desire on behalf of Dr. Barnardo and the staff at "Hazel Brae," most warmly to thank the ladies of the committee for their most kind efforts to benefit the "Home," and also the many friends whose presence so largely contributed to the success and enjoyment of the evening.

The Decoration Proceedings.

Within the past week public attention has been closely called to the subject of decoration. For the jubilee occasion the decorations were magnificently beautiful, abundant and appropriate. To-day the Oddfellows carried out the solemn ceremony of decorating the last resting places of their deceased brethren. All this decoration has only a sentimental side, and touching and becoming as it is, it fails to fulfil the conditions of these practical days. A much more practical manner of decorating is to go at once to gough, the wonderful cheap man, and get one of his cheap, nobby and tasteful suits, at 40 cents on the $, for the decoration of the human form divine. An $18,500 stock to select from at prices of fabulous cheapness. Big bargains, tip-top clothing, and a spanking boom now on at gough's, george street.

A TOUCHING TRIBUTE.

Peterborough Oddfellows Honoring Deceased Brethren.

An Impressive Ceremony at Little Lake Cemetery.—Beautifying the Graves of Deceased Oddfellows.—General Participation by the Public.

To-day (Tuesday) was observed as the annual decoration day by Peterborough Oddfellows, who ceremoniously decorated the graves of departed brethren in Little Lake Cemetery with flowers.

At one o'clock the members of Otonabee and Peterborough lodges assembled at their respective lodge rooms, and marched to the Central Park, where order of procession was formed as follows:—

Fire Brigade Band.
(Major) R. W. Bell, Marshall.
Junior Members of Local Lodges.
Senior Members of Local Lodges.
Officers of United Lodges.
Mount Hebron Encampment.
Visiting Brethren.
Past Officers.
Local Noble Grands.

As the procession marched down George Street, en route to the cemetery, it presented an imposing appearance—each officer wearing full regalia, with jewels and bouquets, every member wearing a badge and a handsome bouquet, their silk hats glistening in the sun, forming a striking contrast to their sombre black suits, with the band resplendent in uniform at their head. A number of visiting brethren from Lindsay, Cobourg, and other places were present. The streets were lined with spectators, who evinced the utmost interest in the proceedings.

Arrived at the cemetery, the Oddfellows formed a circle in front of the chapel, when Bro. T. Workman, Noble Grand of Otonabee Lodge, opened the proceedings, followed by Bro. J. L. Hughes, Chaplain, in prayer. After a hymn had been sung, the visiting brethren broke off in files of four, each group visiting a grave, the brother depositing the floral offering, uttering these words:—"In respectful remembrance I deposit these flowers on Brother ———'s grave."

Bro. Judge J. B. Hall, ex-M. P., 1st N. G., Otonabee Lodge.
" Sheriff W. S. Conger, ex-M. P., 2nd N. G., Otonabee Lodge.

The cemetery after the ceremony had been completed was truly beautiful. In addition to the floral offerings of the Oddfellows, large numbers of private citizens had visited the necropolis during the forenoon and deposited their flowers until the usual prettiness of the place was increased tenfold.

On re-assembling in front of the chapel, a hymn was sung, and Bro. W. A. Stratton, N. G. of Peterborough lodge, made an appropriate address, followed by the Chaplain of Peterborough lodge, Bro. W. Smith in prayer. The procession then reformed and returned to the lodge rooms, where the usual votes of thanks were passed to those who had contributed flowers, etc. The Oddfellows desire to credit the following donations of flowers:—

Rev. Clementi, beautiful basket cut flowers, for Oddfellows.
Mrs. Sheriff Hall, two hand bouquets, Peterborough Lodge.
Mrs. J. Carey, one bouquet for Oddfellows.
Mr. A. Clegg, lot cut flowers for Peterborough Lodge.
Mrs. Geo. Statham, two baskets lovely cut flowers for Otonabee Lodge.

Mrs. James Kendry, lot of handsome flowers for Peterborough Lodge.
Mrs. Robert Fife, flowers for Peterborough Lodge.
Mrs. Wm. Spence, flowers for Peterborough Lodge.
Mrs. Sanderson Smith, flowers for Peterborough Lodge.
Mrs. John Sawers, three beautiful links of flowers for Peterborough Lodge.
Miss Chamberlain, lot of handsome flowers for Otonabee Lodge.
Mrs. R. Cooney, Ashburnham, six beautiful hand bouquets, two wreaths, one sickle, and one crescent for the Oddfellows; also handsome bouquets for the band.
Mrs. John Burnham, Ashburnham, six bouquets for the Oddfellows.

NOTES.

The day was pretty warm for marching, but the route was well sprinkled, so no great inconvenience was felt.

The steamer Golden Eye ran from Peterborough wharf to the cemetery every five minutes during the afternoon. Fare, 5 cents.

A Graceful Presentation.

The Congregation of the George Street Methodist Church Make a Present to Mrs. Tovell.

On Monday evening about fifty members of the congregation of the George street Methodist church assembled at the parsonage, London street, to make a presentation to Mrs. Tovell, and to pay a parting tribute of respect to her and their late pastor, Rev. Mr. Tovell.

Mr. Geo. Hilliard, ex-M.P., acted as spokesman, and said, addressing Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Tovell, that the company had assembled with sadness to bid them farewell. The inexorable law of the church, to which both pastor and people dutifully bowed, had brought to a close the pleasant and profitable pastoral relations of the past three years. The prayers of the congregation would follow them to the Charlotte street Methodist church, while at the same time they would remember with gratitude the benefit they had received from Mr. Tovell's ministrations and the earnest co-operation of Mrs. Tovell in church work. They would not be lost to them, but he was glad to say the usual Sabbath privileges of listening to Mr. Tovell's sermons would remain. He alluded to the high appreciation of Mr. Tovell's work and labor of love as shown in the unanimous call from his present congregation, without a dissenting voice, and while the late congregation submitted, their best wishes and prayers follow them to their new field of labor. In recognition of past services and as a slight token of the love and esteem of the congregation, Mrs. Tovell was asked to accept a present of a tea set with the best wishes of the donors who felt a sorrowful pleasure in thus testifying their love and esteem, and recognizing her faithful services in connection with the church.

Rev. Mr. Tovell, on behalf of Mrs. Tovell and himself, replied as follows:—

DEAR FRIENDS:—I do not intend to affect surprise at your coming as we knew some days ago you intended attacking the parsonage in this way; and knowing you so well we did not think it necessary to blockade the place to keep you out for your weapons, we were sure were, harmless. Neither are we surprised at the elegance and excellence of your gifts on this occasion, not that we merit them at all, but we knew that anything you undertook to do would be done according to the measure of your hearts, and not of our merits.

I wish I could express the gratitude we feel on account of your presence here to-night. It is an unspeakable comfort to realise that we are among friends, and friends whom we shall never forget, but ever remember with delight. Your kindness and fidelity to us at this time yield us a satisfaction more than I can find language to express. Much as we shall prize these rich and beautiful presents, yet the kindness that underlies this generous offering will be the greater value to us. These lines of Shakespeare will often come to us as we look on these presents.

"The friends thou hast and their adoption tried, Grapple them to thy soul with hooks of steel"

Your cordial remarks in regard to the continuance of our stay in Peterborough for another term of three years, deeply affects us, and I can assure you that such remarks and such expressions of friendship, together with the warm greetings already received from leading members of the church I shall have charge of henceforth, leave me without a a doubt as to the wisdom of our decision, and I shall hope to still labor among you with great joy by the will of God.

I would be doing Mrs. Tovell an injustice did I not specially thank you for your kind remembrance of her in your tokens of good will. She has done what she could in the church, and I believe God has blest her work, especially among the young girls in her class, in whom she has a deep interest. Her anxieties this year have been almost more than she could bear, but God has greatly sustained her, and this assurance of your sympathy and goodwill will serve greatly to lighten her cares and add to her joys during our continued stay in Peterborough.

Again thanking you, dear friends, for these generous tokens of your regard, and assuring you of our warm love for you all, our prayer is that God the Father, who loves us and comforts us always, may keep you in the knowledge and love of His Son, and bring us all at last to dwell with Him in His excellent glory for His Name's sake.

The presents consisted of a splendid silver tea set of five pieces and a beautiful silver fruit dish with rich amberine bowl, the best product of China Hall. The collection made a valuable gift, worthy of the occasion. After the presentation the company enjoyed themselves in social intercourse and musical recreation, Mrs. Wilbur, Daly and Mrs. Thompson giving solos and the company generally engaging in singing. At an early hour the gathering dispersed after prayer by Rev. Mr. Tovell and farewell salutations.

FIELD BATTERY PRACTICE.

The Welland Canal Boys Ahead So Far—Result of the Officers' Competition.

Last week six batteries competed in the annual gun practice of the field batteries of the Dominion. The Kingston corps will fire to-day and to-morrow, and early in July the contests in Quebec and the other provinces will be concluded. During the shooting last week there was a heavy wind, but otherwise the weather was fine. The sun was successful in peeling off the skin from many foreheads and faces. Capt. C. W. Drury of "A" Battery was executive officer. Lieut. Irving, Toronto Garrison Battery, was range officer, and Capt. Donaldson acted as register keeper. Scott's improved sight was used, but the firing was below the average of last year. Below is the score of each corps, the Welland men coming out ahead by one point:

Dundas County Agriculturalists Opposed to Commercial Union.

IROQUOIS, Ont., June 28.—At a largely attended meeting of the Dundas County Farmers' Institute, held at Brinston Corners to-day, Dr. Harkness in the chair, Mr. Adam Harkness of Iroquois, Reeve of Matilda, moved, seconded by S. C. Doran of Matilda:

1. That it is in the interests of the farming community to give such reasonable encouragement to other industries as will tend to increase the consuming population and furnish an enlarged home market for the surplus produce of the farm.

2. That it is desirable to promote trade with all foreign countries, especially such as do not produce a sufficient food supply for themselves.

3. That while it would be desirable, and in some respects in the interests of the Canadian farmer, to secure greater freedom of trade with the United States, the similarity of the surplus products of the two countries renders it improbable that any considerable advantage would result. The abrogation of the Reciprocity Treaty in 1866, by stimulating our people to seek direct trade with the consumers instead of shipping through American channels, has been advantageous rather than otherwise to the farmers in this part of Canada.

4. That no arrangement whereby we would yield control over [illegible] would interfere with our right to make treaties with such countries as might afford a market for our surplus products, would be acceptable to the farmers of Canada.

5. That we desire to enter an earnest protest against the continued disparagement of the farmers of this country now so commonly indulged in by professing friends and to express the [illegible] that they are [illegible] those of any other country.

It was moved in amendment by M. D. Willard, a member of the Executive Committee of the Central Farmers' Institute, seconded by W. A. Whitney, M.A., Morrisburg:

That in the opinion of this Dundas County Farmers' Institute, a removal of the restrictions on trade between the Dominion of Canada and the United States is desirable on a fair and equitable basis, either by a reciprocity treaty or otherwise as may be agreed upon by the Governments of Canada, Great Britain and the United States respectively.

Dr. Bisbey, M.P., Adam Harkness and Dr. Harkness spoke to the original motion, while M. D. Willard, W. A. Whitney, Jas. Clark and others dealt with the amendment.

The amendment was put first and then Mr. Harkness' motion, which was carried by a large majority. Dundas County is one of the oldest and wealthiest in Canada, and this pronunciation against commercial union is the result of a thorough understanding of the objects of the Willardites.

CUNNING LOUIS VIAU.

The Man who Headed the Revolt at St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary.

MONTREAL, June 28.—Louis Viau, the famous occupants of St. Vincent de Paul, again made a cunning attempt to liberate himself a few days ago. It appears that he had by some means loosened all the bricks in the wall of his cell and carried out the debris in his pockets, which he dispersed outside in the recreation grounds. His behavior the last few days was particularly buoyant and attracted the attention of the keepers. During meal time yesterday his cell was examined and it was found that only a few loose bricks stood between the prisoner and liberty. He was immediately placed in a different cell and put under irons.

A NOBLE MAN'S FUNERAL.

JUDGES, CLERGY AND OTHER EMINENT MEN IN THE PROCESSION.

A Memorable But Sad Event—The Distinguished Pallbearers and the Names of Many of the Gentlemen in Attendance—The Last of Chief Justice Cameron.

TORONTO, June 29.

In St. James' Cemetery yesterday there was interred the body of one of Canada's greatest sons and one of her Bench's most brilliant ornaments, Sir Matthew Crooks Cameron, Chief Justice of the Common Pleas Division of the High Court of Justice of Ontario. Not for years has such a funeral been seen in Toronto, the Bench, Bar, medical and other professions, clerical, government and civic noteworthies and citizens generally turning out in strong forces. The funeral took place from the residence of the deceased's son Dr. Irving Cameron, Sherbourne and Gerrard streets.

The remains were laid out in the drawing room in a casket covered with black cloth and having heavy silver handles. On the lid was a plate with the inscription:

SIR MATTHEW CROOKS CAMERON.
Born, Oct. 2, 1808.
Died, June 28, 1887.

The body was attired in the regular black suit of a judge. Many of those present entered the house and took a last look at the familiar face of the widely known and popular Chief Justice. A service was held in the house at 2 o'clock, Rev. Alex. Sanson of Trinity Church officiating, and at 2.30 the casket was carried to the hearse by four of Undertaker Young's assistants, these pallbearers, wearing sashes of heavy corded black silk, following:

Chief Justice Hagarty,	Mr. Justice Rose.
Chief Justice Wilson.	Mr. Æ. Irving, Q.C.
Chancellor Boyd.	Mr. C. Robinson, Q.C.
Mr. Justice Gait.	Mr. Duncan Macdonnell, Q.C

The chief mourners were the late Chief Justice's sons, Dr. Irving Cameron, Mr. Ross Cameron and Mr. Douglas Cameron; his grandsons, Matthew and Fred Cameron; his son-in-law, Dr. W. A. Wright; Messrs. W. Wedd, sr., W. Wedd, jr., John Wedd and M. Wedd, relatives by his late wife; Dr. Strathy and Messrs. Winder Strathy, Stuart Strathy, W. Strathy, Frank Strathy and Mr. Berthon; Dr. Daniel Mc. Michael, Q.C., and Messrs. John McMichael and Mr. Cook; Dr. H. H. Wright and Messrs. H. S. Scadding, Anthony and Edward Crease, Robt. Wilson and McNair.

The hearse was preceded by a carriage containing Rev. Mr. Sanson, and by three others containing the pallbearers, and followed by a string of carriages that extended for several blocks. The Law Association walked and made a most creditable turn out. The cortege proceeded to St. James' Cemetery by way of Sherbourne, Wellesley and Parliament streets. At the cemetery the service was conducted by Canon Dumoulin and Rev. Mr. Sanson, after which interment took place. Among those who accompanied the remains to the grave were:

THEY WANT THE REWARD.

Two Philadelphia Detectives after Wilson, the Forger.

TORONTO, June 29.

There is every prospect of a fight between the two Philadelphia detectives who are here in connection with the extradition of Wilson, the forger. The difficulty arisesout of the contention of each detective that he is the proper person to whom Wilson should be entrusted for removal to Philadelphia. Detective Miller, who was first sent to Toronto at the instance of the Quaker City authorities, and has been industriously working upon the case since his arrival, is looked upon by the city detectives as the responsible officer in the case. Meanry Weyl, the other detective, is connected with the Philadelphia District Attorney's office, and claims to have in his possession all the extradition papers. Upon this he bases his claims, and County Attorney Badgerow is reported to have told Weyl that Wilson could be turned over to him, that is if his extradition was authorized.

Why two officers, both possessing apparently the necessary authority, should be delegated to escort Wilson back to Philadelphia is a conundrum that can only be explained by the authorities of that city. There is evidently a reward to be paid by some one and the detectives want it.

Murdered by Indians.

VICTORIA, B.C., June 28.—Information has been received here that the sloop Seabird, which left Port Townsend, W.T., for Alaska on May 18, 1886, never reached port, but the crew were murdered by Indians at Knight's Inlet. The crew consisted of Capt. Wells, Henry Moore, the pilots, Henry Holt and an unknown German. Moore has a family in Victoria, and Holt's family is in Seattle. Tom, an Indian whose brother was hanged at Nanaimo last year, is supposed to have committed the deed in revenge.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Vacant Judgeships—Rumors as to New Appointments—Other Rumors.

TORONTO, June 28.

Never in the honored record of public proceedings in Toronto has there been such a comprehensive program, and more sanguine anticipations (if meteorological conditions are favorable) of a general demonstration, as that which will be celebrated with the utmost loyal enthusiasm in honor of the Queen's Jubilee on Thursday and Friday next. These days will be most emphatically "Red Letter days" in the local chronicle.

The vacancy on the Ontario Bench created by the death of Chief Justice Cameron is not the only one that will have to be filled almost immediately. It is beyond doubt that another Chief Justice, one whose health has not been of the best lately, has decided that he can no longer stand the strain of the heavy work, and his resignation is now understood to be in the hands of the Government at Ottawa.

One of the Puisne Judges is also about to retire from the Bench through age and increasing infirmities. This will leave two chief justiceships and one Puisne Judgeship to be filled, and already the tongue of rumor is busy with names of those who are likely to get the honors.

One thing is certain. One of the vacancies will go to a western man—a London man. W. R. Meredith will be offered it, no doubt, and there is not one man in a thousand believes he will accept. Failing him, the choice is about sure to fall upon R. W. P. Street, Q.C.; a choice that will give general satisfaction.

This will leave two vacancies, and the selection of the Toronto man is hard to conjecture. Charles Moss, Q.C., is making $60,000 a year out of his practice and cannot afford to go on the bench. Hector Cameron, Q.C., is out of politics, would probably accept, and has many friends and supporters. Charles Ritchie, Q.C., is spoken of by a good many. Other names mentioned yesterday were W. A. Foster, Q.C., Wm. Louat, Q.C., Hugh McMahon, Q.C., and Thos. Deacon, Q.C., of Pembroke.

The name of Judge Clarke of Cobourg has long been mentioned in connection with a Superior Court Judgeship, but it is said he makes too much out of his arbitration appointments to accept. It is conceded on all hands that he would fill the position with ability and dignity.

One gentleman, a good lawyer and a good Conservative politician, said his choice was Hon. James Patton, Collector of Customs here. He pointed out that Mr. Patton was Sir John [illegible]'s partner in business, and Solicitor-General of the old United Provinces of Upper [illegible] Canada as well as being a jurist of undoubted ability and erudition, and a bencher of the Law Society.

Early yesterday morning the body of Mr. George D. Morse, of soap manufacturing fame, but latterly better known as one of Toronto's chief cattle dealers, was seen by some boys floating in the Bay off Berkeley-street. Mr. Constable Constable Williams and an assistant took charge of the body, which was first brought to the Morgue and subsequently, on proof of identity, conveyed to the deceased's residence, 128 Jarvis-street.

Mr. Morse had been missing since Sunday and it is surmised, with much probability, that he had stumbled in the dark and fallen into the water in trying to avoid a train, near where his remains were found. In his vest pocket Mr. Morse had a valuable gold Knights of Labor watch, inscribed "George D. Morse, 1886," and in other pockets were a number of checks and money to the amount of over $240, also a receipt issued by the Western Assurance Company for insurance amounting to $35,725 on cattle shipped on the steamships Lake Winnipeg and Lake Superior.

The family were speedily communicated with, and the remains were identified. The coroner was duly informed of the circumstances, and he deemed that there was no occasion for an inquest. The deceased was in affluent circumstances, and had within the past few days dispatched to England cattle of the value of many thousand dollars. His son is now in the Old Country acting as the deceased's agent. Mr. Morse was an energetic man of business, and had prospered well. He was highly esteemed by all who knew him, and his untimely end is deeply regretted. His life was insured in the Equitable for $15,000, and in the Confederation for $2000. The deceased was born in Cleveland, Ohio in 1838, but when quite young came to Canada. Fourteen years ago he, with Jas. L. Morrison and John Taylor, founded the Morse Soap Company, from the participation in which he retired ten years ago. The funeral is fixed for 10 o'clock to-day to Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

St. Peter's Church on Carlton-street has within the past few weeks lost three of its leading members, all of whom died suddenly: Sheriff Jarvis, Samuel Platt and George D. Morse. They occupied adjacent pews near the chancel.

Yesterday morning a Canadian Pacific train brought to Union Station the remains of Samuel Pinkerton of Walkerton, who had for the past two weeks been employed as a brakeman on the C.P.R. Whilst working at Norwood on Monday afternoon he sought to mount the cars, but fell. The result was that he sustained grievous injuries. Both his legs were amputated and one of his arms severed from the body. The accident occurred at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and Pinkerton succombed to his injuries three hours later. He was a single man, 25 years of age, much respected and well-known amongst baseball players. He contemplated an engagement for the rest of the season with the Buffalo club.

The Daily Examiner.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 29, 1887.

THE new Conservative organ to be styled the Empire, will be started in Toronto in a few days. The mentor of the new organ is to be Mr. Dalton McCarthy, and Mr. David Creighton, M.P.P. for North Grey, will be editor in chief. The new organ will advocate the Imperial Federation scheme, and will endeavor to boom Mr. McCarthy for the Conservative leadership.

THE County Council of Carleton, the constituency represented by Sir John Macdonald, absolutely refused to vote a cent of money to the Jubilee celebration fund. Yet Sir John is the embodiment as leader of the Tory party of all the loyalty worth anything, in Canada. Our good Tory friends are exceedingly loyal in the neighborhood of the mouth, but when the demand comes near their pockets, as in Carleton, or near their privileges, as in the case of the events that led to the assault on a governor-general, there is rebellion at once. Her Majesty has showered honors and red breeches upon Sir John, yet the moment a cent is demanded from the riding he represents for celebrating her Majesty's jubilee, the pockets of the crimson breeches are hermetically closed. Conservative consistency thou art a (paste) jewel!

FIFTY-SEVEN protests have been lodged against the return of members of the Dominion House of commons. The number is divided about equally between the two political parties, but before the day for trial is finally set it is expected that there will be considerable pairing off. Twenty-four petitions have been filed in Ontario, and they have been assigned for trial in the Court of Appeal and three divisions of the High Court of Justice as follows:

Court of Appeal.—Russell (and cross petition); Kent; Prince Edward; Algoma (and cross petition); East Bruce (and cross petition); South Victoria and Kingston.

Queen's Bench Division.—West Huron (and cross petition); North Victoria; West Durham; East Northumberland (and cross petition); East Elgin and West Middlesex.

Chancery Division.—Dundas; North Lanark (and cross petition); Peel; Lincoln and Niagara (and cross petition); South Norfolk (and cross petition) and Haldimand.

Common Pleas Division.—East Hastings; East Simcoe; Muskoka and Parry Sound; Glengarry; Centre Wellington (and cross petition); Halton (and cross petition).

It is expected that the time for the trial of these cases will be fixed by the full Court during the present week. They will likely be taken up towards the close of the long vacation.

For the past fourteen years the Province of Ontario has been under Liberal rule, and the prospect is good of this state of affairs continuing indefinitely. During five general provincial elections the present government has triumphantly passed the necessary test and its record has been endorsed. In dealing with the majority of the Mowat Government after the late election, some Tory journals made light of it and said that it was a majority largely composed of members by gerrymander and by statute. The latter had reference of course to the Algoma, in which the date of the elections, on account of the peculiar situation of these ridings was fixed by statute in June. There was loud boast that when the elections came on in these places, the Reform members thereof would be driven out by an indignant electorate and their places supplied by good Tories. The elections came in due course, and Mr. Conmee was re-elected by acclamation for West Algoma, and Mr. Rankin of Windsor, who had been selected as the Meredith martyr, flunked before polling day and Mr. Lyon was returned by acclamation for East Algoma. The unopposed return of two Liberals in constituencies which were to be wrested from the hands of the "greedy Grits" and given over to the Tories, tender and true, shows that the late representatives were popular with their constituents, and also that the Mowat Government is still strong in a public confidence. The Ontario treasury benches are receding so far from the gaze of Mr. Meredith and his political associates that they are becoming a mere nebulous haze in their political horizon.

Young's Point.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

BASEBALL.—The Young's Point club went down to play a return match with the Lakefield club on Jubilee day but were prevented from playing on account of rain. The game will be played on Dominion Day.

THE CEMETERY.—The wire fence around the cemetery has been completed and the grounds considerably cleaned up and improved which adds much to the beauty of our village.

MR. CHAPLEAU'S DECISION.

HE DEFINITELY DECLINES THE QUEBEC LIEUT.-GOVERNORSHIP.

All the Public Buildings in Ottawa to be Illuminated on Thursday and Friday Nights, when the Queen's Jubilee will be Celebrated.

OTTAWA, June 28.—There is no truth in the rumor that some of the Ontario judges have tendered their resignations. The Minister of Justice to-day said that no resignations had been received by the Department of Justice. He had heard it mentioned that Chief Justice Wilson, who was well advanced in years and not in robust health, may, ere long, ask to be relieved from the care of office, but he had not received any intimation on the subject from the Chief Justice.

The Quebec Lieutenant-Governorship.

Hon. Mr. Chapleau returned from Montreal to-day, and had a long conference with Sir John before the meeting of Council. He has definitely declined to accept the Lieut.-Governorship of Quebec, and will continue to hold the position of Secretary of State. The suggestion that he might be appointed came from himself in the first instance. Some time ago when his health was considerably impaired, his doctors strongly advised him to retire, for a time at least, from active political life, and it was at this time that he intimated that in the event of the Lieutenant-Governorship becoming vacant he might accept it.

When Mr. Masson's resignation was sent in the position was at once offered to Mr. Chapleau, and he thought for a while he would accept it, and he had almost made up his mind to do so; but his friends urging him not to retire from active political life, and his health having very much improved of late, he has definitely decided not to withdraw from the Cabinet.

Nothing has transpired as to who will be Hon. Mr. Masson's successor.

Not a Toronto Case.

In last night's despatch Macdonald, whose sentence of death has been commuted to imprisonment for life, was erroneously mentioned as having been tried in Toronto. He was tried at Port Hood, N.S., before Chief Justice McDonald for the murder of a man named McLellan in September last.

Pressing His Claims.

Prof. George J. Macdonald, a mineralogist, now residing in Newark, New Jersey, but formerly of Cornwallis, Nova Scotia, is in the city pressing for the payment of a claim which he has against the Dominion Government for services rendered by him in getting up a collection of Nova Scotia minerals for the Centennial Exhibition at Philadelphia in 1876. Mr. Macdonald, who is now about 70 years of age, until four years ago, was requested by the Government to get up the collection, but says he has never been paid for his work.

The Experimental Farms.

The Department of Agriculture has issued an interesting pamphlet regarding the experimental farms of the Dominion. It states that at the central station, near this city, there will be required, in addition to the director, a superintendent of agriculture, charged with the care of farm stock and dairy, also with field crops and field experiments; a superintendent of horticulture, who will conduct experiments in fruit and vegetable growing and have charge of the nursery and propagating houses; an entomologist, whose duty it will be to investigate the habits of insects destructive to farm and garden crops and fruits, as well as those affecting animals, with the view of testing such remedies as may be available for their destruction; a botanist, to whom will be entrusted the special duty of investigating the injury done to field and garden crops, fruit and forest trees by the lower forms of vegetable life, such as the fungi, rust moulds, etc., to study the character and modes of growth of the noxious weeds prevailing in all parts of the Dominion with the object of devising means for their subjection or destruction, and a chemist to whom will be referred all questions relating to agricultural chemistry, such as analysis, etc., of fertilizers. A general museum will also be established in connection with the central station, where samples of all the varieties of produce raised from year to year will be kept for reference and comparison.

American Fishermen Keep Out.

Commander Gordon, of the fisheries protection steamer Acadia, telegraphed from Sydney C.B., to the Fisheries Department yesterday, stating that the American fishermen now on the coast evince a disposition to observe the customs regulation and to keep outside the three-mile limit.

Parcel Post to be Established.

Postmaster-General McLelan will shortly leave for Nova Scotia on a visit and on his return here he will go to Manitoba and the Northwest and British Columbia on business connected with his department. On his return from British Columbia he will take steps towards establishing a parcel post service with the United States. Negotiations are now in progress towards organising a similar service with the other principal colonies of the Empire.

Reported Resignation of Mr. Baird.

It is said that Mr. Baird, M.P., for Queen's, N.B., has sent in his resignation to the Speaker, as he said he would. He will be again a candidate for the seat.

The Jubilee Celebration.

The Minister of Public Works has ordered all the public buildings to be lighted up on Thursday and Friday night, on the occasion of the jubilee and Dominion Day celebration. The jubilee committee appear to be somewhat behind in their arrangement for receiving the Fifth Royal Scots. In fact, it cannot be learned that any preparation has been made for entertaining them, and the matter is causing comment in the press here. An officer of the Guards said to-day that the Guards had done nothing in the matter because the Scots had been invited by the Mayor, and the Guards did not like to interfere.

Notes.

Mr. Fisher, M.P. for Brome is reported to be very ill in Montreal.

It is generally thought that no immediate changes in the Cabinet will be made and that the reorganization of departments provided for by the several acts of last session will not take place until the fall.

The Auditor-General is engaged at present in making up the accounts of the revising barristers under the Franchise Act, and cheques will probably be issued shortly after July 1.

Mr. C. Carpmael, Toronto, director of the meteorological service, arrived here to-night on business with the Government in connection with the extension of the service.

A Cabinet council was held to-day and another will be held to-morrow, but it is not expected that there will be any meeting on either Thursday or Friday, the two jubilee days here. It is understood that the meetings are for transacting formal business and for generally "finishing up things" before the ministers separate for their summer holidays.

A telegram was received to-day by the Deputy Minister of Marine from Mr. Myrick, the officer in charge of the Cape Mace lighthouse and steam fog whistle, stating that two icebergs were drifting south, five miles from the station. These icebergs are in a dangerous locality for vessels passing at night or during a fog.

The town site lots at Banff Springs National Park are being disposed of by the Department of the Interior, subject to an annual imposition of $20.

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries will leave for Quebec on Friday, and will there embark on one of the steamers for his personal inspection of the operations of the fisheries protective service.

The Government is understood to have under consideration at present the report made by the Lachine Canal Commission on the leases of water power, etc.

Sir Charles Tupper will probably leave for Halifax on Friday to be present at his son's marriage, and will shortly after sail for England.

SIRS,—Please ship at once three dozen B. B. Bitters. Best selling medicine in the shop. Sold seven bottles to-day. Yours truly, C. Thompson.

The above sample is but one of hundreds of similar expressions regarding the popularity of B.B.B. 2w24d

What is a cold in the head? Medical authorities say it *is*due to atmospheric germs, uneven clothing of the body, rapid cooling when in perspiration, &c. The important point is, that a cold in the head is a genuine rhinitis, an inflamation of the lining membrane of the nose which, when unchecked, is certain to produce a catarrhal condition—for catarrh is essentially a "cold" which nature is no longer able to "resolve" or throw off. Ely's Cream Balm has proved its superiority, and all sufferers from cold in the head should resort to it before that common ailment becomes seated and ends in obstinate catarrh.,codw26

Miraculous.

"My Miraculous Cure was that I had suffered from kidney disease for about two years, was off work all that time. A friend told me of B.B.B., I tried it and am happy to say that I was cured by two 'bottles,'" Wm. Tier, St. Mary's, Ont. 2w24d

THE KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—By reports made to the general headquarters of the Knights of Labor the new constitution of the order, embodying many important changes, has been defeated by about a three-fourths vote. [illegible] the chief opponents to the [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] upon. It is learned unofficially that the new constitution will be recommended by the General Executive Board in a few days.

At any rate it is certain that another session of the General Assembly will be held for the adoption of the new constitution, or for the amendment of the old, which, though [illegible] is generally conceded to be unsatisfactory. It is probable that the session will be held in this city, and will be called by the General Executive Board, or else have its charter revoked by the General Assembly.

The article on co-operation was adopted unanimously. It provides for the establishment of the creation and disbursement of a fund to aid co-operative enterprises.

The new constitution gives the General Executive Board full power to settle all strikes and disputes, and increases the power of the General Board in many other particulars.

THE EGYPTIAN CONVENTION.

LONDON, June 28.—In the House of Lords this afternoon Lord [illegible] declared, in the public interest, to lay the papers relating to the Anglo-Turkish Convention in relation to Egypt before the House. The Government had decided to delay in the signing of the convention which Turkey had asked, on the definite understanding that the treaty should be ratified by Turkey on Monday without fail. The Under Foreign Secretary, replying to Messrs. Glasgow and Conybeare, said the Government did not know the terms of the French notes to the Sultan with reference to the Egyptian convention. England had had no communication with France on the subject, and there was no ground for supposing that the convention would entangle England in war.

The Fenian Prisoners Affected.

PARIS, June 28.—The bourse to-day was dull with a weak tendency, owing to the hitches in the ratification of the Egyptian convention.

ROYALTY AT DUBLIN.

Prince Albert Victor Invested With the Order of St. Patrick.

DUBLIN, June 28.—Prince Albert Victor of Wales reviewed the troops in the Phœnix Park to-day. The reception given the Prince by the populace was a mixed one, combining cheers and hisses.

After the review Prince Albert Victor was invested with the mantle and sword of the Knights of St. Patrick.

Wrenched the Judge's Jaw.

MONTREAL, June 28.—Judge Church met with a serious accident from which, although better, he is still suffering. It appears that he visited a dentist to have a tooth extracted, and by some means the dentist seriously injured the jaw, so much so indeed that Dr. Fenwick and two other surgeons were summoned. The judge was confined to his bed until to-day, when he was allowed to sit up for a short time.

A Gathering of the Clans.

CHICAGO, June 28.—The eighth annual meeting of the Royal Scottish Clan is being held in this city. Representatives are present from various orders in the United States and Canada. The meeting will continue throughout the week, the object being to revise the constitution of the order and discuss its future. The only purpose of the order at present is to furnish cheap insurance to Scotchmen.

Severe Sufferers by Fire.

MILWAUKEE, June 28.—A special from Marshfield says the loss by yesterday's fire will exceed $1,000,000 and the insurance will reach $300,000. The burnt district embraces eight blocks. Aid in the shape of provisions and clothing is being received at Marshfield. There are not enough roofs left standing to shelter the homeless, and people are camping in the fields and woods.

A Skirmish in Algiers.

ALGIERS, June 28.—One hundred Moors bearing fire arms attacked the Spahi Patrol and Beskafe, killing and wounding several. Many Moors were also killed and wounded. The military intervened and stopped the fighting. Thirty of the Moors were arrested. Quiet has been restored.
